MET DEATH UNDER CARS.

RECORD FOR 1896 SHOWS THAT 323 WERE KILLED BY TRAINS.

Many Victims Were Tramps—1246 Were Injured—Pennsylvania Railroad is the Route for Those Who Beat Their Way.

The railroads of New Jersey are so numerous, so active and so compact that there go down under the wheels many to a quick death, others to survive as physical wrecks. The official report of the number mown down by the railroads last year, tabulated by the State Comptroller, is now available.

It shows that there were killed and injured more people than live now in the village of Tenafly, in Bergen county, and the last census gives that place 1,532 souls. The injured gathered together and placed in one locality would make nearly the same population as that of Midland Park, which has 1,254 residents, while the dead are greater in number than those who live in Holly Beach, which is accredited in the census report with 319 inhabitants.

New Jersey has 130 railroads, with 1,557 miles of trackage. Some of these are important roads having their terminals in the State. There is more trackage and railroad property in this State to the area covered than in any other State. There are more killed and injured to the population, and the report just submitted shows the largest number yet recorded. It is a record of 323 killed outright and 1,246 injured, making a total of 1,569 killed and injured. It is even worse than this, because all the accidents are not reported. The law compels the roads to report accidents, but there is no penalty for not doing so, and some of the roads report what they only conveniently get hold of.

The coupler continues to be as deadly as ever, and 342 men were injured and 24 killed while in the act of coupling cars.

There were 242 persons killed walking and crossing tracks and 417 were injured in this way. This includes those who walk on the track, cross them or attempt to mount the cars while moving. The majority of those killed were tramps. Those killed from other causes are 23. The injured [illegible] 300. This includes those hurt getting on and off passenger trains, shakeups by slight collisions and the ordinary run of casualties.

The report of 1896 is heavier because of the frightful accident last summer at the Atlantic City meadows, when 231 were killed and wounded.

In the way of comparison it can be stated that in 1891 there were 278 killed and 1,440 injured, making a total of 1,718 killed and injured. In 1895 the killed were 295 and the injured 1,174.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is the favorite route for the tramps and the unfortunate who journey from place to place searching for work. Hundreds ride each day on the freight trains, and the number killed on the tracks by the fast trains and while getting off and on is very large. Last year there were 67 killed and 45 injured while walking on the track; 7 killed and 58 injured getting on and off the trains; 9 killed coupling and 50 injured; 13 killed and 73 injured by other causes, making a total of 96 killed and 73 injured.

There were 326 killed on the United Railroads of New Jersey. The Central Railroad of New Jersey, which has a trackage in this State of more than 72 miles, is another road which has a long chapter of accidents. Those injured from falling off the cars or by attempting to get off while the train was in motion were 70 during 1896, and 5 were killed; 54 were injured by coupling, none fatally; 40 were killed while walking and crossing the tracks, and 27 were injured. Two were killed from other causes and 40 were injured, making a total list of 47 killed, and those injured were 194. Last year on this road there were 49 killed and 269 injured.

The Delaware and Bound Brook Railroad, which is part of the Philadelphia and Reading system between New York and Philadelphia, and which extends from Bound Brook to the Delaware Bridge, had 3 killed and 4 injured. The Easton and Amboy Railroad, a part of the Lehigh Valley system, had 18 killed and 50 injured.

NO VOTE FOR TRUSTEES.

THE LIMITED PRIVILEGES OF WOMEN IN SCHOOL MATTERS.

In New Jersey Women Are Actually Holding Office, But Since 1894 Have Been Unable to Have a Voice in Their Selection.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, has prepared the following to be published in the newspapers of New Jersey:

New Jersey is one of the twenty-three states in which women possess school suffrage in some form; but in our State the Supreme Court decided in 1894 that the powers conferred on women by the Legislature of 1887 (and exercised by them with increasing advantage to the schools) were in part unconstitutional. At the present moment, therefore, an anomalous and unsatisfactory condition of things prevails in the rural districts. In cities, women do not possess School Suffrage, nor is it proposed to extend it to them.

Women can attend school meetings, (i. e. in rural districts) and can vote for appropriations, and on all questions coming before such meetings, save only that they cannot vote for the election of School Trustee.

Women can, themselves, be elected to the office of school trustee, however. A number of women are now serving in the capacity in different parts of the state.

It is sometimes argued that women should not be permitted to use the ballot lest such use should entail upon some of them the burdens and responsibilities of office. Yet here, in New Jersey, women are actually holding office, but have been unable, since 1894, to choose which of their number shall fill such office.

To remedy this state of things, and to restore to the women of New Jersey the rights and privileges conferred upon them by the Legislature of 1887, three successive Legislatures (of 1895, 1896 and 1897) have voted, with hardly a dissenting voice, in favor of the Amendment to the Constitution which will come before the people at the special election of Sept. 28th, 1897. This amendment, it should be clearly understood, grants no new rights and privileges, but simply restores to women the right to vote at school meetings for the election of members of Boards of Education.

Ours is a conservative State, and yet one which believes in progress, and which is noted for its justice. Since this measure is both conservative and just, in that it makes no new experiments, but simply restores to mothers a voice in the welfare of their children in the school, there is every reason to believe that it will be ratified at the polls in September, as it has been in the Legislature, with hardly a dissenting voice.

DANCING CLASS RECEPTION.

A Pleasant Event Arranged by Miss Van Zandt's Pupils.

The members of Miss Van Zandt's dancing class gave a reception in the rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club, in the Babcock building, last evening. A delightful evening was spent. Miss Helen A. Hasbrouck was the pianist. Refreshments were served during the evening. Mrs. Harold Serrell and Miss Jobs were the patronesses. Among those present during the evening were the Misses Elsie Van Zandt, Jennie Van Zandt, Grace Van Zandt, Florence Serrell, Elsie Jobs, Elma Thayer, Eleanor Williams, Clara Long, Cora Laire, Miss Angie S. Kuhl, of Somerville, and Miss Nettie Langdon, of New York, Henry W. Brower, Carroll L. Runyon, Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr., A. Willis West, Eugene Jobs, Clifford M. Crane, Edward Kline, William Glading, of Brooklyn, William A. DeLong, Jr., Bronson Smith, Henry B. Drake, Howard Turrill, and George Proctor Smith.

Enterprising Business Methods.

It is the up-to-date dealer who introduces modern machinery and is enabled to sell better goods at less prices. Such is the case with L. L. Manning and Son, marble and granite dealers, corner of West Front street and Central avenue. Their tools for cutting letters are run by compressed air, while all their polishing is done by steam power. An inspection will show that their work is done better by these methods than by the old way. They have a fine stock of monuments and headstones on hand, the largest in the State. They are just completing several very fine monuments for Hillside Cemetery and other parts of the country. 5-1-3-c-1

Rev. Mr. Needham to Reside Here.

Rev. George E. Needham, who conducts a Bible class in the Y. M. C. A. Hall every Monday evening, is so charmed with Plainfield that he has leased a house on West Eighth street and will reside here this summer.

FINED THE SCORCHER.

FAST RIDING IN THE CITY LIMITS TO BE SEVERELY PUNISHED.

The Police and the City Judge have Begun a Campaign Against the Scorcher—The First Offender was Tried Yesterday.

The city ordinance against scorching is to be strictly enforced in the city limits as well as in the business section of Plainfield, and the host of riders who like to fly through the city streets want to beware. The police have been notified by Chief Grant that all wheelmen speeding on the city streets faster than ten miles an hour are to be arrested under the new bicycle ordinance. City Judge DeMeza has joined in the movement to break up "scorching" on the city streets, and when the evidence is brought, he will see that the offender receives all he deserves.

The first of these dangerous characters, the "scorchers," was captured by Sergeant Kiely on Thursday evening. The scorcher was riding down East Front street at a lively speed while pedestrians hurried in every direction to avoid collision. Then it was that the sergeant saw him and placed him under arrest.

The scorcher left his wheel as security and was allowed to go to appear for trial yesterday morning before City Judge DeMeza. The hour arrived but the offender didn't, and his wheel remained in the police station.

Yesterday noon the offender appeared at the office of the City Judge and explained his absence at the time of trial. Samuel Jepson, which is the name of the scorcher, lives in Fanwood. Yesterday morning, he attempted to catch a train to Plainfield but he missed it. Therefore he walked.

Jepson pleaded guilty to the charge of riding at a high rate of speed on Front street Thursday evening. As the first of his class of offenders, the Judge decided to make an example of him and sentenced him to pay a fine of $3 or go to jail for 10 days. He paid the fine. A second offence will mean the full penalty.

NO INJUNCTION YET.

Watchung Avenue Opening Going Rapidly Forward.

The work of opening Watchung avenue goes steadily onward and thus far nothing has appeared to block the improvement. The men worked last evening until 8 o'clock, and this morning a large gang was put on. The great amount of dirt carried out has made wonderful improvement and already the place begins to look like a street. Gradually the stumps and obstructions are being removed and by tonight the avenue will probably be opened to the brook. The work of macadamizing the avenue will be comenced at once and ere long everything will be in readiness for the bridge. The bridge will be similar to the one placed across Somerset street in front of French's carriage factory.

DEATH OF MRS. FENNER.

A Christian Woman Succumbs to a Complication of Diseases.

The death of Mrs. Rebecca Fenner occurred yesterday at the home of her son-in-law, Henry Van Middlesworth, of Liberty street, after a long illness from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Fenner has been living for some time with relatives in this city and she was very well known. She was a loving Christian woman and died in the faith. She was the mother of Mrs. H. J. Martin, of West Front street, and she lived for a while with her daughter previous to her serious illness.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the house and interment will be at Somerville where the family plot is located.

Inherited Her Father's Talent.

The Pittsburg Commercial Gazette says of Miss Mary French Field, (Eugene Field's daughter):

Miss Field read several of her father's familiar poems, blending pathos and humor, her interpretation setting before her hearers more nearly the homely but sweet pictures of childhood. Her voice is sweet and sympathetic, not strong, but of a carrying quality, while her presence holds charm and dignity. She immediately won the hearts of her audience.

Miss Field is to appear at the Casino Wednesday evening, May 5th, under the auspices of the Park Club. She will be assisted by John Francis Guilder, the pianist, and Wm. H. Lee, baritone.

Worth Thinking Over.

"Be careful what you do today; it will become yesterday and may cause you many regrets." It is better, therefore, to care for your failing sight today than look back, when the trouble has grown incurable, to the yesterday when you might have called at Collier's and avoided permanent injury to your eyes.

WIRE CONDUIT SYSTEM.

STREET COMMMITTEE ARE NOT ACTIVELY IN FAVOR OF IT.

It is Said That Some of the Councilmen Fear the Streets Will be Ruined, But the Telephone Company Says Not.

Last fall, the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company made an offer to the Common Council agreeing to place all their wires, as well as the fire alarm wires in the city, in a conduit to be laid by the company in the streets of the city. The company was to bear all the expense and was to put the streets back in the same condition that they were before the conduit was laid. The proposition was referred to the street committee and there it has remained ever since despite the efforts of the company to have it brought before the Council.

The street committee are not in favor of the plan, but it is understood that there is a good majority of the members of the Council that believe that such an offer should be accepted and would cast their votes toward such an end. The promoters of the measure claim that the delay on the part of the committee is not at all necessary, but is done to defeat the measure and not allow it to come up for an open vote in the Council.

The situation in Plainfield is rather a remarkable one. The removal of the wires from the overhead poles to underground conduits has always been considered very advantageous to the city where it is done and in many cities in this country the officials are having a lively time in trying to drive the companies to place their wires underground. In Plainfield the situation seems to be exactly the reverse. The telephone company is petitioning the council to allow them to put their wires underground in the main thoroughfares and offering to do it at their own expense. Their request is pigeon-holed, however, and the spring months, when the company wished to make the change before the streets were placed in good condition for the summer, pass by and no answer is given.

It is said that principal objection to the passage of the ordinance allowing the company to put in the underground conduits is that it will be necessary to dig up the streets again. The company answers this objection by guaranteeing to put the streets that they dig up in as good condition as they found them. Their trenches will be only four or five feet deep and will not have to be arranged to drain to one end of the system as the sewers were. The only street that has been repaired this spring that the company would dig up is Front street. The others will have to be repaired soon and the company argue that they should be allowed to put in the conduits at once before the repairs are made.

The conduits, if put in, will be made of creosoted wood, and square.

HACKMEN CAUSE TROUBLE.

The Jehus Constantly Before Judge DeMeza for Violating Ordinances.

Even the residents of Paradise Alley and their friends cannot compare with the hackmen at the North Avenue station for causing trouble for the police. Charges for violation of the hack ordinance are constantly being made in the city court and there is rarely a week without several of the hackmen appearing for trial. Chas. Barry was up in the city court this morning for the continuation of his trial on the charge of violating the hack ordinance. He has been up a number of times before. Some testimony was heard in the case and then the Judge pronounced him guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $8 or go to jail for 20 days. He paid the fine after considerable arguing.

The triple trial of John Neuman, James Barre and Nicholas Kelley for trouble in the West End, was to come before Judge DeMeza, this morning. Kelly failed to appear at the appointed time and the case was adjourned for a week.

The trial of Harry Hamilton was adjourned for a week.

Four little lads, Wm. Porter, Thos. Porter, Charles Gulick and James Grey, were arraigned for cutting and destroying trees and doing other malicious mischief in the vicinity of the Irving Public School. The youngsters were badly frightened, so the Judge suspended sentence on them with a warning.

Another complaint was made against Hackman Charles Barry by Roundsman Flynn, and the trial set down for next Saturday morning.

The P. A. C. have received their new uniforms. They are made of light grey material, trimmed with black braid. The team is in Whitestone, L. I., this afternoon, and played ball if the weather was favorable.

FANWOOD BOY MISSING.

TOMMY SELLER, TWELVE YEARS OLD, GONE FOR TWO WEEKS.

He Wouldn't Go to School and When His Parents Disciplined Him, He Disappeared Without Saying a Word.

Tommy Seller, a precocious twelve-year-old lad who yearned for a life more rapid than the prosaic community of Fanwood could offer, has been missing for two weeks. Though his father has scoured the surrounding country in all directions, not a trace can he find of the boy, and this morning he called at The Press office and asked that publicity be given to the case in the hope that the youngster may be found.

Tommy's father is a good-natured old German who told his story in words that were rich in the accent of the fatherland. He says that Tommy has been perverse in his actions for some time past, a particular bent of his life being to escape the sessions of the Scotch Plains school where his parents hoped that he would intellectually qualify himself to go out and grapple with the world.

Tommy didn't look at it in that way, however, and nearly every day he played "hookey." Finally, his parents learned of Tommy's conduct and determined that if he wouldn't go to school they would make him go to work. To enforce this decision, they stripped Tommy of his best clothes and locked them up in a little old fashioned trunk in a room upstairs.

The youngster took his discipline in apparent good grace until one night he failed to show up at the house. His parents were worried lest serious harm had come to him. A further investigation showed that Tommy had pried to open the lock of the trunk with a screw driver, abstracted his best shoes only and departed for an unknown point where he would be fancy free.

The parents waited anxiously for the return of the prodigal, but he did not come. Mr. Teller then traveled on foot all through this section of New Jersey looking for the wayward boy, but no where could he find a trace of him.

Anyone who has information of such a boy will confer a favor by sending it to Thomas Seller, Fanwood post-office.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Mrs. Steven R. Hope Receives an Unexpected Visitation from Friends.

Mrs. Steven R. Hope, of East Third street, celebrated the sixty-fourth anniversary of her birthday yesterday, and last evening she was pleasantly surprised by her many friends who called on her very unexpectedly. She was not aware that her visitors were coming and the surprise was all the more complete. The company met at the home of a friend nearby and marched in a body to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hope, where they found everything quiet. They immediately took possession of the house and made themselves comfortable after congratulating their honored hostess. Among the guests were a number of young people who found pleasure in playing the latest games, while the older ones were more sedate.

Interspersing the social part of the affair a short programme consisting of piano solos by Mrs. King, Miss Vannatta, Miss Florence Symons, vocal solos by John Hope, and instrumental and vocal selections by the Martin Brothers, was rendered. Each selection was encored heartily. Late in the evening the guests were served with resreshments after which they departed for their home wishing their hostess many, many happy returns of the day. Those present were:

Mrs. Weber, Mrs. Terrill, Mrs. Scull, Mrs. I. C. Vannatta, Mrs. Manchester, Mrs. Frank Manchester, Mrs. Ianson, Mrs. Clarkson, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Gaskill, Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Workman, Mrs. Clark Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carbone and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Hope, Miss Ruttman, Miss Randolph, Miss Terrill, Miss Scull, Miss Lillian Hope, Miss Florence Symons, Miss Grace Webster, Miss Josie Vannatta, Miss Beulah Waters, Miss Lucy Jennings, Miss Irene Hope, Miss Violet Hope; Harry Scull, Hiram Humes, William Swick, Vernon Waters, Clifford Braider, Robert Schreiner, of Plainfield; Frank Glockeer, of Elizabeth.

The surprise was arranged by Mrs. I. C. Vannatta and Mrs. John Hope, and to them is due great credit for the able manner in which it was planned. Mrs. Hope received many presents from her friends as reminders of the happy event.

FIFTY YEARS A MINISTER.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF REV. JOHN W. SARLES, AT STELTON.

For Eighteen Years He Was Pastor of the Stelton First Baptist Church, One of the Oldest Societies in the United States.

With impressive services the golden jubilee of the Rev. John W. Sarles, D. D., was celebrated yesterday in the First Baptist church at Stelton, Middlesex County, of which he has been the pastor for eighteen years. Of all the churches in New Jersey few have a more eventful history than this quaint, old-fashioned edifice. It was in 1689 that the church was constituted. The church, it is said, was the second in the State to receive its charter, and the tenth to be organized in the United States. In 1747 the church numbered one hundred members, scattered throughout Middlesex County. This little congregation was destined to become the founder of several other churches, which have since become prominent in the denomination. On September 8, 1747, fifteen members founded an independent Baptist church at Scotch Plains, five years later another band organized a church at Morristown, and twenty-three members of the church on September 21, 1816, founded the First Baptist church in New Brunswick, from which several other churches have sprung.

In the Revolutionary war, when the British troops were quartered in the city of New Brunswick, the historic church at Stelton was sacked by the British, and the records from the beginning of its organization were destroyed. What is known of the church's history in the early days has been gained from careful research among colonial documents and township records. Though the venerable pastor, Dr. Searls, will be eighty years old on June 26 next, he is still hale and hearty, and takes an active part in assisting in the services. A year ago last January he retired from active pastoral work in favor of the Rev. W. T. Dorward, receiving the honorary title of Pastor Emeritus of the church. The jubilee celebration began yesterday afternoon in the church, where congratulatory addresess were delivered by Rev. Dr. John T. Beckley, of New York; Rev. Dr. D. C. Hughes, of Brooklyn, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, of this city, and Thomas O. Conant. At six o'clock last night a dinner was served to the visitors. An hour later the evening service took place.

The services were continued last evening, when the church was filled to its utmost capacity with people who had the rare treat of listening to addresses by Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of Philadelphia, and Dr. H. G. Western, president of Crosier Theological Seminary. Both addresses were highly interesting and very complimentary. A feature of this service was the singing for the first time of the original hymns composed by Rev. Dr. Lowry, who was present and opened the service with prayer. Dr. Sarles was given a pleasant surprise at the close of the meeting when he was presented with $600 in gold. The doctor was very much overcome, but he was able to respond and thank those who had so kindly remembered him.

Those who attended the services from this city were Rev. and Mrs. Lowry, Rev. Dr. Yerkes and O. B. Leonard.

QUARANTINE OF SCARLET FEVER.

A meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Health was held last evening, at which some important resolutions were adopted. The Board communicated with the State Board in regard to the question of quarantining scarlet fever cases, and received an answer that the quarantine should not be removed under thirty days and in most cases under six weeks.

The Board drew up resolutions to that effect and passed them last evening. They provided that the quarantine in scarlet fever cases should be removed in no case in less than thirty days and should usually be maintained for six weeks. If the physician in charge should deem it safe to remove the quarantine in less than six weeks he must report to the medical member of the Board who will examine and use his discretion in the matter.

It was also resolved that the Health Inspector should not remove quarantine from any contagious disease without an order from the president or secretary of the Board.

It was decided that a child must have a permit before being allowed to return to school after scarlet fever.

VICTORY FOR GREEKS

THE MOSLEMS SUFFER GREAT LOSS.

Athens, May 1.—A telegram just received here says that a great battle has been fought at Velestino between a Turkish force of 8,000 and General Smolenski's brigade. The dispatch states that the Turks were repulsed with enormous losses.

At a cabinet council it was decided that the minister of war, Colonel Tsamavos, and the minister of the interior, M. Teotaoki, should proceed to Pharsala in order to ascertain the state of the Greek forces there.

The new minister of war before starting for Pharsala submitted to King George for signature a decree recalling the chief of staff, Colonel Sapountzakis, whom the Delyannis cabinet, despite of its promises, would not recall because the crown prince had declared that he would consider such a recall a personal affront to himself.

In an interview, M. Ralli said:

"The new cabinet has not yet had time to frame a programme. The reports from the front addressed to my predecessor lack clearness, and I decided, therefore, that it would be wise to send two members of the cabinet to Pharsala in order to encourage the army, which is fighting valiantly, and to investigate the condition of affairs."

M. Ralli added that he was not aware of any act or proposal on the part of the powers looking to intervention. He said that General Smolenski had telegraphed him that he had repelled a desperate attack by the Turks, whose loss was very great, and that the morale of the Greek troops was unimpaired.

M. Skouloudis, the new minister of foreign affairs, said to an interviewer:

"If Greek honor can be retrieved by continuing the struggle, the government will prosecute the campaign with unabated energy. If the condition of the army, on the other hand, would render further fighting unadvisable, the cabinet will undoubtedly refuse to bring fresh disasters upon the country by persisting in a foolhardy war. The new cabinet, like that of M. Delyannis, is prepared to demand a rectification of the frontier in accordance with the terms of the treaty of Berlin and to recall Colonel Vassos from Crete the moment the powers have guaranteed autonomy after the departure of the Turks."

During the last 48 hours the Turks have almost been forgotten. Nothing is thought of but the cabinet crisis. M. Delyannis has countersigned the decree dismissing his ministry. The new cabinet is composed equally of members of M. Ralli's party and of followers of the late M. Tricoupis, the latter holding the most important portfolios—war, foreign affairs, finance and the interior.

The Situation at Volo.

Larissa, May 1.—Volo has not yet been captured, but the town is practically at the mercy of the Turks. The Greek tactics are difficult to understand. It is asked here why, if the Greeks intended to retire to Pharsala when the Turks entered the plain, they did not destroy the telegraph lines, bridges and food supplies as well as unexploded magazines and why they did not take the guns instead of leaving here almost everything necessary for a great army.

Inasmuch as they lost their heads, it is not thought likely that they will offer an effective resistance at Pharsala to the victorious Turks, whose morale, discipline and condition are splendid.

The people of Larissa are gradually returning. There is not the slightest disorder. No one is allowed in the streets at night without a permit. Immediately Volo is occupied by the Turks, Edhem Pasha will transport supplies here from that point. The Turkish transport service is excellent. We are now over 100 miles from the base of Turkish supplies, yet there has not been the slightest hitch.

"There is the greatest activity in the Turkish camp, but military considerations prevent me from indicating the movements which are proceeding."

Antiroyalist Feeling In Athens.

London, May 1.—The Standard's correspondent at Athens says:

"As the Crown Princess Sophia was returning from a visit to the ambulance hospital last night she was hissed and jeered by the crowd, which forced her to return to the hospital. The royal carriage was then summoned, and the princess drove to the palace at the top of the speed of her horses.

"The royal arms have been stripped from the carriages in order that the occupants may drive about unrecognized and thus avoid similar experiences. As another indication of popular feeling, I may point out that many of the tradesmen who have been wont to display the royal escutcheon in front of their shops have removed them.

"While a priest was offering prayer for King George and the royal family in one of the prominent churches he was interrupted by protests from the congregation. The ringleader was arrested, but the disorder was so great that many women fainted in terror."

War Will Continue.

London, May 1.—A dispatch from Larissa, dated Wednesday, says:

"A battle has been proceeding near Trikhala, upon which the Turks are fast advancing. They are superior in force and hope to cut off the Greeks there. It is reported that they have already occupied Trikhala and Volo, but there is no official confirmation as to the latter.

"The inhabitants are returning here rapidly, business is being resumed, and confidence is restored. It is the general opinion that the war will continue, but all agree that the morale of the Greeks has been ruined by a shameful flight, and that they are not likely hereafter to offer serious resistance."

More Turkish Victories.

Constantinople, May 1.—The porte announces that the heights commanding Nechesta and Caravan Serai, beyond Pentepigadia, Epirus, have been occupied by the Turkish troops.

In response to notes from the French, Russian and British embassadors, the Turkish government has announced that the expulsion of Greek subjects from Turkish territory is postponed to a period of eight days from May 5.

Meanwhile the French consulate is issuing certificates of protection and by this act is causing general comment in official circles, as the porte has not yet recognized France as the protector of Greek Catholics in Turkey.

Trikhala Occupied.

"Edhem Pasha telegraphs that the First division occupied Trikhala on Wednesday. Two hundred convicts were released and armed on the previous day, and 20,000 rifles were distributed among the inhabitants by the Greeks, who also permitted the pillage of arms and ammunition. The Turkish commander ordered the arms to be restored under severe penalties."

Disorder In Athens.

London, May 1.—According to the Athens correspondent of The Daily Mail, the presence of large numbers of reservists without food or lodging has caused a general fear of outbreaks. As a result, fully half the shops in the city are closed. A disturbance took place yesterday in one of the churches when prayers were being offered for King George and the royal family.

Rumored Retreat of Greeks.

Athens, May 1.—There is no news from Arta, but it is rumored that the Greek forces which have been operating in Epirus against the Turks are retreating.

LYNCH LAW IN TEXAS.

Seven Negroes Taken From Their Custodians and Strung Up.

Houston, May 1.—For three murders and the ravishing of two girls, the burning down of the humble home of their victims and incineration of the bodies six negroes suffered the death penalty at the hands of a mob of their own race.

A mob of negroes at midnight took from a room at Sunnyside, Tex., where they were being guarded, Fayette Rhone, aged 21; Will Gates, aged 35; Lewis Thomas, aged 20; Aaron Thomas, aged 13; Jim Thomas, aged 14; Benny Thomas, aged 15, the four latter being brothers, and Will Williams, all negroes, and hanged the first six named to an oak tree. The seventh was hanged, but has disappeared. Several shots were heard shortly after the mob took them from the room, and he may have tried to escape.

The negroes all confessed to having murdered Henry Daniels, an old negro, his stepdaughter Marie, and a 7-year old child, burning the bodies of the two oldest by setting fire to the cabin where the crime occurred and throwing the little one's body into a well. Old man Daniels had the proceeds of a robbery which the Thomas boys had committed, and they demanded it of him under pain of death. They outraged the grown girl and the 7-year old girl and then killed both.

Collided With an Iceberg.

Halifax, May 1.—The steamship Knight Bachelier, Captain Thomas, from Cardiff, April 18, for Norfolk, in ballast, has put in here in a sinking condition, her bows having been driven in by a violent collision with an iceberg on April 26 in longitude 48 degrees west, latitude 42 degrees north.

The Pimples That Bloom in The Spring

At no other season are Pimples and Humors so abundant or so annoying as in the Spring.

An unseasonably warm day, before change of winter clothing, heats the blood, and these Pimples and Humors itch and burn, and their annoyance, the suffering they cause, is known only to those afflicted.

If your blood is not right (and whose is?) you are liable to be one of these sufferers this Spring.

A course of Hood's Sarsaparilla begun now and faithfully pursued will save you suffering and give you rugged health, so that you can thoroughly enjoy all the pleasures of the coming summer.

Pimples on the Face.

"I have been troubled for three years with pimples on my face and body. I tried several remedies with only temporary relief. I am now taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it is doing me a wonderful amount of good. My general health is greatly improved, and I feel very thankful for what Hood's Sarsaparilla has already done for me." MISS JANE JARROSKY, Burnham, Illinois.

A Clear Complexion.

"I have had a bad complexion owing to impure blood. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and my skin is now clear. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good by purifying my blood." ANNIE D. MCCOY, Watsonton, Pennsylvania.

Boils, Blotches, Sores, Pimples.

"I have been afflicted for many years with impure blood, which manifested itself in erysipelas, boils, blotches, sores and pimples. I have used many medicines and found Hood's Sarsaparilla to be the best. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who are affected with impure blood." ISAAC P. MARTIN, Walnut Hill, Ill.

Annoyed by Eruptions.

"I had eruptions caused by impure blood and at times they were very annoying. I was treated by physicians without benefit, and last winter I took a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it helped me. I kept on until I had taken five bottles, and I am no longer annoyed with eruptions." W. R. HUDSON, Natrona, Pa.

AND WHEREAS, as to real estate taxes for the year 1881 and the years prior thereto, the Common Council has power, subject to the approval of the Mayor, to make such revisions, alternation, adjustment, and settlement of such taxes and all interest and penalties thereon as may be deemed for the best interests of the city, provided the amount of such taxes as adjusted be paid within thirty days from the date of such adjustment; and there appear to be equitable reasons why such power should be exercised with respect to the taxes above referred to in the case of such delinquents as may apply to the Common Council for that purpose.

AND WHEREAS, power to compromise said past due taxes, interest and penalties will cease at once upon the appointment of commissioners under the "Martin Act" and motion for the appointment of such commissioners by Supreme Court Justice Van Syckel will be made on May 29th next:

BUY CLOTH

44 in. wide, per yard $2.00
27 in. wide, per yard $1.25

measuring 44 inches wide at $2.00 a yd. or 27 inches wide at $1.25 per yard—which is the cheaper?

The first quotation appeals to the real economist, but the unwise will be caught by the price per yard—just the same as paint buyers will be caught by the price per can.

The spreading capacity of paint, the finish and the durability must be considered to ascertain its cheapness. In the true sense, Harrisons' Town and Country Ready-Mixed Paints are the cheapest on the market and should demand the consideration of any who contemplate the use of paint and wish to attain good results. The big "H" on every can vouches for the quality. Look for the Harrison Sign, it is usually on the front of the building of every dealer in Harrison Paint.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. HAD A LIVELY TIME.

Young Man Robbed a Bank and Enjoyed Himself Hugely.

LIVED LIKE A PRINCE FOR A TIME.

When Arrested, He Claimed to Have Accomplices In the Crime—He Also Pleaded Sickness and Asked to Be Sent to the Hospital.

New York, May 1.—Captain O'Brien, chief of the detective bureau, has under arrest Clarence Barton, 21 years old, who is wanted by the police of Ogden, Utah, for stealing $5,200 from the Utah Loan and Trust company. Barton was arrested at 159 East Eighty-fourth street. When asked what his occupation was, he said he had none.

J. F. Davenport, chief of police of Ogden, called on Captain O'Brien and told him he had traced Barton to this city and requested assistance to arrest him. Captain O'Brien detailed Detectives McCarthy and Wade, and they accompanied Chief Davenport to Barton's home, where he was placed under arrest without difficulty.

Chief Davenport telegraphed news of the arrest to Ogden and was instructed to hold the prisoner, for whom requisition papers would be sent immediately.

Chief Davenport says the robbery of the bank was accomplished on Dec. 26 of last year. The officials of the bank said nothing to him for a month, as they hoped to apprehend the thief. The robbery was what the police called a "sneak," or one that was accomplished on the quiet. Barton has a brother in the employ of the bank, and as he had been hanging around the bank for three or four days visiting his brother suspicion was directed to him after the theft.

Lived Like a Prince.

While the bank officials were keeping the matter a secret, Barton left Ogden and went to Jacksonville, Fla., where he spent money like a prince. He aroused the suspicions of Detective E. J. Burgess of this city, who was doing some work there, and Burgess telegraphed the police authorities of different cities asking if they did not want Barton, but got no answer.

Detective Burgess says Barton carried a belt full of gold eagles while he remained in Jacksonville and did not seem to care who saw the money. He says Barton lived at a house kept by a woman known as Russian Belle, but whose right name is Belle Olive. Barton paid a mortgage of $800 that was on this woman's place and then married her daughter, or a woman whom she claimed as her daughter and who was known as The Wanderer.

With Barton when he reached Jacksonville was a companion, who lived in the same house and who married a girl by the name of Beatrice. This pair soon left for New Orleans.

Barton and his wife came to New York in March. He had money when placed under arrest, but had a number of pawntickets for diamond jewelry. When the police called at his house to arrest him, they found Mrs. Barton sick in bed. Barton himself claims to be suffering from appendicitis and said he would ask the judge to send him to the hospital.

Accuses Others.

During the hearing in the Center street court Barton said he was not alone in the commission of the crime. He said he had a companion, whose name was Leo Graves, and he charged Chief Davenport with trying to shield Graves. "If I am guilty, Graves is also guilty. Why is he not arrested?" asked Barton.

Then, turning to Chief Davenport, he asked: "Did not Graves admit to you that he took one-half of the money from me?"

The chief nodded affirmatively.

"Then," said Barton, "why are you trying to shield him?" Chief Davenport told the magistrate that hitherto Barton had borne a good reputation and had never before been accused of any crime. Then he added that he thought he could show there is nothing in the present charge against him.

Barton asked the magistrate to commit him to Bellevue hospital, saying he was very sick. The magistrate granted the request.

All Antitoxine Must Be Pure.

Albany, May 1.—The state board of health has decided that hereafter all antitoxine must be tested by the officials of the board before being placed on sale in this state. This is a very important step, as the use of antitoxine as a remedy for diphtheria is growing and is proving most satisfactory in cases where the antitoxine has been properly prepared and is used with intelligence. The antitoxine sold in the market, however, has been found to be unsatisfactory in some instances, and it is desired that it should be of uniform strength, so the above decision of the board was made.

A Celebrated Case Decided.

Providence, May 1.—The case of Samuel P. Colt, assignee, against the Sears Commercial company of New York and London, which has been pending for several years, has been decided for the defendant in the appellate court. Some years ago the Sears company took $20,000 of the bonds of the National Rubber company. When the company assigned, Colonel Colt claimed that the bonds were given as a preferred claim to them as creditors and were therefore void, but the court decided that this is not the case, and that the claim must be paid.

Stole From the Congressional Library.

Washington, May 1.—Philip McElhone, formerly employed in the Congressional library, has been found guilty in criminal court of feloniously taking and carrying away from the library certain valuable historic documents. Notice of a motion for a new trial was given. The defendant was subsequently released on a $3,000 bond. The section of the revised statutes under which McElhone was convicted provides a penalty not exceeding ten years in the penitentiary or a fine not exceeding $5,000 or both.

Another Arctic Exploration.

St. Johns, N. F., May 1.—Lieutenant Peary contemplates another arctic expedition during the summer. Negotiations have been opened for a steamer here.

THE TRIAL OF ROMEYN!

Celebrated Case Rapidly Nearing Completion.

SOME INTERESTING NEWS EXPECTED.

Captain Romeyn Has Preferred Charges Against Lieutenant O'Brien Which, if Brought Up, Will Produce Lively Proceedings.

Atlanta, May 1.—The 13 army officers constituting the court martial before which Captain Henry Romeyn is now on trial at Fort McPherson have received orders from the war department to the effect that upon the conclusion of the present trial they shall remain in Atlanta to await further instructions. The order is regarded as very significant from the fact that Captain Romeyn has preferred charges against Lieutenant J. O'Brien of the Fifth infantry, who is the former officer's accuser in the case now pending. The charges against O'Brien are said to be very serious, and should he ever be brought up for trial it is expected there will be some very lively proceedings, which will totally eclipse in sensation the trial of Romeyn. President Guenther of the court martial is as yet ignorant of what the orders to the court will be, but it is generally believed that they will remain here to try Lieutenant O'Brien.

The trial of Captain Romeyn drags along slowly. The prosecution has finished the rebuttal testimony and evidence in surrebuttal has begun.

Lieutenants Liggett, Wahl, Peavey, Mitchell, Hackney, Sigerfoos, Captain Randall and Major Charles Porter were placed on the stand and testified that they knew of no social ostracism or other disfavor having been shown previous to the time charges were preferred against Captain Romeyn for slander. Captain Romeyn took the stand and stated that an order was issued from the department mitigating the sentence of the court martial at his former trial at Fort Riley, where he was charged with having lost a large amount of government forage. The trial may conclude this afternoon.

Poisoned With Cheese.

Buffalo, May 1.—Eight members of the family of Henry Isaacs, living at 33 Tenth street, were made dangerously ill by eating cheese. The cheese was eaten at the noonday meal, and during the afternoon all who partook of it were seized with a violent illness of a nature that would indicate poisoning. Prompt application of the stomach pump to the sufferers is believed to have saved their lives. All were removed to the general hospital and are now out of danger. The cheese had the appearance of being fresh and was purchased by Mrs. Isaacs yesterday morning.

Debate In Cape Parliament.

Cape Town, May 1.—In the Cape parliament Mr. Merriman, the anti-Rhodes leader, moved a resolution of no confidence in the Cape ministry, which he supported by a vigorous attack upon the hostile attitude assumed by the Cape Colony administration toward the Transvaal. The chamber was crowded, and the debate was of the most exciting character. But the resolution was finally rejected by the casting vote of the speaker of the house.

The Honduras Revolution.

Washington, May 1.—The latest authentic news received at the state department from Honduras is that the revolutionists have captured San Pedro and have possession of the railroad as far as Pimiento, the end of the line. Santa Barbara and Santa Rosa are both said to have declared in favor of the revolution. Omoa still holds out. Ceiba is said to have been taken, but the revolutionists are said to have been repulsed at Truxillo.

Burglars Active In Newburg.

Newburg, N. Y., May 1.—Several burglaries have taken place here lately. Among others the residence of George W. Decker, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Coal company's works here, was robbed of jewelry, tableware and money. Dr. E. R. Post's home was plundered of jewelry, money and valuable papers. There is no clew to the thieves.

Laying a Cornerstone.

Providence, May 1.—The Knights of Pythias from all parts of New England assembled in this city to assist in the laying of the cornerstone of the Pythian temple. The temple, which is to be erected by Elmwood lodge, No. 19, will be the finest structure of the kind in New England.

Cartersville, Ills., May 1.—Fire destroyed a large section of the business houses in this town. Loss, $75,000; insurance, half. Several people were injured. The families of Simon Simon and J. O'Neil had narrow escapes from being burned in their beds.

SENATOR REED FOR CONGRESS.

A year from next fall the biennial election of Congressmen will take place, and as Hon. Benjamin F. Howell is now serving his second term, it is unlikely that he will be willing to neglect his large business interests still further to act as Representative of the Third New Jersey District in Congress. Naturally the nomination of a candidate to succeed him will come to Somerset county, as his predecessor was a Monmouth man, and in casting about for an available person, the drift of the party leaders seems to be toward Hon. Charles A. Reed, at present our State Senator. His term of office there will expire with the close of the legislative session of 1899, just in time for him to take his seat at the opening of the next Congress. Mr. Reed's course in the Assembly of 1896 and his record in the Senate during the late session have been such as to commend him to the further suffrages of the people, and it is not hazardous to predict that when the time comes, he will be found a leader in the race for the Republican Congressional nomination in the Third District.—Bound Brook Chronicle.

LYCEUM CYCLERS WON.

The Lyceum Cyclers enjoyed sweet revenge last evening when they met the Cleveland Cyclers on their alleys and rolled two games. The former team were determined to win both games if possible and they succeeded admirably. At no time during the progress of the games were the visitors in it, and the Lyceum team bowled in their old-time form. There was a good-sized crowd of enthusiastic people present, who cheered their favorites and thus materially helped to win the games. The defeated team will probably arrange another series of games at an early date, for they are anxious to get even. Below will be found the scores of the two games:

P. C C.	1st game.	2d game.

FAINTED ON HIS BICYCLE.

The Plainfield High School scored one point at the games of the Trinity School, held at Berkeley Oval, yesterday afternoon, and might have scored more but for an accident to one of its representatives. George Proctor Smith was entered in the discuss throw and putting the shot. In the discuss throwing event he finished third with a throw of 82 feet. The winner's throw was 87 feet, 2 inches. He was unplaced in putting the shot.

Lindley M. Hillman, the crack rider of the High School, was entered in the one-mile bicycle race. He finished second in his heat and had started in the final. While in the latter event, he fainted and fell from his wheel. He was uninjured, however.

H. E. Manvel, of Pingry's School, won the 300-yard dash in 32 4-5 seconds, breaking the interscholastic record.

Freeholder Lutkins to Resign.

It is to be regretted that Freeholder Andrew Lutkins, of the borough, is to soon retire from the Somerset County Board. Mr. Lutkins has made one of the best of Freeholders and his valuable assistance and counsel will be sadly missed by the present members who will continue as such. During Mr. Lutkins term much important work has been accomplished and the good judgment displayed at all times has been a great saving to the county.

On the other hand, the county is to be congratulated that Freeholder Barkalew is to remain and continue to represent the borough so ably.

—There will be an election of officers in the fire department Monday evening.

—VanEmburgh & Son have just opened the finest line of ruching and neck frills ever shown in Plainfield.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

IVES & SON

Mr. Ives Sr. has had 27 years' experience in raising cows for milking purposes and would like it distinctly understood that their cows are not fed on brewer's grains, of which so much is fed generally.

Corn meal and bran is the best and only good feed to make cows give natural rich milk. We strictly adhere to this idea by extra feeding twice each day.

Our facilities for aerating and cooling our milk as soon as drawn from the cows, are of the latest improved and up-to-date pattern, which gives us the power to guarantee our milk to be of a natural rich quality.

We call attention to our having one of the best farms in this county for herding and keeping cows in a clean and healthy condition. We cordially invite anyone who may desire to drive out to the farm and inspect our system for cleanliness and purity of milk. Directions will be given at our office and headquarters, 1,008 Arlington avenue, where also orders for pure rich milk will receive prompt attention.

REGARDING SWEET CREAM. We are now ready to offer a superior quality of fresh sweet cream—shipped direct from Orange County creameries, which we deliver in any quantity desired.

[One cow's milk for infants or by special request.]

P. S.—We are able to verify what we state, and would caution anyone not to be misled by jealous milk dealers.

Truckman Samuel Merrill arrived in town, yesterday afternoon, with a truckload of furniture belonging to a Newark family.

The interior of Mr. Isington's house at New Market has been thoroughly renovated and newly papered throughout by Bert Pyatt.

Rev. Joshua Mead, the new pastor of the M. E. church, will preach at both the morning and evening service in that church, tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be observed as Missionary Sunday in the M. E. Sunday-school, and Rev. Joshua Mead, the pastor will deliver an address to the school.

Bicycle scorching still continues unhindered right through the centre of town. It is a dangerous practice and may be abated after some one is knocked down and injured.

Several more of those large lowland or meadow snipe were seen hovering about the New Market pond, yesterday afternoon, but there didn't happen to be any one around with a gun just at the time.

The scholars in the two public schools who went picnicing to Washington Rock and Greenbrook, yesterday afternoon, returned before dark tired, though browned up by the hot sun, and happy.

Notwithstanding the recent warm spell, Taylor's bowling alleys were and are yet well patronized. Dunellen has a number of crack bowlers and they are loath to give up their favorite winter sport.

Much amusement was caused on Main street yesterday afternoon when Bert Taylor passed through on a bike, drawing a buggy after him. He rode his wheel in the shafts and made the distance from Taylor's Hotel to Mr. Bodine's on church street without accident.

Some of the school boys while picnicing at Greenbrook, yesterday, wandered away by themselves and went in bathing during the afternoon. This was a foolish thing to do, for the water is yet very cold and some of them may experience a siege of illness for their foolhardiness.

W. H. Carman received a consignment of twenty-two white Plymouth Rock fowls, yesterday, and they were all sold to the proprietor of Taylor's Hotel who is today making preparations to feed some seventy-five or one hundred wheelmen, who are to ride out from New York and Brooklyn, tomorrow.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Miss Winckler, of Newark, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. William Reynolds.

Miss Ellen Nichols, of High Bridge, N. Y., is visiting at the home of T. J. Nichol, at the Plains

The work of placing lightning rods on the Baptist church building has about been completed.

J. E. Perry, principal of Peddie Institute, Hightstown, Mercer county, will preach at the Baptist church tomorrow morning.

During the third week in May the Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church will give a birthday party in the church.

The street commissioner has caused to be torn out the wooden culvert at Park and Bartle avenues, and yesterday an iron one was substituted.

A young son of Edward Hand celebrated his sixth birthday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Hossinger, yesterday. The gifts were in keeping with the occasion, and the invited guests spent a glorious afternoon.

A new feature is to be introduced into the Sunday-school work at the Plains. All of the schools are going to unite in a celebration similar to the one held in Brooklyn each year which is known as Juvie Day. The plans are now in preparation for the event.

The large Flanders boarding house, on the main street, has every room engaged from the first of May to the fifteenth of September. The majority of the guests, Mr. Flanders says, will not arrive until the latter part of May, but many spent all last summer at the favorite resort.

W. H. Turton started yesterday to erect a sixteen foot extension to the rear of his building. It will be two stories high. Mr. Turton's grocery and provision business has grown so rapidly during the past few months that this change was found necessary. Mr. Turton's entire cellar is stacked up ceiling high with goods now.

A great treat is in store for the people in this vicinity on Sunday, June 6th, when Dr. J. H. Harris, president of Bucknell University, will preach at the Baptist church. Dr. Harris is one of the best known men in the country and he is a very brilliant man. He will be the guest of Dr. Coles while in Scotch Plains.

Interesting exercises were held in the Public school yesterday. Two trees were planted by the children. One was named Abraham Lincoln and the other George Washington. The former was planted by the boys and the latter by the girls. Other exercises, consisting of recitations and music, were also enjoyed. There were a large number of town people present to witness the celebration.

Those interested in the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building at Scotch Plains, are very much encouraged. The president, W. H. Hoar, of the Young Men's League, who has the matter in charge, has just received the deed for the lot which is located on the extreme end of the Marsh property, opposite the Public school The lot is 75x125 and is valued at $2 000. Dr Coles has made a contribution of $1,000, with the understanding that the word Christian is to be inserted in the title of the association. A meeting will be held next week to formulate plans for the erection of the building. Among those who have taken a lead in the movement is Rev. Mr. Braker, and to him is due much credit. He has partially arranged to have Pysical Director Heywood, of Plainfield come to the Plains twice a week after the building is completed. There will be everything to attract the young and old men and the structure will be put up in the hopes that a great amount of good will be accomplished.

The third year of the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Braker, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, has just closed. During that time there has been added to the church forty-five with a net increase of twenty five The benevolence of the church has increased about 400 per cent. Strong Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor Societies have been organized and all departments of church work are progressing finely. The members of the church are to be congratulated in having such an earnest and faithful pastor. The members will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the church August 8th, and a history of the church is now in preparation by Dr. Parks, of Scotch Plains, and Judge Cleaver, of Newark, members of the Board of Trustees. Fifty years ago Judge Cleaver was elected president of the Board and at the last election he was again chosen for the same position. It is the intention of those in charge to make the celebration a notable one and several very prominent speakers have been engaged for the occasion.

—The contract for building the temporary footbridge on Watchung avenue across the brook has been given to Pearson & Gayle, and the bridge will be erected next week.

POOR OLD NANCE.

TOO MUCH LIGHT AND FREEDOM FATAL TO THE MINE MULE.

She Couldn't Live Under Ground and be Happy, and Was at Last Bought by the Men and Enabled to View Green Pastures Once More.

In many of the bituminous coal mines of western Pennsylvania the useful mules never see the light of day from the time they are lowered into the mine until they become unserviceable through old age or sickness.

Mules confined in mines undergo some wonderful changes. The short hair with which the body is covered attains an exaggerated development. Hearing does not seem to be affected, but the sense of smell grows very acute. When released after many years' confinement the mules sometimes go totally blind.

"The old mules," said an old miner to a Mail and Express reporter, "just pine away and die.

"It was just five years ago," he went on, "that old Nancy's carcass was hoisted out of the Hogback Mine and three hours after buried on that ridge. It was a sad day for the boys. Old Nance was considered the wisest critter in this district. She was a favorite with the boys, and had many admirable traits that were uncommon among her class. Nance was so well known and so sensible that we allowed her to run at large. She learned to slide the wooden bolt that fastened the barn door, and came and went as she pleased. Nance seemed to know the general rising hour of the miners, and at 5 o'clock every morning she would go galloping down the narrow little streets of the town, braying for all she was worth. The miners all knew that it was time to get up. Nance was always prompt in sounding the reveille, and alarm.

Nance's days of freedom were abruptly ended one day in the spring of '92. Two of the mules in the mine died. Mules were scarce, and the mine officials concluded that Nance should spend the remainder of her life in an underground home.

"You never saw such a change in a mule in your life. All the life seemed to ooze out of her. She was limp and wretched. There was actually tears in her eyes. You couldn't get old Nance to do enough work after that to pay for her keep, and she was such a favorite among the boys that to lay a whip on her meant fight on the spot.

"The result of it was that we raised a collection and bought old Nance, resolved that she should spend the rest of her days in green pastures, and there was rejoicing among the miners when old Nance, by this time a mere skeleton, was placed in the bucket and started on her journey upward.

When Nance was within fifty feet of the surface she picked up her ears and began stamping on the bottom of the bucket. I and two other miners were in the bucket, and we expected every moment the bottom would be kicked out and send us all to eternity.

"The effects on old Nance when she caught the first streak of sunshine were wonderful. She broke loose when the top of the shaft was reached. She wabbled around like a drunken person, keeping up a succession of brays that awakened the whole neighborhood. The light of day blinded her, and she ran against every obstacle in her irregular course. She finally came to an open field and galloped and pranced across it like a boy returning from school. Two hours afterward we found her in the stall that had been her home before she began arduous duties in the mine. Old Nance was stone dead, and I believe to this day that joy following her liberation caused her death.

"Mules and horses cut all kinds of capers when released from mines after long confinement, but there is not a case on record that beats that of old Nance."

Her Mouth.

It is said that a certain English portrait painter has almost as great a reputation for joking as for taking excellent likenesses. One evening he was speaking of a beautiful young girl whose portrait he had just finished.

"Her features are exquisitively moulded, I have heard," said a friend who had seen neither the portrait nor the original.

"Mouth like an elephant's!" echoed his friend, in dismay. "What a terrible misfortune! Do you mean that it is so enormous and— What do you mean?"

No Desire for Possessions.

John Campbell tells a story about the cross-examination of a bad-tempered female in his court. She was an Amazonian person. Her husband, obviously the weaker vessel, sat sheepishly listening. The opposing attorney pressed a certain question rather urgently, and she said angrily: "You needn't think to catch me. You tried that once before." The lawyer said: "Madam, I have not the slightest desire to catch you, and your husband looks as if he was sorry he did."—The Green Bag.

Glaring Favoritism.

"Don't you want to get in this National Encyclopaedia of Prominent People—cost you only $25?"

"No, sir; don't like the way it is run—look at George Washington and John Quincey Adams getting in for nothing."—Chicago Record.

ROYAL TOOTH POWDER IS A LITTLE FINER THAN MOST POWDERS,
as competent judges will admit. Cheap Chalk contains grit, and grit scratches the enamel. Money won't buy finer materials than what we use. You say you are satisfied, so were some who journeyed in the stagecoach. For an agreeable surprise try the ROYAL TOOTH POWDER, 10c. and 25c.; all dry goods stores. Use Royal Borated or Carbolated Talcum at 10c.; all stores. We ship these goods to some part of this country every day in the week excepting Sundays and holidays. Try them once and your friends will know of them. Prepared by

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Only Moderate Improvement In Almost All of the Great Industries.

New York, May 1.—Dun's Review says: In spite of moderate improvement in most of the great industries, business is disappointing. Expectations of speedy end of war in Europe through Turkish victory have helped to depress grain. Demands of Austria and China have caused exports of $6,500,000 gold, merchandise imports are greatly increased and final action of congress on the revenue question seems more remote. Floods at the west continue, and the new tariff proposed for Canada is thought likely to affect trade with that country to some extent. Business in this city was suspended a day, but the ceremonies in honor of General Grant brought hither such a multitude that local trade has been remarkably large. The country is just now unusually free from important labor troubles, but there are strikes in some cities in the building trades, and others of magnitude are threatened in iron mines and manufacture.

Money markets remain easy, receipts from Chicago alone having almost balanced gold exports. Failures for 22 days of April were $13,472,169 against $9,218,616 last year, $9,536,960 in 1895 and $8,826,860 in 1894. Manufactures were $8,962,531 against $4,602,655 last year, and tradings were $4,010,704 against $4,370,330 last year. Failures for the week have been 237 in the United States against 238 last year, and 40 in Canada against 31 last year.

A COURAGEOUS WOMAN.

Instead of Surrendering Her Money She Captures the Thief.

Rome, N. Y., May 1.—A young man named Bellinger, living in this city, entered the general store of Jackson Clark of Delta, a small village six miles north of here, and asked for 5 cents' worth of crackers. Mrs. Clark, who was alone in the store, waited on the man and gave him change for the dime he tendered for the crackers. As she did so Bellinger drew a revolver and threatened to shoot her unless she turned over to him the contents of the money drawer.

Mrs. Clark, instead of acceding to the fellow's demand threw herself upon him and wrested the gun from him. He at once took to his heels. Mrs. Clark gave the alarm, and her husband, Constable Alexander Paddock and Seth Cornish pursued and captured Bellinger half a mile north of Delta. He had been drinking.

ROYAL CHARITY.

The Princess of Wales Remembers the Poor In Times of Rejoicing.

London, May 1.—The princess of Wales has written to the lord mayor of London pointing out that in the schemes to commemorate the diamond jubilee of Queen Victoria in June the poorest of the poor, the tenants of the London slums, have been overlooked. She says:

"Might I plead that they also should have a share in the fetes of that blessed day, and so remember to the end of their lives that great and good queen whose reign, by the blessing of God, has been prolonged for 60 years? Let us, therefore, provide these unfortunate ones, these beggars and outcasts, with a dinner or some substantial meal during the week of the jubilee commemoration. I have great pleasure in heading a subscription list for that purpose with £100."

An Extensive Swindler.

Oswego, N. Y., May 1.—T. Kingsford & Son, starch manufacturers, have been greatly annoyed lately by a swindler who has operated all the way from the Pacific coast into Michigan. The fellow is described as young and well dressed. He has represented himself as a salesman for the firm and usually gained the attention of business men in that way by offering starch for a cent or two below the market quotations. Before leaving town the fellow would induce storekeepers to cash a draft for him on the plea that he was short of money. These drafts ranged from $50 to $75, and they are coming in by every mail to the home office in this city. The fellow is branded as a fraud.

Fatal Collision.

New York, May 1.—The Old Dominion line steamer Guyandotte, outward bound for Norfolk, when off the Battery, collided with a Pennsylvania Railroad company's float in tow of the tug Delaware. The float was loaded with cars filled with manure, which were dumped overboard by force of the collision. One of the men on the float was drowned. No injury was apparently sustained by the Guyandotte, and she proceeded on her voyage shortly after.

Postal Clerk Arrested.

New York, May 1.—James G. Terwilliger, for 21 years in the postal service and lately a correspondence clerk in the money order department of the general postoffice, was arrested while at work on a charge of having forged the signature of J. C. Allen to a money order for $100. He was arraigned before Commissioner Shields and held in $3,500 bail for examination next Tuesday.

A Horrible Death.

Auburn, N. Y., May 1.—Death came in one of its most horrible forms to Mrs. Mary Earnes at her home, in Oswego. Alone and helpless, she strangled to death with asthma and grip. She was 56 years of age and very prominent in Salvation Army circles. The remains will be brought to her old home in this city for interment.

Ballington Booth May Be Dispossessed.

New York, May 1.—Commander Ballington Booth of the American Volunteers, received notice of dispossession in regard to the premises in Bleecker street occupied by the Volunteers. The owner of the property says $40 is due on this month's rent, and he wants them to leave.

Death of a Sister of Charity.

Troy, N. Y., May 1.—Sister Mary Vincent died at the Troy hospital. Her family name was Cecelia Mattingly. She was born in Maryland 67 years ago. Thirty-eight years she had been a sister of charity and the most of that time at the hospital.

Killed by a Trolley Car.

Troy, N. Y., May 1.—Clifford, the 5-year-old son of Joseph Bolton, Jr., a prominent brewer of Lansingburg, was run down by a trolley car and so badly injured that he died four hours later.

REVENUE REDUCTION

To Be Recommended In the Tax on Distilled Liquors.

TO DECREASE ILLICIT DISTILLING.

As the Tax Now Stands It Is Almost Impossible to Control Fraudulent Manufacture of Spirits—Beer Tax Will Be Increased.

Washington, May 1.—It is very probable that the secretary of the treasury will soon recommend to congress a material reduction of the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits and an increase in the tax on beer. This action will be taken on the ground that the present tax of $1.10 per gallon is about the revenue producing point. Some days ago Senator Cullom introduced a resolution, which was adopted, calling upon the secretary for his views on the subject, and the commissioner of internal revenue has now in preparation a report to the secretary covering the facts involved.

This report will show that since the increase of the tax on spirits from 90 cents to $1.10 a gallon illicit distilling has increased to a point almost if not quite beyond control. This is the case particularly in the mountainous districts in the south. Recently evidence has been obtained of the extension of illicit distilling into the north. A short time ago a large quantity of illicit whisky was captured in Montana, and an investigation disclosed the fact that it was manufactured in Nebraska.

That it is rapidly increasing and extending in many directions, internal revenue officers say, is beyond doubt, and with only the $50,000 appropriation by congress for the detection and suppression of illicit distilling the internal revenue bureau is almost helpless to stem the tide. Just what reduction will be recommended, is not known, but there are reasons for believing that 90 cents, the rate collected under the McKinley bill, will be fixed upon.

Under the lower rate, it is contended that the inducements for violating the law would be reduced, and at the same time the revenues would not suffer. No definite conclusion has been yet reached as to what the recommendation as to the tax on beer shall be, but it is altogether probable that an increase will be advised.

Expedition to Alaska.

Washington, May 1.—Professor Henry G. Bryant of Philadelphia had an interview with Secretary Long and explained to him the plans of his proposed expedition for the exploration of Mount St. Elias, in Alaska. His purpose is to start very soon in company with an expert from the United States coast and geodetic survey and with the aid of several of Peary's men to explore thoroughly the country in the rear of the big mountain. Secretary Long promised to furnish the party letters to Lieutenant Commander Symonds, commanding the Pinta, the only ship which the government maintains all the time in Alaskan waters, so that in an emergency the gunboat's people might come to the assistance of the explorers.

To Open Trade With Mexico.

Washington, May 1.—The United States consul at the City of Mexico, General Nuevo Laredo, reports to the department of state a visit to that place by a delegation of the Gulf and Interstate Transportation company appointed by the governors of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. They were particularly impressed with the opportunities which exist for the corn trade. Corn is a favored food of the people in Mexico, where it is worth a Mexican dollar per bushel. The committee were introduced to the Mexican officials, who gave assurance of earnest co-operation in any movement for bettering the mutual interchange of agricultural productions.

Excise Enumeration.

Albany, May 1.—State Excise Commissioner Lyman has completed the enumeration of the many villages which have been incorporated since the federal census of 1890, and the villages which were not separately enumerated in that census, for the purpose of fixing the amount of liquor tax to be paid therein. This power was vested in the excise commissioner by an act of the recent legislature. During the next few days he will decide upon the amount of tax to be paid by these villages according to the enumeration.

Yale Students Exonerated.

New Haven, May 1.—The trial of the seven members of the Yale junior class crew, charged with assaulting Thomas Hyland, an expressman, came up in Hamden before Justice Clark. All the oarsmen were discharged except Herbert Wilcox, who, for taking the expressman's team, was given the nominal fine of $5. This disproves the charge of assault, claimed with sensational incidents, by Hyland. Wilcox appealed to the common pleas court. A petition is being started at Yale to rescind Hyland's expressman's license.

Ghastly Find In a Quarry.

Pittsburg, May 1.—A box containing the bodies of two infants has been found in a deserted stone quarry near Bellevue, Pa. The box was securely fastened and a membership card of the Canton (O.) branch of the Young Men's Christian association was tacked on the lid. The babies had evidently been dead several days, and lime had been placed over their remains to hasten decomposition.

More Postal Delegates Arrive.

New York, May 1.—Among the passengers on the steamer La Touraine, from Havre were the following delegates to the international postal convention to be held at Washington: Messrs. Ansault and Dilmati of Paris, Signor Chirlada of Rome, Michael Ivanoff and Basile de Roudanowsky of St. Petersburg and Saba Pasha of Cairo.

Horribly Mangled By a Train.

Woonsocket, R. I., May 1.—Dennis Sullivan, a rubber worker, aged 50, for many years a resident of Millville, was run over and killed here by a freight train on the New England road. His body was dragged some distance and left badly mangled almost in his own dooryard, where it was identified by his wife. He leaves a widow and one son.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Several diamond frame and several combination Crescent tandems have been received by the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

Mayor Charles J. Fisk has just purchased a Cleveland tandem for the use of his sons. The wheel was bought of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

The High School run, which was started last Friday at the suggestion of Superintendent H. M. Maxson and Principal I. W. Travell, was continued yesterday afternoon. Quite a number of the riders of the school gathered at the building yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock and enjoyed a quiet spin out the Springfield road. The run was very satisfactory to all the participants and will probably be continued next week if the weather is suitable.

A good steady road rider, with no pretensions at being a "scorcher," is hard to find, but Sidney R. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, answers all the qualifications. Titsworth has just received his new mount for the coming season, and it is a Pierce, as graceful and strong a wheel as can be found on the market. The wheel is the "Special," enameled in red and with full nickeled forks. It is a stout, reliable wheel. It was purchased through the agency of E. Frank Vail, who represents the Pierce in Plainfield.

The committee representing the Associated Cycling Clubs of New York, Long Island, and New Jersey in connection with the Millburn road race to be run on May 31 has invited President C. E. Simms of the Associated Cycling Clubs to act as referee. In the event of the latter declining, P. Anthony Brock of the Catholic Club Cyclers of Jersey City will act. A. B. Barkman of the Brooklyn Bicycle Club, the founder of the Millburn race, has been invited to act as starter. Other prominent wheelmen invited to officiate are:—Fred Keer, Robert Gentle, Waldo F. Fuller, Warde Bingeley, Leon Schermerhorn, as judges; W. C. Nellis, James Josephi, M. L. Bridgeman, J. C. Pierrez, and L. B. Whymer, as timers; W. A. Drabble, as chief clerk; E. Allen Smith, as chief scorer; Adolph Stahl and R. J. Wolff, as chief umpires, and M. A. Heath and J. F. Owen, as chief marshals. Plainfield is, as usual, not represented.

For the two-mile handicap bicycle race to be run at the spring games of the Princeton University Athletic Association, next Saturday, entries have been received from the leading riders at Yale, Columbia, Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania. While the event is open the intercollegiate element will be a feature in itself. Bert Ripley, of Newark, will ride from scratch. The other backmark men include Williams, of Columbia, and Hill, of Yale, 20 yards; Butler and Tweedy, of Yale, 40 yards; Howard, of Yale, 50 yards, and French, of Yale, 60 yards. The Princeton men have all received generous handicaps. H. W. James will represent Pennsylvania. William M. McCutcheon, of this city, is entered from Yale, and will probably make his first appearance this year at that meet. The race will be run off on the new one-third-of-a-mile track, previous to the athletic contests on the regular path.

There is a new candidate for honors in the Plainfield High School bicycling squad who promises to make things lively before the riding season comes to an end. The new aspirant is Harry Cuming, the younger brother of Thomas A. Cuming, who made such a phenomenal record for himself the first year he rode under the High School colors. Young Cuming is now hard at work training for the spring games with Lindley M. Hillman, the crack rider of the school, and if there is any one who will develop the powers in a good rider, Hillman is the one. Cuming has ridden in junior events during the past two seasons, but this year he will make his appearance with the best scholastic riders in the state at the High School games on May 14th.

INS AND OUTS.

The second nine of Leal's School scored another victory of Thursday afternoon against the team captained by Roy Phillips, winning the game by a score of 21 to 5. H. Smith and R. Phillips filled the box for Phillips' team, with A. Finch as their catcher. Crowe and W. Roome made up the battery for Leals throughout the game.

PINGRY'S PITCHER AN EASY THING.

High School Base Ball Team Won Their First Victory.

The Plainfield High School baseball nine won its first victory in the contest for the championship of New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, this morning, by defeating the nine from Pingry's School of Elizabeth, by a score of 27 to 10. The game was played on the Washington avenue grounds, Plainfield.

The Plainfield boys found the Elizabeth pitcher an easy thing in the first three innings and batted out twenty runs with the assistance of Pitcher Gray, of Elizabeth, who gave them nine bases on balls in the three innings. Meanwhile Pingry's team could not hit Sutphen, who pitched for Plainfield. In the next three innings the luck changed, and Elizabeth scored seven to Plainfield's nothing. In the seventh and last inning, the High School boys scored seven runs. The Plainfield boys batted well and fielded excellently. Fisher, at short, particularly distinguished himself. The score by innings was as follows:

High School—	5	5	10	0	0	0	7	—27

Sunday-school Class Entertained.

J. M. McNaughton, of West Front street, entertained the members of his Sunday-school class at his home last evening. The evening was spent in playing games chiefly, after which refreshments were served. All present thoroughly enjoyed the sociability of the affair, and the hospitality of the host and hostess was a pleasant feature. In all there were about fifteen young women present, and the absence of the men did not in the least mar the pleasures of the evening.

A Voice From Upper Burmah.

Mrs. Dr Kirkpatrick, of Upper Burmah, will speak in the First Baptist church, tomorrow evening. Those who have had the privilege of listening to Mrs. Kirkpatrick will need no further invitation to hear her again, for her eloquent words will long remain in their minds and lives, but it is hoped that those who have not already heard her will improve this opportunity. It will doubtless be the last as Mrs. Kirkpatrick expects soon to leave this country for her chosen field of labor.

Couldn't Even Tell His Name.

This morning about 10 o'clock a man was found near the Park Avenue Baptist church in an intoxicated condition. The man was so far gone that he was unable to move, and a policeman was sent for to remove him to the station house. Later it was learned that the man at one time worked for James Burke, the gardner. As soon as he recovers from his indisposition his name will be secured and he will be sent to his home if he has one.

Assault Case Dismissed.

A hearing was given yesterday afternoon by Justice Newcorn in the case of Frederick Bettellstetler vs. William Lee, charged with assault, and after hearing both sides the case was dismissed. The evidence brought out the fact that the plaintiff struck the defendant first, and that the trade of the horse for the wagon was consuminated and the plaintiff had no right to trespass on the defendant's property to cause a disturbance.

Carl E. Dufft to Sing.

Dr. Carl E. Dufft, who is to sing at the Midmer Glee Club concert on Tuesday evening, May 4th, at Y. M. C. Hall, is well known to the people of this city, and all lovers of good music should not fail to attend. Miss Leontine Gaertner is considered one of the finest lady 'cellists in the country, and Miss Evelyn Kirk is an elocutionist of no small ability.

THEATRICAL.

The largest audience of her engagement here greeted Loraine Hollis at Music Hall last night. The play was "The Arabian Nights" and it gave immense satisfaction. It was one continuous laugh from start to finish, and the clever company individually acquitted themselves with great credit. Miss Hollis' comedy is of that type which makes it possible to convey to her audience the most delicate points of humor and to tone down and soften the broader lines, which any but a finished actress would have made appear coarse. In "The Arabian Nights" Miss Hollis is a brilliant success. Tonight the bill will be "Forget-Me-Not."

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.
During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.
Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.
Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.
The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.
Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

IN A CHASM DEATH CAME.

A CULVERT CAVED IN AND MRS. RENNIE COVERED WITH DIRT.

It Was Twenty Minutes Before Her Body Was Reached and Then Life Was Extinct—County May Be Responsible

The caving in of a culvert over a creek in Middlesex county, between Piscataway and Bonhamtown, shortly after 2 o'clock p. m., yesterday, occasioned an accident by which a woman lost her life. The culvert forms a portion of a county bridge, and the situation is such that an interesting question as to responsibility may arise.

Mrs. Margaret Rennie, a widow, thirty-two years old, lives with her father, Patrick Rodgers, at the top of a steep hill about one mile from Bonhamtown. At the foot of this hill, about 100 yards down, is what is known as Mill Creek, a brook about fifteen feet wide and a foot in depth. Over this creek there has been for forty years an old bridge with a single brick span fifteen feet wide. The County Board of Freeholders not long ago voted to have the bridge widened by the building of another span of similar width. The contract was given to Julius Van Horn, of New Brunswick. On Friday the job was completed, the false centres removed and the bridge thrown open to the public. The two spans constitute a brick arch ten feet above the bed of the stream.

They stopped a moment on the new portion of the bridge. Suddenly the earth gave away, and Mrs. Martin had just time to jump to hard ground. The entire structure caved in, and Mrs. Rennie was buried as completely as if a yawning chasm had opened to receive her.

Mrs. Martin ran for assistance, and soon Mr. Rodgers, Henry Thomas and Samuel Martin were digging for Mrs. Rennie's body. The debris had dammed up the brook and forced the water to rise, so that all the earth and bricks were submerged. Mrs. Rennie was found in twenty minutes in a sitting posture, with her head forward. There was a slight abrasion on the forehead, and death had been due to drowning. Word was sent to County Physician Samuel Long, and he went to the scene at once. After an autopsy he gave a permit for burial.

James M. Parsons, a member of the Freeholders' Committee on the bridge, said last night that the new portion of the bridge had not yet been examined by the county engineer or accepted by the committee, and that the county could not be held liable.

Loosened masonry, due to the heavy rain on Saturday night, no doubt occasioned the accident.

A FRENCH CONFERENCE.

Interesting and Instructive Affair Arranged by Mrs. Clapp.

A delightful French conference was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Clapp, of Mercer avenue, when Monsieur Lacasse was introduced to Mrs. Clapp's friends, who are interested in French. Monsieur Lacasse is a professor from the University of Paris, and has had five years experience in teaching his language in Washington, D. C. With pure diction and pleasant manner he gave an interesting sketch of the life of Francois Coppee, following with two monologues selected from his writings. Monsieur Lacasse showed much dramatic power in these recitations, the tone of which was pathetic. An appreciative audience gave him their undivided attention.

Miss Frances Weir rendered a charming selection on the piano, followed by an encore. Tea and refreshments announced the return to English speech and social chat. The aids in serving the tea were Miss Clapp, the Misses Haviland, Shreve, Weir, Faber, Henderson, Hegeman and Miss Meade of New York.

HIS SKULL FRACTURED.

JAMES CAMPBELL STRUCK BY A TRAIN NEAR WHITEHOUSE.

Found on the Tracks Early Yesterday Morning and Brought to the Muhlenberg Hospital—He Cannot Recover.

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning the body of a colored man was found on the Central Railroad tracks about a half mile west of Whitehouse. The man was saturated with water and suffering from a fracture of the skull. At the time the man was not known and he was brought to this city in a caboose and taken to the hospital from Grant avenue in the ambulance. Dr. Long was summoned and he in turn called the medical staff, who made a thorough examination of the injured man. It was learned that there was a complete fracture of the skull in two places, each one inch in diameter, and that the fractured bones were crushing the brain. The staff decided to perform an operation at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, which they did. The man was in an unconscious condition all day, and it was hardly thought he could recover. He did not seem to be injured in any other way.

The name of the man is Jas. Campbell, it was learned later, and he was formerly a resident of this place and New Market. He was employed on a farm at the latter place. He is a well-known character and has lived in this locality for years. It is supposed he went to Whitehouse to visit friends and while there imbibed too freely. It was while on his way back that he walked on the tracks and was struck in the head by an engine drawing a coal train. He was not discovered at the time and it is supposed that he had laid on the tracks for nearly an hour. Campbell is about fifty years old and as far as can be learned he is unmarried. It is not thought that he can get well.

STRUCK BY A BLUE LINER.

Driver of a Bakery Wagon Hurt at a Cranford Crossing.

Giovani Copola, better known as "The Priest," of late has been driving a bread route for Nicola Orchetti. At about 6 o'clock yesterday morning as Copola was driving over the tracks above Cranford at what is known as the "tin house" crossing, an East bound Royal Blue Line flyer struck the wagon and scattered bread, wagon and "The Priest" along the track. The wagon was completely demolished. The horse escaped without injury, but Copola was not so fortunate. He was badly bruised and shaken up. The train stopped and took him aboard and was met at Elizabeth by the ambuiance and taken to the General Hospital.

District Missionary Meeting.

The Elizabeth district meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. churches will be held tomorrow at Elizabeth in the St. James' chapel. The morning session will begin at 10:30 o'clock. There will be a basket luncheon at noon, and the afternoon session will begin at 1:30 o'clock. Those going from this city should take the trolley car for South Broad street at the Elizabeth station.

Garwood's School Still Running.

The report in several of the New York papers that the public school at Garwood had been closed by the Garwood Land Improvement Company is a mistake, as the school is open and will remain so until the end of the school year. Next year, it is expected that the school boards of the townships of Westfield and Cranford will assume control and pay the expenses of running the school.

Change of Trolley Schedule.

Another change has been made in the running time of the trolley cars of the Plainfield Street Railway at night. The cars will run with twelve minutes headway during the day as usual but after 8 o'clock, instead of 7 as heretofore, the cars will be run on fifteen minutes headway.

A New Mission Chapel.

It is expected that before long work will be started on the erection of the East Third street Mission chapel. Nearly enough money has been subscribed for the structure and as soon as the required sum is obtained the work will be commenced.

Their First Anniversary.

The first anniversary of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will be held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Vincent chapel. Mrs. Clinton B. Fisk is expected to be present and make an address.

Yellow Card Removed.

The yellow card, announcing the prevalence of contagious disease, has been removed by the Board of Health from the residence of Geo. P. Dupee, of Rockview avenue, his son having recovered from the scarlet fever.

A SMALL SIZED FLOOD.

HEAVY RAIN FALL DID SOME DAMAGE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Green Brook Overflowed Its Banks and Prevented Traffic Near Sebring's Mills—A Very Nasty Night for Pedestrians.

High winds and a remarkably heavy rainfall marked the storm that visited this section on Saturday night and Sunday. The rain came in gusts that were extremely fierce. All Saturday, the clouds portended rain and hung dark and threatening overhead. It sprinkled in the morning several times but the storm did not set in until late in the afternoon, when it began with a few drops that fell easily and softly. Just before 8 o'clock, the wind increased in violence and the rain began to fall in torrents. The crowd of Saturday evening shoppers were driven home or else did not venture out and the business part of the city was remarkably quiet for a Saturday evening.

The rain did not fall steadily but came in strong gusts in which the very fountains of the heavens seemed to have been let loose. With the rain was a high wind that turned umbrellas inside out and with great facility. While it was bad enough in the city, it was worse on the outskirts of the city where the wind had full sweep. Limbs were torn off trees and grape-arbors were wrecked and other damage done.

All night the rain continued to fall without abatement and Sunday morning the storm was its height. By noon, the worst of it was over and there was nothing more than a drizzle to disturn those who ventured out. After the sun set, the clouds broke away and the stars came out.

Weather Observer Neagle kept an eye on the rain-guage and reports that the total rainfall was 2.15 inches, which is very large considering the short time in which it fell.

The ground was very dry when the storm began and quickly absorbed much of the water. That prevented a serious flood that would have otherwise occurred in this vicinity. The heavy rainfall swelled the streams far above their usual size. Green brook, in the vicinity of Sebring's Mills, overflowed its banks and flooded the fields. The roadway to the bridge was covered with several feet of water which prevented traffic through there, yesterday. In some places the water was up to the tops of the rail fences, while the barley and rye crops were injured materially by the water.

The flats in the vicinity of Bound Brook the water overflowed, but while the Raritan river rose several feet there was no signs of a flood in that borough and the water, except the rain, did not make its appearance there. The crops in the lowlands, between Bound Brook and Somerville, were damaged to some extent by the water.

More Than Paid Expenses.

The officers of the University Extension Society report that the total receipts of the course of last season were $716.70; the expenses, $625.78; leaving a balance in the hands of the treasurer of $90.92. This statement covers the work in the Fourth Ward in which the disbursements were $149.90 in excess of the receipts. It is urgently requested that all persons wishing to join in the work of next winter immediately send their names to Miss A. P. Newton, secretary, East Ninth street, stating the number of tickets desired.

Presented With a Bible.

George R. Cornwell, one of the best workers in the First M. E. church and the Y. M. C. A. has left Plainfield and taken up his residence in New York. Yesterday afternoon, he served for the last time as assistant superintendent of the Sunday-school of the First M. E. church. After the lesson, Superintendent J. W. Jackson presented Mr. Cornwell with a handsome Bible and an engraving of "St. Anthony" as a token of remembrance of the officers and teachers of the school. Mr. Jackson made a few remarks to which Mr. Cornwell replied.

FROM JAIL TO HOSPITAL.

A NOTORIOUS PLAINFIELD WOMAN HAS A CRACKED SKULL.

Johanna Haley, Who Spends Most of Her Time in Jail, Lies in a Precarious Condition as a Result of a Drunken Spree.

There is no more regular attendant at the Union county jail in Elizabeth than Johanna Haley. She is more at home in jail than she is anywhere else, although Plainfield is nomially spoken of as her home. Now she lies ill with a fractured skull in the Elizabeth Hospital and the doctors have little hope of her recovery.

There is no name better known in the police annals of this city than Johanna Haley. She visits the police courts of this city, Westfield and Elizabeth at regular intervals, usually charged with drunkenness, and the judges send her down for a term at the county jail. For many years she has continued that kind of an existence, making a little money now and then at washing, only to spend it at once on "Jersey lightning" or some other equally powerful intoxicant.

On March 26, 1896, she was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza on the charge of being drunk and disorderly and trying to steal a pair of gloves from Laing's hat store on Park avenue. It was alleged that she hid the gloves under her shawl and started to depart with them when she was stopped. The Judge found her guilty and sent her down to Elizabeth for forty days. After her release from the jail, she went to Westfield and and had a tete-tete with the judge in that place, with another trip to jail as a result.

After sundry wanderings, Johanna landed in Plainfield just one year from the time of her last remembered visit and celebrated the occasion by getting most gloriously drunk. The police did their share in the celebration and locked her up. She appeared before the Judge, on March 29th, and was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

When she was released on April 26th, she again celebrated the event but this time in Elizabeth. She was found on Union street, Elizabeth, in a state of intoxication and arrested. She complained at the time that she had had a fall and hurt herself but the police thought it the ravings of a drunken woman and paid no attention. She was sent to jail for fifteen days. Saturday, she again complained and an examination was made revealing the fact that her skull was fractured. She was conveyed to the Elizabeth Hospital where she now lies. She is steadily growing worse.

SONGS OF FOREIGN LANDS.

Miss Dickson Rendered Selections Typical of Many Countries.

On Saturday evening an entertainment of unusual interest was given at the Hunterton Hotel, Netherwood, when Miss Antonia Dickson, of New York, presented her popular musical "Songs of Foreign Lands," before a large and cultured audience. Miss Dickson is a highly cultured woman and her musical talent is marked. She rendered selections typical of many countries on the piano and her imitation was excellent. The selections were all familiar and the audience was not slow to catch on. At the close of the entertainment Mr. Dickson, a brother of Miss Dickson, sang very acceptably.

In addition to the guests stopping at the hotel there were present: Dr. Robert Hunter, L, M. Porter and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson, D. S. Mason, Mr. Bingham, A. C. Mason, the Misses Plummer, J. D. Ottewell and daughter, Miss L. M. Root, Mr. Kattcher, C. H. W. Berbecker, Miss I. C. Irwin, Miss Amy Hyde, of New York; Rev. P. S. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Dyett, Mr. and Mrs. Beal, Miss Beal, Mr. and Mrs. Guion, Winfield Angleman, Mr. Davison, of Netherwood.

Mr. Ackerman's Lecture.

Mr. Ackerman's illustrated talk on "A trip around the world," which is to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Thursday evening next, May 6th, will include many fine views of the West Indies, Venezuela and Mexico. These are exceedinly interesting countries which Mr. Ackerman has recently visited and the views not only represent beautiful scenery and fine buildings, but also the manners and customs of the people. This illustrated talk brings an opportunity to many of us to become better acquainted with countries whose beauties and curiosities are rarely exhibited.

—Miss Leontine Gaertner 'cellist, who will appear at the Midmer Glee Club concert, at Y. M. C. A. Hall, tomorrow evening, was soloist at the recent concert given by the Union League Club, of Brooklyn.

THREATEN A LIBEL SUIT

CONSTABLE ROBERT PIERCE WANTS TO MULCT EDITOR RUNYON.

He Claims That the News Editor Published Statements That Were Injurious to His Character—Suit Not Instituted Yet.

Robt. Pierce, the constable who figured in the exciting landlord and tenant case of Stein against Meserole, threatens to bring a suit for heavy damages against Editor Frank W. Runyon, of the News, for alleged libel. Pierce takes exception to some of the statements published in reporting the case in the News, which he seems to think are injurious to his good name. Pierce first called on Justice Suydam, of New Brunswick, and wanted him to institute proceedings against Editor Runyon. The Justice told him that he had no jurisdiction over such an affair and referred him to Judge Cowenhoven, a well-known New Brunswick lawyer. The offended constable called on Judge Cowenhoven and told his grievances, but the Judge did not take his case. Whether or not Pierce has placed the matter in the hands of any other lawyer it is impossible to learn. It is said that he wanted to sue Editor Runyon for $20,000.

In publishing whatever statements he did in the News, Editor Runyon probably had no intention of maliciously libeling the constable. Newspaper editors are constantly threatened with all kinds of suits for defamation of character, etc., etc., but it is seldom that they amount to more than talk or threats. Of course, now and then a suit is started, but it generally ends in defeat for the instigator. However, it is annoying to publishers to be compelled to defend such attacks, and we trust Editor Runyon may be spared the trouble of defending a libel suit.

THROWN OUT OF A WAGON.

A Fractious Horse Hurts a Driver Near Union Village.

A serious runaway accident occurred late Saturday night on the road from Plainfield to Passaic, near Union Village. Otto Jerod, of Passaic, was on his way home from Plainfield and when near the Union village his horse became frightened and ran away. Jerod lost all control of the animal and before he could save himself the horse run the wagon into a tree and threw him out. Jerod received a deep cut in the forehead and his leg was severely sprained. The excited animal kept on running and finally collided with a fence. This resulted in the wrecking of the wagon. The horse then broke away from the wagon and before he stopped he reached the owners' premises at Passaic.

In the meantime the groans of the injured man attracted the attention of John Burnett, who lives near by, and the latter took Jerod into his house where he was given proper treatment. Later Mr. Burnett took Jerod home with his own rig. The latter will recover though his injuries will confine him to the house for some time. His escape was certainly very miraculous. The horse was not injured.

O'DONNELL IS SHY.

Alleged License Violator Seems Afraid to Face the Judge.

Hughie O'Donnell didn't come. The City Judge had ordered him to appear before him for trial in the liquor case this morning, but the alleged illegal liquor seller did not put in an appearance. It will be remembered that he failed to come up for trial a week ago and said that he had to attend the funeral of his wife's sister in Long Island. Since that time O'Donnell has fought extremely shy of Plainfield and the police. The later declare that O'Donnell is afraid to come to trial as the evidence against him is too strong. The trial of John Beerbower for the same alleged offence will come up next Monday morning.

Amateur Minstrels.

An aggregation of colored amateur minstrel performers, known as the Woods and Henry Comedy Company, will go to Bound Brook tomorrow night and give a performance in Voorhees' Hall. The company is managed by a well-known Plainfield young man. Among the stellar attractions of the company are Billy Woods, the negro comedian, and John Taylor, the phenominal baritone singer and buck dancer.

To Open June 1st.

Mountain Park Inn will open for the season June 1st. Manager Moulton will arrive in Plainfield about the last of May and will at once prepare for the opening. This season promises to be very successful and already a number of people are booked for the summer.

A Finger Crushed.

An employee at the Scott Press works had his finger crushed, Friday afternoon. The injured member was dressed by Dr. Hallock.

THE BISHOP CONFIRMS.

NEW ADDITIONS TO THE LOCAL EPISCOPAL CHURCHES.

Bishop Scarborough Conducted the Services and Gave Good Words of Advice to the Young People Who Were Given Rites.

Bishop Scarborough was present at the morning service in the Grace P. E. church, yesterday, and confirmed a large class. The class was composed of eleven girls and thirteen boys. The Bishop made an address to the class as they stood before him and gave them words of good and profitable advice as to their future conduct. During his remarks, John Pickering, a slight lad, was overcome by the excitement of the occasion and fainted. He was quietly carried to the choir room by two of the choir and the service went forward without interruption.

Bishop Scarborough attended the service at the Church of the Redeemer last evening and made a very eloquent address. The attendance was excellent considering the weather and all enjoyed the remarks of the Bishop. There was no confirmation class and this part was omitted.

The service at Holy Cross church yesterday morning was unusually interesting. Bishop Scarborough was present and confirmed a class of sixteen. His address to the new members was one of the best ever listened to and it is full of good spiritual advice both to those who joined and the older members of the church. The altar was prettily decorated with lilies and roses, and the music was a pleasing feature.

SHOT AT A BURGLAR.

A Scotch Plains Depredator Escapes From a Watchful Citizen's Aim.

Some one seems to have a grudge against John R Marsh, who is a Scotch Plains law abiding citizen. Only a short time ago The Press had occasion to record the blowing open of his safe and the pilfering of the contents. Sometime after midnight on Friday or early on Saturday morning, some one, as yet unknown, climbed over the transom in the front door and gained admission to the shop. The intruder's visit was evidently for meat, for he attacked the ice box, but since the last robbery Mr. Marsh had used every precaution to avert a repetition. So on the night in question he had locked all his meat securely in the ice box and put an extra pad lock on the box. The robber got out the same way he got in, but in making his escape one of his shoes punctured a big hole through the glass in the front door and this awakened Edward Hand who lives next door. Mr. Hand jumped out of bed and grasped his revolver, just as the fellow darted on a dead run. He saw the robber cross the street and turn John Marsh's corner into Front street, and fired one shot at him but without effect. The fellow was running directly toward Plainfield. Here again illustrates the absolute necessity of a night officer. Twice within the past few weeks this place has been entered and the proprietor, as perhaps one of the largest taxpayers in the Plains, is justly indignant at the protection he receives.

BOULEVARD TO BE BUILT ANYWAY.

Lincoln Road to be Improved by Private Enterprise.

Since it was decided by the Freeholders of Middlesex county last week that the county could not accept the Lincoln Boulevard from Bound Brook to Dunellen, steps have been taken by the property owners along the Boulevard to open up and grade the road at once. The road is already open from Bound Brook to the easterly line of Lincoln proper, and before fall it will be opened up as a public thoroughfare and dedicated to public use. It was contended by some that it would be a too heavy tax on the county to telford pave it this year, but it will be only a short time when this step will be necessary, as this link partly disconnects too many valuable interests on either side.

DELUCA GETS FIVE YEARS

Last of Somerset County Murder Cases Disposed of.

A petition was presented to Judge Magie, of the Somerset county court, this morning, by the lawyers for Jo Chalbi, the Bound Brook murderer, asking for a new trial. The Judge gave them until May 24th to show cause why a new trial should be granted. A strong effort will be made to secure the new trial.

Francisco Deluca, the Bernardsville murderer, who pleaded non vult to the charge of murder, was sentenced by Judge Magie in the court, this morning. He was sentenced to five years imprisonment in State prison.

THE WAR INDEMNITY

The Powers Will Not Permit Turks to Exact Heavy Damages.

INTRIGUES OF COUNT MURAVIEFF.

Russia's Foreign Minister Offends the Dowager Empress—Lord Salisbury's Proposition to Hold a Conference of the Great Powers at Paris.

London, May 3.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Mail learns that the powers will not consent to the levying of indemnity upon Greece, and that both Austria and Germany are trying to induce the porte to modify its demands.

It is semiofficially stated that Lord Salisbury's proposal to the powers for a conference at Paris to dicuss measures with a view of ending the war between Turkey and Greece has already been under consideration for several days at the various foreign offices and may now be considered definitely abandoned.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Paris says that 200 American volunteers for Greece have arrived there and gone on to Marseilles. They were all Greeks, and all wore ribbons bearing the inscription, "War, for Victory or Death."

The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Copenhagen learns from an absolutely reliable source that Count Muravieff, the Russian foreign minister, was formerly a protege of the Russian dowager empress and a firm supporter of her policy, but while the dowager empress was engaged in family councils at Copenhagen recently Count Muravieff improved the opportunity to make himself master of the situation at St. Petersburg and to inaugurate a policy of his own, which was absolutely against all the principles of the dowager empress and of the Greek party at Copenhagen.

In her absence from St. Petersburg, Count Muravieff acquired a leading influence over the czar and persuaded him to change his views. The dowager empress, on learning of the treachery of her favorite, hastened back to St. Petersburg with the object of doing battle with Muravieff and of having a voice in the draft of the czar's speech to Emperor Joseph at the recent banquet.

Captain Rabbek of King George's personal staff has wired from Athens that the right wing of the Greek army had repulsed the Turks, but that the left wing had retreated behind the old frontier line to avoid being circumvented. Captain Rabbek adds: "The Greek army in Epirus, after defeat at Pentepegadia, has retired to Arta. All hope of continuing the war is now virtually abandoned. The fleet has returned to Volo for the protection of the inhabitants."

Greek Rout In Epirus.

London, May 3.—The Times' correspondent at Patras, giving details of the fighting at Pentepegadia, where the Greeks were routed, notes the neglect of the officers to provide for the timely arrival of re-enforcements, a matter so difficult in that wild section of the country, and proceeds:

"When the Turks opened the attack, I realized that their fierce onset might expel the mere handful of Greeks, but I did not realize that this one blow would throw the entire Greek army in Epirus into a hopeless panic and cause the loss of all the positions gained since the opening of the campaign.

"Six thousand Turks scaled the mountain, covered as it is with bushes and rocks, and in the face of a firing which was rapid and continuous. They lost heavily, in spite of the fact that two Greek guns were inexplicably removed from action shortly after the fusillade began. The evzones fought bravely, but were compelled to retire.

"The rest of the Greek positions have been abandoned. There has been apparently no stand anywhere, and the whole army is crumbling up without firing a shot. We entered Kumuzades, which 3,000 men with six guns had deserted, accompanied by the terrified villagers, carrying their property, and then we descended the rough pass, where for hours we met no one. The retreating and panic stricken troops were far ahead. About midnight we and our mournful procession of villagers overtook the routed army on the road, crowded and in utter confusion, packed with a mass of humanity, tumbling on through the darkness without hurry and silently, for it was a strange panic that had seized the men—a sullen, unexcited, stubborn determination not to fight, but to press on toward Arta in a sluggish, irresistible wave. The officers, too, like their regiments, walked with gloomy and shamefaced expressions, quite unable to get their men in hand."

A Greek Joan of Arc.

Athens, May 3.—A band of 2,000 irregulars is about to start for the front, their standard bearer, a 19-year-old girl, Helen Constantinidis, dressed in the same uniform as the men.

The populace continues indignant at the filling of the railway carriages with the crown Prince Constantine's baggage in the flight from Larissa, despite the protests of the railway officials. The people say they have been cheated and betrayed. They are also angry at the neglect of the government to call out the exempted reserves, who are for the most part relatives of ministers, deputies and aristocrats.

Communications with Volo still remain uncut. Locomotives have pushed out a short distance toward Larissa, and they report that the line is apparently little damaged. The authorities are distributing rifles and bayonets to civilians indiscriminately, thus increasing the panic.

Reports are current here that the powers are about to mediate between the two antagonists. The Italian and Austrian ministers have had a long interview with M. Ralli and M. Scoulodis.

War Preparations Continue.

Constantinople, May 3.—War preparations go on with unabated vigor Two commissions, composed of officials of the ministries of public works and of war, have been formed for the purpose of inspecting railways and facilitating the dispatch of troops to the frontier.

It has been decided to extinguish the torches in all the lighthouses on the gulf of Smyrna as far as Karaburun during the continuance of the war.

It is officially announced that the Greeks residing in Turkey may become naturalized as an alternative to leaving the country. This will be compulsory for all Greeks officially employed in Turkey.

The porte has undertaken to provide guards for the protection of the American missions in Asia Minor and has promised that these shall not be removed without the consent of the American legation.

Greeks Reoccupy Filippiada.

Arta, May 3.—After remaining inactive for two days, the Greek troops have reinvaded Epirus. The Sixth regiment advanced to and occupied Filippiada for the third time without fighting. The Turks are still at Pentepigadia, and Imaret has been fortified, the military bridge over the river Arta having been destroyed. The streets of Arta present a strange scene, with the continuous exodus of citizens and the steady incoming of the peasantry, who camp out in the streets around fires, with thousands of sheep and cattle.

Turks Claim Victory In Epirus.

Washington, May 3.—The Turkish legation makes public the following dispatch from the foreign office at Constantinople: "According to a telegram received from the commandant of the army at Janina, Loures has just been retaken and occupied by the imperial troops."

Ismail Pasha Protests.

Khania, Crete, May 3.—Ismail Pasha, governor of the island, has protested against the decision of the admirals allowing food to be supplied to inhabitants in the interior. He demands an abolition of the blockade or its complete re-establishment.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Oil was struck at a depth of 96 feet in a well that was drilled on the Fountain farm, two miles north of Bolivar, N. Y.

A young doctor of New York who had taken poison by mistake, was arrested for scorching while riding to a hospital on his bicycle.

William Bellis, a helpless paralytic, was burned to death in the house of his son, Delos Bellis, a prominent citizen at Penn Yan, N. Y. Mr. Bellis was alone in the house.

Twenty-six anarchists, in addition to the five formerly sentenced to death at Barcelona, were condemned to death for complicity in the bomb outrage of June 7 last at the feast of Corpus Christi.

Edward Lower, while attempting to escape from Patrolman Eugene Sullivan, in Buffalo, fired two shots at his captor, one of which took effect in the officer's groin. Sullivan held to his prisoner until assistance arrived.

The house of a farmer named Breeder, near White Oak creek, in Tennessee, was struck by a waterspout and demolished. The farmer, his wife and child were instantly killed, and two farmhands were so badly injured that they died during the day. The neighboring houses were not damaged.

Receivers For Big Steel Company.

Newcastle, Pa., May 3.—Upon the application of the Croton Limestone company Judge Wallace has appointed Edwin N. Ohl and William E. Reis of this city receivers of the big Atlantic Iron and Steel company, which owns the Atlantic furnaces and rolling mill in this city, as well as having leased works in Sharon and Greenville, Mercer county. This course became necessary as a protection to the creditors of the company, owing to the failure of the firm of Plumb Burditt, Barnard & Co. of Buffalo. The court granted the receivers permission to continue in operation the blast furnace and other branches of the business in this city, and it is more than likely that none of the works operated by the company will be shut down, at least from the above cause.

Rain Saved the Town.

Nanticoke, Pa., May 3.—A disastrous fire occurred in Glen Lyon, a mining town five miles from this place. It originated in Kennedy's hotel, and that structure was entirely consumed, together with a large dwelling house and bottling works, all the property of P. S. Kennedy. The fire was the work of an incendiary. But for the heavy rain the whole town would have been destroyed. The inmates of the hotel narrowly escaped with their lives. The damage is over $10,000, with light insurance.

Kruger's Grandson Reinstated.

Pretoria, May 3.—Lieutenant Eloff, the grandson of President Kruger, has been reinstated and appointed chief lieutenant of the Pretoria police. Lieutenant Eloff was recently suspended from duty for using insulting language toward Queen Victoria. The charges against him were eventually dismissed on account of conflicting evidence. Even the semiofficial newspapers express disapproval of the promotion of the president's grandson.

C. R. THIERS, Dentist.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Stands at the Head.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Saffold, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I cannot say enough for its merits.'

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug stor.

—John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, will meet tomorrow evening and in addition to the transaction of important business one recruit will be mustered.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feelin prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

POSTAL CONVENTION.

Business Will Open In Earnest Next Wednesday.

SOME MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED.

New Rules Will Be Discussed and Probably Adopted In Substitution of Old Ones In Order to Cover New Conditions.

Washington, May 3.—The postal operations of the world will pass in review before one of the most distinguished bodies that ever met in this country when the universal postal congress convenes in this city Wednesday. It is the first time that the Universal Postal union, now comprising and controlling, so far as the mails are concerned, every organized government save three—China, Korea and the Orange Free State—has had its delegates assemble in America, and the deliberations of its fifth sextennial convention will be marked by perhaps more pronounced formality than has attended any convention of either national or international scope that has gathered in this country for a long period.

Sixty odd countries and provinces will be represented by about 120 delegates, each country having but a single vote. The sessions will be held in the historic old building which until recently was the home of the Corcoran art gallery. The hall has been equipped with desks and other conveniences, and a postoffice will be in operation on the spot until the meetings close. The delegates who will form the congress are men of the highest rank in postal service. The postmasters general of several nations are among them, while leading diplomats have been sent by some of the countries. A portion of the delegates are already here.

It Will Last Six Weeks.

The gathering will be in Washington from a month to six weeks, but the congress itself will meet not more than a half dozen times. The real work, save that of ratification of proceedings when the committees report, which belongs to the full congress, devolves upon the four committees, at least one of which will be in session practically every day except Saturday and Sunday. One committee will have charge of the general treaty, which is adopted at every congress, and also will settle accounts between individual countries. With the latter this country has nothing to do. A second committee will take up arrangements for exchange of letters of declared value, the parcels post system and the postal books of identity used by some countries. A third will consider money orders, bills collectible by post and subscriptions through postoffices to newspapers and periodicals, while the fourth will put the new general treaty into definite shape for ratification.

The congress will be opened Wednesday morning by Postmaster General Gary, who will deliver his salutatory in English while the assemblage reads the French translation. This will occupy a little over five minutes, being a formal welcome. Then the senior delegate, not now selected, will respond in a few words. The election of a presiding officer will follow.

General George Batchellor, ex-minister to Portugal and chairman of the United States delegation, probably will be the honored one. The business of the congress will begin at once, all proceedings being conducted in French and behind barred doors.

The Work of the Congress.

Many measures will be brought forward for consideration. The new treaty or general convention, and several minor ones, signed by only two or three of the countries, will be discussed and adopted in substitution of old ones in order to cover new conditions. Perhaps the most important proposition will involve what is known as the intermediate transit system. This provides for compensation by the sending country to all countries over whose domains its mails are transported. An agreement to carry the mails of all the countries in the union mutually free will be sought, but probably voted down. Such countries as Belgium, which sends out little mail, but over whose lands much foreign mail is transported, at a big profit to the kingdom, will object to cutting off this revenue.

This practically defeats the scheme, as one well founded dissent kills a proposition. This country and a few others, however, have declared in favor of the free transportation. The ultimate action, it is said, probably will be the acceptance of the average weight statistics of the last six years as a basis of all intermediary transit accounts up to the assemblage of the next congress—that is, up to 1903—when the issue will be revived.

The much agitated proposition to adopt a universal postage stamp, not good for domestic postage, but for convenient communication between countries, and the universal return stamped envelope proposition, having a similar scope, also will be brought up, but the probabilities of adoption are said to be against both, with the latter having the better chance of the two.

Appeal to Colleges.

Cincinnati, May 3.—An address has been issued to the officers and members of Delta Kappa Epsilon suggesting that a movement be inaugurated among the college fraternities commonly known as the Greek letter societies in all of the colleges in the country to raise a fund to assist the modern native Greeks in America in the desire so general among them to return home to engage in the war in behalf of their native land. It is proposed that none of the money subscribed be used to purchase arms or ammunition for the Greeks nor that there be any violation of the obligations of national neutrality. The money subscribed will be used solely to pay transportation expenses.

Suicide.

Oneonta, N. Y., May 3.—Julius Hartom, aged 46, of Maryland, died at his father's home at Middlefield from laudanum, taken, it is said, with suicidal intent.

The Weather.

Partly cloudy weather and probably occasional showers; cooler in southern portions; southerly winds, becoming northerly.

EARTHQUAKE AT LIMA

Some Severe Shocks Felt at the Peruvian Capital.

FORMER MANIFESTATIONS IN PERU.

There Have Been Many Seismic Disturbances In the South American City, When Great Loss of Life and Property Have Occurred.

Lima, Peru, via Galveston, May 3.—An earthquake of great violence and long duration has occurred here, shaking up the city and the immediate neighborhood.

Great alarm immediately prevailed throughout the city, and the church bells were rung, summoning the inhabitants to special services, at which prayers were offered up for the cessation of the shocks.

No disasters have been reported up to the present time. The trembling of the earth extended from Chincha to Casma, and the old walls of the city fell.

No very serious earthquake has been reported from Peru for several years. There was a strong disturbance on March 28, 1896, and, though the destruction was not great, the anxiety was intense, owing to the fact that March 29 is the anniversary of the complete destruction of Lima many years ago and to the feeling that the disturbances of the 28th were only preliminary to a general disaster.

The last seismic disturbance in Peru occurred on Oct. 26, 1896. The trembling was felt in Lima and extended over a considerable area without, however, being very serious at any point.

The earthquake of March 28 caused a great exodus to the mountains, the movement from Lima exceeding even that which took place in 1806, on the eve of the bombardment of the city by the Spanish fleet. The superstitious fear of a repetition of the terrible disaster of years ago spread all over Peru and to Chile. At Valparaiso the anxiety as the ill fated day approached was very great, and there was a sigh of relief when it passed in safety.

Great Destruction In Venezuela.

The terrible earthquake in Venezuela on April 28, 1894, is well remembered. There was great loss of life and destruction of property. The villages of Merida, Lagunillas, Chiguara and San Juan were almost destroyed, and the disturbances extended to the neighboring republic of Colombia. It was estimated that several thousand persons, mostly in northwestern Venezuela, lost their lives. Merida had been once before—in 1812—destroyed by earthquake. In that year, too, Caracas was visited by most destructive quakes, 12,000 persons losing their lives. In 1853 two severe shocks were felt at Cumana, Venezuela. The city was badly damaged and 600 persons killed.

Some of the most extensive disasters of this character in recent years have occurred in northern Japan. In the latter part of August and first days of September of last year a succession of shocks caused enormous destruction in the province of Akita. At Senya, hills opened in many places, and fire burst from the cracks. The population fled in terror to the interior. Many lives were lost, and hundreds of houses collapsed.

This earthquake was, however, not so disastrous as those of October, 1891. Then the island of Hondo was shaken from end to end and side to side, 30,000 houses were demolished and 2,000 persons killed outright in the city of Nayoya. In Gifu 5,000 were killed and as many houses destroyed. Altogether nearly 10,000 lives were lost, 9,000 persons injured and 75,000 houses demolished. By these convulsions mountains were literally split in twain, towns prostrated and their debris consumed by succeeding conflagrations.

The disturbances extended over an area of 20,000 square miles. The earthquakes in this instance were accompanied by landslides and these by noises seeming to come from far below the earth's surface with a sound like the escape of steam through a gigantic horn.

Scientists continue to differ in details as to what causes earthquakes, but they nearly all agree now that these phenomena are symptoms that the earth is growing old and slowly approaching the point of general collapse.

Meeting of Locomotive Men.

Trenton, May 3.—Representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen held a public meeting in Taylor Opera House last night. Addresses were made by Mayor Sickel, ex-Congressman Buchanan, Grand Chief Arthur of the engineers, Grand Master Sargent of the firemen and Second Vice Grand Master Dodge of the trainmen. The addresses were mainly devoted to the benefits of organization. It is understood that the chief subject considered was the establishment of a central association, so that in any matter affecting either of the organizations the three could act as one.

Catholic Bishop Retires.

Wilmington, Del., May 3.—Bishop Alfred Curtis of the Catholic diocese of Wilmington preached his farewell sermon at St. Peter's church yesterday, and retired to private life. His successor is Bishop Monaghan, who, upon his appointment last fall, came from Charleston, S. C., where he had been assistant priest. There was a large congregation, and Bishop Curtis made a feeling valedictory. He cited as his reason for leaving the church his physical infirmities and his desire to retire to private life. He said he was 60 years of age, and had been in the ministry for a long term of years. Bishop Elect Monaghan will be installed next Sunday.

Cleveland Pioneer Dead.

Cleveland, May 3.—Miller M. Spangler, one of the pioneers of Cleveland, died here at the age of 84. He was the head of the house of M. M. Spangler & Co., malsters, and was the owner of much valuable real estate.

NEWSPAPERS.

The New Brunswick Fredonian has experienced another editorial change an event that seems to happen with great frequency, and this time in favor of George W. Boroughs. Mr. Boroughs has assumed entire charge of the paper and will endeavor to make not only a good newspaper, but also a paying investment. Another candidate for public favor in the newspaper field is the State Centre, published at Bound Brook by Nat Wilson. The first issue of the State-Centre appeared last Saturday and was creditable in every way. "Deeds not words" is the motto of Editor Wilson. However, it is a fact that Mr. Wilson's words will be his deeds when he is running a newspaper.

DUER STREET OPENING.

In the person of Col. Wilson, North Plainfield has a Mayor who is constantly acquainting himself with the affairs of that municipality by personal inspection. A few days ago His Honor was looking over the ground where it is proposed to open Duer street to connect with Madison avenue on the city side of the brook. It is understood that he is heartily in favor of making the improvement and if opportunity affords he will push the matter to an issue during his term of office.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FENNER.

Last Sad Rites Over the Remains of a Christian Woman.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Rebeca Fenner were held held yesterday noon at 12:15 from the residence of Henry VanMiddlesworth, of Liberty street. Revs. B. W. Hand and W. O. Thomas, of the First Church of Christ, officiating. At 3:30 the services were held from the Baptist church at Somerville, and were conducted by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, of this city. There was special music by a quartette rendered very effectively. The floral tributes consisted of an anchor and a cross from the relatives. There were other beautiful offerings in the shape of bunches of roses.

Those who served as pall-bearers were the son-in-laws of the departed. They were George Wortman, Henry VanMiddlesworth, George Clicknor, Charles Foster, H. J. Martin and Harry Swackhamer. Interment was made in the family plot at Somerville.

NOT TO BE REAPPOINTED.

Dr. Warde to Retire From the Borough Public School.

The North Plainfield Board of Education meet tomorrow, at which time the engagement of teachers for the ensuing year will come before the Board.

The Press regrets very much that a majority of the Board are reported as not favorable to the reappointment of Dr. A. D. Warde, the present efficient principal of the school. It is said that five members of the Board are against his reappointment and four for him.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

WOMEN BRAVED THE WEATHER.

Large Attendance of the Fair Sex at the W. C. T. U. Meeting.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather yesterday afternoon there was not a very large attendance of veterans at the service held at the W. C. T. U. rooms. The attendance of women was much larger and those who remained at home missed a good address by Rev. Mr. Crampton, a veteran of the late war. The speaker related a number of interesting stories of the war and from them he presented a practical lesson in which he likened the former war to the one now being fought by Christians. He said that he belonged to the Lord's army and that every veteran should be enlisted It is the duty of every citizen, he said, to defend the flag and the country against the invasion of traitors, and the person who failed was to be compared to the traitor. At the close a short time was devoted to testimony and prayer and many of those present took part. The music was in charge of Mrs. Newton Honeyman and Joseph Moon, while Miss Peck presided at the piano. Altogether the service was a helpful one and all present passed a pleasant hour.

—The various companies comprising the fire department will hold their elections this evening.

A GREAT BANKRUPT SALE.
$25,000 worth of the finest Spring and Summer CLOTHING for Men, Boys and Children has been sent here by two of the leading wholesale clothing manufacturers in New York, who send their entire stock here to be sold at less than one-half they cost to manufacture.

Recollect, these are sacrifice prices, and will last but twenty days longer. A great opportunity for money saving clothing buyers, the very finest tailor made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than one-half the prices that other stores ask for inferior and commoner goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give this their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The wholesalers must be paid in cash, and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine spring suits, trousers, coats and vests and spring overcoats, handsomely and elegantly made equal to best merchant tailor work, for less than the actual cost of labor in making these fine garments. Read the prices for fine clothing, and remember that we guarantee to furnish the goods just as cheap as they are advertised.

Men's tweed spring suits, 33 to 42 size, that are sold all over town at $10 and $12, are sold here at $4.75; if not satisfied with these suits in any way, bring them back and get your money. Men's fine clay diagonal silk and satin-lined dress cutaway suits worth $22, at $8 50. We offer 500 light-colored suits of mixed cheviots and cassimeres at $3.50, $4.50, $5.50 and $6.50, worth easily $12 to $18. Durable men's pants for 95 cents. Cheviot and cassimere pants, light or dark colors, $1.10, $1.20, $1.30 and $1.50; worth double. Fine double breasted black cheviot suits, handsomely made, at $5.90, that other stores ask $15 for. Elegant Prince Albert and dress cutaway suits, satin-lined and very fine imported cloth, wholesale prices from $20 to $30, sale price $9.60. Extra fine dress pants, over 200 styles in stripes, silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, at $1.50, $1.65, $2 and $2.24; worth from $4.50 to $8. Bring this ad with you, and if not shown everything here advertised we will pay your carfare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.24; worth three times as much. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suits at $3.50; regular price $10. Light-colored cassimere suits for youths, $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50; easily worth double. Extra fine dress suits for young men and boys at $5.90; actually valued at $13 and $16. Bring anything back not entirely satisfactory within ten days. Men's working suits, $2; worth $7.50. Men's cassimere sack suits, in light or dark colors, $4; worth $12. Men's all-wool sack or cutaway diagonal suits at $6; worth $15. Men's blue flannel suits at $4.25; worth $10; best indigo dye pure wool, absolutely fast colors. Grand Army and uniform suits for $7.50; worth $15. Men's imported covert cloth spring overcoats in very latest style and shape, worth from $15 to $18, at $6 90. Fifteen styles of vicuna, homespun, serge, cassimere and worsted suits, sacks and cutaways, worth from $15 to $20, during this sale, $6.90. Two thousand suits of different kinds to choose from. Remember that no store in this country can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. Men's, young men's and boys' bicycle suits from $3, $3.50 and $4.50; worth from $9 to $12. Be on hand early and avoid the rush. Everybody living within twenty-five miles of Plainfield should visit this great bankrupt sale at once. Sale begins at 8 a. m. every morning during this sale, and closes at 9 p. m. during the week. Saturday at 11 p. m.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST ISCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Louis Hilderbrant, manager of the hotel at Lebanon, spent Saturday with friends here.

Daniel Knutter, an employe at the Greenbrook Elecric Light plant, is making a short visit with New Brunswick friends.

The attendance in the churches was noticeably lessened, yesterday, but those who did venture out were well repaid for their trouble.

The gutters were scarcely adequate to carry off the heavy flow of water Saturday night and yesterday, and for a time the streets were flooded.

Owing to the bad weather the New York and Brooklyn Wheelmen scheduled for a run out here, yesterday, did not come. The run was postponed to a future date.

The work of organizing a base ball team lags along and some of the enthusiasts are now said to be dropping behind in interest. But then the admirers of the game can go to Plainfield every Saturday and see some good playing.

After a number of costly law suits tried at New Brunswick, W. B. Hayes, of New York city, has at last come in possession of his property—the place known as the Peterson farm. Attorney Chas. T. Cowenhoven was instrumental in winning the suits and getting possession of the place.

The street commissioner on Saturday caused to have stone spread, for a width of about five feet, along the centre of the main street from Dunellen avenue to a point just west of the round house, a distance of about 200 yards. This is a great improvement to the road, but it's an aggravation to bicyclists.

The first shipment of lumber for building purposes was received at Lincoln on Friday, and in the course of a week or ten days the sound of the hammer and saw will be heard in the land. Several passenger trains on the Central Railroad now stop their daily, but of course the traffic is as yet comparatively light.

Dunellen commuters on the trolley cars consider it a burning shame that the trolley is not permitted to come into the town. Saturday night, for instance, many people who had been to Plainfield making purchases which they could not get in the home stores had to wallow through water for an eighth of a mile or more, after leaving the cars.

Fred Nelson, the liveryman, drove over to the depot about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon for one of his patron's trunks and with him was a lad named Johnny Woods. The trunk was loaded in the wagon and Woods was left in charge of the rig while Mr. Nelson was transacting some business in the depot. Presently a Blue Line flyer came thundering along and frightened the horse. The animal made a quick turn in the roadway and threw both Woods and the trunk out. Neither was much injured and Mr. Nelson rushed out and caught the horse just in time to avert a serious runaway.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Lynus Walpole, Sr., has 88 young game chickens already hatched out and thriving.

A few washouts in the Valley were reported yesterday, and today the road commissioner is making the necessary repairs.

William C. Stanberry is rapidly regaining his health, but the disagreeable weather of the past few days has kept him confined pretty closely to the house.

The water in the mountain streams was unusually high after the rains, yesterday morning. Water flowed over the Feltville dam in torrents and flooded acres of low land nearby. The rain was needed, however, and will probably be the means of creating a big hay crop.

Scotch Plains was as quiet as a churchyard yesterday, and except for the church bells calling the worshipers to prayer, it was an unusually quiet Sabbath. The attendance at the churches was noticeably small, but this was, of course, due to the inclement weather.

Francis E., the six year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hand, was given a birthday surprise on Saturday and it was complete in every particular. Twenty-four little folks gathered at his home during the afternoon, and a few hours were spent in harmless amusement. Light refreshments, such as ice cream, cake and candy were served in abundance. A number of birthday gifts were also received.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Real Estate Broker Thos. M. Paff, who is in a position to know, says there is every indication of several houses at the Plains and Fanwood remaining vacant during the summer season, and the main reason is the houses are so large they command a good-sized rent. What the Plains needs is medium sized houses for people of moderate means, and as soon as the trolley reaches the town it is believed that there will be an immediate boom in the building line. But then the people ask: "When will the trolley come?"

Little Lynus Walpole, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynus Walpole, met with an accident after dark on Friday, that will confine him to the house for an indefinite period. He in company with a party of companions were playing what is known as "hares and hounds," and little "Line" did not care to be captured, so he made a desperate effort to scale a high picket fence. In doing so his pants caught in the pickets and he was held there with his head down, until his companions heard his cries and rushed to his assistance. The main injury to the boy was a badly sprained leg, the right.

A pleasant birthday party was given at the home of Mrs. Hosinger to her grandson, Frankie Hand, Saturday afternoon. Various presents were given expressive of the good will of those who were invited. Among the coming "stars" of fashion were the following: Elsie Cook, Edith Elliott, Bennie Elliott, Louise Brandt, Emily Shreiner, Charlie Walpole, Willie Reynolds, Reignette Marsh, Arthur Evans, Beuren Braker, Emma Elliott, Gladys Marsh, Hazel Marsh, Verna Braker, Tillie Shroeder, George, Mamie and Christie Kean, William Turton, Henry Winters, Wiblie Stanberry, Eddie Heath and Frankie Hand. After refreshments the company dispersed full of the pleasure of the party.

LINCOLN.

Every house now in course of construction has been engaged by home seekers.

L. D. Cook & Co. received on their new railroad siding two immense car loads of lumber for new houses now being erected at Lincoln.

Over $5,000 worth of building lots were sold at Lincoln last week by President S. D. Drake to shrewd investors and home seekers.

Enterprising Business Methods.

It is the up-to-date dealer who introduces modern machinery and is enabled to sell better goods at less prices. Such is the case with L. L. Manning and Son, marble and granite dealers, corner of West Front street and Central avenue. Their tools for cutting letters are run by compressed air, while all their polishing is done by steam power. An inspection will show that their work is done better by these methods than by the old way. They have a fine stock of monuments and headstones on hand, the largest in the State. They are just completing several very fine monuments for Hillside Cemetery and other parts of the country. 5-1-3 c 1 —Rev. Dr. Braker, of Scotch Plains, will lead the meeting at the East Third Street mission on Thursday evening.

Acocrding to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

MUSIC HALL AFFAIRS.

Manager Willey to Have Entire Control Next Season.

Music Hall closed for the season last Saturday night, after having been opened eighty times by the present management. The season was not a profitable one. George E. Rogers, who has been the lessee of the theatre, will retire, and George Willey, who has been the manager, will sign a contract for the lease of the hall for next season, conducting its affairs alone.

Mr. Willey will leave today for a seven weeks' tour ahead of the projectoscope, in which he has secured an interest. He will return to assume control of Music Hall about August 1st. Taken all in all, and considering the many adverse conditions surrounding the management of a theatre in a city the size of Plainfield, Manager Willey has been quite successful in the venture. During the summer he will book the attractions for next season. Profiting by this year's experience he will book no melo-dramas, which almost invariably lose money here. Comedies, farces and comic operas will be the rule of the season.

THE SENATE PAGES.

A POSITION NOT EASY ONE FOR FUN-LOVING BOYS.

The Discipline is Good, Teaching to Think and Act Quickly.—Must Be Congressional Directory, Guide Book and Library Catalogue in One.

The Senate pages are appointed by the sergeant-at-arms, through senatorial influence. They are not selected according to any geographical apportionment. According to the rules of the chamber these boys can only serve in their official capacities between the youthful ages of twelve and sixteen.

The first duty, according to the routine, is the distribution of calendars, bills and other legislative documents among the senatorial desks, and the placing of the new Congressional Record upon each senator's file. One page is detailed to examine all pens left on the outside of desks and to renew them with clean points. Another must see that every inkwell is brim full. Others must straighten out the sets of laws furnished each member and see that everything is in order. It is strictly against the rules to open a desk, however. Between the duties the whole force is required to keep an eye on the cloak rooms and other adjuncts of the chamber closed to the visiting public.

From 10 to 10:30 is recess. In this half hour the little fellows get exercise outside, sometimes in a game of ball, but more often in a foot race with the Capitol police, who are opposed to ball games. By the time the morning recess has come to an end many senators have arrived at their desks, and these make plenty of business for the pages. When the chaplain mounts the rostrum to deliver the opening prayer each page takes a place before one of the front desks, faces the divine and stands with bowed head until the solemn occasion is over. Then the work begins in earnest. The corps of pages is divided into two sections, one for the republican and the other for the democratic side.

After the Senate has adjourned all desks must be cleared off. All documents to be saved must be placed out of the reach of janitors. A few pages are retained as long as any senators remain to work. These are usually lads who are "kept in" for some mischief. Besides those on the floor of the chamber the Senate employs a telephone page and four mounted "riding pages." The mounted pages deliver messages to officials in the various departments or go on errands to senators' homes.

By the chance visitor in the gallery their duties are never appreciated. One who sees them move about at the beck and call of senators is apt to get the impression that they are mere messenger boys. Not so. They are concise editions of a Congressional Directory, guide book, library catalogue and—in season—base ball score, all bound under one cover. They must fill the various roles of the diplomat, confidential clerk, detective, financier and, worse than all, the translator of senatorial chirography. More than often they must order the senatorial repast, a complex undertaking for any youth. At other times they must act as buffers between bored senators and tireless lobbyists.

Indian Medicine Men.

Major A. E. Woodson, agent of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians of Oklahoma, says that the reign of the medicine men is one of the greatest outrages of the present day, and as a direct result of their practice one-third of the children born of Indian parents die every year.

Two of Black Coyote's children were taken sick, and, instead of taking them to the Government hospital, he sent for the medicine man, who blew a green powder into the lungs, ears and the nostrils of one of the little patients. The medicine failing, the medicine man made an incision with his knife under the tongue of the child, with the result that death soon followed. When the green powder failed to restore the child to health the medicine man declared that there was a ghost under the child's tongue, and to kill the ghost he made the incision.

The medicine man then adopted heroic measures in order to save the other child. He took it into a tent, stripped it naked, and laid it on a cot. He then heated a big pile of rock in the tent, and when they were hot he threw water on them, filling the tent with steam and causing the child to sweat copiously. When the child was covered with perspiration he took it out in the cold air and sent it home, without having taken any precaution to keep it from getting cold. Next morning the child was dead. This is only one of the hundreds of such outrages against the health and life of innocent people. The big medicine man of the Cheyennes is Little Man, who lives near Cantonement. He makes his medicines every year and distributes them to the other medicine men.—Boston Transcript.

The Foot Notes Were Lengthy.

A large audience once gathered in Baltimore to hear the late Professor Sylvester read a unique original poem of 400 lines, all rhyming with one name Rosalind. He had appended to the poem a large number of explanatory footnotes, which he said he would read first. When at last he had done so he looked up at the clock, and was horrified to find that he had kept the audience an hour and a half before beginning to read the poem they had come to hear. The astonishment on his face was answered by a burst of good-humored laughter from the audience, and then, after begging all his hearers to feel at perfect liberty to leave if they had engagements, he read the Rosalind poem.—New York Tribune.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

THE SENATE RESUMES.

Programme of Matters to Be Taken Up During the Week.

Washington, May 3.—The senate has resumed business in earnest, and the week bids fair to be one of important results. According to agreement, a vote will be taken on the arbitration treaty on Wednesday. It is also quite probable that the committee vacancies will be filled and that the tariff bill will be reported to the senate. For the rest, Senator Morgan probably will call up his Cuban resolution, the sundry civil appropriation bill may be passed, and Senator Hoar has given notice that he will move to have the committee on rules discharged from the further consideration of his amendments to the rules for the limitation of debate.

There is great uncertainty as to the fate of the treaty, and it now looks as if the margin would not exceed two or three votes, whatever the result may be. There are a few unascertained votes, which will decide the result. A recent canvass made shows 40 votes certain for the treaty and 25 certain against it. Twenty-nine votes in opposition are sufficient to defeat it, but the opposition do not know just where these four votes can be found. There will be considerable sparring over the treaty before the vote is taken, but no prolonged debate is expected.

The consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill has been postponed until Senator Allison, who will have charge of it in the senate, can be present.

If Senator Hoar fulfills his promise to bring up the question of the amendment of the rules, his motion will be stubbornly resisted by the Democrats. Those of them who favor the changes proposed will not assent to them on the eve of the tariff fight.

The new senator from Kentucky, Hon. W. J. Deboe, probably will be sworn in.

The house programme contemplates adjournments for three days from Monday and Wednesday. Should the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill reach the house it will be considered. A suggestion to take action on the bankruptcy bill passed by the senate is being thought over and may reach some definite shape before the close of the week.

RUMORED AFRICAN DIFFICULTY.

English Mission Said to Have Been Attacked by Natives.

Cape Coast Castle, Gold Coast, Africa, May 3.—Grave news has been received here as to the mission of Lieutenant Henderson at Wa. It is reported that Chief Samory has attacked the mission. Authentic details have not yet been received, but a serious disaster is feared.

The object of Lieutenant Henderson was to make treaties with the chiefs in Hinterland. He had a large escort, but the governor of Lagos has been asked to send on re-enforcements. Furguson, a colonial official who accompanied Lieutenant Henderson, is known to be severely wounded.

Wa is considered to be within the fear of British influence. Chief Samory is very powerful and had hitherto professed friendship for the British, though in the winter of 1895 he supported King Prempeh of Ashanti in his fight against the English.

Charged With Obtaining Fraudulent Loans

Cincinnati, May 3.—A dispatch from Huntington, Ind., says: The alleged defalcations of Thomas L. Lucas and his son, Fred L. Lucas, have grown until they have reached $35,000, and new victims are being heard of every hour. Both were members of the real estate, abstract and loan firm of T. L. Lucas & Son, and both have left the city. The firm, it is alleged, secured loans aggregating $9,700 on property worth $5,000; $3,000 more was secured on lots at fictitious valuations. Fred Lucas, it is further alleged, secured an $8,000 loan on a fictitious farm in Wabash county. This loan was obtained from Indianapolis.

Shortage In a Kentucky Penitentiary.

Frankfort, Ky., May 3.—The senate special committee which began an investigation of the local penitentiary several weeks ago has resumed operations with a vim. A big sensation, involving a number of as yet unknown parties, has been sprung at the prison. This time it is a money matter, and not a scandal, affecting the name of prison officials. It has been discovered by state officials who have been paying penitentiary accounts that the prison is short 1,000,000 feet of lumber, worth $17,000. It is charged that a dozen men are involved, and the matter will be farreaching, though only a few underlings are charged with guilt.

Suicide of a Philadelphia Lawyer.

New York, May 3.—Peter C. Burke, about 35 years old, supposed to have been a lawyer in Philadelphia, was found dead in a room in the Hotel Bartholdi, having committed suicide by suffocating himself with illuminating gas in the bathroom attached to the apartment he had occupied. The remains were removed to the morgue. From letters in the man's possession it was learned that he had been a Philadelphia lawyer. One of the letters showed that Burke was involved in a suit for divorce at the instance of his wife.

Body Recovered During Flood.

Huntingdon, Pa., May 3.—The incessant rainfall of the past 24 hours has overflowed the Juniata river and its numerous tributaries, causing thousands of dollars of damage to growing crops. The farmers along the Raystown branch have suffered severe losses to buildings, fences and growing grains. The Juniata river is 16 feet above low water mark and is still rising. The body of an unknown Italian railroad laborer who was knocked off a bridge 15 miles west of here two months ago was recovered in the flood.

Police Raid Barrooms.

Westerly, R. I., May 3.—The police raided the Granite City hotel and the Windsor House bar, seizing a large quantity of liquors. Dr. B. L. Lewis, a member of the town council, led the raiding party, and at the Granite City hotel, of which Councilman Cook is landlord, 20 men were found and about $400 worth of liquors seized. At the Windsor House 12 men were found and $50 worth of liquor carried away. Westerly is a no license town, but liquor has been openly sold here during the last few months.

SURVIVORS LANDED.

Third Boat of Brigantine Vaillant Is Picked Up.

SEVENTEEN DIE OF STARVATION.

Out of Twenty Occupants Only Four Were Alive When the Boat Was Sighted by the French Barkentine Victor Eugene,

St. Pierre, Miquelon, May 3.—Four more survivors of the wreck of the French brigantine Vaillant have been brought to this port, making eight saved out of the 73 men on the vessel when she was wrecked.

The Vaillant was bound from St. Malo, France, to this port, bringing over a large company of fishermen. When on the Grand banks on the night of April 16, sailing in a dense fog, the Vaillant struck an iceberg and quickly sank. The men had barely time to lower and scramble into three small boats when the vessel foundered.

One of these boats, into which 45 men had crowded, was swamped, and every one of its occupants was drowned.

Death From Starvation.

A second boat, the dingy, in which seven men left the ship, was picked up on April 26 by the French barkentine Victor Eugene. Four men were lying in the boat alive but helpless. The Victor Eugene brought them to this port on the following day.

One man had died of starvation on the third day after the wreck; a second on the fourth day and a third on the following day. The first two bodies were thrown into the sea. The living were too weak to toss the third body overboard. When they were rescued, it was found they had been kept alive by cannibalism.

In the third of the Vaillant's boats were 21 men. They were lost sight of by the men in the dingy during the first night, and their fate was unknown until the French brigantine Amedee arrived here with four of the Vaillant's company taken from the third small boat. They were the only survivors of the 21.

Kept Alive by a Dog.

Like their comrades in the dingy, these men had had no time to put food and water into the boat after the Vaillant struck the iceberg, but as they were pushing away from the barkentine the ship's dog sprang into the boat. To this dog the four rescued men owe their lives.

One after another 17 of the boat's occupants died from the effects of hunger, thirst and the extreme cold. Some of them went mad before death put an end of their sufferings.

Not until the pangs of hunger became unendurable did the fishermen decide to sacrifice the dog. When he was killed, the greatest care was taken that not a drop of blood should be lost, but the few drops each man received for drink seemed to do little more than aggravate his terrible thirst. The dog's flesh served to keep some of the men alive a little longer, and from it the four survivors gained enough strength to outlive their fellows. There was a fierce struggle for the dog's flesh when the animal was killed.

The boat drifted at the mercy of wind and waves for days after the last morsel of the dog's flesh had been eaten, and the four men still alive were utterly helpless when their boat was seen by the Amedee and Captain Fortin of the brigantine changed his course and picked it up at midnight on the sixth day after the wreck. The four nearly dead fishermen were lifted aboard the Amedee and carefully fed and nursed until they reached St. Pierre, where they were sent to join the other Vaillant survivors in the hospital. They are still in a terribly weak condition, but it is thought none will die.

The surgeons performed amputations upon the Vaillant survivors. Two, who lost their hands and lower parts of their legs, are not expected to recover. The other two, who underwent similar operations, are somewhat better off. The remaining four are still very weak. None of the eight can be said to be out of danger.

The story told by the party rescued that dog food was all they had to eat is discredited here by many. It is feared and believed that they also were compelled to resort to human flesh.

Schooner Wrecked by the Storm.

New York, May 3.—Captain J. W. Edwards of life saving station No. 2, Spermacetti cove, near Sandy Hook, reported that the schooner E. F. C. Young, Captain Thomas, from James river, Va., for Burbanks Point, N. Y., with a cargo of pine wood, had gone ashore near that place. A heavy gale was blowing from the eastward and a heavy sea running, and it was with much difficulty and danger that the crew was finally taken off the stranded vessel by the life savers. The schooner has become a total wreck. She hailed from Baltimore.

An American Honored.

Philadelphia, May 3.—The king of Italy has conferred upon Hon. William Potter, minister to Italy under President Harrison, the Order of Sante Maurizio and Lazzaro, and through Baron Fava, the Italian embassador in Washington, and Mr. Lucca, the Italian consul in Philadelphia, the decoration has been presented to him. Mr. Potter was minister to Italy before and at the time of the settlement of the New Orleans affair, and by his distinguished services in Rome not only strengthened the friendship existing between the two countries, but endeared himself to the king and Italian people. The Order of Sante Maurizio and Lazzaro was founded in 1434 by Amedus VIII, duke of Savoy, at Geneva.

Snow Fell In Ohio.

Cleveland, May 3.—Dispatches from towns in the interior of the state say that the rain yesterday turned into snow, and in many places wintry conditions prevailed last night. At Bucyrus three inches of snow fell, and at Martins Ferry, in the southeastern part of the state, the ground was covered with it.

A Fisherman Drowned.

Breakwater, Del., May 3.—Joseph Briend, aged 22 years, of St. Peters, Cape Breton, a fisherman on board the schooner Lizzie Smith, was knocked overboard three miles southeast of Cape Henlopen and drowned. The crew of the schooner was unable to recover the body.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Special officer Dennis Carney, of Cottage place, has learned to ride a wheel and is now prepared to do duty at short notice.

The rain, yesterday, very effectually put a stop to the wheeling in this part of the country. Most of the clubs of the Metropolitan district had runs arranged for yesterday morning and afternoon, but of course they had to be called off.

The Mecca Wheelmen, of New York, in whose membership are several Plainfield riders, have just announced their schedule of runs for the months of May and June. The schedule is as follows: May 2, club, to Freeport, L. I.; May 9, century of Long Island Wheelmen; May 16, guest, to Tottenville; May 23, club, to White Plains; May 30, club, to Hackensack; May 31, club, to Irvington Milburn; June June 6, club, to Paterson; June 13, guest, to City Island, June 20, club, to Morristown; June 27, guest, to Yonkers. Those marked club are for members only, but on the others the members are allowed to bring their friends. The runs are, with one exception, held on Sundays.

There promises to be lots of lively competition among race meet promoters for Decoration Day, or rather the Monday after which will be celebrated instead. The Crescent Wheelmen and Atalanta Wheelmen have secured sanctions for that date. The meet of the latter club will be held on the Waverley track. As both tracks are within easy riding distance of the Irvington-Milburn course, where the big race is to be held in the morning, and where the wheelmen of the Metropolitan district will congregate by the thousands, both clubs are anxious to get the bulk of the crowd to come to their meet. The best races will of course attract the most people, and so the Crescents are trying for the pick of the crack riders. Each meet includes the professional events, and the Crescents have put up the largest prizes, which will be sure to draw the best men here. In the amateur events, the prizes are of the same value, except in the novice race, for which the Atalantas have made the better offer. The novices are not an attractive lot, however, and the Crescents are sure of as many of that class as they wish. There are other differences in the meets that should attract the cyclists to Plainfield on that date. The Crescents will hold their races on their own bicycle track, built expressly for the purpose, while the Atlantas will hold their meet on a horse track which was never intended for bicycling. On the success of the meet will depend the ability of the Crescents to keep up the track and give other race meets, and they certainly deserve the encouragement and support of every cyclist in this part of the State.

TENNIS.

The tennis season is now in full sway at the courts of the Grace M. E. church. Every afternoon there is a crowd of the members of the club and their friends out for a set or two. It is planned to make the courts better this year than ever before. The guard nets which are too close to the back line for a very hard serving, will be moved several feet, and a layer of clay and sand will be put on the courts for a top dressing, which will greatly improve them.

One of the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club in the rear of their clubhouse on Plainfield avenue is now ready for use, and the others will be in condition shortly. The courts cannot as yet compare with those formerly owned by the club on their Hillside avenue grounds, which were said to be as good as any in the State. It is the intention of those in charge to bring them up to the mark, so that the members who wish to play the game will have all the advantages they formerly had on their old grounds, ere the golf department was added to the club.

All is activity on the tennis courts of the Park Club at present. The courts are in better condition than ever, and Janitor Jones promises to keep a watchful eye on them throughout the season. The real tennis weather has not yet appeared, but the members, particularly the junior members, are already showing a great fondness for the game, and the courts have been occupied every pleasant afternoon this week. The promise of some club trophies to contend for has encouraged the players to take plenty of practice, and there will be a lively fight this summer for the supremacy on the courts of the club.

INS AND OUTS.

The Plainfield Athletic Club baseball team played their first game of the season with the Hart A. A, at Whitestone, L. I., Saturday afternoon, and were defeated by the score of 9 to 8, after a close and exciting game. The wet grounds and a poor umpire had a great deal to do with the result of the game. However, the home team put up a good game at the bat and in the field. One of the features of the game was a double play made by Cooney and Symons of the P. A. C. Winn and Eriksen, the battery, also did creditable work.

The Bound Brook Athletic Club opened the baseball season Saturday afternoon, with a game with the crack team from the Seventh Regiment of New York. The game was played on the Bound Brook grounds. The visitors won by a score of 9 to 1, but the game was an exciting one and the Bound Brooks played well for their opening game. The teams were escorted to the grounds on High street by the Bound Brook Band. A large crowd witnessed the game, despite the threatening weather. After the game, both teams and their friends were given a dinner at the El Dorado. Scheid and Barber, the heaviest hitters of the Bound Brook team, were unable to play.

GOLF.

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will be held this evening in the club house.

The Morristown Golf Club opened its links last week for the season. The opening was a very charming event in the social life in that city. The prospects for the coming season, for that club, are very bright.

Informal teas are now being held every pleasant Saturday afternoon in the club house of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Plainfield avenue. There are a crowd of players on the links every afternoon when the weather is good and many exciting matches are played but no regular club competition will be held until the last of the month, probably on May 31st, when one of the club trophies will be contested for. The season will be an active one, however, and a number of friendly matches will be arranged with neighboring clubs. Now that the Club has joined the national association, it is becoming better known and some of the best players from this part of the country are expected to visit the course during the summer.

A War Story.

Thursday evening, in Vincent chapel, Cyrus G. Shepard will deliver a lecture entitled, "A War Story," including the "Capture of John Wilkes Booth." Mr. Shepard was a member of the Sixteenth New York Cavalry, that captured Booth. The vocal soloists are Miss E. Clare Northup, of Kansas City, and Elmer E. Runyon, of this city.

—Patrolman Totten picked out a victim of an overdose of "Jersey lightning" in the West End Saturday night, and took him to the station house. This morning the offender appeared before City Judge DeMeza and was fined $3.

Looking After His Interests.

Mr Durlach, of Jersey City, came to Plainfield yesterday to see how the Watchung avenue opening was progressing. He paid a visit to the avenue and took notice of things in general. He did not express any opinion as to whether he would attempt to stop the work, but it is quite likely that he will be represented at the Council meeting this evening to make an effort to have the difficulty amicably settled.

An Exciting Runaway.

An exciting runaway was witnessed on Somerset street yesterday afternoon, when a horse owned by a borough man passed through the street toward Front street at a lively pace. The animal was caught in front of French's carriage factory by Thomas Eagney. Outside of a few cuts on the animal's left hind leg the damage was very slight.

Off to the Far West.

This evening, at 8 o'clock, William F. Dunn, of West Fourth street, leaves Plainfield for Seattle, Washington. He leaves Plainfield and his many friends and relatives with great reluctance, trusting that the dry air of Seattle will be beneficial to his health.

—The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church are arranging for an Indian tea in the lecture room of the church, Tuesday evening, May 25th, from 7 to 10 o'clock.

G. Morgan Stricklett, the new tenor in the Crescent Avenue church, sang for the first time yesterday. His voice is very sweet and pleased the congregation very much.

The Spanish Censor.

They have a curious way of suppressing papers in Havana. Instead of submitting their proof-sheets to the censor, as is usual where such a protector of public opinion exists, they get at the matter backward. The publisher goes ahead on his own judgment, prints what he pleases and takes his chances of going to jail or paying a fine. The censor reads the paper at the breakfast table the next morning, and if he finds anything mildly objectionable, he writes a polite note to the editor, calling attention to the article. The latter prints a paragraph next day explaining that he was mistaken or that the public had misinterpreted his remarks. But when any high official of the Government is attacked, or the proprieties are violated, the editor is fined or imprisoned, and a policeman takes the subscription list and call at every house at which copies have been delivered to recover them.—Cor. THE PUREST MILK SUPPLIED TO FAMILIES FROM IVES' DAIRY FARM OF SELECT COWS

IVES & SON

Commenced Monday to deliver pure rich milk from their own cows, which they have purchased during the past four weeks from choice bred stock.

Mr. Ives Sr. has had 27 years' experience in raising cows for milking purposes, and would like it distinctly understood that their cows are not fed on brewer's grains, of which so much is fed generally.

Corn meal and bran is the best and only good feed to make cows give natural rich milk. We strictly adhere to this idea by extra feeding twice each day.

Our facilities for aerating and cooling our milk as soon as drawn from the cows, are of the latest improved and up to-date pattern, which gives us the power to guarantee our milk to be of a natural rich quality.

We call attention to our having one of the best farms in this county for herding and keeping cows in a clean and healthy condition. We cordially invite anyone who may desire to drive out to the farm and inspect our system for cleanliness and purity of milk. Directions will be given at our office and headquarters, 1,008 Arlington avenue, where also orders for pure rich milk will receive prompt attention.

REGARDING SWEET CREAM. We are now ready to offer a superior quality of fresh sweet cream—shipped direct from Orange County creameries, which we deliver in any quantity desired.

[One cow's milk for infants or by special request.]

P. S.—We are able to verify what we state, and would caution anyone not to be misled by jealous milk dealers.

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL.

The Time Limit for Adjustment of Taxes Coming Under the Martin Act Enforcement Extended to May 17th.

In striking contrast to the previous sessions of the City Council for 1897, was the one held last evening, for it was marked by the absence of anything that would prove sensational. Councilman Frost was the only member absent, but the other members are capable of looking after all the business.

After the reading of the previous minutes there were a large number of petitions presented. One was from the residents of Plainfield avenue between Front and Seventh streets asking the Council to place suitable crosswalks at the intersecting streets, also one from the residents of West Third street asking for electric lights near the railroad. The G. A. R. Post, through their memorial committee, made the usual request for the appropriation of $100 for Memorial Day, and the same was granted. A petition was received from the residents of Johnston avenue asking for electric lights on their street between Front and Second streets. This petition was referred with power. J. F. McIntyre and Charles H. Hand, who were bondmen for former City Treasurer Alex. Titsworth, asked to be released from the bond, and the same was referred to the proper committee. Two licenses for truck and hack were received and granted. Three petitions were received from residents on the line of the street railway asking that the Council adopt an ordinance compelling the company to sprinkle the streets upon which their tracks are laid. All three were referred to the proper committee. A large batch of petitions were received from taxpayers who had received tax bills, and the same were referred to the proper committee. The bond of the Plainfield Sanitary Company was presented, but owing to the fact that the document did not designate the location of the plant, the bond was referred back to the company. Mayor Fisk appointed Theodore Hooper a special policeman, and the appointment was confirmed. Mr. Hooper is the janitor of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church and for this reason he was appointed. The reports of the city treasurer, collector and overseer of the poor were received and filed. Street Commisioner Gavett reported that ninety sewer permits had been granted during the month of April, and up to date 900 had been granted. On the recommendation of the Board of Engineers J. W. Gavett was placed on the exempt firemen's list. Inspector of Buildings T. O. Doane reported that thirty-one permits had been granted during the month. Mr. Baker stated that all certificates of indebtedness on account of the sewer had been cancelled, and that bonds had been issued.

Mr. Stebbins offered a resolution to the effect that inasmuch as Drivers James Daley and George Fiering, of the fire department, had served three years there salaries be raised from $50 to $55 a month. This resolution was adopted as was also another to the effect that the salary of Driver James Bailey be raised from $25 to $50 a month, he having served six months.

Mr. Westphal stated that he thought that it was an unnecessary expense to hire the latter driver under such conditions, which are that he furnish a horse. He thought that the city should own the horse which is used for Chief Doane. Mr. Newman said that he could see no economy in such a scheme. According to Mr. Westphal's plans a driver would cost the city $40 and that would only leave $10 for a horse. Mr. Westphal asked if it was necessary that the chief should have a driver. To this there was no reply, and the resolution did not receive the support of President Dumont and Mr. Westphal for they voted in the negative.

Fire alarm boxes were ordered placed at the corner of Park and Arlington avenues beyond Ninth street, and at the corner of South avenue and Berckman street. Three fire hydrants were also ordered as follows: South avenue and Berckman street; South avenue and Central street; Grant and Sherman avenues.

Mr. Serrell stated that the committee on assessment and collection of taxes desired more time to examine the petitions received from the taxpayers regarding their tax bills and the committee would report later.

On the recommendations of Mr. Tolles an electric light was ordered placed at No. 117 Hillside avenue

Mr. Baker offered a resolution that $4,875.75 be borrowed for the general

FOUND, BUT NOT WANTED

AN ABSENCE OF TWO WEEKS DID NOT MAKE A RUNAWAY BOY PENITENT.

Thomas Seller Found by The Daily Press, But When Taken to His Parents There Was no Forgiving and He Wouldn't Stay.

Thomas Seller, twelve years old, stepson of Mr. and Mrs. George Dover, of Fanwood, who disappeared so mysteriously about a month ago, has been found by The Daily Press. It will be remembered that the boy was not satisfied at home and especially with the fact that he was obliged to go to school He left the house one day and nothing could be learned of his whereabouts until yesterday.

Henry Rogers, of Highland Farm, Washingtonville, is a reader of The Daily Press and when he received Saturday's paper he noticed the story relating to the missing boy. All this time Mr. Rogers had a strange boy at his home. After reading the article he began to question him. The boy said that his name was Thomas Seller but that his parents were dead. This did not satisfy Mr. Rogers and he brought the youngster to the home of his parents at Fanwood. When they reached their destination the boy was scolded by his parents for going away. This the boy did not like and he avowed that he would not stay home. On the other hand the parents said that they did not care to have the boy stay home if he could not behave. As a result the boy returned home with Mr. Rogers and there he will stay.

Last Saturday morning when Mr. Dover called at The Daily Press office to tell about the missing son, Mr. Rogers was present and heard the conversation, but as the boy in his care had previously told him that his parents were dead he paid little attention to the matter and did not think for one moment that he was the guardian of the boy.

Since Mr. Rogers has had charge of the boy he has purchased him clothing and other needful articles and young Seller seems perfectly satisfied to remain at his present home. Just what action his parents will take has not yet been disclosed.

ALL MUST HAVE BELLS.

BICYCLE ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED BY THE POLICE.

Several Prominent Citizens Caught Without Them Yesterday and They Were Notified to Appear Before Judge DeMeza

Sorrowful the lot hereafter of the cyclist who falls into the clutches of the Plainfield police, unless he has a bell on his handle bars as prescribed by the new bicycle ordinance passed by the Common Council. The Police Board has issued its mandate that hereafter the ordinance shall be strictly obeyed, and the police have been instructed to that end.

There was a meeting of the Board on Saturday evening, and it was decided that the enforcemet of the law should begin with Monday. Roundsman Flynn, who is on duty day times, was to show no discrimination, but everybody was to be ordered before the City Judge, who was to see that they were looked after.

There was no warning, and the scores of cyclists who are accustomed to ride without a bell were each to add a small sum to the city treasury. It would seem that the ordinance should have been enforced at once at the time it came into effect, or that the cyclists should have been given a few days warning as to when the enforcement was to take place. As there is a State law as well as the city ordinance about the bells there should be no excuse for going without one.

Roundsman Flynn opened the campaign yesterday afternoon, but the rain kept most of the riders at home. Architect E. D. French, of Grove street, was the first to come under the observation of Flynn. He was ordered to appear. Thomas Quinn was riding along with no bell on his handle bars. He was stopped and ordered to report before the Judge. Health Inspector William Addis passed by and Flynn noticed that he had no bell on his handle bars. He was requested to see the Judge.

Eugene Doule, of Central avenue, did not know about the ordinance, so he left his name in the Judge's office and was ordered to appear. Then the rain came and the harvest was over for the day. This morning it was continued and a number of others warned to come before the Judge. Several wheelmen were warned to get a bell at once.

Several of those who were stopped yesterday afternoon appeared in the Judge's office this morning, but the Judge had left town and their hearings were adjourned until a later date.

HIS LAST DAY ON EARTH.

JACOB JOHNSON TO BE HUNG AT SOMERVILLE TOMORROW.

He Has Given Up All Hope of Being Saved—He Takes Great Consolation in Reading the Bible—To be Hung Early.

Unless something unforeseen and unexpected transpires to prevent, Jacob S. Johnson will expiate the murder of Annie Rogers on the gallows in the jail of Somerset county, at Somerville, tomorrow morning. As a matter of fact, the condemned man himself, as well as his counsel, have given up all hope of escaping capital punishment. Before his incarceration and conviction, Johnson was a religious enthusiast who spent all of his spare time exhorting sinners to mend their ways, and now that he realizes his hours are numbered, he spends most of his time in reading the Scripture, and the Bible which the Sheriff provided him with is well thumbed in the effort to find spiritual consolation. Rev. John Hart, of Neshanic, visits him frequently.

Sheriff Wyckoff has practically completed every arrangement for the hanging. The gallows will be erected in a secluded portion of the jail, away from the rest of the prisoners. John Van Hise, of Newark, will do the job for the sheriff and will arrive in Somerville tomorrow morning and erect the apparatus on which the execution will be performed. Johnson is confined in a part of the jail where he will not be able to see the gruesome object until he commences his death walk. According to the statute only forty persons will be permitted to witness the execution, and the witnesses were all selected several weeks ago. The sheriff has issued no passes, simply notifying those to whom the privilege of attendance has been accorded to appear before him personally at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The judge's sentence was that Johnson should hang between 10 and 3 o'clock, but it is supposed that the execution will take place shortly after 10 o'clock.

On Wednesday, May 12th, a week later, Elmer Clawson, the nineteen-year-old murderer, is doomed to death in the same manner. Before that time, however, the Court of Pardons sits again and there is hope that they will intervene and commute his sentence to life imprisonment. There is a bitter feeling toward Clawson, however, among the Somerset county people, as his crime was a particularly brutal one in shooting down Farmer Hodgetts in his own doorway without real provocation. Clawson seems to be thoroughly bad and is not the least penitent about his crime.

Hangman Van Hise started from Newark this morning with his scaffold on which the execution will take place, and stopped here for dinner. Those who know for what purpose the apparatus was to be used gazed at it with a good deal of awe. He will arrive in Somerville about 3 o'clock this afternoon and immediately proceed to erect the scaffold.

Owing to the Early Adjournment of the Common Council the Officers Were Not Confirmed—Those Who Were Elected.

The various companies composing the Plainfield Fire Department met last evening and elected officers for the ensuing year. The utmost harmony previled at each meeting and there was little opposition. THE FIRST MAY WEDDING

MARRIAGE OF JENNE BROKAW TO WINFIELD C. CODDING.

The Ceremony Performed at the Home of Rev. J. W. Richardson, After Which a Reception Was Held at the Bride's Home.

The marriage of Miss Jennie Brokaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Brokaw, of East Fourth street, and Winfield C. Codding, of Newark, was celebrated last evening at the home of Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, who performed the ceremony at 7:30. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Amy Hyer, as bridemaid, while the best man war John Bolsterli, of the borough. The bride was prettily gowned in French blue cloth, trimmed with white satin, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

Following the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held and supper was served. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present at the house.

Mr. and Mrs. and Coddington left in time to catch the 10:17 train at Westfield and from there they went to Newark where the groom had furnished a house and which was already for them to go to housekeeping. The reason they went to Westfield to take the train was that a number of their friends were waiting for them at the North Avenue station and they were anxious to fool them.

The groom is in the employ of the Vienna Yeast company at their Newark place of business and he has a lucrative position. The bride is one of Plainfield's well known young women and both she and her husband have a host of friends who wish them success and happiness. They received a useful collection of presents from their friends which is evidence of the esteem in which they are held. Mr. and Mrs. Coddington are living at No. 30 New street, Newark.

KIDNAPPED BY A TRAIN.

PERCY BILLINGS CARRIED AWAY FROM HOME ON A FREIGHT TRAIN.

He Was Playing on the Cars When the Train Started—The Train Slackened at Plainfield and He Jumped Off.

"Is that all you have to eat?" queried fifteen year old Percy Billings as he looked at the bread and water which Patrolman McCue brought to his cell in the station house, this morning, for his morning meal.

"That's all," replied the officer as he handed over the scanty meal to the lad behind the bars. "It isn't as good as you get at home, is it?"

"No." dolefully answered the boy.

Percy Billings is the son of George Billings, the proprietor of a large paint store in Philadelphia. Mr. Billings is well off and lives on South street, some distance out. Yesterday afternoon, Percy and several of his associates wandered over to the freight yards of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad.

All went well until the boys found a train that was about to start for Jersey City. They had climbed up on one of the cars when the train started to move. That was more fun than playing that the train was going. The speed of the train increased and the boys began to think about getting off.

But the train didn't stop. Philadelphia was left behind and the open fields of Pennsylvania passed quickly by. Night came on and with it rain.

The train slackened its speed here and Percy jumped off. Sergeant Kiely put him in the station house for safe-keeping, and this morning Chief Grant telegraphed to the boy's parents.

Special Rates for Unveiling of Washington Monument.

For this occasion, which will take place in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, on Saturday, May 15th, the Central Railroad of New Jersey will sell excursion tickets from all stations to Philadelphia on May 14th and 15th, good to return until May 17th, inclusive at one fare for the round trip.

Ladies Aid Society Elect.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Reformed church met yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—President, Mrs. Anna Gillem; First Vice-President, Mrs. Seaman Williams; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Garret Van Winkle; Secretary, Mrs. Harry Marshall; Treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Dunham.

Lacerated His Hand.

Robert Morgan, aged 13 years, received a lacerated wound of the hand while at work at the Pond Tool Works yesterday afternoon. The hand caught in a planer, inflicting the wound. The boy went to the hospital where he had the hand dressed. It will be some time before he can use the injured hand.

TO ADDRESS GRADUATES.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR COMMENCEMENT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Merrill E. Gates, President of Amherst College, to Deliver the Address on that Occasion—Also Other School Affairs.

Plainfield is to receive quite a distinguished speaker at the time of the High School commencement in June when President Merrill E. Gates, of Amherst College, will come to this city to deliver the address of the evening. Such was decided at the May meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education held last evening in the High School building. The meeting was an unusually short one and the only business of importance transacted was the making of the arrangements for the Commencement exercises.

All the members of the Board were present except Mr. Lounsbury, the secretary of the Board, who was kept at home by illness. Mr. Lovell acted as secretary in the absence of Mr. Lounsbury. After the usual list of bills was ordered paid, the report of City Collector Bird was read. It showed that taxes amounting to $594.55 had been collected, together with interest amounting to $71.50, making a total of $766.05, which had been deposited to the credit of the Board in the First National Bank.

A letter from Architect Karr was read in which he advised that the bill for the heaters in the Lincoln school be not paid until next fall so that they may be given a test first to see if they were all satisfactory. Mr. Karr also asked for $421.60 still due him as his commission on the contracts for the building of the new school. That amount was ordered paid by the Board.

Dr. Jenkins, as the committee on hall for the Commencement exercises, reported that he had engaged Music Hall for the evening of June 24th at a cost of $50, with the privilege of using it two days before for rehearsal.

Mr. Lovell, as chairman of the committee on music, reported that he had engaged Rogers' New York orchestra of ten pieces for the commencement and the reception afterwards.

Regarding the speaker for the evening, President Probasco told of the result of the correspondence between Superintendent Maxson and Merrill E. Gates, president of Amherst College, by which the latter had consented to come to Plainfield on that occasion. After some remarks on his excellence as a speaker, the Board went into executive session.

The financial statement of the month was given out. It was as follows:

DIED VERY SUDDENLY.

SHERIFF KIRK'S MOTHER PASSED AWAY APPARENTLY WELL.

Had Just Finished Her Lunch With Evident Relish—Heart Failure is the Cause Assigned for the Very Sudden Demise

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Kirk, mother of Sheriff William T. Kirk, died at her home, 109 West Seventh street, this afternoon, at 1:40 o'clock. Death came very unexpectedly.

Mrs. Kirk has not been feeling very well for the past few days and has been confined to her bed since Saturday. She felt better, this morning, and came down stairs for a short time. She ate her lunch with evident relish and was lying down after it when the end came. Death must have come very suddenly and probably painlessly. Dr. W. H. Murray was called at once and Shiriff Kirk telegraphed for. Death was caused by heart failure.

Mrs. Kirk was very well known in this city, were she has lived for many years. She has a host of friends who will be greatly shocked to hear of her decease. She was about sixty years of age.

Court Opens at Elizabeth.

The lawyers in four cases that were to have been tried at this term of court have saved the court the trouble of trying the cases, by consenting this morning that the cases be discontinued. Craig A. Marsh was counsel for the successful defendants in all these cases. Henry G. Runkle, Wm. T. Kaufman, Wm. H. Brower, J. C. Pope and DeWitt C. Ivins are the grand jurymen from Plainfield.

Commencement Honors.

The commencement honors have been awarded to the two members of the senior class having the highest rank in scholarship. Miss Sarah E. Schuyler will be salutatorian and Lewis Squires valedictorian

DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

NEW JERSEY EPISCOPALIANS MEET IN GRACE CHURCH.

Bishop Scarborough Presiding—Morning Principally Devoted to Devotional Exercises—Sermon by Rev. Hasbrouck.

The interest taken in the church and spiritual things by New Jersey Episcopalians is being impressively shown by the Diocesan Convention now being held in Grace Protestant Episcopal church of this city. The convention opened this morning and will continue through today and tomorrow. It will undoubtedly prove a very helpful and interesting session. An early celebration of the Holy Communion was held at 7 this morning; a fitting opening for the day.

The first regular session of the convention was held at 10:30, and opened with a devotional service. The church was well filled with the Plainfield and visiting delegates, when the first strains of the processional sounded through the building, and down the centre aisle to the chancel came the long line of choristers preceded by the cross and followed by the Dean and the visiting clergymen, in their vestments. Following the entrance of choir and clergy, came the beautiful opening of the Holy Communion service, conducted by Rev. John Scarborough, Bishop of the diocese.

Dean Erskine M. Rodman then said a few words of welcome to the visiting delegates, then came the sermon of the morning, delivered by Dr. Glazebrook, rector of St. John's church, Elizabeth, from Romans 1:16—"The power of God unto salvation." He began by speaking of the various manifestations of God's power, in the governing of the nations, in the natural world, etc. To one manifestation of God's power, alone, however, St. Paul proposed to give his attention, all the days of his life; the power of God unto salvation, as shown in Jesus Christ his Son, our Saviour. In the proclamation of this power he intended to spend his days. He had good reason to know this power, after his own marvelous experience of it. It always remained an intensely real and personal experience to him, and we know how he proclaimed the gospel. The truth had been revealed to him, and he cared for nothing but to save the souls of men, and to lift them up to be the sons of God.

Having spoken thus of Paul's gospel, Dr. Hasbrouck proceeded to make a strong and eloquent plea for the realization by the church that not even the righteousness of the Pharisee who had kept the law could avail for salvation; that the righteousness of Jesus Christ alone could avail for any soul. He also urged that the church should more earnestly devote itself to preaching Christ; being not so anxious to make known some new thing, but interested only to hold up Christ, the Son of God, the saviour of the world.

The offering having been received, there followed that most interesting solemn and beautiful service, the celebration of the Holy Communion, with its prayers, responses softly sung by the choir, and the servants of God, eager to acknowledge him, going forward to kneel before the altar and partake of the symbols, the whole devotional session being closed by the tender words of prayer and song, and the exit of choir and clergy, singing the recessional hymn.

The business session, for the organization of the convention, followed, Bishop Scarborough presiding.

After the roll-call, it was resolved that the courtesy of the convention be extended to visiting clergymen; that they be invited to take seats in the sessions of the convention. Rev. E. K. Smith was then nominated as secretary of the convention and elected by the casting of a ballot. After the announcement of meeting-places for the various committees, the convention was adjourned until 2:30 p. m.

A luncheon to the delegates was served in the parish building back of the church.

In Colors.

One of the principal features of Ernest R. Ackerman's illustrated talk on his "Trip Around the World," is that many of the views which will be exhibited Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A., will be beautifully colored.

A Compound Fracture.

Martin Hingle, of 740 West Third street, aged sixteen years, an employee of the Pond Tool Works, was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital today noon suffering from a compound fracture of the left malar cheek. The lad was at work at the time when a heavy piece of iron struck him in the face causing the injury. The opening in the cheek is two inches long and before treatment was given Hingle had several hemorrhages. The flow of blood was stopped, however, and no serious results are anticipated.

BILLS TO BE ACTED ON

Some of Those In the Hands of New York's Governor.

THE WORK OF A BUSY LEGISLATURE.

Appropriations Ranging All the Way From Hundreds to Millions of Dollars Are, Among Other Papers, Awaiting the Executive's Signature.

Albany, May 4.—Governor Black has 783 bills, left by the legislature, to dispose of in 20 days, and the morning and afternoon of two weeks of this time will be devoted to hearings on the most important of them, so that the governor will of necessity be a very busy man until May 24 considering the aftermath of the legislature.

The governor announces that he will grant no formal hearings on pending bills other than those already scheduled unless he particularly desires them for his own information. Typewritten communications or briefs relating to bills in his hands will receive careful consideration, and they should be submitted at once.

Of the 783 bills on the printed list just given out, 337 of them directly affect cities, 123 relating to New York city and 83 affecting Brooklyn. The mayors of the various cities, however, have 234 of the 337 bills, and it is probable that many of these bills will be vetoed by the mayors and therefore will be killed whether the governor considers them favorably or not.

New York City Bills.

The two important city bills are the Greater New York charter, which is styled a New York city bill and is numbered 607 on the governor's list, and the bill creating a uniform charter for cities of the second class, which is under the caption of "General City Bills" and is number 262 on the list.

There are 69 state appropriation bills to be acted upon, with appropriations ranging all the way from $800 to nearly $5,000,000, the latter being for the care of the insane.

The civil-criminal codes have 52 amendments which await the action of the governor—33 affecting the civil code and 19 the criminal. There are 31 bills relating to the game law, 87 that are styled general laws, 31 corporation measures, 17 bills authorizing parties to bring claims against the state, 79 under the caption of "Miscellaneous," 27 affecting towns, 22 relating to villages and 29 county bills. The bills of general importance outside of the appropriation bills and the charter for Greater New York and second class cities are as follows:

The graduated inheritance tax bill, the antiscalpers, increasing the number of railroad commissioners to four and the measure gradually reducing the price of gas in New York city until it reaches $1, five years hence.

The list of bills in the governor's hands just summarized furnishes an interesting deduction concerning the work of the recent legislature, as compared with the legislature of 1896. While Governor Black has in his hands 11 more bills than were left with Governor Morton, up to this time he has signed 38 less than Governor Morton did, thus showing that although there were several hundred more bills introduced this year in the legislature than last, there were actually 27 less bills favorably acted upon.

Mystery In Rahway.

Rahway, N. J., May 4.—A man's hat, two neckties and a scapular were found on Elizabeth avenue, near John Moore's carpenter shop. There was a large pool of blood near them and evidence of a struggle. The Rahway river is 100 feet distant, and blood marks led toward it. A bridge spans the river at this point, and the river is running high. Chief of Police George Wright is investigating.

Sentenced For Murder.

Springfield, Mass., May 4.—Henry Stewart, alias Patrick Sweeney, pleaded guilty in the superior court before Justice Maynard to the charge of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to state prison for life. Stewart's victim was Patrick J. Murray, who was shot in the shops of the Belcher & Taylor Agricultural Tool company in Chicopee last November.

Extensive Failure In Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 4.—F. Richter & Sons' foundry and machine shop made a voluntary assignment to F. H. Magdeburg. The bond is in the sum of $150,000. They were the original promoters of the beet sugar enterprise at Menominee Falls which failed Saturday. They put money into the sugar plant and also supplied some of the machinery from their shops.

Installment House Assigns.

New Haven, May 4.—The Credit Supply company, a concern doing an installment house furnishing business and operating under the management of A. Goodman & Co., has assigned in the probate court. The liabilities are stated to be $27,000, with estimated assets of $22,000. Business depression and slow collections are given as the causes of the failure.

Killed by a Runaway Car.

Hazleton, Pa., May 4.—Andrew Brodeck, aged 40 years, was killed and Andrew Tudor fatally injured at Milnesville colliery by a runaway car. The car was being hoisted from the slope, when the rope broke and the car dashed back. Brodeck and Tudor were caught at the bottom and buried in the debris.

Drowned by Boat Overturning.

Louisville, May 4.—John Nolin, his two little daughters and another man, whose name could not be learned, were drowned in the river above here. The skiff was overturned, and the father tried to take his children to shore, but the swift current swept all four of them under, and they perished in a few minutes after the boat capsized.

Struck by a Baseball.

Providence, May 4.—A young man named Lapham, who was struck on the head by a pitched ball while playing baseball in Johnson on Saturday, has been in an unconscious condition ever since. It is feared that he will die, although the operation of trepanning has been performed.

C. R. THIERS, Dentist.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

That Tired Feeling

An exceedingly common and dangerously significant condition.

A warning which must be heeded, or, as with the express train which fails to regard the danger signal, disaster must follow.

A sure indication of thin, weak, impoverished blood. A certain admonition that the blood is not properly feeding the nerves, tissues and organs of the body.

Weak, nervous, tired men and women are found everywhere. Men strive too hard to "keep their ends up," women too anxiously work "on their nerves" to meet the demands of home and society, all have too little sleep, and the excessive drain on strength and nervous energy will soon completely ruin health.

The strength must be built up by pure blood, and the nerves must also find in pure blood the proper nerve food. For this purpose nothing equals Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The thousands of wonderful cures it has accomplished, the like of which no other medicine and no combination of medicines can show, prove its curative merit; prove that it has never been equalled as a blood medicine; prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla is indeed the ideal spring medicine, the best nerve and stomach tonic, the one true blood purifier.

"I was feeling tired all the time, as tired in the morning as I was at night. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has helped me so that I have no such feelings now. My little girl suffered with pain in her stomach, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured her." JAMES T. MANN, Hubbardston, Mass.

Weakness and Loss of Appetite.

"Last spring my little girl had no appetite and was weak. I gave her one-half bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which cured her. We will now take no other medicine but Hood's Sarsaparilla, and recommend it to everyone for weakness and loss of appetite." WM. F. HANES, Brysonia, Pa.

All Tired Out.

"My husband was all tired out and run down in health. He felt the need of something to build him up, and he began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and the result was very satisfactory. We regard Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills as excellent medicines." MRS. H. L. MOWRY, Towanda, Pa.

Tired and Worn Out Feeling.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and cannot say too much in its favor. It has done me more good than any medicine I have ever tried. I have advised my friends to use it for a tired and worn out feeling, as I know that it gives relief." WILLIAM T. HURDLE, Hollyville, Del.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malaria poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. THE ITALIAN LYNCHING CASE.

President McKinley Recommends an Appropriation For the Victims' Heirs.

Washington, May 4.—President McKinley has sent to congress a message concerning the lynching of three Italians at Hahnville, La., on the night of Aug. 8, 1896, named Salvatore Arena, Guiseppe Venturella and Lorenzo Solaridino. He recommends an appropriation for the heirs of the persons without admitting the liability of the United States in the premises. The message is accompanied by papers from the secretary of state. He reviews the events when the lynching occurred.

The agent of the state department who was sent to Louisiana reported that one of the men, Solaridino, had resided in Louisiana 12 years and had voted; Arena five years and had made a declaration of his intention of becoming a citizen, and Venturella, three years, also had been a voter.

Mr. Sherman says the Italian embassador promptly informed this government that the lynched men were Italian subjects and entitled to the protection of the king of Italy.

The governor of Louisiana has not been able to present proof that the men lynched had actually voted, though it was believed they had. He says the case was similar to the lynching in New Orleans in 1891.

Without acknowledging the legal liabilities of persons lynched, congress had appropriated money for the indemnity of persons so lynched. The secretary recommends that $6,000 be appropriated to be distributed by the Italian government among the heirs of the persons.

Cannot Seize Pension Money Property.

Lyons, N. Y., May 4.—County Judge Norton has granted an injunction restraining Sheriff George M. Weezey from advertising the residence of Ann Costello, a veteran's widow, at Marengo, for sale under an execution in favor of Luther A. Smith of Galen. Smith secured judgment on a promissory note for $169. Mrs Costello alleges the purchase of the property with pension money. Ex-Lieutenant Governor Saxton was Smith's attorney, and Delancey Stow appeared for the plaintiff. It is believed that this is the first time this defense was ever used in this state.

Suspected of Insurance Fraud.

Chicago, May 4.—The body of Franklin D. Gurley, who died about ten days ago under what the insurance companies believed to be suspicious circumstances, was exhumed and an examination held by five physicians to determine the cause of death. Nothing of a suspicious character was discovered, and the physicians gave it as their unanimous opinion that heart disease had caused death. Previous to her secret marriage with Mr. Gurley, which occurred about two years ago, Mrs. Gurley had been married three times, all her former husbands being dead.

Lost In a Fog.

Gloucester, Mass., May 4.—Advices have been received from Yarmouth, N. S., to the effect that a dory containing Robert Muise and Theodore Babbine of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner W. E. Morresey, went astray from the schooner on April 6, and no tidings of the missing men have been received since. At that time all the boats were out from the schooner, when a thick fog shut down, and all went astray. All the other members of the crew except Babbine and Muise have been accounted for.

Undervaluation Charged.

Boston, May 4.—United States District Attorney Jones has begun proceedings in the United States district court against the racer Robert R. on the ground that the racer was imported from Canada in violation of the custom laws at an undervaluation. Its value was invoiced at $500 only, when its true value is alleged to be $1,000. The proceedings ask that the horse be held until the duty upon the basis of the true valuation is paid.

She ran screaming across the yard to the nearest neighbor, who threw his coat around her and tore the burning clothes from her.

SENATORS' SQUABBLE

Morgan Objects to Tillman's Talk About "Gobbling" Lands.

THE LATTER DENIES DISCOURTESY.

Mr. Simpson Makes an Attack on the Speaker, Who Challenges Him to Propose a Resolution For the Appointment of Committees.

Washington, May 4.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina was heard from briefly and pointedly in the senate after a silence of many weeks, and as usual his remarks served to arouse a lively controversy. It occurred during the consideration of the free homestead bill. Mr. Morgan resented some sharp remarks of the South Carolina senator about "gobbling" and stealing public lands. The incident was closed by a statement from Mr. Tillman disclaiming any purpose of being discourteous to the Alabama senator.

An agreement was reached for a final vote on the free homestead bill at 3 p. m. today.

Mr. Morgan endeavored to secure a vote on his Cuban resolution, but it went over at the request of Mr. Hale of Maine in order that speeches in opposition may be made.

Senator Chandler of New Hampshire introduced a bill to authorize the issue of certificates of indebtedness to meet temporary deficiencies of revenue. It provides that for any temporary deficiency now existing or which may hereafter arise in the national revenues the secretary of the treasury is authorized at his discretion to issue certificates of indebtedness of the United States to an amount not exceeding $50,000, payable in three years after their date in lawful money, of denominations of $20 or multiples thereof, at 2 per cent interest and to sell the same for not less than an equal amount of lawful money of the United States. The certificates are to have the same status as the bonds issued under the law for the resumption of specie payment.

Flax straw, $7 per ton; flax not hackled or dressed, 2 cents per pound; flax hackled, known as dressed line, 5 cents per pound; tow of flax not retted, three-quarters of a cent per pound; tow and flax retted, 1 cent per pound. Another amendment proposes adding to the free list sawed boards, planks, deals and other lumber of white pine when not planed or finished.

The following nominations were received from the president:

Robert F. Patterson of Tennessee to be consul general at Calcutta, Stanton Sickles of New York to be secretary of legation at Madrid.

The following postmasters were named:

Pennsylvania—A. M. Kettler, Bennett; Benjamin A. Waters, Williamstown.

Vermont—Frederick Chapman, Woodstock.

New Jersey—John L. Derby, Cranford; William H. Larison, Madison.

Virginia—John M. Griffin, Fredericksburg; Samuel M. Yost, Staunton.

In executive session the following presidential nominations were confirmed:

William R. Day of Ohio to be assistant secretary of state.

William Heimke of New York to be secretary of the legation of the United States at the City of Mexico.

William A. Jones of Mineral Point, Wis., to be commissioner of Indian affairs.

The Speaker Challenges.

"The issue was made," as Speaker Reed put it, in the house on the speaker's policy of postponing the appointment of committees. Mr. Simpson of Kansas brought it on by another attack upon the speaker, which moved Mr. Reed to challenge him to propose a resolution instructing the speaker to appoint the committees. The Kansan evaded this challenge, but Mr. Lewis, a new Democratic member from Washington, took up the gauntlet which the speaker had thrown down and moved the adoption of a resolution of the tenor suggested by Mr. Reed. Then Mr. Fleming (Dem.) of Georgia offered a substitute embodying the instructions in different terms, and Mr. Dingley, the Republican leader, to make the issue plain, as he said, presented another substitute, directing the speaker to appoint committees "immediately."

When the vote was taken on the proposition, the speaker was sustained by practically the solid vote of his party, assisted by 33 Democrats under the leadership of Mr. Bailey. The resolution was defeated—yeas, 52; nays, 124; present, 13. For the first time this session the factions in the Democratic ranks were forced to put themselves on record, and 32 Democrats, with all of the Populists, supported Mr. Lewis. Mr. Low of New York was the only Republican to put himself on record in support of the resolution, while eight Democrats and five Republicans answered present.

Mr. Bailey denounced in strong terms the spectacle which the Democrats were presenting by their dissensions. Messrs. Cochran of Missouri and Wheeler of Alabama, for the Democrats, spoke for the resolutions, while Mr. Dingley voiced the Republican policy.

A senate resolution appropriating $50,000 for the congress of the Universal Postal union was adopted, and Mr. Showalter, the Republican chosen at a special election to represent the Twenty-fifth Pennsylvania district, was sworn in.

ALMOST PERPETUAL.

Through every administration, whether Democratic or Republican, for the last twenty years John L. Derby has served as postmaster at Cranford, and yesterday he was reappointed for a term of four years by President McKinley. Derby came near losing his place, however, last February when ex-President Cleveland nominated Editor Potter for the position. However, the nomination was held up so long that it was not reached in the last days of Congress, and Derby's continuance was assured under a Republican administration.

THE HANGING.

The Daily Press will be the only newspaper outside of Somerset county, and consequently the only daily paper anywhere, that will be accorded the privilege of having a member of its staff present at the hanging of Jacob Johnson in the Somerset county jail tomorrow morning. Though the event will be a gruesome one in every detail, there is no gainsaying the fact that the general public will be anxious to know just exactly how Johnson was sent into the hereafter. Press readers will have the correct facts.

NOT MUCH SORROW.

The losses of speculators who built stands along the line of March of the Grant monument dedication parade in New York are said to amount to nearly $100,000. This will not occasion general sorrow. Such speculations are nuisances, says an exchange.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

Will be Held for Clerks and Carriers on June 5th.

The United States Civil Service Commission has ordered that an examination be held in this city on Wednesday, June 5th, beginning at 9 a. m., for the grade of clerks and carriers in the postal service. Whitenack Secretary of the Board, on the regulation blanks, before the Postoffice closes on Monday, May 22. It is recommended that the applications be filed early, in order that time may be given for correction if necessary.

The Commission states that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens of the United States who may desire to enter the service, without regard to race or to their political or religious affiliations. All such citizens are invited to apply. They shall be examined, graded and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination.

NEW OPEN CARS.

Fine Rolling Stock of the Street Railway Company.

The five new open cars for the Plainfield Street Railway have not arrived yet, but they are expected in a few days. The delay is occasioned by the non-arrival of the trucks for them, and as soon as the latter arrive, they will be placed in position at once and the cars shipped for Plainfield.

In the meantime, the trucks and motor have been removed from closed car No. 4, and placed on one of the old open cars, No. 10 The changes in the others will be made now as fast as possible until all the open cars are ready for use. It is expected that before that time the new cars will be here so that the entire system of street railway lines can be equipped with open cars.

The conductors on all the cars of the street railway will appear on the fifteenth of this month in their new summer uniforms. The uniforms will be blue with brass buttons and the conductors will also turn out on that occasion in straw hats.

A BAD BOY HE IS CALLED.

BUT WILLIE DRAKE SAYS THE POLICE HAVE A GRUDGE AGAINST HIM.

A Paradise Alley Youngster Who Has Frequently Been in the Toils of the Law is Charged With Theft of Shoes.

Either Willie Drake is a persecuted little boy or else he isn't, and that is what Justice Newcorn has been called upon to decide. The police claim he is the worst of all the youthful gang in Paradise alley and that Joseph Kearns is a good second in the race. Willie and his mother claim that the police are abusing him and that they lay lots of trouble at his door for which he is not accountable. Mr. Drake is a respectable, hard-working man, who has done his best to bring up his son in the right way.

Drake has been figuring quite prominently in the city court of late as the starter of a riot in Paradise alley. Now the trouble is something more serious. Young Drake is accused of stealing a pair of shoes from one of the shoe boxes in front of Abrams' shoe store on West Front street. Mrs. Abrams declares that she saw the boy take the shoes, and there are several other witnesses. The alleged larceny is said to have taken place last night at 8:30 o'clock.

A complaint was made before Justice Newcorn last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Abrams, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Two policemen went to Drake's home this morning and watched for the lad, but he did not appear. His mother said that he had not come home. The boy finally came before the Justice, this morning, and was released in the custody of his mother for a hearing this evening.

Miss Caward has had previous experience in High School teaching.

THE EARTH WAS UNSTEADY.

Kelly Thought So and the Policeman Locked Him Up.

No man shall experiment with Jersey lightning unless he is prepared to take care of himself or let the police take care of him, so have said the good fathers of the city and it was only in following out their directions that City Judge DeMeza made the following suggestive remark to Michael Kelly, "Ten dollars or thirty days." Kelly is now considering the advantages of a month's free lodging.

Patrolman Saunders found Brother Kelly on Plainfield avenue. The earth was remarkably unsteady, according to Kelly's point of view, and it had a way of flying up and hitting him that was unpleasant. He spoke to the earth for its uneasy behavior and criticized it gyrations until the neighbors looked at him in awe. Then Saunders came along and suggested that the station house was built on a firm foundation and thither they went.

The Judge thought thirty days in the county jail a good cure for such troubles but intimated that $10 added to the city treasury would do as well. Kelly is now considering the matter.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. fund in anticipation of taxes, and the same was so ordered.

Mr. Barrows offered a resolution that all property owners on Second street, between Watchung avenue and Madison avenue, be required to curb the street in front of their property to conform to the city grade.

The application of the residents of Sycamore avenue, who have opened the new portion of the street, and who asked the city to accept the same, was received, and Mr. Barrows offered a resolution to the effect that the street be accepted on the condition that a bond of $3,000 be filed within ten days that the street will be macadamized, curbed, graded, and that drain pipes be laid and that the sidewalk be flagged, also that the petitioners stand all expense of litigation should there be any. The resolution was adopted but it is safe to say that the street will never be accepted on such conditions.

On a motion made by Mr. Serrell the time limit for the collection of back taxes previous to the adoption of the Martin act was extended to May 17th, and following this Mr. Serrell moved that when council adjourned it be to meet on that date.

Mr. Serrell made a highly interesting report showing in detail the valuation of each ward in the city and the amount of money received from the same, also the amount of benefits received. Mr. Serrell's object in doing this was to show that the Fourth Ward is not receiving its proportion of bene fits and improvements. The report is as follows and will prove interesting reading:

After the reading of the above statement Mr. Serrell moved that the same be referred to the street committee for the purpose that each ward could receive equal benefits, and that the committee could have something to guide them in their work. After disposing of this matter the Council adjourned until May 17th.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mrs. William Wilhelm is visiting in Easton, Pa.

Peter Trimmer visited among Easton friends, Sunday.

Bernard and John Livisky visited their mother, in Raritan, on Sunday.

Burden Brokaw, of Centre street, is entertaining Dr. W. R. Heyers, of Trenton.

John Connolly, of Glen Gardner, visited Mr. and Mrs. Connolly here over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Merrill are jubilant just at present. Its a boy, and came Saturday.

Jefferson avenue is said to be in a horrible condition at present and needs immediate attention.

Mrs. J. Peters and daughter have gone to New York to spend a few days among relatives and friends.

Walter Runyon was able to sit up by the front window for a short time, yesterday, and recognize his friends as they passed.

Jack F. Auten has removed from Bound Brook and taken up his residence with his mother, Mrs. G. S. Farlee, on Front street.

No service was held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, the congregation joining with the Methodists in a union service in the evening.

Assessor Charles Coriell is around making his assessments for this year's taxes. Last year the tax rate was $2.26 on the $100, and this year its about the same.

Next Tuesday evening Dunellen's crack checker team will complete in a series of match games with a club from Bound Brook. The playing will take place here.

The water was so high in Green Brook, Sunday morning, that Isaac J. Stites who lives on the north side of the brook, had to forego his usual custom of attending church. He couldn't cross the stream.

In another column today Eugene Runyon advertises his grocery business for sale. Failing health has compelled Mr. Runyon to give up close confinement, and he will hereafter devote his time to his real estate business.

The Dunellen Council Chamber is a regular smoke house. During the Council meetings many of the spectators seem to delight in sitting there and puff on poor cigars and antiquated pipes, and there is absolutely no outlet for the smoke. The air is stifling to say the least and the ventilation poor.

The Borough Council held a meeting, last evening, with Mayor Brakeley in the chair, and all the members responding to the roll call. Under the head of reports from committees, Mr. Gaskill, from the street committee, reported progress; the work on the roads, he said, is going forward as rapidly as possible. Mr. Wilcox, from the sidewalk committee, reported favorably on the laying of several crosswalks, but no action was taken. Bills aggregating $113.42 were ordered paid. Mr. Wynkoop, from the law and ordinance committee, introduced an ordinance fixing the compensation for the Collector at $235 and the Assessor at $125 per annum, in lieu of all other fees. The ordinance was read and laid over. Mr. Wynkoop submitted an ordinance relating to bicyclists. It provides mainly that the rider shall be equipped with a lamp that can be seen 150 yards ahead, and that the same shall be lighted one hour hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise. The ordinance was received on its first reading. Bells must also be attached to the wheels and riding on the sidewalk is prohibited, under a penalty of $5 for each and every offense. Mr. Gaskill said that there existed some difficulties in the fire department which should be obviated. He submitted an ordinance limiting the number of members to thirty-six, and also providing for a fine of $10 for driving over the hose in case of a fire or "wash." The ordinance further provides that only those between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years shall become eligible to membership. It was laid over until the next meeting. Mr. Gaskill moved the confirmation of the Chief and the First and Second Assistants, but he voted "no" on confirming the list of thirty-nine members, thinking the number to be too large, and claiming that some of the members had only joined the Department to get the $500 exemption benefit.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Judge Clark is trying a case on contract, this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder and daughter, of Jersey City, have returned home from a visit at the home of Mrs. Hossinger.

A test of one of the dug wells which has been dry for several week past, was made yesterday, and it was found that three feet of water was in it.

Fred Hand is building a small oven in the rear of his hotel which is designed to bake the blue fish in, which the select party of fishermen will catch at Barnegat, this week.

Many of the early vegetables hereabouts and in the Valley, peas in particular, were washed out Sunday, and strewn promiscuously about the patch. This will necessitate an entire new planting.

The rain storm washed out some dangerous holes Sunday, but the street commissioner was equal to the emergency, and early yesterday morning had a force of men repairing the washouts.

Rev. Mr. Perrie, of Peddie Institute, preached in the Baptist church, Sunday morning and evening. The inclement weather interfered with the attendance at the morning service, but in the evening the attendance was considerably larger.

The robber who scaled the transom over the door leading to John R. Marsh's meat market, as told in yesterday's Press, is described by Edward Hand, who shot in the direction of him as he ran away, as a man probably 35 years of age, wearing light pants, with dark coat and vest and no over coat. He was tall and wore a slouch hat.

Purchased an Instructive Book.

The devotional exercises at the meeting of the Primary Teachers' Union held yesterday afternoon were led by the president, Miss Nettie Beeching, and the lesson was taught by Mrs. Baker, of Westfield, who reviewed the lesson for last week and gave a synopsis of the lesson for next week. A business meeting followed and seven new members were reported. There is at present a balance on hand of $5.89. It was suggested that the Union purchase the book entitled "Teaching and Teachers," and the suggestion was followed out. It was decided to invite Mrs. Petit, of Elizabeth, to teach the lesson next week.

Enterprising Business Methods.

It is the up-to-date dealer who introduces modern machinery and is enabled to sell better goods at less prices. Such is the case with L. L. Manning and Son, marble and granite dealers, corner of West Front street and Central avenue. Their tools for cutting letters are run by compressed air, while all their polishing is done by steam power. An inspection will show that their work is done better by these methods than by the old way. They have a fine stock of monuments and headstones on hand, the largest in the State. They are just completing several very fine monuments for Hillside Cemetery and other parts of the country. 5-1-3-c-1

—The annual state meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society will be held Thursday at Freehold, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity.

Mrs. William J. Bogert is suffering from a severe attack of the grip.

Miss Georgie Bogert's Friday evening dancing class has closed for the season.

Empire Engine Company No. 2 will meet in the department rooms on North avenue this evening.

Mrs. N. W. Cadwell has returned with her child from a five weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Cox, in Gettysburg, Pa.

The shoe firm of O'Bienis & Dilts has been dissolved, and the business will hereafter be conducted by Mr. O'Bienis.

One of the Hosford cottages, on Kimball avenue, has been rented by a New York family, who will take possession this week.

Miss Grace N. Harned, vice principal of the Prospect street school, was at her home in Woodbridge last Sunday to attend the funeral of her stepmother.

Dr. T. R. Harvey removed his dental office today from the National Bank building to his newly completed residence, corner of Broad street and Central avenue.

Organist Rogers, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, has resigned his position after several years of faithful service. His successor, Prof. Carpenter, takes charge of the music this week.

The Westfield Musical Society held a rehearsal in Gale's clubhouse, last evening. Director Arthur G. Drake is much encouraged by the quality of the work that is being done, and promises a successful oratorio as the result of the season's labors.

The regular business meeting of the I O. S. will be held Thursday evening at the residence of R. V. Hoffman, on Mountain avenue. Chairman Fred Condit, of the social committee, will render an interesting report of the successful reception given by the organization April 22d.

The Westfield junior baseball team will meet tonight at the residence of Herbert Love, on Westfield avenue, to reorganize for the present season. Officer's will be elected and a schedule of games arranged. On Saturday the juniors will play the Westfield senior team on the Broad street grounds, and an interesting game is looked for.

The regular monthly business meeting of Bucket and Engine Company was held last evening in the department rooms. Much interest was created at the meeting by the reading of a communication from the fire department officers calling for the names of firemen who have attended less than 25 per cent of the meetings.

"Resolved, That capital punishment should be abolished," is the subject for debate at the meeting of the Westfield Debating Society to be held in the class room of the M. E. church Thursday evening. The question will be argued by William D. Bussing and Jacob Wahl for the affirmative, and for the negative Charles R. Foster and Warren V. Woodruff. Three judges will pass upon the merits of the arguments, and select the winners of the debate.

The Westfield Board of Education meets this evening in the Prospect Street School. It is expected that President Green will make known the names of the five new women inspectors of schools, whose prospective appointment has caused so much comment, favorable and otherwise. As the resolution authorizing the appointment stipulates that these inspectors must be women "of mature and discreet age," it is possible that some of those appointed may not consider themselves extravagently complimented. If the Westfield new woman knows herself she isn't going to be classified in this invidious manner without a protest.

The annual reception and entertainment of the Fireside Club given in Westfield Club Hall, last evening, proved a most brilliant affair. The main portion of the evening's programme consisted of a laughable farce, entitled, "Who is Who? or All in a Fog," which was enacted by five members of the club, Charles P. Worth, J. Allen Worth, Martin Welles, Mrs. Edward N. Brown and Mrs. George H. Embree. At ten o'clock dancing was in order, and the members and their guests threaded the rythmic mazes of the music until the small hours. The club is composed of the younger married people of the town, and has been a decided success

Premier Ralli Gets Encouraging Reports From the Front.

THE HELLENES STILL HOLD VOLO.

Conflicting Rumors Regarding Edhem Pasha's Request For an Armistice. Deplorable Condition of Affairs at Arta—Great Suffering Prevails.

Athens, May 4.—Colonel Tosamados, the minister of war, and M. Theotokis, the minister of the interior, are said to be favorably impressed with the situation at Pharsala, both as respects the positions of the troops and the plan of defense.

In an interview M. Ralli, the prime minister, says:

"The report sent by the ministers of war and of the interior from Pharsala is in most respects highly satisfying. They have wired him from Pharsala that the front line of the army is in battle array and the Turkish attack is imminent. All the preparations possible have been made for heroic defense, and the spirit of the army is much better than before, owing to the change in the supreme command."

M. Ralli declared that the victory at Velestino was the most splendid achievement of the war, the Greeks capturing an enormous quantity of arms, ammunition and horses. The Turks, after this crushing defeat, M. Ralli believes, are not likely to re-engage in hostilities in that quarter.

"Under all the circumstances," M. Ralli continued, "the cabinet deems it advisable to leave General Smolenski with his own brigade and not to promote him to a higher post for the moment."

Rumors conflict materially as to the diplomatic attitude of Turkey. According to one report, Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in Thessaly, has asked an armistice of five days. According to another, an armistice already exists by the tacit acquiescence of both commanders, while the third story describes Edhem Pasha as only awaiting re-enforcements for an attack upon Pharsala, to be followed by an attack upon Volo.

It is also said to be probable that Admiral Tamatello is preparing to prevent a possible attempt of the Turks to seize Volo by the coast roads.

The Greek government has recalled Colonel Vassos from Crete. He will be replaced in command of the Greek forces in the island by Colonel Staikos.

The Situation at Volo.

Volo, May 4.—A majority of the inhabitants have migrated from this port to Athens and the island of Eubœa. The town is calmer, owing to the arrival of the Greek squadron and French, British and Italian warships.

Two hundred French sailors are patrolling the streets in order to reassure the inhabitants.

The Greek treasury of Thessaly, comprising 100 chests of money, has been lying at the French consulate. The treasure has been transported on board a Greek warship and was conveyed to Athens.

The Turks are approaching in the direction of Velestino, where 18,000 Greeks are encamped and skillfully intrenched.

A correspondent of the London Times, writing from this point at 3 p. m. yesterday, says:

"When I arrived at Velestino, I had just seen the Turkish infantry advancing in two columns, intending to cut the railway. The Greeks, 12,000 strong and under General Smolenski—by whose side I watched the encounter, in the rear of the Eighth regiment, under Colonel Gannikosta—gradually advanced, one battalion to hold the railway, the other to support the artillery, which had mountain guns on the right center.

"The Seventh regiment of infantry, under Colonel Regli, advanced to a low plateau on the left, where two batteries were in position. General Smolenski had ordered the shelling to begin when the enemy was well within range. The Turks were evidently about 14,000 strong. Their cavalry reconnoitered the woods, where the Greeks were concealed, but the batteries remained silent until 6 o'clock, and at that time the fire fell far short of being effective, though the Greek practice was the best I have yet noted. The Turks ran away from the shells, but continued to advance in good order. Our right was really never engaged, and the railway station was defended by only a small force, with two krupp guns. Toward the end the large Turkish center was seen to advance in the distance, but sunset, at 6:45, caused a temporary cessation of hostilities."

Deplorable Condition at Arta.

London, May 4.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Arta says:

"One of the worst mistakes the Greeks have made has been the casual and intermittent character of the attack upon Prevesa. Its capture was essential if the Greeks meant business in Epirus. To capture so strong a place by the means adopted was quite impossible, and now the opportunity is lost altogether.

"Instead of the desultory firing, which enabled the Turks to repair damage about as fast as it was done, the town should have been attacked with determination by the combined naval and military forces.

"Arta is now deserted, its wretched inhabitants living in the fields behind the town, many of them on the verge of starvation. Nothing is procurable in the way of food except a scanty and uncertain supply of bread. Women and children are suffering horribly with cold and hunger, and to these tortures is added the dread of a Turkish attack at any moment."

Poisoned by Green Ink.

Providence, May 4.—Mark C. Melrick, deputy city sealer, died suddenly of blood poisoning, which is believed to have been caused by the absorbtion of green ink into his system while using rubber stamps.

Accidentally Shot His Brother.

Saybrook, Conn., May 4.—John Ealy, aged 18, was fatally shot by the accidental discharge of a rifle that a younger brother was handling, the ball passing through his abdomen.

DR. HOBBS

HEARS MORE REPORTS

Notwithstanding So Many People Have Already Reported, the Number Increases Daily.

All Say They Have Received Great Benefit and Feel that a Speedy and Permanent Cure Will Follow.

The Test is Regarded on All Sides, So Far, as a Forerunner of Great Success.

It is but a short time ago since the great free distribution of Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills was made at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store, in this city, but numerous highly favorable reports of the benefits derived from using the samples are coming in every day. The demand for the remedy at our drug store is exceeding our expectations. Those who obtained samples are coming back for full boxes—all with a pleased confidence in their speedy recovery from disease.

This condition prevails also in the surrounding country, from whence many applications were received for samples.

Tests so far have gone to show that Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills produce favorable results with a degree of quickness heretofore unknown in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases and all ailments arising therefrom. At the same time no reasonable person would expect that within a few days from the time the first sample of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills was given out good effect would be generally manifest, as the very nature of kidney disease is such that a reasonable amount of time and patience will be found necessary to test their real virtues.

People who have dosed themselves with all kinds of so-called kidney medicines, until not only their kidneys, but their entire system is in a state of prostration, should not expect to be cured in a day or two by Dr. Hobbs' grand remdey, howevever great his claims may be. The man who would advertise to cure Bright's disease—that fearful, insidious and dangerous ailment—in a few hours,—should be drummed out of town as an impostor and a man trifling with human life. The modesty of Dr. Hobbs' claims is one thing that especially commends him and his remedy to the public.

They cure Backache.
They cause the kidneys to filter out of the blood all poisons and impurities, whether made in the system or taken in from the outside.
They render sluggish kidneys active.
They cause the kidneys to cast out the poison of rheumatism (uric acid) the disease germs of malaria and the grippe.
They cause the kidneys to keep the blood pure and clean, and thus prevent neuralgia, headache, dizziness, nervous dyspepsia, skin diseases, eruptions, scales, tetters and rashes.
They cause the kidneys to work steadily and regularly.
They dissolve and cast out brick-dust and phosphate deposits and dissolve gravel and calculi in both the kidneys and bladder.
They cure Bright's disease.
They cause the kidneys to rapidly rid the system of the poisons of alcohol and tobacco.
They yield a clear mind, sweet sleep, steady nerves, active bodies, brimful of the zest and happiness of living, bright eyes and rosy cheeks, because they keep the blood free from poisons and impurities that would otherwise clog and irritate it.
Healthy kidneys make pure blood.
Pure blood makes perfect health.
Perfect health makes life worth living.
Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills do this, and do it at all times.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

DISCUSS OUR TARIFF

A German Proposes Obstacles to Our Products.

TREATIES, HOWEVER, INTERFERE.

The Berlin Government Believes That the "Most Favored Nation" Agreement Will Act In Favor of and Protect the United States.

Berlin, May 4.—In the reichstag Count von Kanitz, the agrarian leader, interpellated the government on the subject of the new United States tariff. He asked if the government wished to continue the agreement of 1891 and said the Dingley bill implied less the increase of the American customs revenue than the successive expulsion of European imports from American markets. Continuing, he remarked:

"The industry most prejudiced is the German sugar trade. We should not exaggerate the consequences to ourselves of abrogating the most favored nation treatment, but we could give a preference to Russian against American petroleum, place obstacles in the way of imports of maize, raw copper, bacon, hams, sausages and cotton from the United States, and the government, it is hoped, will take such measures as will tend to the advantage of our industry, commerce and agriculture and of the whole country."

Baron Narschall von Bieberstein, the minister for foreign affairs, rose to reply. He said that as the new United States tariff was still in suspense, he would confine his remarks to the measures of the imperial chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, to counteract the danger threatening German trade, adding:

"But I cannot unroll a picture and show how matters will shape themselves if the decisions of the United States house of representatives becomes law."

After a historical review of the development of Germany's politico-commercial relations with the United States, he continued: "It is true that no treaty exists between the United States and the German empire. There are, however, treaties of former times with individual German states, especially that of 1828 with Prussia. The latter has repeatedly appealed to both sides on the question of its validity and scope, but the matter has never been thoroughly discussed between the two countries.

"The federal governments have always acted on the legal principle of the rights and duties of such treaties passed by the German empire.

"After the foundation of the empire the validity of the treaty of 1828 was expressly recognized by both parties, inasmuch as thereunder rights had been claimed and obligations fulfilled."

Opinion of Foreign Affairs Minister.

Baron von Bieberstein further said that when, in 1885, the imperial chancellor issued a notification concerning the Spanish commercial treaty the United States, Sweden and Denmark were included in the list of most favored nations.

When doubts were expressed as to whether the United States belonged to those nations, Prince Bismarck declared that the question must be answered in the affirmative, because of the existence of special treaties with individual states, which could not be separated from the empire.

Germany, he continued, had frequently obtained recognition of her rights from the United States by virtue of the Prussian treaty—for instance, in 1884 in connection with the Dingley shipping act and also when the United States was upon the point of concluding a treaty with Spain, granting exemptions from duty of sugar from Puerto Rico. Prince Bismarck demanded that the exemption be extended without delay to Germany.

The minister for foreign affairs then explained there were precedents on the side of the United States. The latter at the time of the negotiations of the Dingley shipping act had not raised objections to the Prussian treaty being still in force, and had also made representations in 1884 on account of alleged injury done by German railroad tariffs to American petroleum for the benefit of Russian petroleum.

Upon that occasion the United States minister, in a note to the foreign office, referred to the existence of the most favored relationship by virtue of the treaty of 1828 and added that the treaty was particularly applicable against any kind of differential treatment in the way of taxation or imposts of one government to the detriment of the other.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE CALLED DYSPEPSIA?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes, a faint, all gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. Eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes becomes tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour ta te and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequent attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes: there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a Liver Complaint, some for Dyspepsia, others for Kidney Disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success.

Now, the Shaker Digestive Cordial causes the food eaten to be digested. This will cause an appetite for more food, and this being digested will result in an increase of strength, an increase of flesh and an increase of nerve power.

The tired, weary feeling will give way to vigor and courage. The pale, thin and emaciated will recover their color and plumpness, because red blood and fat are the result of properly digested food.

A ten cent trial bottle will produce a result. Its good effect will be realized at once. You will not have to take a dozen bottles to find out if it is doing you any good. Try it and then give praise to the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, New York, for the relief that you obtain.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Albert Wagoner, of West Fourth street, has secured a position with the Eldridge Cycle Company, of Park avenue.

Bronson Smith, of First place, has purchased a Racycle wheel. It is enameled in red, and has wooden handle bars.

William E. MacClymont, of Washington avenue, has purchased a Crescent wheel through the agency of J. Hervey Doane.

Plainfield has the smallest percentage of L. A. W. members among its many cyclists of any of the suburban cities of New Jersey. It is time that the members here woke up to a little activity. Plainfield should be a centre of League members as it is for wheelmen.

Don't ride faster than ten miles an hour in the city limits unless you are anxious for an interview with City Judge DeMeza. That is according to the city ordinance, and the mandate of the Police Board has gone forth that riders exceeding that speed shall be arrested for "scorching."

The Schiller tandem, now on exhibition in the windows of the Plainfield Cycling and Sporting Goods Company, of North avenue, is one of the latest inventions. It is a wheel which can be converted from a tandem into a single wheel with but little effort The idea is a good one, and is practical as an examination of the wheel will show.

INS AND OUTS.

The clerks of the firm of Woodhull & Martin wish to challange any other store or other amateur team for Decoration Day morning, to play baseball.

Leal's second team had an easy thing of it in their game with Courtney Keller's team, Saturday afteroon, on the Washington avenue grounds. The school boys won by a score of 51 to 11. Dumont and Roome were the battery for the winning team. One of the distinguishing features of the game was a triple play made by Cathcart, J. V. Rittenhouse and J. B. Taylor.

BASKET BALL.

The basket ball season has ended in Plainfield for this spring. The regular team of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. has disbanded until fall. The business men's class players will still play games among themselves at the regular class meetings, but will arrange no games with outsiders until fall.

GOLF.

The Morris County Golf Club is expending a large sum in improvements on the Morristown course, which will be over 6,000 yards in playing length.

CLUB OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Mrs. E. C. Perkins the Executive Head of a Progressive Circle of Women.

The annual meeting for the election officers of the Monday Afternoon Club was held yesternoon at the Casino and the following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. E. C. Perkins; First Vice-President, Mrs. W. E. Lowe; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Walter Haviland; Third Vice-President, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson; Treasurer, Miss Scribner; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Lawson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Robert Lowry.

Work for the coming year was planned for and the club will take up the study of Holland. The Literary Committee has this matter in charge and will see that prominent speakers are secured to lead the members into an interesting study of the subject chosen.

DISPUTE ABOUT WOOD

Another interesting legal chapter has ben added to the Meserole case recenty settled. Captain Hayes, the present owner of the Peterson farm, over which there was a dispute, took possession of the farm last Saturday. It seems that a man named Kahmal Rothberg, of this city, purchased a quantity of wood from a former tenant. A portion of the wood was removed previous to last Saturday, and as Rothberg was anxious to get the balance of the wood coming to him, he went to Dunellen yesterday for that purpose. When he reached the farm he found that Captain Hayes had erected a large fence along the public highway in front of his property so as to prevent Rothberg from gaining admission. The provoked the latter, and he began at once to tear down the fence and load the wood on his wagon.

In the meantime Captain Hayes appeared and told Rothberg to disist or he would have him arrested. Rothberg was convinced that he had better go slow in the matter, and so he came back to Plainfield and interviewed a lawyer. The latter told him to return and secure his wood, and acting upon his advice Rothberg started on his mission.

—The annual meeting of the Dime Saving Institution was held yesterday. J. Frank Hubbard was elected president in place of John W. Murray, George W. Rockfellow first vice-president and Jeremiah Manning second vice-president.

THEY KNEW HUMAN NATURE.

How Two Black Rascals Turned Their Knowledge to Good Account.

Near one of the gates at the Union Station as the long train from Chicago rolled in the other night stood an old colored man. He was bent under Time's burden, and it was easy to imagine that he was one of those relics of the South; one of those picturesque characters of old plantation life that now live only in the memory.

The great engine was panting after its long run, and amid the bustle and confusion of the station the old man seemed bewildered. Then, as the passengers came through the gate, they saw a little act of kindness that touched a tender chord of sympathy in more than one heart.

Another colored man, who looked as if he might be a porter, stepped up and slipped a quarter in the old man's hand. Then he quickly made his way off again, looking half-ashamed at his action.

The old man stood looking at the quarter with a smile on his wrinkled old face, and the next man placed another silver piece in his hand. The other passengers followed suit, and the old hat had to come off to hold the shower of coin.

Just then the policeman on duty at the station saw the old fellow and started toward him, but with more agility than one would have given him credit for, the old man ran in among the crowd and was lost.

Five minutes later two men were sitting in a saloon in Seventeenth street. They were counting over a pile of small coins.

"Foah seventy-five, he! he! Golly, gran'dad, didn't I tell yer it'd fetch 'em? 'Pears lak all yer had ter do wuz ter kinder mek der white folks 'shamed lak and dey jes' scramel ovah demselves ter gev a pore ole man money. He, he! No moah wor' fer us, not if dey comes lak dat."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

General Beauregard's Answer.

Although General Beauregard allowed the use of his name to a lottery company, he didn't think much of lotteries, according to a writer in the Chicago Times-Herald. One day he received a long letter and a dollar from a man living in Mississippi, who wanted a ticket that would be certain to win. He reminded the General that he had faithfully served the Confederacy four years, and that at times he had fought under him. He stated, moreover, that when he returned to his home after the war he didn't have clothes enough to wad a shotgun. General Beauregard sent his Confederate friend a ticket, and in the same envelope enclosed the following letter: "I trust that you may win the capital prize. One as poor as you say you are certainly deserves a different sort of luck from the kind that you say you have been having. But mark my words: If you stick to the lottery as faithfully and as long as you say you did the Confederacy, when you get through with it you won't have clothes enough to wad a popgun."

Engaged.

He—Penelope, can you tell me where my clean socks are, and could you find time to wash Nellie and Willie? They're dirty as two little pigs, and Nellie says she has no clean aprons. Dinner is now nearly an hour late, and the cook says that——

She—Henry, do keep still and stop confusing me! Our Woman's Club meets at eight o'clock, and I simply must finish this paper on "Plain Living and High Thinking," and I have to give a talk at the Progress Club on "The Ethics of Marriage." Do stop interrupting me and attend to the household affairs yourself.

An Old Play.

Uncle Joskins: "Them Lunnon folks ain't so clever as I was a-supposin'."
Aunt Joskins: "Haow's that, Silas?"
Uncle Joskins: "I went to one of them opperyhaouses, and they was still a-playin' 'Hamlit,' that I seed ten years ago!"—Answers.

Couldn't Hear the Music.

Colonel Brown was a mighty fox hunter, and loved the sport beyond words. He owned a fine pack of hounds and during the season thought of nothing but his hunters, his dogs, and the weather. He was once entertaining a friend from America, whose ideas of hunting any animal involved the use of firearms, and who had never seen a fox hound. He had been with difficulty persuaded to go forth one morning with the Colonel and some friends to a meet, and they were waiting impatiently for the hounds to take the scent. Presently there burst upon their listening ears the din of 30 canine voices in full cry. The Colonel's eyes gleamed, and, as he settled his feet in the stirrups and stretched his arm toward the yelping pack, he cried:

"Major, listen to that heavenly music!"

The Major pricked up his ears for a second or two, and then replied:

IVES & SON
Mr. Ives Sr. has had 27 years' experience in raising cows for milking purposes, and would like it distinctly understood that their cows are not fed on brewer's grains, of which so much is fed generally.
Corn meal and bran is the best and only good feed to make cows give natural rich milk. We strictly adhere to this idea by extra feeding twice each day.
Our facilities for aerating and cooling our milk as soon as drawn from the cows, are of the latest improved and up to-date pattern, which gives us the power to guarantee our milk to be of a natural rich quality.
We call attention to our having one of the best farms in this county for herding and keeping cows in a clean and healthy condition. We cordially invite anyone who may desire to drive out to the farm and inspect our system for cleanliness and purity of milk. Directions will be given at our office and headquarters, 1008 Arlington avenue, where also orders for pure rich milk will receive prompt attention.
REGARDING SWEET CREAM. We are now ready to offer a superior quality of fresh sweet cream—shipped direct from Orange County creameries, which we deliver in any quantity desired.
P. S.—We are able to verify what we state, and would caution anyone not to be misled by jealous milk dealers.

CONVENTION CONTINUED

PROCEEDINGS OF THE EPISCOPAL DIOCESAN CONVENTION.

Bishop Scarborough Made His Annual Address—Interesting Reports Made—Services Last Evening—Continued Today.

The Episcopal Diocesan Convention, which opened yesterday morning in Grace church, continued its session in the afternoon. The afternoon session opened at 2:30, Bishop Scarborough presiding.

The first item of business was the nominations for committees and trustees. This occupied the first half-hour, and was followed by the Bishop's annual address. The earnest words of the venerable and well beloved Bishop were listened to with the closest attention.

He began by reviewing the events which had taken place during the year since the last meeting of the Diocese, speaking of the suffering caused by the business depression, the exciting presidential election, the trouble between Greece and Turkey, and the death of men well known in ecclesiastical circles. He then spoke of the signs that the year had not been one of stagnation in the churches, mentioning new churches and parish buildings built in the diocese, mission work taken up, changes among the clergy, and the more than one thousand confirmations in the diocese. One church, in a town where an epidemic of typhoid fever was raging, gave up their parish house for an emergency hospital.

Bishop Scarborough had very kind words to say of the clergy under him, whom he pronounced earnest, hard-working and self-denying. The large number of candidates for confirmation had appeared unusually earnest and devout. He spoke enthusiastically of mission work, saying that the church that did not have a mission of its own missed one of its most life-giving elements.

The weakest point of the work of the diocese, the Bishop said, was the lack of provision for the widows and children of deceased clergymen. He would like to see a new interest in the subject.

He thanked the churches of the diocese for their kindness to him, and urged them to go into the new church year with renewed zeal and interest, and seeking God's blessing in everything, closing by giving a summary of the number of churches in the diocese, number of services held, number of candidates for confirmation, etc.

Reports of the treasurer and of the trustees of the funds of the diocese were read, showing careful management of the funds on the part of the trustees, much good work being done in the various lines, and satisfactory balances remaining.

Reports of other committees and of the registrar followed, after which Rev. E. K. Smith, secretary of the convention, submitted his brief report.

Resolutions respecting amendments to constitution and canons were offered and discussed with a good deal of interest. Especially earnest was the discussion of the question of dropping from the church roll the names of such persons as had not been present at the Holy Communion for a certain number of years, the discussion becoming so warm that the session, which was announced to close at 5 o'clock, was continued for half an hour, after which the question being called for the motion was lost. The convention then adjourned till 8 p. m.

The evening session of the convention was held at 8 o'clock and was a very interesting one, having as its subject the missionary work of the the church. The opening services were the usua ones of the evening prayer service, beginning with the processional by the vested choir. The service was conducted and the lesson read by Rev. Mr. Lancaster, of St. Peter's church, Perth Amboy.

Dean Rodman announced that there would be an early celebration of the Holy Communion on the following morning at 7 o'clock, and that at 9 o'clock morning prayer would be read, after which the convention would resume its business.

Bishop Scarborough now came forward and said a few words, before introducing the delegates who should render missionary reports, as to the great importance of this branch of the church's activity. He then called for the report of the Dean of the Burlington convocation, read by Rev. Mr. Perkins. He reported a total expenditure of $1,577.19, and a balance on May 1st, of about $471. Other reports were given by Rev. Mr. Duvoe and Dean Baker, of the New Brunswick convocation, the former reporting a balance of about $328, and the latter giving an account of mission work

CHASE FOR THE PENANT.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS PUT UP A GOOD ARTICLE OF BALL.

Though the Team Was Rushed Together in Short Order They Defeated the Stevens' Institute Boys by a Score of 7 to 5.

Again the Plainfield High School boys showed that they are decidedly in the chase for the baseball championship of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association by defeating the nine from the Steven's School, of Hoboken, yesterday afternoon. The game was a more even one than the Pingry game, the final result being 7 to 5 in favor of the High School team.

Through a mistake of the president, George Proctor Smith, in copying the schedule at the meeting of the State Association, it was supposed that the game was to be played this afternoon but the manager of the Stevens team telegraphed that the High School would have to play or forfeit the game. Captain Lederer rushed his team together and they were ready for the visitors when they appeared.

The High School boys made all their runs in the first inning, when they batted Beach all over the field. Numerous errors on the part of the visitors assisted in the run getting. Raphel was taken from short to finish the inning and he held the High School boys down.

Sutphen did some great pitching for the Plainfield team, striking out nine batters. He held the Stevens boys down until the sixth inning when an accident compelled him to ease up. Seven innings were played. The visitors made their runs in the last two innings. Sutphen was struck in the ankle by a liner and the game was delayed for some time until he could pull together again.

The local team fielded well and batted well and showed considerable team work. Although many of the players were small, they played better than the visitors.

The batting order of the teams was as follows:

High School: Sebring, left field; Smith, first base; Lederer, catcher; Fisher, short stop; Phillips, centre field; Sutphen, pitcher; Craig, third base; Dean, second base; Thompson, right field. Stevens School: Holcombe, right field; Beach, pitcher and short stop; Raphel, short stop and pitcher; O'Neil, first base; Chambers, third base; Rothand, centre field; Bradshaw, left field; Gibson, second base; Zell, catcher.

The score by innings was as follows:

High School	7	0	0	0	0	0	x	—7
Stevens	0	0	0	0	0	1	4	—5

FOR THE RIGHT OF PROPERTY.

Dispute of Charles W. Tallman and Oscar F. Pierson Settled by a Jury.

Some time ago, Irving Brady secured a judgment for his client, Charles W. Tallman, the Muhlenberg place grocer, against Oscar F. Pierson, the East Front street painter, and Constable Rockafellow served the execution. The constable made the levy about two weeks ago, when Mrs. Pierson claimed that the property belonged to her. She placed her case in the hands of Swackhamer & Williams, who brought the matter before Justice Nodyne and had the latter appoint a day to hear her claim. A jury was also called for. Yesterday afternoon was the time set down and the case was heard. The jury was out about fifteen minutes, when it came in with a verdict for the claimant, Mrs. Pierson.

PAID THE DEATH PENALTY.

Jacob Johnson, the Colored Murderer, Executed at Somerville.

The Condemned Man Bore a Courageous Attitude to the End—Thanked the Sheriff for His Kindness—The Hanging Done Without any Hitch at All.

Somerville, N. J., May 5th—With as a steady a step as any man ever took when in his happiest and most complacent mood, Jacob Johnson, the slayer of Annie Rogers or Beekman, walked to his fate, this morning, in as short a time as was possible after the hour that Judge Magie named for the expiating of the crime on the gallows. In a word, Johnson died game, and astonished the thirty-four witnesses of the execution in the barren, grated corridor, wherein the death dealing apparatus had been erected but a short time before, by his courageous attitude in a time when it was most naturally supposed he would break down with the load of remorse and sorrow that had beset his career.

Johnson's last hours on earth were not eventful ones. He occupied the little cell that has been his home in the third tier of the Somerset county bastile without conduct any different than has heretofore marked his incarcerated life.

Yesterday afternoon Johnson received a number of visitors, among whom was his brother, Charles Johnson, of Millstone, the eldest son of the family. The greeting between them was affectionate, but not effusive. They talked over family affairs for a few moments, but whatever was said in this respect it was impossible to learn. A few days ago a Somerville photographer visited the jail and Johnson sat for photographs. They were finished so that he was put in possession of several of them, and one of these he tenderly proffered to his brother.

About 4:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, James J. Meehan. of Somerville, who strained and invoked every point of law that might prevail upon those who held his life in the balance, paid him a farewell visit in company with two or three local newspaper men. To his counsel, the condemned man expressed the most sincere appreciation for his efforts in his behalf. He said he was convinced that they did all in their power for him, and as much as anyone could do under the circumstances, but still he maintained that he was entirely innocent of the accusation that had been made and proved to the law's satisfaction and for which he was to suffer a terrible ending.

One of the newspaper men who accompanied Mr. Meehan to visit the condemned man was Robert Brunt, a newspaper reporter, against whom it was said that Johnson felt unkindly at one time. Mr. Brunt was one of the first men to question Johnson after finding the body of Annie Rogers in the bushes along the Raritan river, and the story that Johnson at that time told was used to good effect by the prosecution in securing his conviction and sentence. Johnson told Brunt yesterday afternoon that he did not hold any hard feelings against him. Johnson admitted that once he did feel a little disgruntled towards the reporter, but now he had forgiven every man on earth and he held only good will towards the reporter.

After Johnson had partaken of a hearty supper, last night, he spent the early hours of the night in deep meditation and about 10:45 o'clock retired to the little cot that graces his cell as a bed. During the night he had a slight attack of sickness and arose and took a little medicine. Then he retired and slept soundly, the guard says, until 5:30 o'clock this morning. He arose and put on the clothes that he has been wearing for several weeks past—a cheap brown suit. About 7 o'clock, a breakfast of beefsteak and coffee was served to him and he ate it with apparent relish. After this he sat in a thoughtful manner for sometime till Sheriff Wyckoff, who is the personification of kindness, and with as little solemnity as the occasion made, read the death warrant to the condemned man.

At 8 o'clock Johnson commenced to prepare for death by dressing himself in a cheap black suit of diagonal, the coat being of the sack pattern. He put on a white shirt and black bow tie. A cheap stone reposed in the bosom of the shirt.

It was just before 9 o'clock when Rev. John DeHart, a Reformed minister, of Neshanic, who has known Johnson for the past thirteen years, and has been his spiritual adviser since he has rested under the charge of murder, appeared at the jail. A few minutes after he was allowed to go to Johnson for the last time. Johnson welcomed him with a grasp of the hand that betrayed scarcely any emotion.

Rev. Mr. DeHart offered prayer for Johnson's forgiveness and salvation and at the close the latter softly repeated the Lord's prayer in unison with the pastor. From that time to the moment when Johnson was to walk to his fate, the two joined in earnest conversation. The general drift of the talk, as Rev. Mr. DeHart told a Press reporter after the man had been executed, was about the crime and the evidence that had been submitted against him on trial. He seemed to be filled with a desire to impress on the minister that he did not commit the murder, although there was an inference on his part that he was not entirely free from duplicity in its enactment. Rev. Mr. DeHart said that Johnson made no requests of him to send messages to any relatives, or ransact any affairs after he was dead.

While the condemned man and the reverend were engaged, things were in active preparation about the county building for the hanging. The Sheriff was at his office early, of course. As early as 9 o'clock those who has been accorded the privilege of witnessing the execution commenced to arrive at the Sheriff's office. The jurors appointed by the court were sent to the office of County Clerk Somers, where they were sworn in while the deputies and others selected by the Sheriff lolled about the latter's office.

Among those who attracted not a little attention as they mingled about the crowd was James VanHise, who had been employed to actually conduct the execution. VanHise is a short, thick set man with a long sandy moustache. He was regarded with more or less awe.

To a friend Sheriff Wyckoff introduced VanHise as "my right hand man, if there is any right hand man about this thing." VanHise was rather stoic in his manner and talked principally with Wm. Tompkins, his assistant, and Wm. Bovett, warden of the Essex county jail. The Press man asked VanHise what time he erected the gallows this morning and he evasively replied: "Well, really, I don't know just what time it was." He said, however, that it took about twenty minutes to put up the gallows. While the witnesses were waiting for the time for the execution to take place, they joked and talked in a manner far from indicating the gruesome event of a short approach.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock when all the witnesses had gathered in the Sheriff's office and their names called as follows:

Court jurors: Dr. H. G. Wagner, Dr. T. H. Flynn, Somerville; Dr. John A. Hecht, Raritan; Dr. C. P. P. Fisher, Bound Brook; Dr. P. J. Zeglio, North Plainfield; Dr. A. L. Stillwell, Somerville; H. D. Dilts, Raritan; J. A. Treuan, North Plainfield, John A. Layton, Somerville; James Bowman, South Branch; George Terrill, Warrenville; Steven Hoagland, Somerville.

Deputies appointed by Sheriff—George A. Dilts, Raritan; G. W. Cooper, A. S. TenEyck and E. F. Brown, C. D. MacMurtry, Somerville; J. M. Smalley, North Plainfield; H. P. Davis, North Branch; James Auten, Hillsboro; G. S. Cook, Somerville; John Ringleman, Somerville; and John F. Brady, Raritan.

City Judge George W. DeMeza, of this city, was admitted as a representative of the lawyers. The newspaper correspondents were Robert Brunt, John Anderson, and John E. Wehrly, of Somerville; and a representative of the Press.

Just before 10 o'clock the witnesses were all escorted to the west corridor of the jail where the gallows had been erected. Here they waited for a few minutes for the condemned man to appear and submit to his fate.

In the meantime Sheriff Wyckoff, Hangman VanHise and Deputies Henry W. Wyckoff and Theodore Barkalew had ascended to the condemned man's cell.

Sheriff Wyckoff told Johnson that they were ready and the latter arose and took a position so that his arms

LIBEL SUIT AT AN END.

WESTFIELD SCHOOL TEACHERS WITHDRAW PRINCIPAL FRANCIS' LIBEL.

The Case Has Been Pending in the Elizabeth Courts for Some Time—It Was the Outcome of the Principal's Report.

The end of a famous lawsuit come yesterday in Elizabeth when Miss Jennie Pomerene and Miss Mary L. Graffam, plaintiffs in the libel suit of Graffam and Pomerene vs. Francis, withdrew their charges, and paid the costs.

The case has commanded widespread attention, as it was the outcome of a number of hot battles which were waged in the Westfield school board by the partisans of the two sides.

Professor E. Francis, the defendant, was principal of the Westfield public schools, prior to last June; and the plaintiffs were the teachers serving under him. In a regular report rendered to the Board of Education last spring, Mr. Francis took occasion to call attention to certain conduct on the part of these teachers which he regarded in the light of insubordination. It was upon the sprength of this report that a majority of the trustees refused to consent to the reappointment of the teachers for another year.

Their friends remonstrated, a petition for their reappointment was presented, and during several stormy meetings of the board the battle to secure reappointment was bitterly waged. But five out of nine of the trustees remained firm, and the teachers had to go.

It was then, after the storm seemed to have subsided, that action for $10,000 damages was brought against the principal, on the ground that certain statements in his report to the trustees amounted to a malicious libel. The plaintiffs were represented by R. V. Lindabury. Mr. Francis entrusted his case to Craig A. Marsh, of Plainfield.

The history of the case has been one of continual postponement, until its abandonment by the plaintiffs yesterday.

Mr. Francis is now being congratulated, and his friends are jubilant over his vindication.

AN ACTOR CALLED A STICK.

Fate and an Unsympathetic Audience Not Kind to Billy Woods.

That wild and wooly aggregation known as the Woods and Henry Comedy Company astonished the natives of Bound Brook last night with their jokelets, songlets and dancelets. Voorhees hall was partly filled by an expectant audience drawn thither by the flaring posters depicting the wonderous symetrical form of Billy Woods, late of the illustrous Canada minstrels, and characterized as "the wide mouthed comedian." Billy Woods was to be the whole show, aided and abetted somewhat by other sons of dusky hue, but some how or other the fickle Bound Brook theatrical folk, who had witnessed famous productions of stirring melo-dramas in which blood and revolvers played star parts, did not take kindly to Billy's efforts at being funny and were cruel enough to call him a "stick." However, the show went to a finish and the young man in the box office came out a winner by seventeen cents. Several of the acting aggregation, or aggravation, had taken their wives along to see them act, and after the show there was a great scurrying for fares back to good old Plainfield. All but four of the actors got through in shape, and the lone quartette came back on a freight train. Billy Wood's property trunk, made snowy white by the promising dates, came also with the stock of costumes, including three slippers, four pair of damaged red kickerbockers, a dress shirt and three burnt corks.

Sons of Veterans Meet.

At the meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, held last evening, one recruit received the first degree. The new by-laws for the Camp were adopted on the second reading and they have been sent to the Division Commander for his approval. Capt. McVoy appointed H. J. Martin, H. S. Thatcher and Raymond McVoy as a memorial committee to confer with the G. A. R. committee in making arrangements for the celebration of Decoration Day.

Entertained By Edison's Inventions.

The Park Avenue Baptist church was filled with a large and appreciative audience last evening, when a phonograph and projectoscope entertainment was given. The pictures were excellent and included some of the very latest, while the selections by the phonograph were equally enjoyable. Altogether it was one of the best entertainments of the kind witnessed in this city.

—Several members will be admitted to the First M. E. church on Sunday next.

NEW CLUB; OLD NAME.

A CRACK BASEBALL TEAM TO BE KNOWN AS THE CRESCENTS.

The Team to Be Under the Management of B. A. Mumford, and Will Have Some of the Best Players in This City.

Last year saw the beginning of a revival of interest in baseball in Plainfield, and this year, when a strong amateur nine under the old familiar name of the Crescents plays again on the famous battle ground of the "Old Crescents," the interest in the national game promises to increase mightily. The old cranks are expected to turn out again with all their accustomed vigor and encourage the local players on to victory.

The club, the announcement of whose appearance on the diamond this season has just been made, is the Plainfield Crescent Baseball Club, known last year as the Plainfield Athletic Club. Eleven games won out of thirteen played against strong clubs was the record of the team last year, and this year, strengthened at several points, they will try to give the people of Plainfield a good, honest game of baseball.

The Crescents have returned to the field where their predecessors of the same name played. The field is the one at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. Comparatively near the centre of the city and directly on the line of the trolley, it will be convenient to all. Several houses have been built on the far side of the field but they do not interfere in the slightest with the grounds, which are to be as large as the old ones, which were enclosed. The Crescents will not enclose their diamond this year, but will merely erect a wire back stop, and some seats for the accommodation of the patrons of the game. In the future a suitable grand stand and an enclosed field are planned, but they will depend on the support that the team receives this year.

There will be no charge to the game but a collection will be taken up at the close to defray such expenses as are necessary to any team. Private subscriptions will be received.

Benjamin A. Mumford, who so successfully managed the Plainfield Athletic Club last year, will have charge of the nine in the same capacity, and will, no doubt, make as great a success of the Crescents as he did of the P. A. C.'s last year.

At present, the management has not announced whom their batteries will be, for it is their intention to have two ready for every game, but whoever is finally selected, they will be good ball players. John G. MacLaughlin, the captain of the Y. M. C. A. nine last year, will fill the same position for the Crescents and cover first base. Arthur Lederer will be at his old position on the second bag. He has made a reputation for himself already as captain and catcher of the High School team. George Schoonmaker, an old and familiar figure on the amateur diamond, will play at third base where he has put up his best game. Lorenzo D. Townley needs no introduction to the Plainfield cranks. He has always been a favorite, especially at his old position as shortstop, where he will again be found this year. C. Stillman Mumford will try his hand at left field, and if he plays as well there as he did on first base last year, he will be indeed a valuable man. Robert Rogers, the center fielder, put up a good game for the P. A. C.'s last season which has resulted in his getting a place on the nine. Carman P. Sutphen, who is to play right field, comes from a baseball playing family, and he is already distinguishing himself as pitcher for the High School team. It might be added that the games of the High School team will in no way interfere with those of the Crescents, as the High School boys always play on week days or Saturday mornings. Rufus B Booth and Walter I. Swaim will be the substitutes.

The Crescent uniform will be the same as that of last year's Plainfield Athletic Club, grey suits with black trimmings, while on the front of the shirts will be P., a crescent, and then C.

The season will open for the team on the morning of May 31st. Games will then be played every Saturday afternoon during the summer, and also on holidays. The schedule has not been completed as yet, but it will include many of the strongest amateur teams of the Metropolitan district, and many exciting games are assured.

Benner's New Road House.

Jacob Benner has closed his former road house and his new place will be opened on Saturday. Mr. Benner secured his license yesterday. The new place has been made as attractive as possible.

The Powers Tender Aid In Settling Greco-Turkish War.

GREECE HAS NOT YET ACCEPTED IT

General Smolenski Declines the Appointment as Prince Constantine's Successor—The Impression Prevails that the Struggle Is Near an End.

London, May 5.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Mail says the ministers of war and of the interior have returned from Pharsala and made their report to the cabinet. It is understood that as the result of their inquiry the war will be discontinued.

It is now denied that an officer has been appointed to succeed Colonel Vassos in command of the Greek forces in Crete. This is interpreted here as a prelude to the recall of the Greek troops from the island and as proof of the conciliatory intentions of the new cabinet.

Colonel Vassos has been appointed to succeed Colonel Manos, who has been in command of the Greek forces operating in Epirus.

Ex-Minister Metaxas replaces General Macras, and Major Constantinides has been recalled from Crete and appointed chief of Prince Constantine's staff.

Possible Intervention of Powers.

London, May 5.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says that the foreign ministers have tendered the intervention of the powers to Greece, but the government has reserved its reply.

A dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Pharsala, dated Monday, says it is rumored in the Greek camp that peace will shortly be proclaimed.

The Athens correspondent of The Times says the cabinet sat till daybreak yesterday hearing the reports of the ministers from the front and finally resolved to continue the war. General Smolenski has declined to accept the post of chief of staff of the crown prince, as he prefers to remain with his own brigade. The decision of the government is momentous, but it is difficult to say it is absolutely final.

The special correspondent of The Times with the Turkish forces at Velestino telegraphs, under date of April 30, that the Turks have captured the village of Kephalo, at the foot of the pass, adding that with the re-enforcements then en route from Larissa the Turks would undoubtedly be able to force the defile and, if necessary, capture Velestino.

For Protection of Greeks.

Constantinople, May 5.—The porte has replied to the French, Russian and British embassies, giving its consent to their proposals to protect the Greeks, but only during the period allowed for their departure. The porte adds that all treaties with Greece are suspended for the time being.

Captain Scrivon of the American embassy at Rome has arrived here en route for Thessaly to watch the operations.

Meeting of Red Men.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 5.—The annual meeting of the Association of Tribes of Red Men of northern New York was held in this city. The association includes tribes in Oneida, Herkimer, Fulton, Montgomery, Schenectady, Saratoga, Washington, Rensselaer and Albany counties. They were all represented at the convention. These officers were elected: President, Jesse Stiles, Saratoga Springs; vice president, H. J. Jenkins, Gloversville; secretary, John A. George, Fonda; treasurer, S. A. Curtis, Schenectady; sergeant-at-arms, F. J. Furgerson, Ballston; trustees, A. R. Gardiner, Amsterdam; P. J. Byers, Albany, and Thomas Crandall, Saratoga Springs.

Chiefs of Police Meet.

New Britain, Conn., May 5.—The annual meeting of the chiefs of police of Connecticut and Rhode Island was opened in the council chamber. The following officers were elected: President, George F. Bill, Hartford; vice president, Joseph R. Johnson, New Britain; secretary, William Hillhouse, Willimantic; treasurer, George R. Beavens, Danbury. The next meeting will be held in Willimantic on the third Tuesday of May, 1898.

Object to Fishermen.

St. Johns, N. F., May 5.—Trouble is expected here between the French fishermen on the west coast of the island and the Newfoundland authorities. The Frenchmen have no vessels there and are compelled to live in permanent dwellings, which is contrary to the treaty. The colonial minister therefore will protest to the imperial government against their presence.

Suicide by Hanging.

New York, May 5.—John Forster, a carpenter of Hoboken, N. J., was found dead in his house. His body hung by a rope attached to a hook in the ceiling. It was plainly a case of suicide by hanging. He was 42 years old and is survived by three children.

Killed on the Track.

Binghamton, N. Y., May 5.—William Booth of this city, aged 24 years, while walking on the track with two companions at Nineveh Junction, was struck by a Delaware and Hudson switch engine and instantly killed.

Day Set For Weeks' Trial.

New York, May 5.—The trial of Nelson M. Weeks of Hackensack, N. J., accused of having caused the death of Aimee Smith in the Hotel Victor, this city, about a month ago, has been set down for May 17.

TARIFF AMENDMENTS

Proposed Rates of the Bill Generally Reduced.

THE MEASURE BEFORE THE SENATE.

The Retroactive Clause Has Been Stricken Out—Duty Levied Upon Tea—The Beer Tax Increased—Sugar Schedule Changed.

Washington, May 5.—The Dingley tariff bill, as amended by the senate finance committee, was presented in the senate by Mr. Aldrich (Rep.) of Rhode Island, who gave notice that he would ask for its consideration on Tuesday, May 18. As amended, the bill bears but little resemblance to the original Dingley measure.

Except with regard to the duties on lumber, which was fixed at $2 per 1,000 feet, lead at 1½ cents per pound, fruits at a proportionately high rate, hides at 1½ cents per pound and a few other items which were unchanged in order to secure the support of Senator Jones and a few senators, whose votes are necessary to its passage, the bill shows great reductions all along the line.

The retroactive clause making the rates collectible April 1 is stricken out of the bill.

The provision emphasizing that nothing in the bill shall be regarded as abrogating the Hawaiian treaty is stricken from the bill. This practically abrogates the treaty.

This was done on the argument that all the United States gets in exchange for Pearl harbor is the small amount of duties that will be collected on sugar, which is not regarded as a fair exchange.

There is an increase of 44 cents a barrel in the internal revenue tax on beer, which, it is thought, will bring in $10,000,000 of revenue. This tax will continue until 1900, after which it will be $1.

The discount on stamps is also removed, which, it is estimated, will add $25,000,000 more.

The sugar schedule now reads:

"Sugars not above No. 16 Dutch standard in color, tank bottoms, sirups of cane juice and of beet juice, melada, concentrated melada, concrete and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscope above 37 and not above 38 degrees, 79-100 of a cent per pound duty and for every additional degree shown by the polariscopic test 2-100 of a cent per pound and fractions of a degree in proportion.

"Sugar above No. 16 Dutch standard in color and sugar that has gone through a process of refining, 1.16 cents per pound duty and in addition thereto on all the foregoing 35 per cent ad valorem. Sugars not above No. 16 Dutch standard in color, tank bottoms, sirups of cane juice and beet juice, melada, concentrated melada, concrete and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscope not more than 87 degrees, 75 per cent ad valorem. Molasses testing above 40 degrees and not more than 56 degrees, 4 cents per gallon; testing 56 degrees and not above 70 degrees, 8 cents per gallon."

The Wool Schedule.

First class wools are placed at 8 cents per pound instead of 11 cents and the second class at 9 cents instead of 12. Third class wools of a value of 10 cents a pound pay a duty of 4 cents per pound instead of 32 per cent ad valorem; above 10 cents per pound value 7 cents per pound duty.

The metal schedule is very low, far below the rates of the Dingley bill, except on cutlery, in which the rates are proportionately high, which was due perhaps to the strength of the New England men in the committee.

One of the most important provisions of the bill is that general clause providing that the duties on all articles imported from all countries which pay a bounty shall pay an additional duty equal to the amount of such bounty. This applies to all schedules, although inserted in the sugar schedule. It will be made a general principle of Republican policy.

In the wool schedule the rates on fine grades of wool are low and are raised on fine carpet wools. This was a concession to the far western senators and illustrates the idea of concession that has been carried out in all the schedules in order to get support for the bill in the senate.

Works of art are free, including books, except such articles of art as are imported for the purpose of general utility. This qualification was made to cover the case of the importation of fancy fans and matting, which have been coming in as works of art.

Personal luggage is also free, except such articles as are used for personal adornment.

Fish on the Free List.

A very important new provision in the bill is that which admits fish free of duty. This provision is inserted as a stimulus to the fishing industry of the great lakes.

The duty on lead bearing ore is increased from 1 cent, as in the Dingley bill, to 1½ cents.

The duty on watches, clocks and chronometers is fixed at 40 per cent ad valorem; on jewels used therein 10 per cent ad valorem.

The duty of $2 per 1,000 feet on pine lumber is the same as the Dingley bill. There was great pressure to make the rate $1, and the lumber men were divided in their opinion. The rate was left at $2, with a provision for adding the export duty levied by any country.

The duty on mixed or packed tobacco, unstemmed, is $1.50 per pound; if stemmed, $2.25 per pound; filler tobacco, unstemmed, 35 cents per pound; if stemmed, 50 cents per pound. This is a slight reduction from Dingley rates. All other tobacco, manufactured or unmanufactured, is 40 cents per pound. Cigarettes are $3 per pound.

The tobacco schedule is accompanied by an important provision making a detailed invoice necessary, with a certification from the secretary of the treasury as to the original quality of the tobacco, before entry is made.

The bill contains an important provision in regard to tea and fixes the duty at 10 cents per pound until Jan. 1, 1900, after which date it shall be admitted free.

Copper is placed on the free list. It carried a small duty in the Dingley bill.

Instead of the retroactive clause of the Dingley bill the amended bill is to take effect July 1, but this is a shifting date and will be fixed finally when the bill becomes a law.

C. R. THIERS, Dentist.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

—Mrs. Boice, of Park avenue, is having her house painted an attractive color.

"It is the Best on Earth."

That is what Edwards & Parker, merchants of Plains, Ga,, say of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, for rheumatism, lame back, deep-seated and muscular pains. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner of Park and North avenues

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Westervelt, of Long Island, is the guest of relatives in Plainfield.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Rev. L. E. Livermore will address the members of the Primary Teachers' Union at their meeting next Monday afternoon. Every member is urged to attend the meeting.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the following in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvoy, for many years in the employ of the L., N. A. & C. Ry. here, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it." It is a specific for all bowl disorders. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

W. A. Coddington, of the law firm of Reed & Coddington, was able to take a ride yesterday behind his favorite trotter. Mr. Coddington is very much improved from his severe illness.

—The gypsies who have been encamped near Avon Park have left there and started on their way for Newark.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Dr. Sinclair, Coroner of Union county, is soon to join the ranks of the benedicts. His marriage is to take place in several months.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Seely Edsall, of Sandford avenue, has left for Spokane, Wash., to spend several weeks.

QUAKER CITY POLITICS.

Serious Conclusions of the Legislative Investigating Committee In Philadelphia.

Harrisburg, May 5.—The report of the senate committee appointed in May, 1895, to investigate the operations of the law known as the Bullitt bill, under which the city of Philadelphia is governed, was presented to the senate by Chairman Andrews. The report finds that the policemen and firemen of Philadelphia directly and openly interfere with and intimidate voters. It declares that subordinate members of the police force protect lottery and policy dealers and alleged sellers of liquor from arrest. City contracts for street lighting, street cleaning and other city work, the report says, are awarded among a favored few, who avoid competition in bidding by having the city work divided into sections, and those who are alleged to be in the combination have a prior understanding as to which particular section each is to enter a bid for.

The provisions of the law in regard to the civil service system, the report says, are deficient in theory and practice and are woefully abused by those having the appointing power.

On the question of political assessments, the report says, it is the practice to collect money from the employees of the city for political purposes.

The passage by the Philadelphia city council of an ordinance granting certain valuable franchises to the Mutual Automatic Telephone company, and which ordinance was subsequently recalled and repealed after charges had been publicly made that its passage had been hastened by the presentation of shares of the company's stock to influential politicians, is referred to at some length by the committee.

The report in this connection says that ex-National Committeeman David Martin and ex-City Chairman Charles A. Porter both appeared before the committee of city councils and denied all knowledge of or connection with the Mutual Automatic Telephone company and denied that they held any stock, but admitted that they had heard that stock was put in their names. They said the stock was put in their names without their knowledge or consent.

The committee recommends the adoption of legislation which will prevent the giving away of valuable franchises and submit four bills with the report which are intended to prevent in the future the abuses variously referred to in the report.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The new twin screw express steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse of the North German Lloyd line has been launched at Stettin, Germany. She is of 28,000 horsepower, will carry 20,000 tons of cargo and 1,500 passengers, is 649 feet long and has four tunnels.

Dispatches For Cuban Junta.

New York, May 5.—On board the British steamer Anerley, which has just arrived from Jamaican ports, were two Cubans named E. Cespedes and M. Vico. Vico boarded the steamer at Port Maria, Jamaica, and very recently left the camp of General Gomez intrusted with important dispatches to the Cuban junta and is also the bearer of important letters to the Cuban sympathizers in this city. He also brings as trophies Spanish colors captured by the insurgent general in an encounter with the Spanish just previous to leaving the insurgent lines. Vico left the Cuban coast in an open boat and landed near Kingston. He then drove to Port Maria and boarded the Anerley a few hours before the sailing of the steamer.

Discussed Civil Service.

Washington, May 5.—The cabinet was in session yesterday almost two hours, being by far the longest session held since the induction of the present administration. The members of the cabinet were unusually reticent after it was over, but there is good ground for the belief that among the subjects discussed were the changes in the civil service regulations, concerning which the president has had two extended conferences with the members of the civil service commission.

Dunlop Taken to the Penitentiary.

Chicago, May 5.—Joseph R. Dunlop, editor of The Dispatch, has been taken to Joliet penitentiary to serve his sentence of two years for sending obscene literature through the mails.

TILT IN THE SENATE.

Gorman and Foraker the Principals In a War of Words.

WAS THE OHIOAN'S MAIDEN SPEECH.

Heated Controversy Over an Amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill—The Free Homestead Bill Passed by a Vote of 42 to 11.

Washington, May 5.—Senators Gorman of Maryland and Foraker of Ohio had a lively tilt in the senate during the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. There was added interest in the controversy from the fact that Mr. Foraker is a newcomer and this was his maiden effort, while Mr. Gorman is one of the veterans of the senate.

An amendment offered by Mr. Foraker for $400,000 for the Tennessee river below Chattanooga furnished the cause of the controversy.

Mr. Gorman warned the Republicans against a further increase of the bill. Already it exceeded $53,000,000, a greater amount than had ever before been incorporated in a sundry civil bill. It embraced over $18,000,000 for rivers and harbors. In the present condition of the treasury these vast expenditures were unwarranted. The only amendments offered were those increasing the number of offices and officers and adding to the burdens of the people. It was the height of unwisdom, on the very day when a tariff bill increasing taxes all along the line was reported, to increase these appropriations.

Until more taxes could be wrung from the people through the policies of the McKinley administration every effort should be made to reduce government expenditures.

Foraker's Maiden Speech.

There was something of a stir when Mr. Foraker rose to reply to Mr. Gorman. It was the maiden speech of the Ohio senator. He said the senator's (Gorman) speech made him think of that governor who refused to grant a pardon because he had already granted two pardons to parties from the same county. This speech, he said, was a repetition of the one the senator had made recently on the Indian appropriation bill, when he had undertaken to instruct the senators as to their duty to the country. At that ime he (Gorman) had declared that the appropriations were recklessly extravagant. And having thus declared himself the senator entered the cloakroom, put on his hat and went home. Mr. Foraker added:

"So far as the tariff policy and the tariff bill that have been referred to by the senator are concerned, let me say that they need no defense from me or from any other senator on this side of the chamber at this time. In view of the experience this country has had during the last four years the tariff policy of the Republican party is speaking for itself more eloquently than any human tongue can speak.

"So far, Mr. President, as the pensioners of this government are concerned, the senator need not have the solicitude he manifests. They will be taken care of. They have never failed to be taken care of under Republican administrations. For the next four years it is the purpose of the legislation we propose that the government of the United States shall have a sufficient revenue to meet its ordinary expenditures; that it shall have a sufficient revenue to make it unnecessary to issue bonds to meet the current obligations of the government; that it shall have sufficient revenue to pay pensions to the men that are entitled to them; and it will have that revenue, and those obligations will be discharged. The senator need not have any apprehension on that point."

Gorman In Jocular Vein.

Mr. Gorman replied in a jocular style. He said the senator (Foraker) was a new arrival and came as one of the great host from Ohio. He had not been in the senate long. He would learn in time the methods of the cloakroom and that senators were measured by their associates and their services. The senator (Foraker) was the senior senator from Ohio, the state sending us a president, and yet he was among the first to urge an increase of $400,000 in the appropriations.

Mr. Foraker had a parting word. He said he had spoken only because the Maryland senator had undertaken to lecture the Republican side. The senator should not feel alarmed. There would be an economical administration, and senators on the Republican side would join hands with him (Gorman) in reducing expenditures. But the new men would at least expect him to draw on his great stores of experience and information. The Maryland senator had professed to have so much knowledge that the newcomers would look to him as a guide in taking the burdens from the people, "whose tribune he assumes to be." Mr. Foraker finally withdrew the amendment.

The free homestead bill was passed by a vote of 42 to 11. The Morgan Cuban resolution went over.

ON'T WANT HIM TO BE HAPPY.

A correspondent writes to The Press of a whistling friend that makes life miserable for commuters going to and fro to New York, and asks that the following be published in the effort to reform the young man:

The question of the right of an individual to whistle is involved in a trial soon to come off in a New York Court. A man undertook to silence a whistler by hitting him with a brick, and is held for assault and battery. The outcome that would please the greatest number of citizens would be an equitable balancing of the injury done on each side. Probably the assault with a brick was a greater injury than the assault with offensive sounds, but there was undeniable provocation. There is no harm in whistling while going after the cows or walking home along a country road on a dark night, but that is very different from insisting upon whistling in a passenger's ear in a public conveyance or in front of a window near which a person is working.

BEAUTIFUL PLAINFIELD.

Plainfield has already assumed its summer garb and the many fine properties in the city are beginning to look their prettiest. It is just at this season of the year that so many people are attracted to Plainfield as she has the distinction of being one of the few places in New Jersey that are really beautiful.

MIDMER CLUB CONCERT.

It Was Held Last Night and Proved Very Successful.

Those who had the opportunity of attending the concert of the Midmer Glee Club in Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening, listened to a programme of more than usual excellence.

As the only club of its kind in the city, the Midmer Glee Club deserved the support of the townsfolk, and it received it for the hall was packed to overflowing. The club was assisted by Dr. Carl E. Dufft, baritone of New York, Miss Leontine Gaertner, 'cellist, of New York, and Miss Evelyn Kirk, elocutionist, of New York.

Dr. Dufft was at his best. His selections had been well chosen to show his clear and powerful voice. Miss Gaertner had perfect command of her instrument, and the full rich tones were greatly appreciated by the many music lovers present.

Miss Kirk was equally good in pathos or humor, and gave her selections wiih a simplicity of action that seemed very realistic.

William E. MacClymont, musical director of the club, played two piano solos, one of which, "Polka Caprice," was his own latest composition. It was well received.

The club itself met with an enthusiastic reception. Its selections were of different styles and showed well the versatile talent of the club. The number, "Hushed in Slumber Deep," by Dr. Dufft and the club, was particularly well rendered.

Robert M. Clark is president of the club, W. E. MacClymont, musical director and Edward O. Clark business manager. The club is composed of R M. Clark, E. O. Clark, Charles Foster, George H. Smith, and Herbert Schutt, tenors, and William Holmes, B. T. Barnes, W. E. MacClymont and Wyatt E. Barnes, bassos.

A Brilliant Attempt.

Two notorious colored characters from Bound Brook came to this city yesterday. They discovered a difference in the two places quite speedily and after attempting to paint the West End a brilliant shade of vermillion, were lodged in the station house by Patrolman Myers. They were two of the worst looking offenders who have had the privilege of appearing before the City Judge. This morning he sentenced the worst of the two, John Foster, to sixty days in jail, and his companion, Geo. Grun, to thirty days in the same place.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in 3 Days

Morton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had Inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint, her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition; had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians but received no benefit until she tried the Mystic Cure for Rheumatism. It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, cor. Park and North avenue, Plainfield.

done in his section. All three reports told of the mission stations under the charge of the Diocese, and showed a steadily increasing interest in that most glorious work, the outreaching of the church for the saving of souls.

Miss Hattie B. Taggart's report of the New Jersey Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was now read. This was very interesting and encouraging, showing that over $7,000 had passed through their hands during the year, and that the society had proved a most helpful aid to the mission work of the church.

Rev. Mr. Knight next read the report of the Christian Knowledge Society, which has for its work the distribution of the Prayer-Book throughout the Diocese. This report told of good work done It also reported, as the result of the election held in the afternoon, that Rt. Rev. John Scarborough had been made their president, and Rev. E. K. Smith, secretary and treasurer.

Two stirring missionary addresses followed. The first was delivered by Rev. Mr. Betticher, of Beverly.

He said that it ought to be the ambition of every priest to see his church's name on the Roll of Honor of missions. Never forget that we derive our marching orders from the Apostles, to whom the Saviour gave the command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

There was a time when the missionary spirit of the church, at first so strong, began to die out. It was because the church had grown strong and rich, and had the government to back her. And then followed what we call the Dark Ages. If the first spirit had continued, the whole world would have been converted before the sixth century. Is it possible that in these days any clergyman believes that he will have more money for his own parish's use, if he cuts off all offerings for outside? A greater mistake could not be made. The more we work for missions, the more God will bless us. We rejoice in God's promise to be with us alway, even to the end of the world; but we can only claim the promise if we obey the command which precedes it, to go into all the world and preach the gospel. The offering was now received, the choir singing an anthem, "Awake up my glory."

The second missionary address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Jones, of Trenton, "The Lord has sent us," he said, "to preach the gospel. It is a trust committed to us, a trust for which we shall surely be called to give account. Our hearts will become paralyzed, if we do not allow them to burn within us, as we think of the need of those around us. And so paralysis may come to our arms, our tongues, all our best powers, if we do not look about us to see who is the neighbor to whom we can render a service. We should give as we are able to give. Many impulses of giving are ruined by saying 'I will give so much if such a one will give.' If we can give anything, let us give it, without making it conditional. There is need every day for the sympathy which you and I may be able to extend. In some way or other, it is the duty of each one of us to keep the light of the gospel burning. It is as much a responsibility placed upon us as it was upon St. Paul."

Closing prayers were offered by Bishop Scarborough, then, singing, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," choir and clergy followed the cross out of the church, and the first day of the convention was over.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feelin prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. COLLIDED WITH A HACK.

Butcher Van Sickle's Horse Caused Excitement at the Station.

A runaway horse, with delivery wagon attached, ran full tilt into the throng of carriages at the North avenue station, this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, but a lucky slip of the horse prevented any serious damage being done.

The horse, which belonged to J. W. Van Sickle, the North avenue butcher, was tied in front of his store. A wagon passed too close to the horse's head and the animal jumped back, breaking the bridle. The horse sprang forward and ran at full speed toward the station. The hacks were lined up about twenty feet from the curb while the carriage of J. W. Sandford stood in front of the main entrance. There were several other private equipages around.

The runaway passed between the line of hacks until the carriage of Mr. Sandford blocked the way, and then the frightened equine turned toward the side of the hack of John Keely. At that moment, the animal slipped and fell. Before it could get under headway again, the collision with Keely's hack came, but the damage was slight. Keely's hack was pushed against William Callahan's, bending the axle of the latter. The horse broke loose from the wagon, which was partially wrecked, and was caught after a few steps.

Robbed the Poor Box.

Malicious boys broke a panel in the front door to the church of the Heavenly Rest, on Clinton avenue, Monday night, and robbed the poor box of its contents. A reward of $5 is now offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the boys who did it.

The Wrong Station.

The train was roaring along at about forty miles an hour, and the conductor was busily punching tickets full of holes when a little thin old man who sat in one of the corner seats plucked his sleeve.

"Mister conductor, you be sure and let me off at Speers station. You see, this is the first time I ever rode on steam cars and I don't know anything about them. You won't forget it, eh?"

"All right, sir, I won't forget."

The old man brushed back a stray lock of hair and, straightening himself, gazed with increasing wonder at the flying landscapes, every now and then exclaiming, "Gracious!" "By gum!" etc.

Suddenly there was a crash, and after a number of gymnastic moves that made him think of his schooldays, he found himself sitting on the grass of the embankment alongside the track.

Seeing another passenger sitting a short distance away patiently supporting various parts of the splintered car across his legs, he enquired:

"Is this Speers crossing?"

The passenger, who was a drummer, and not altogether new to such happenings, replied with a smile in considerable pain:

"No; this a catastrophe."

"Is that so?" he irritably exclaimed. "Now I knew that conductor would put me off at the wrong place."—Harper's Round Table.

A Novel Passport.

On one of his journeys to Switzerland, Gustave Dore, the famous artist, found when reaching Lucerne that he had lost his passport. He forthwith made inquiry for the major of the town and requested an interview. Having stated his name and profession, he was thus addressed by the worthy functionary:

"You state that you are Gustave Dore, and I am willing to believe you. Still—still," he added, pushing across the table a blank sheet of paper and a pencil, "I should like to have further proof."

Dore looked at the paper, then glanced out of the window, and saw a couple of peasants selling potatoes in the street. A few clever strokes of the pencil, and the scene was sketched. He appended his name, and handed it to the mayor.

"This passport is quite sufficient," said the latter; "but perhaps you will allow me to keep it as a souvenir, and I will get you another made out in the usual form."

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

The Misses Martine are visiting relatives at Alderville, N. Y.

Mrs. J. Copeland, of New York city, is the guest of Mrs. John Reinhart.

Mrs. J. R. Morris, of Brooklyn, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Harris.

Mrs. E. Eccles, of Westfield, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul Kraetzel.

Carson Johnson, proprietor at the Emerydale station, is laid up suffering from an attack of quinsy sore throat.

Walter Runyon was so much improved in health yesterday, that he was able to sit up for several hours at a time.

Freeholder Firman Gise has gone over to New Brunswick today to attend a regular meeting of the Middlesex County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

There are some seventeen persons in Dunellen who are drawing pensions and yesterday their application blanks were filled out and given to Pension Agent Chas. Coriell to forward to Washington.

Some of the trolley people were at New Market, yesterday afternoon, and heard what grievance might come up by reason of running the trolley through the town. So far as known there would not be a dissenting voice to having the trolley come into the town and cross over to Dunellen and connect with the Plainfield system. But it seems quite probable that the route will be the one laid out some time ago, viz: From Trenton to New Brunswick, thence across country to Bound Brook and taking what is known as the "back road" into Dunellen, and thus connect with the Plainfield circuit. Should this route be decided upon, New Market will be left in its lethargical state.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

A marionette exhibition was advertised to take place in Excelsior Hall yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ryno, of Haverstraw, rode out today and visited Mrs. Ryno's father, Robert Walpole.

Mrs. Thomas Paff, Sr., of Scotch Plains, spent yesterday with her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Grant, on West Front street.

Since having his license granted, yesterday, John Blimm will now make some extensive improvements about his hotel building.

The Town Committee will meet in the Town Rooms on Thursday evening, May 6th, at 8 o'clock for the transaction of routine business.

George Lyons went fishing in the Passaic yesterday and captured enough fish to supply a good-sized boarding-house for a week or two.

The recent rains and high water have muddied the streams in the mountains, and cat fish and eels are still being caught there in large numbers.

Several persons from here who were either directly or indirectly interested in the license question drove down to court, at Elizabeth, yesterday, expecting to hear a long list of remonstrances presented. But there were none.

In the Union County Courts at Elizabeth, yesterday, all the old liquor licenses here were granted for another year, there being little or no opposition to the granting of such licenses. The application for a license for the Fanwood Club House was laid over for a week.

WILLOW GROVE.

Miss Etta Lee is the guest of relatives at Perth Amboy.

The Misses Jonson, of Plainfield, are the guests of Miss Pickell.

The service at the chapel Sunday evening was led by Mr. Swezey.

Mrs. Simeon Lambert is slowly recovering from her recent illness.

Mrs. White, of New York, has been the guest of relatives at the Grove.

Arbor Day was appropriately celebrated at the school house and the large audience present highly appreciated the efforts of the children. A number of trees were planted and a large flower mound was constructed by the children.

A Christian Endeavor social was held recently in the chapel, and a programme consisting chiefly of tableaux was presented. The playing of games also furnished amusement. A silver collection was taken at the close for the Endeavor fund.

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Fred Hegeman has resigned his position in the law office of Paul Q Oliver.

Miss Smalley, of Plainfield, was the guest, Monday, of Mrs. Edward N. Brown.

Octavius Knight, of Elm street, has returned from a business trip to Washington, D. C.

The funeral services of Mrs. Logee took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Vought, on Cumberland street, Rev. Dr. Barrows, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiating. Mrs. Logee was in her seventy-ninth year. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

The case of the Oxley Manufacturing Company, of New York, against Adam Huffman, on an account for goods alleged to have been furnished to the defendant by the plaintiffs, which was set for trial before Justice E. R. Collins, today, was by consent of both parties postponed until next Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. T. Ellis, the well known evangelist and temperance orator, will deliver an address under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., in Temperance Hall tomorrow evening. As Mrs. Ellis has visited Westfield several times, heretofore, it is probable that she will need no introduction to her audience, and that her reception will be a pleasing one.

The Westfield Board of Education met in the Prospect school, last evening. All the members were present except Mr. Schoonover. Mayor Cory, of Mountainside Borough, appeared before the Board and made a request for enlarged school facilities for his district. The petition was referred to the committee on buildings and grounds. The committee appointed to investigate the matter of school accommodations at Garwood, reported through its chairman, Mr. Welles, that it would be able to come to no agreement with the Cranford School Board until the latter had adjusted all the business in connection with the construction of its new schoolhouse at Cranford. President Green announced that he had appointed as women inspectors of schools, Mrs. A. L. Russell, Mrs. Edward Shield. Mrs. J. A. Simpson and Mrs. M. J. Gildersleeve. The name of the fifth appointee was not announced for the reason, the president said, that she had not yet signified her willingness to serve. The special committee appointed to arrange for the accommodation in the schools within Springfield district of Westfield pupils living near the border line, reported that the agreement of last year, which had operated satisfactorily, had been renewed. District Clerk Coger moved that the Board go into executive session, as it was necessary to discuss financial matters. It was recommended that all the teachers be reappointed for the coming year, except Miss Brown and Mr. Hewitt, both of whom have intimated that they were not desirous of re-election. The salaries of teachers were advanced as follows: Miss Scoville from $700 to $750; Miss Harned from $650 to $700; and the teachers of first and second primary from $550 to $600, and from $500 to $550. Principal Edwards in his report recommended the establishment of a physical and chemical labratory for the use of the High School pupils. The estimated cost of this addition to the school facilities is $500.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED.

An Indicted Bank Teller Says He Can Prove His Innocence.

Baltimore, May 5.—Edward Hoffman of Hagerstown, Md., has been indicted by the United States grand jury for alleged embezzlement from the People's National bank of Hagerstown. Hoffman was formerly assistant cashier and teller of the bank, and it is said that he obtained between $15,000 and $20,000 of the bank's money. Two indictments were found against him.

John L. Nicodemus, president, and A. B. Barnhart, cashier of the bank, were among the witnesses before the grand jury. Hoffman left Hagerstown some months ago, but returned recently. His friends say he can satisfactorily explain his transactions with the bank. It is said that he will willingly come here to stand trial and that he can readily furnish $20,000 bail to answer the charges.

ROMEYN FILES CHARGES.

Further Complications In the Court Martial Episode at Atlanta.

Atlanta, May 5.—Captain Henry Romeyn has filed charges against Lieutenant Frank Bamford, the officer who was reported to be engaged to Miss Romeyn. The charges are based on Bamford's denial of the engagement. The charges have been forwarded to Washington, with a list of witnesses.

Captain Romeyn has been appointed by the Chilean government to take charge of its exhibit at the Nashville exposition. His daughter, Miss Nina Romeyn, has gone to the exposition and has taken charge of the exhibit in her father's place. Captain Romeyn will be retired in three weeks and will go at once to his new post.

Another Suit Against Magowan.

Trenton, May 5.—Mrs. Mary E. Magowan, from whom ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan secured a divorce in Oklahoma about a year ago, has filed a bill in the court of chancery asking to have that decree declared null and void and an order made against Magowan to pay her alimony for the support of herself and children. She charges him with ill treatment and with having failed to keep his agreement whereby she was to get $5,000 a year for the support of herself and children. The bill goes into a recital of Magowan's infatuation for Mrs Barnes and charges him with having abandoned Mrs. Magowan, who says that she is without means of support.

Death of Inventor Thorne.

New York, May 5.—Joseph Thorne, the inventor of the Thorne typsetting and distributing machine, died at Sing Sing from Bright's disease, aged 72 years. He was born at Marlborough, Ulster county, N. Y. Thorne served through the Mexican war and later became an engineer. He was second engineer of the ill fated Arctic for a time, but resigned just before that vessel started on her last voyage. Mr. Thorne's inventions were many. For some time he was associated with Howe, the sewing machine inventor. Later he was with the Singer company and went to Scotland for them and established a factory.

Many Vessels Overdue.

Montreal, May 5.—Great anxiety is being expressed here about the fate of the steamers that are overdue, and the shipping offices are being besieged by people who have relations on board. There are about a dozen both passenger and freight steamers. Among the missing ones are the Numidian, which left Liverpool on April 22 and was to have sailed from here on May 8, and the Scotsman of the Beaver line. Among the freight steamers are the Tritania of the Donaldson line, which left Glasgow on April 15, and the Carvona of the Johnson line, which left Newcastle on the same date.

Big Miners' Strike Started.

Chattanooga, May 5.—Advices from upper east Tennessee and southern Kentucky show that a general strike in all the coal mines in that section will probably occur during the next few days. Already the miners at Jellico, Glenmary, Robbins and Helenwood, numbering 2,500, are out, and the indications are that every mine between Chattanooga and Somerset, Ky., will soon be abandoned. The cause of the trouble is a general reduction of 18 per cent.

Homeopaths In Session.

New York, May 5.—The forty-third annual meeting of the New Jersey State Homeopathic Medical society was held here. At the morning session Dr. M. E. Middleton of Camden, president of the society, presided. After a number of new members were elected the president made a brief address. The recording secretary reported the membership as 194, and the treasurer reported a small balance on hand. Officers were then elected.

A POINT TO BE REMEMBERED

is that the man who got stuck wasn't the man who wore a pair of our properly adjusted and perfect-fitting eyeglasses or spectacles. Those who have their eyes examined and tested by us, while wearing a pair of our glasses, never fail to see a point clearly.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

HORRIBLE DISASTER.

A Fatal Fire at a Fashionable Bazaar In Paris.

MANY PERSONS CRUSHED TO DEATH.

The Place Was Crowded With Sightseers, Most of Whom Were Women, Who, Being Unable to Escape, Were Trampled Underfoot.

Paris, May 5.—Fire, followed by panic, has caused the loss of fully 100 lives and the injury of several hundred persons. It occurred at a crowded charity bazaar in the Rue Jean-Goujon, at which the Duchess d'Uzes and other well known patronesses were present. The bazaar was a temporary structure of wood and was erected in the flimsiest manner, the nudity of the scaffolding inside being concealed by tapestry hangings of the most inflammable material. Moreover, there was only one exit.

The flames were first discovered above the stall occupied by the Duchess d'Uzes and while the place was densely crowded with well known society people, the holding of the bazaar in the cause of charity being an annual function presided over by the leaders of Parisian society.

As a somewhat remarkable coincidence, the stall presided over by the Duchess d'Uzes was No. 13.

A terrible panic and crush followed the alarm of fire. There was a wild rush for the exit, and the weaker persons were trampled on after having been knocked down in the stampede. The inflammable nature of the building and its contents caused the flames to spread with great rapidity, and in a very short time the bazaar was a mass of flames.

In spite of the efforts of the firemen, some time elapsed before the charred bodies could be pulled from the smoking and burning mass of debris covering the spot which but a short time before had been the scene of so much display of the most fashionable spring toilets.

The police officials say they believe it to be certain that the number of deaths would exceed 100, recalling the terrible fire in the Opera Comique.

A Hundred Lives Lost.

A hundred corpses have been taken from the ruins and laid out in the Palais de l'Industries. It is believed that another hundred are beneath the smoldering debris.

The missing, who are supposed to be dead, include General Mounior, the Marchioness de Gallifot, the Duchess d'Aloncon, the Comtesses de Mun and St. Porior, the Marchioness de Flores, the Viscountess Hunol Holstein, Baroness Mackan, wife of the leader of the Pro-Rallists in the chamber of deputies, and Madame Morlaunolamon, her son and four daughters.

All the cabinet ministers now in Paris went immediately to the scene. Hundreds of equipages streamed along the Champs d'Elysees, their occupants, with anxious and tear stained faces, inquiring for their relatives. There were many heartrending scenes.

Cabinet ministers, embassadors, noblemen and members of the highest social and financial circles were side by side with the lowliest and poorest, anxiously inquiring for their missing relatives. About 30 were saved by Pierre Ambroise and Pierre Bailly, who helped them over a wall with a ladder to the printing room of the newspaper La Croix.

The Duchess d'Aloncon, sister of the Austrian empress, is among the injured. The list also includes the Duchess d'Uzes, the Countess Savigny, Mme. de Laboulaye, the Duchess de Latorre, the Princess Kotchonbey, the Vicomtesse d'Avenel and Mmes. Moreau, Du Breuil, Malezieux, Eugene Challema, Recamier and St. Didier.

In the streets adjacent to the bazaar were long lines of sumptuous equipages. The most of these returned empty. Their owners were dead. The others were seen moving off with occupants injured in head or limb and in many cases with faces streaming with blood.

Words would fail to describe the horror of the scene at the Palais de l'Industries, where the bodies are exposed on the side next to the Avenue Danton, in a portion of the building now in course of demolition. Here, in a large room, rudely covered with rough planks and on sheets hastily spread over planks, the bodies as they arrived from the ambulances were placed in three long rows. This is death by fire with all its horrors, bodies completely nude, limbs twisted in the writhing of agony, some still having shreds of clothing which assist recognition in spite of horrible disfigurements, bones visible through fire eaten flesh, some merely skeletons, or grinning skulls blackened with smoke.

The wounded are known to number at least 180. Mme. Florez, wife of the Spanish consul, expired at the Hospital Boaujon, where are several others of the injured.

M. Faure, the president of the republic, has visited the hospital and the Palais de l'Industries to pay his respects to the dead.

Captain Reed Is Held.

New York May 5.—United States Commissioner Shields announced his decision in the case of Captain Edward W. Reed of the American clipper ship Thomas F. Oakes, who was charged with cruelty to his crew on the voyage from Hongkong to this city. On the trip several sailors died, and when the vessel was towed into this port about a month ago the remaining members of the crew were helpless with scurvy. Commissioner Shields, who investigated the complaints of the sailors against Captain Reed, says that in his opinion the facts warrant the placing of the matter before the United States grand jury. Upon his finding Captain Reed is held to wait further developments.

might be pinioned. This work was done by VanHise with straps and tape. Then commenced the walk to the gallows. VanHise led the way, followed by the Sheriff, Rev. John DeHart, and the condemned man, flanked on either side by Deputies Wyckoff and Barkalew. Johnson set out with a steady step and maintained it till he stood under the rope that was to send him into eternity.

There was a feeling of suspense as the party entered the narrow corridor, but Johnson did not quiver. Van Hise directed him to the point where he would stand for the last time on this earth, while the sheriff stood silently in front.

In a momont, however, Sheriff Wyckoff said to the condemned man: "Johnson, have you anything to say."

Johnson raised his head a trifle and spoke, not with a tremor in his voice, but as if the words stuck in his throat.

"I don't know as it would do me any good to say anything here," commenced the condemned man. "I want to say I am thankful to the Sheriff Wyckoff for his kind treatment, and to his son-in-law, (meaning John Amerman, the warden of the jail). I have made my peace with God and I soon expect to be on the other side. All I have to say is goodby."

Then Johnson's head dropped and he stood motionless. Van Hise stepped forward and pulled the blackcap down over his eyes, tied the straps around his ankles, adjusted the noose so that it would slip easily and then hooked it on to the clamp that hung to the rope at the end of which was the weight that did the effective work.

The spectators were now gazing intently at the proceedings as Hangman VanHise stepped back a few feet and took hold of a small rope. He gave it was quick jerk.

Choo-chug fell the ponderous weight into the box of sand on the floor and Johnson's body bounded into the air for a distance of six feet, and then fell back about two feet as the rope drew taut.

For a half minute there was not a movement of the body, then the hands commenced to twitch and clutch as if in terrible pain. The lower limbs pulled up a little bit and the body commenced to swing gently to and fro. The breathing was very heavy and every time the lungs expanded the muscles of the legs contracted a trifle. At intervals of a few seconds, however, the body was entirely quiet except for the swinging and then suddenly the hands would clutch and grasp.

As soon as the trap had been sprung there was a murmur of voices among the spectors as one and another made observations on the movement of the suspended body.

The trap was pulled at 10:07 1 4 and the body was allowed to remain in that position for six minutes. Then VanHise lowered it to a point within six inches of the floor and the physicians gathered around to watch the symptoms of the dying man. It was just a trifle less than fourteen minutes from the moment that the body bounded into the air that Dr. Zeglio, who was listening to the heart beats, declared the man dead. In the meantime all the physicians had made observations.

At 10:27 Sheriff Wyckoff told the court jurors to report to the County Clerk's office and they filed out of death's presence. Then the newspaper men were dismissed and five minutes later, in the presence of the Sheriff's deputies, the body was cut down and placed in the casket that had been provided. The face was natural except the eyes were bulged out of the sockets.

The doctors were unable to determine whether the neck was broken or whether death ensued from strangulation. It was thought to have been painless, though.

The Sheriff's deputies then filed out, the body was put in charge of Undertaker M. A. Johnson and the first hanging in Somerset county in over a century ended.

The body will be buried at Montgomery, Somerset county, tomorrow.

The entire arrangements were carried out to a nicety—if such a thing can be properly said of a hanging. The spectators were surprised at how little repulsive the hanging was.

STORY OF JOHNSON'S CRIME.

Strong Circumstantial Evidence That He Killed Annie Rogers.

It was during the night of Saturday, September 14, 1895, that the crime was committed for which Jacob S. Johnson paid the penalty by hanging to death this morning. The first evidence that lead to the ghastly discovery of a dead body was seen the following morning (Sunday) by P. N. Dow, who lives near the cemetery south of Somerville. The morning was a balmy one and Dow had determined to take a little exercise by walking along the banks of the Raritan river, made famous in the songs of students at Rutgers College, New Jersey's old educational institution. He had not gone far from his home, however, which is very near that stream of water, when his attention was attracted to footprints and other evidences on the ground of a severe struggle of some sort on the roadway which runs through the woods skirting the river. He suspected that something was wrong and peering into the bushes, nearby, Dow saw the inanimate body of a woman laying there. A closer look showed it to be that of a colored woman who had evidently been strangled to death. The body was soon identified by the townspeople who had been apprised of the ghastly discovery as that of Annie Rogers or Beekman.

The inquest revealed the fact that the murdered woman had been staying with the Johnson family in a small house on the Elmendorf place just over the river. Johnson and the woman had been to Neshanic on Saturday, where Annie got $47.50 from Calvin Corle. She put the money in a purse, and placed the money in her bosom. Johnson and the woman returned to Somerville, and were seen that night by several people about the town. About 12:30 a man and woman who answered the description of Johnson and Annie Beekman, crossed the Central Railroad tracks, going toward Johnson's home. The man carried a bag on his shoulder, such as Johnson was shown to have had earlier in the evening.

Johnson and his wife were arrested on the strength of these facts, but Mrs. Johnson was soon discharged. On the trial the State produced such a strong chain of circumstantial evidence connecting Johnson with the crime, that he was found guilty of the murder. The footprints in the road were declared by witnesses who saw them to be similar to those made by Johnson's shoe in a box of sand. The woman's money was gone, and her dress was torn open, showing that the person who murdered her knew where she had put it. The purse was never found. A bag similar to that seen carried by Johnson was found at the Johnson house.

The defense was an attempt to prove an alibi. There was no denial that Johnson was with the murdered woman, but an attempt was made to prove that he was home early in the evening. Johnson, himself, was not put on the stand to tell the story. His family testified that he was home at 10 o'clock.

Johnson was a local preacher, and he and his wife conducted evangelistic meetings among the colored people. They lived at Neshanic before going to Somerville, and Johnson bore a good reputation.

Since the trial Messrs. Steele & Meehan, who ably defended Johnson, have done all in their power to get a new trial for him. His case was carried to the Supreme Court for review, and when that Court decided against Johnson, they applied to the Court of Errors and Appeals, but without success. Since the last decision they have made no further effort at Johnson's request, but have repeatedly declared their belief that an innocent man was to be hung.

One of the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club in the rear of their clubhouse on Plainfield avenue is now ready for use, and the others will be in condition shortly. The courts cannot as yet compare with those formerly owned by the club on their Hillside avenue grounds, which were said to be as good as any in the State. It is the intention of those in charge to bring them up to the mark,

MURPHY'S GREAT SCHEME.

How He Secured All the Bricks He Needed Without Any Trouble.

"I never knew a man who could get out av a hole quicker nor Murphy," remarked Casey. "I'll tell yez all about it," he said. "Murphy was puttin' up a row of houses on wan side av the street, and Grogan was puttin' up a row on the other side. Wan afternoon Murphy ran out av brick. There was no love lost bechune him and Grogan, but he wint over and axed Grogan fur the loan av 500 till the wagons kem along.

"Grogan refused the loan, and Murphy wint back to his min and said:

"'Yez'll all have to knock off fur awhile, I fear. But if ye'll do as I say we'll get all the brick we want.'

"'What do yez want us to do?' axed wan of the bricklayers.

"'I'll tell yez,' said Murphy. 'I'll go to the top av the scaffold and yell t'ree questions at yez. Will yez say yis to every wan av thim?'

"Av course, the min said they would.

"Murphy climbs the lather and roared:

"'Are yez all there?'

"'Yis,' said the crowd below.

"Grogan's min acrost the street stopped to hear the racket, and Murphy axed again:

"'Are yez ready to work?'

"'Yis,' kem from below.

"'Are yez all mimbers of the A. P. A.?'

"'Yis.'

"Widout a word av lie," continued Casey, "Murphy had more brick on his side of the street in less than a minute than he naded to finish the row av houses."

PROFESSIONAL ETHICS.

Clergymen Seem to Lack It When Criticising a Brother in the Ministry.

No careful observer can fail to note the almost entire absence of esprit de corps among the clergy. The discussion now going on over the sermons of Dr. Lyman Abbott furnishes many striking instances of this. The questions raised by these sermons relate wholly to the interpretation of the Bible. They are questions on which honest-minded Christians may differ, and do differ, because, owing to the lack of evidence, no certain answer to them is possible. One would suppose that under such circumstances, when ministers of the gospel find themselves disagreeing, they would respect each others' opinions, and recognize the fact that an absolute uniformity of view is not possible even for the clergy; but that is far from being the case. Such epithets as "pulpit clown," "enemy of God," "would-be destroyer of the Bible," "infidel," "shallow sciologist," and "foe of Christianity" are hurled back and forth by the clergy with as much freedom as though they were a set of unprincipled ward politicians instead of honest and high-minded Christian gentlemen, as they presumably are. Even Mr. Moody declared recently that those clergymen who do not adopt his view of Jonah and the whale are doing the devil's work. But then it may be urged in regard to Mr. Moody that he is not a clergyman.

Clocks Which Didn't Sell.

In talking over the minute factors that have meant profit or loss to manufacturers, some curious details were given me by experts, says a contributor to the current Scribner's. For instance, one clock manufacturer of Waterbury, Conn., found that a certain rival was doing a large trade in cheap clocks sent out to the wilds of Africa. He got hold of a sample clock, and, finding that there was a heavy profit in the enterprise, invested a large sum of money in making a still better clock, thousands of which were shipped to the same market.

Strange to say, sales were very slow, while his rival, turning out a cheaper and far less accurate timepiece, was selling all he could make. Finally the explanation came. Savages like noise. The clocks made by the original exporter had a particularly loud and aggressive tick; his imitator made a better clock, but it was almost noiseless, and the savages would have none of it. The remedy was simple. The next shipment of clocks to the Guinea coast ticked louder than anything previously heard there, and all went well.

Sugar Made from Whey.

An industry in southern Wisconsin is the manufacture of sugar from whey. A factory is located at Big Foot, near the State line, where a light, dirty-looking brown sugar substance is made and sent to a refinery at St. Charles, Ill., to be refined into a white sugar that sells equally as well as the imported article.—Chicago Times-Her

IVES & SON
Commenced Monday to deliver pure rich milk from their own cows, which they have purchased during the past four weeks from choice bred stock.
Mr. Ives Sr. has had 27 years' experience in raising cows for milking purposes, and would like it distinctly understood that their cows are not fed on brewer's grains, of which so much is fed generally.
Corn meal and bran is the best and only good feed to make cows give natural rich milk. We strictly adhere to this idea by extra feeding twice each day.
Our facilities for aerating and cooling our milk as soon as drawn from the cows, are of the latest improved and up-to-date pattern, which gives us the power to guarantee our milk to be of a natural rich quality.
We call attention to our having one of the best farms in this county for herding and keeping cows in a clean and healthy condition. We cordially invite anyone who may desire to drive out to the farm and inspect our system for cleanliness and purity of milk. Directions will be given at our office and headquarters, 1,008 Arlington avenue, where also orders for pure rich milk will receive prompt attention.
REGARDING SWEET CREAM. We are now ready to offer a superior quality of fresh sweet cream—shipped direct from Orange County creameries, which we deliver in any quantity desired.
[One cow's milk for infants or by special request.]
P. S.—We are able to verify what we state, and would caution anyone not to be misled by jealous milk dealers.

EPISCOPALIANS GO HOME

THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION ENDED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Officers Chosen to Look After Church Affairs for the Next Year—Bishop Scarborough Delivered Farewell Address

The last session of the Episcopal Diocesan Convention was held yesterday afternoon beginning at 2:30. Debate on the question of the limit of the Bishop's power in the calling of a new rector to a parish, which had occupied the convention before the noon recess, was resumed, and when the question was called for it was voted that the parish should call its own rector, subject to the approval of the Bishop.

It was decided to hold the convention of 1898 in St. Mary's church, Burlington. A good deal of interest was felt in the subject of changing the date of the parish elections from Easter week to Advent, in order that the terms of the officers elected might expire at the close of the church year. There was a short discussion on this subject, and also on the plan of forming a church club in the diocese, and on the question of the rate of interest to be paid on parish bonds, the State law and the canon differing on the subject.

A committee on legislation was appointed by Bishop Scarborough, several brief reports were submitted by committees, and the minutes of the day's sessions were read by the secretary, Rev. Elvin K. Smith, being approved by the convention.

The venerable Bishop then rose to speak his final words to the convention. He referred to the past, and thanked the members of his diocese for the loving thoughtfulness and kindness they had shown to him. He spoke of the signs of earnestness and and promise shown in the present condition of the diocese, and of the friendly spirit displayed in the annual conventions. Nothing had disturbed the spirit of Christian harmony, and he would return home thankful for God's goodness. In closing, he prayed God to bless every member of the convention, in his own spiritual life, his home, and his work, and bring all together again a year hence at the convention to be held in Burlington.

Closing prayers were offered by Bishop Scarborough, then with the final words of benediction, the one hundred and thirteenth convention of the Diocese of New Jersey stood adjourned.

Among the visiting clergymen who were prominent in the convention, were the following: Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, Bishop of the Diocese, Trenton; Rev. Martin Aigner, Mt. Holly; Rev. Alfred B. Baker, D. D., Princeton; Rev. Charles E. Betticher, Beverly, Rev. Otis A. Glazebrook, D. D., Elizabeth; Rev. Edward J. Knight, Trenton; Rev. James H. Lamb, Moorestown; Rev. Richard G. Moses, Merchantville; Rev. Henry H. Oberly, M. A., Elizabeth; Rev. Charles M. Perkins, Salem; Rev. Richard A. Bodrick, Mount Holly, and Rev. Elvin K. Smith, M. A., Lambertville.

The second day of the convention opened with an early celebration of the Holy Communion, at 7 o'clock. Morning prayer, at nine o'clock, preceded the morning business session, the early part of the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Dunham, of Metuchen, while Rev. Mr. Schneeweiss read the lessons, and Rev. Mr. Cornell, of Spottswood, the litany. The choir was not present.

The business session was opened about 10 o'clock by Rev. E. K. Smith, secretary of the convention, calling the roll of the members not present on the preceding day. Mr. Smith then read the minutes of the first day's session, which were approved as read. Resolutions were offered that the greetings of the convention be sent to a member absent on account of illness, after which various legal matters were brought up for settlement. The election for the standing committee of the diocese then took place. After the tellers had retired, discussion of other matters proceeded, especially on the question of the voting of women in the parish elections. After considerable debate, the question was put, and lost. Other questions of changes in the constitution and canons occupied the convention till the return of the tellers, who reported the following elected as standing committee: Clerical members, Rev. Charles M. Perkins, Rev. H. H. Oberly, Rev. Alfred B. Baker, D. D. Lay members, R. S. Conover, Howard Richards, E. R. Shubrick, and J. B. Woodward. It being necessary that four clerical members be elected, another vote was taken. While the tellers were absent, the convention election as the Treasurer of the Diocese, Charles E. Merritt, of Mount Holly, and F. B. Lewis and E. R.

RAN WITH A FREE HEAD

A NEARLY FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT AT WESTFIELD.

A Nine-year-old Boy Behind the Plunging Horse Was Finally Pitched Out of the Wagon and Was Painfully Injured.

A nearly fatal runaway accident occurred on Broad street, Westfield, yesterday morning, when the horse attached to the delivery wagon of Grocer Elmer Love ran away.

Harry Gilmore, the nine year old son of George Gilmore, happened to be the only person in the wagon at the time. He was thrown out and the wagon overturned upon him. The little fellow was picked up unconscious and Dr. R. R. Sinclair, who was summoned, found on examination that no bones were broken. Internal injuries are possible, however, and the full extent of the injuries cannot be determined.

Clarence Love, who was driving the wagon previous to the accident, took the Gilmore boy in for a ride, and on finding a break in the horse's harness he stopped at the harness shop of Cyrus P. Wilcox, on Elm street, removed the bridle and took it into the shop for repairs.

While standing without a bridle the horse took fright and ran into North avenue, thence into Prospect street, and at Broad street the horse made a sharp turn around the corner. It was at this point that the wagon overturned, throwing the terrified lad head foremost upon the macadamized roadbed. The horse was caught by Robert Woodruff at the moment the wagon overturned, bringing him to a standstill.

The wagon was badly smashed and its load of groceries were completely destroyed.

MISSION WORK IN SOUTH

ENCOURAGING WORDS HEARD AT THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE W. H. M. S.

Mrs. Fisk, President of the National Society For Home Missions, Related the Work of the Society in an Interesting Manner.

The anniversary meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church was held last evening in Vincent chapel. The president of the society, Mrs. Davis, was in charge and after prayer was offered by Rev. George Washington Smith, the pastor of the church, Rev Mr. Snodgrass read the Scripture lesson. This was followed with a soprano solo by Miss Alice Carroll, accompanied by Miss Grace Carroll.

Mrs. James W. Jackson, the treasurer, presented her annual report which showed that the receipts had been $211.40 and the expenditures $199 86, leaving a balance of $11.54. The secretary of the society, Mrs N. W. Pike, gave a highly interesting report of the work for the past year and she told of the many ways in which the members had put forth efforts to do good work.

The above report was followed with words of encouragement from the president, and after Miss Grace Carroll sang a beautiful solo, Mrs. Fisk, of New York, National President of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, was introduced by the president. Mrs. Fisk is a very entertaining speaker, and she told in an interesting way of the work of the society. She told of the different schools established in the South where there are over three hundred girls being cared for and instructed in Christian work. Nearly everyone of these girls are Christians, and as a result of the establishment of the schools. Mrs. Fisk said that during the past four years there had been raised $55,000 more than during the three years preceding, and during the past three months $3,500 had been bequeathed to the society.

Mrs. Fisk stated that in one of the schools of the south there was numbered among the scholars the great granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson. The words of Mrs. Fisk were encouraging to the large number of people present, and she urged all to be more liberal in their contributions to the society and to be sure to state that it is for the Woman's Home Missionary Society. After the singing of a hymn the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. Whitney.

Too Cold for Tender Plants.

Weather Observer Neagle's report in the weekly bulletin of the New Jersey Weather Service is as follows:

The weather has been too cold for the growth and development of tender vegetation; warmer weather greatly needed. Average temperature, 53 degrees; rainfall, 2.35 inches, the most of it falling on Saturday and Sunday.

Boys to Be Tried.

David Demarest, Ed. Demarest and Harold Whitney, who are alleged to have assisted the son of Farmer Smith, of South Plainfield, steal $500 from him, last winter, will come up for trial on May 11th.

SAID GOODBY IN TEARS.

AN AFFECTING SCENE IN THE CITY COURT THIS MORNING.

A Daughter Sorrow Stricken at Seeing Her Old Mother Fall Into the Grasp of the Law and Sent to the County Jail.

"Good by," sadly said Mrs. Jane Rothenhauser as her weeping daughter bade her farewell, "You may never see your mother again."

It was an affecting scene that took place in the city lock up this morning Mrs. Rothenhauser has a bad reputation with the police and is accedited as the cause of lots of trouble and disturbances in her neighborhood. She visited the office of the City Judge one day and completely disgusted that official by her actions.

The trouble that caused her arrest and subsequent incarceration happened several evenings ago on West Third street. Patrolman Totten was on duty in the neighborhood and he found a crowd assembled in front of the house where she was listening to the noise within. Her language was something shocking and her behavior, the officer said, was even worse. She had been drinking and the fumes of the liquor had taken command of her faculties.

This was not the first of this behavior, either, and the police were waiting for a good chance to put an end to the disturbances. A warrant was sworn out for her arrest and last evening Patrolman Mattox served it. She was locked up over night and, this morning, arraigned before the City Judge.

Two witnesses from the neighborhood were present as was Mrs. Rothenhauser's daughter, with her little baby. Mrs. Rothenhauser pleaded guilty and seemed very penitent. It was not her first arrest, however, and the Judge decided that she needed a lesson. A fine of $20 or sixty days in jail was his sentence. Mrs. Rothenhauser's son in law is a hard-working man who has to labor his best to support his family. He did not have the necessary cash to pay the fine so Mrs. Mrs. Rothenhauser will probably have to go to jail. When that was learned, the time for parting came. The baby, seeing the tears rolling down his mother's face, joined in the chorus of sobs and when Patrolman Totten led the prisoner away the sobs ended in a wail of sorrow.

Mrs Rothenhauser says that she has the heart disease and that the shock may bee too much for her. She looks very healthy, however.

DID JOHNSON KNOW.

Intimated That He Could Tell About Luke Scudder's Fate.

About three years ago Luke Scudder, a colored man in the employ of John Groendyke, of Finderne, disappeared. When last seen he was in the company of Jacob S. Johnson, who was hanged in Somerville yesterday for the murder of Annie Beekman, and Jim Rodgers, now in State prison for eight months for an assault upon his wife.

Scudder on the night he disappeared had a roll of money, a new suit of clothes, hat and shoes. He, Johnson and Rodgers were seen together in Somerville.

Jake Huff, of Somerville, was one of the death watch on Johnson. Johnson said: "Well, I have been a bad man and have transgressed much and I suppose I will have to be punished for it, but there is one thing sure—James Rodgers never killed Luke Scudder!"

"Do you know who killed him, Jake?" asked Huff.

"Yes I do," said Johnson, and he began to pace restlessly up and down his cell. "I know and I will tell you some time, but not now."

Shortly afterwards Huff was discharged and did not have a chance to see Johnson again.

An Additional Mail.

An additional through mail to and from Philadelphia has been made to the already excellent mail service of Plainfield. Instead of the mail going to New York and then out to Philadelphia, Postmaster Hetfield has arranged so that the mail closes at 12:15 and goes out on the 12:47, to connect with the Blue Line Flier at Bound Brook. The return mail arrives in Plainfield in time for the noon delivery instead of at 4 o'clock in the afternoon as formerly when the mail came by the way of New York.

Death of Mrs. Casselbury.

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Casselbury, of Haddenfield, will be pained to learn of the death of Mrs. Casselbury, Monday May 3d. Mrs. Casselbury was Miss May Hoagland Hurd, of Dover, whose school days were spent at the Plainfield Seminary on Seventh street and whose sweet graces of character won her the life, long regard of those who knew her well.

PACER AHEAD OF ENGINE.

EXCITING EXPERIENCE OF A RUNAWAY HORSE ON THE CENTRAL TRACKS.

The Horse is Owned by Newton B Smalley and Got in Front of a Coal Frain—Ran Along the Ties for Fully Half a Mile.

Newton B. Smalley's famous pacer tried conclusions with a coal train yesterday noon. It was this way. The pacer broke loose in North Plainfield yesterday morning without harness or bridle and kept a dozen men busy trying to catch him. It was fun for the horse, and after fooling them for some time he cantered over the brook, and up by the ice house on West Front street for new ventures. He finally found his way to the railroad embankment and walked along it with his pursuers panting after him a quarter of a mile in the rear.

Agent Hayes, of the Grant avenue station, saw the horse on the track and tried to drive him off, but the pacer would not drive. A westbound coal train loomed up in the distance coming at a lively rate. The pacer got on the same track and would not get off despite all the efforts of Mr. Hayes. The engineer of the flying train saw the horse and blew his whistle vigorously. That startled the horse and away he started, pacing at first but, as the train rapidly gained, he broke into a canter and then into a mad gallop. "Down breaks" whistled the approaching locomotive, but it is no easy thing to stop a long coal train. The whistle kept up a steady shriek to drive the equine off the track, but it was of no use.

The engine was not far behind when the end of the long fence surrounding the Pond Tool Works was reached and out rushed a crowd of men. By wildly waving their arms and shouting the pacer was driven down the bank and the race was over The horse was afterwards caught and taken home.

POSSESS BELLS OR BE ARRESTED.

Bicycle Ordinance Offenders Fined $1 Each in the City Court.

The raid on the non-bell carrying cyclists still goes on, and the first of the cases came up for trial yesterday afternoon. There was no real trial, however, as all the offenders had nothing to say except to plead guilty, claiming that they didn't know about the ordinance.

The Jersey City riders, Christopher Hedermark and Herman Heyer, were riding about the city streets minus a bell, and Roundsman Flynn picked them up. Arthur Tasch was also found on his wheel without a bell, and he, too, was brought before the City Judge. After hearing their story, the Judge fined them a $1 each.

Fred Sebring was brought before the Judge on the charge of being disorderly. He covered up his bell with his hand when the officers looked for it and then made insulting remarks, it was alleged. The Judge suspended sentence.

There is a small army of offenders to appear before the Judge on Saturday morning, all charged with riding a wheel without a bell. Among them are Raymond Carroll, Arthur Jennings, George Homan, William Sweeney, Eugene Doule, Thomas Quinn, Health Inspector William Addis and Edward French. Judson R. Giles was ordered to appear for riding his wheel on the sidewalk.

A TALENTED MUSICIAN.

The Coming Recital of W. H. Barber Highly Praised.

It will add great interest to the coming recital by W. H. Barber for the public to know it was through the efforts of Miss Ada G. Marsh that Mr. Barber was induced to give Plainfield such a musical feast. Miss Marsh and Mr. Barber were pupils in Stuttgart at the same time, and have both risen to places of distinction since then in the musical world.

The New York Mail and Express says: "Mr. Barber's playing is that of a true artist. He not only has a fine technique, but also possesses the power of bringing out the full conception and meaning of the music."

The programme follows:

Gavotte, in B flat major	Handel
Fantasie	Mozart
Barcarolle, in A minor	Rubinstein
"Ich liebe Dich"	Grieg
Menuetto Scherzando, Caprice,	Stavenhagen

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club was held on Monday evening. Three new members were elected to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of three others. There are a number of names on the waiting list at present.

RUNAWAY HAD THE ROAD

ALL OTHERS IN THE STREET DREW TO ONE SIDE FOR SAFETY.

A Dog Corners Farmer's Horse Became Frightened, Broke the Tie Strap and Galloped Home in a Wild Manner.

With Park avenue crowded with teams, wheelmen and pedestrians, a large black horse, with farm wagon attached, ran at full speed through that thoroughfare and miraculously escaped doing serious damage. Several wheels were partially damaged and many people had exceedingly narrow escapes.

Mr. Herps, of Dog Corner, drove to Plainfield yesterday afternoon, and, after going on several errands, tied his horse in front of the Dime Saving Institution on East Front street. While Mr. Herps was in one of the neighboring buildings, a lad came along and wanted to see how the strap was fastened. In examining the knot, he loosened it so when the horse became frightened, he easily broke away. What frightened the horse is not known, but at any rate the animal made a spring forward and struck Detective John L. Blackford's wheel, which was standing in front of the City National Bank. The wheel was bent and somewhat injured.

The frightened horse turned into Park avenue and the wagon swung around behind him, striking the wheel of a passing buggy, which was but slightly damaged. The horse then continued on his wild career up Park avenue spreading terror on every hand. Cyclists tumbled off their wheels on the sidewalk in their efforts to get out of the way while carriages were pulled to the side of the street to allow the runaway to pass. There were countless narrow escapes but the horse managed to pilot his way safely through the maze of vehicles and wheels and reached Fifth street. That was the way home, and the horse turned to the left and departed homeward, reaching there after a long run.

MISS FIELD'S RECITAL.

SEEMED TO BE IN TOUCH WITH HER FATHER'S WRITING.

A Cultured Audience Listened to the Well-Known Author's Daughter Recite—Her Assistants Were All Talented Musicians.

Miss Mary French Field, daughter of America's famous literary man, Eugene Field, made her first public appearance in Plainfield in the Casino, last evening, under the auspices of the Park Club. Miss Field came to read and recite some of the poems written by her father and she made his beautiful verses even more popular than before. She was assisted in the entertainment by William H. Lee, baritone, and John Francis Gilder, pianist.

While the audience expected an enjoyable entertainment, they were not prepared for the rare treat that was given them. Most of Eugene Field's selections were comparatively short and not the kind adapted to an elaborate recitation. They were simple little poems, full of feeling and quiet and unostentatious sentiment. The daughter was thoroughly in touch with her father's spirit in writing, and gave the poems as he must have meant them to be understood.

The tender pathos of "Little Boy Blue" was made doubly touching by the unaffected and simple way that it was given. But Miss Field was best in her very realistic rendition of the remark of the little boy. The high pitched voice of the lad of ten summers was there and Miss Field assumed an expression that was exactly in keeping with the character. "Jest 'Fore Christmas," "Picnic Time," "Seein' Things" and last of all, "But I Dasn't," were of this kind and received hearty and enthusiastic applause, as did, in fact, all of her efforts.

Mr. Lee had a full rich voice, which he understood how to use, and his songs were of a high order. Mr. Gilder, the pianist, is a composer of no mean merit. His manipulation of the keys was something wonderful and he played with a touch and skill that pleased the audience greatly. He was encored again and again. Several of his selections were of his own composition.

The entertainment was under the charge of a committee composed of Elston M. French, chairman; B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Edwin T. Douglass and Wm. L. Saunders. One of the members of the committee was absent from the city and two of the others were able to do but little on account of illness, so the burden of the duties fell on Mr. French. He was fully capable of performing them, however, and there was no better compliment paid to the success of his efforts than the large crowd that attended, filling the hall.

ORDER OF THE TEMPLE.

A HIGH DEGREE CONFERRED BY TRINITY COMMANDERY.

The Work Performed in a Highly Pleasing Manner—Visiting Knights Given a Banquet at the Close of the Conclave.

A special conclave of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., was held last evening for the purpose of conferring the "Order of the Temple" on two candidates. In addition to the large number of members from Trinity present there was a large delegation of members from Clinton Commandery, No. 14, of Brooklyn, who was accompanied by their organist, Willard Forshew, and a quartette. The music furnished was of the highest order. The work of conferring the degree was performed a first class manner by the officers of Trinity Commandery, and they received many compliments from the visitors.

The occasion was marked by the presence of all of the Grand Lodge officers, as follows: Deputy Grand Commandery, acting Grand Commander, John E. Rowe, Newark; G. G., William Sebring, Plainfield; G. C. G., Peter McGill, Lambertville; G. S. W., J. McCain, Trenton, G. J. W., J. C. Davidson, Washington; G. S. B., D. D. Demarest, Paterson; G. P., L. L. Greer, Passaic; G. W., R. H. Sheriff, Elizabeth; also the following prominent members: Past Commanders, Edward Tillou, N. L. Parks, St. John's Commandery, Elizabeth; J. W. Palmer, Damascus Commandery, Brooklyn; R. G. Garrison, Ascalon Commandery, Missouri; T. D. Dawes, DeMolay Commandery, Washington, and many others from Palestine Commandery, of New York.

Eminent Sir Jacob Kirkner, Commander of Trinity Commandery, presided at the conclave with his usual grace and dignity, as did also the other officers of the Commandery.

The banquet which followed the work of the evening was both sumptuous and grand, and those present regretted very much that there was not more time left for speeches, for the visitors were anxious to express their appreciation with words as well as by their presence.

The banquet was served by J. E. Beerbower, and after the inner man had been supplied the visitors were obliged to leave the scene of pleasure so that they could catch their train for home. After expressions of good will and fellowship the gathering dispersed with pleasant recollections of an evening of enjoyment.

Endeavorer Officers Chosen.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Warren chapel held a business meeting on Tuesday evening. The officers were elected as follows: President, Theodore Martin; vice-president, John Herman; treasurer, Miss Louise Koehler; recording secretary, Miss Kate Deike; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaret Shepherd The anniversary exercises of the society will be held on Thursday evening, May 20th. The reports of the officers showed the society to be in good standing, financially and otherwise.

The New Street to be Accepted.

Regarding the resolution which was offered at the council meeting Monday night in relation to the acceptance of the new portion of Sycamore avenue, The Daily Press stated that under such conditions the street would probably never be accepted. It should have read that the street would be accepted. George F. White has signified his intention to accept the conditions and he has been given one year to do the work as required by the resolution offered by Mr. Barrows.

Bridge Scheme Fallen Through.

The chances are that it will be a long time before a bridge will be erected on the newly opened portion of Sycamore avenue over Greenbrook. There seemed to be, at one time, a disposition on the part of those who were instrumental in opening to place a bridge at that point at their own expense, but this scheme had fallen out.

Town Not to Blame for Accident.

The Middlesex County Board of Freeholders met at New Brunswick, yesterday, and considered the accident at Bonhamtown on Sunday, when Miss Margaret Rennie was drowned by the caving in of a bridge. Freeholder Parsons denied that the bridge committee had accepted the bridge. It is still in the hands of Contractor Van Horne.

Funeral of Murderer Johnson.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Rev. John DeHart, the spiritual adviser of Jacob Johnson, who was hung in the Somerset county jail at 10 o'clock in the morning, conducted a brief funeral service in the corridor of the jail previous to the body of the dead man being removed to Montgomery for interment. None of Johnson's friends were present at the service.

FIGHT IN THE L. A. W.

The San Francisco Seceders Make Trouble For President Potter.

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS IN CONFERENCE

New York, May 6.—President I. B. Potter of the L. A. W. has received a dispatch from San Francisco conveying the acceptance of George H. Strong and Francis T. Dwyer to the positions of chief consul and vice consul respectively of the California division of the league. This is said by President Potter to mean that the executive committee of the L. A. W. intends to make an aggressive fight with the Pacific coast seceders.

Ex-Chief Consul Frank Kerrigan and ex-Vice Consul Hugh Wynne, with Robert M. Welch, formerly of the National Racing board, are at the head of those in California who have left the league because the national assembly declined to sanction cycle racing on Sunday.

Chief Consul Strong also wired President Potter for $200 to pay an alleged claim for printing and expenses incurred by ex-Vice Consul Wynne during his incumbency of the office and a claim by Percy V. Long for services as counsel of the division rights and privileges committee, on account of which claims 1,400 road books of the division have been attached. The money was dispatched to Consul Strong, but it is stated that the matter will be taken to the courts.

Officers In Conference.

President Potter and First Vice Consul C. F. Kreker of Paterson had a conference yesterday. They were surprised at the appearance in the North Carolina road book of an article entitled "The Laws of Cycling" to which is appended Mr. Kerrigan's signature, it being claimed by the officials of the L. A. W. that the article was written by President Potter for the Long Island road book and was copyrighted by A. B. Barkham. They decided to make an aggressive contention with the California seceders.

In speaking of the situation, President Potter said:

"I am in daily receipt of letters and telegrams from California from league members who put themselves on record as being decidedly against Sunday racing on the coast, and the truth of the matter is that outside of San Francisco the sentiment is against racing on Sunday. When these seceders attempt to supplant the L. A. W. on the Pacific coast it becomes necessary for us to follow them up in no easy manner. Chairman Mott of the racing board will suspend riders who are competing in unsanctioned races, and the punishment is likely to be of an indefinite nature."

Pension Bureau Appointments.

Washington, May 6.—Captain Charles W. Filler of Minnesota, a division chief under the Harrison administration, was appointed chief of the army and navy survivors' division of the pension bureau and William Wilson of New York appointed assistant chief. The law division of the bureau has been largely broken up, 50 out of the force of 75 being detailed to other divisions. This abolishes the fee section and does away with the great volume of miscellaneous work, which will now be done by the record division. The board of review and the adjudicating divisions hereafter will pass on the status of attorneys, the chief functions of the law division now remaining being criminal prosecutions and marriages and divorces.

Retaliation Advised.

Toronto, May 6.—The Manufacturers' association of Canada met here and affirmed the policy of protection. President Kemp in his address said he thought that the Canadian government had gone too far in trying to induce the United States to give us some sort of reciprocity. If the government of the United States legislates against us in the future as it has for many years past, we should as far as possible arrange our tariff so as to exclude from this country such of their products as we can produce within our own borders.

Regulars on Practice March.

Princeton, N. J., May 6.—Six hundred regulars of the United States army who are on practice march from New York to Philadelphia camped on the outskirts of Princeton. Hundreds of villagers and cottage men crowded the field of encampment, watching the work of the soldiers erecting tents and preparing campfires. In the evening the collegians and visitors enjoyed the privilege of viewing the spectacle of the regular army in camp. The company's band gave a concert especially for the entertainment of the university men.

TREATY IS DEFEATED

The Senate Kills the General Arbitration Agreement.

FAILED TO GET A TWO-THIRDS VOTE.

The Vote on the Measure Stood 43 to 26. Mills' Argument Against Arbitration. The Sundry Civil Bill Causes Another Spirited Controversy.

Washington, May 6.—The senate has by the vote of 43 to 26 refused to ratify the general arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain negotiated by Secretary Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote. The rules of the senate require a majority of two-thirds for the ratification of treaties. Hence four more affirmative votes would have been required to secure a favorable result. The vote in detail was as follows:

Yeas.—Allison, Bacon, Burrows, Caffery, Clay, Cullom, Davis, Deboe, Fairbanks, Faulkner, Foraker, Frye, Gallinger, Gear, Gray, Hale, Hanna, Hawley, Hoar, Lindsay, Lodge, McBride, McEnery, McMillan, Mitchell, Morrill, Nelson, Pasco, Perkins, Platt of Connecticut, Platt of New York, Pritchard, Proctor, Smith, Spooner, Thurston, Turpie, Vest, Walthall, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore and Wilson—total, 43.

Nays.—Baker, Bate, Butler, Carter, Cockrell, Daniel, Hansbrough, Harris of Kansas; Harris of Tennessee, Heitfeld, Jones of Arkansas, Jones of Nevada, Kyle, Martin, Mason, Mills, Morgan, Penrose, Pettigrew, Pettus, Quay, Rawlins, Roach, Shoup, Stewart and White—total, 26.

A total of 69 votes was cast, leaving 19 senators who did not respond. The pairs so far as obtained were as follows, two affirmative senators being paired with one negative senator in most instances:

Chandler and Clark for, with Teller against; Tillman and Turner for, with Chilton against; Sewell and Earle for, with Mantell against. Senator George was paired for the treaty and Senator Berry against it. Pairs were not announced for Aldrich, Cannon, Elkins, Gorman, Murphy, Wolcott, Kenney and Alien.

The Final Debate.

The vote was preceded by a short, spirited debate, introduced by Senator Mills of Texas, who made a strong appeal to the senate against ratifying the agreement. He asserted that as amended the document was most objectionable, not to say contradictory in terms. He pointed out especially the provisions for the settlement of controversies in regard to territorial claims and asserted that whereas the amendment adopted by the senate to the first article of the treaty declared against their inclusion the sixth and eighth articles made provision for them. He held that as long as these articles remained unchanged England could justly claim that questions of territorial rights were still included within the scope of the treaty.

Under such circumstances, he asked, what was to prevent England from purchasing the island of Cuba or any other American territory and in case of objection on the part of the United States insisting upon the reference of the dispute to arbitration? He spoke of the conduct of England in connection with the Greco-Turkish war and implored the senate to protect the United States against the proposed alliance.

Sundry Civil Bill Debate.

The open session was devoted to the sundry civil appropriation bill, which was not completed up to the time of adjournment.

Among the amendments offered was one by Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota authorizing the president to suspend the order of President Cleveland withdrawing millions of acres from the public domain and constituting them forest reserves. The amendment also proposed an appropriation of $150,000 for surveys of these lands. In the course of the debate Mr. Allison stated that the main portion of the amendment had been prepared by the secretary of the interior under the eye of the president.

Mr. Pettigrew added that assurances had been given—he would not say from whom—that if the amendment was adopted the president would suspend the order. In response to a statement by Mr. Gorman that a point of order would be made against the amendment, Mr. Pettigrew declared that if the amendment went out on a point of order he would see that the pending bill did not pass until some relief was given as to the orders creating forest reservations.

Mr. Carter (Rep.) of Montana criticised the order of President Cleveland and pointed out the serious results which had occurred. The senator said efforts had been made to have the order set aside, but as this course might be construed as discourteous to the former president it was deemed advisable to have a law which would correct the situation. Final action on the amendment was deferred.

Caught In an Ice Floe.

St Johns, N. F., May 6.—The steamer Polino from Montreal, with a general cargo, ten days out, has arrived here. She reports that she was caught in a heavy ice floe in the gulf of St. Lawrence, had her bow stove in and several of the plates cracked. The water filled the fore hold, the ship's sides were almost crushed in, the steering gear was broken, and other serious damage was done. It was feared for some time that it would be necessary to abandon her.

Bakers Strike For Eight Hours.

Cleveland, May 6.—The Bakers' International union have resolved to make a stand for an eight hour day. Resolutions were offered at the session to make the demand uniform throughout the country and met with enthusiastic approval before their reference to a committee. The union decided to abandon all state branches, and hereafter all funds will go directly to national headquarters.

Accidentally Shot Herself.

Bennington, Vt., May 6.—Mrs. Augustus Griffiths of Arlington was killed at the residence of Lyman Hulet in North Shaftsbury. She was carrying a loaded shotgun up stairs, when the hammer caught on a projection, and the gun was discharged, the contents blowing away the entire face. She was 60 years of age.

Still, you pay us not so much for the good article as you will be charged in numerous other places for the bad (that's the word) one. We guarantee every thread, hair and fibre of every mattress we make, because we make it right on our own premises. We also renovate and remake bedding. Drop us a postal card and we'll send an expert bedmaker to come and talk bedding with you. This is just the season of the year to have your bedding made over, for two reasons: Sanitary and comfort.

YOU DONT WANT TO PAY

C. R. THIERS, Dentist.

PAINLESS

DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

A GREAT BANKRUPT SALE.

Recollect, these are sacrifice prices, and will last but twenty days longer. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers, the very finest tailor made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than one-half the prices that other stores ask for inferior and commoner goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give this their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The wholesalers must be paid in cash, and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine spring suits, trousers, coats and vests and spring overcoats, handsomely and elegantly made equal to best merchant tailor work, for less than the actual cost of labor in making these fine garments. Read the prices for fine clothing, and remember that we guarantee to furnish the goods just as cheap as they are advertised.

Men's tweed spring suits, 33 to 42 size, that are sold all over town at $10 and $12, are sold here at $4.75; if not satisfied with these suits in any way, bring them back and get your money. Men's fine clay diagonal silk and satin-lined dress cutaway suits worth $22, at $8.50. We offer 500 light-colored suits of mixed cheviots and cassimeres at $3.50, $4.50, $5.50 and $6.50, worth easily $12 to $18. Durable men's pants for 95 cents. Cheviot and cassimere pants, light or dark colors, $1.10, $1.20, $1.30 and $1.50; worth double. Fine double breasted black cheviot suits, handsomely made, at $5.90, that other stores ask $15 for. Elegant Prince Albert and dress cutaway suits, satin-lined and very fine imported cloth, wholesale prices from $20 to $30, sale price $9.60. Extra fine dress pants, over 200 styles in stripes, silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, at $1.50, $1.65, $2 and $2.24; worth from $4.50 to $8. Bring this ad with you, and if not shown everything here advertised we will pay your carfare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.24; worth three times as much. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suits at $3.50; regular price, $10. Light-colored cassimere suits for youths, $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50; easily worth double. Extra fine dress suits for young men and boys at $5.90; actually valued at $13 and $16. Bring anything back not entirely satisfactory within ten days. Men's working suits, $2; worth $7.50. Men's cassimere sack suits, in light or dark colors, $4; worth $12. Men's all-wool sack or cutaway diagonal suits at $6; worth $15. Men's blue flannel suits at $4.25; worth $10; best indigo dye pure wool, absolutely fast colors, Grand Army and uniform suits for $7.50; worth $15. Men's imported covert cloth spring overcoats in very latest style and shape, worth from $15 to $18, at $6.90. Fifteen styles of vicuna, homespun, serge, cassimere and worsted suits, sacks and cutaways, worth from $15 to $20, during this sale, $6.90. Two thousand suits of different kinds to choose from. Remember that no store in this country can sell you such fine clothing for any less than three times these prices. Men's, young men's and boys' bicycle suits from $3, $3.50 and $4.50; worth from $9 to $12. Be on hand early and avoid the rush. Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feelin prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. A BLOW AT USURY.

The New York Court of Appeals Decides Against Money Lenders.

Albany, May 6.—The court of appeals has given a most decided blow to the business of loaning money at usurious rates of interest to people who are in need. It has denied an appeal from and affirmed a judgment rendered by the lower courts in favor of Mary Braine, declaring a note which she gave to Julie Rosswog and a chattel mortgage to secure it usurious and void and directing their cancellation and surrender. Though the business was carried on in the name of the defendant, the court holds, sustaining Justice Barrett, that she and her father were clearly acting in concert to evade the usury law.

Applicants for loans were made to sign two papers, each person acknowledging that she had constituted Rosswog, the father, her agent to procure the loan; that she had agreed to pay him $50 for his services, and that he had no interest whatsover in the money to be procured by him.

The plaintiff asserted that she never knew she had signed any papers except the note and mortgage. She went to these parties by seeing an advertisement offering to loan money.

The court says that the documents to which Rosswog secured the plaintiff's signature cannot avail as against the real facts of the case, and that they really strengthen the plaintiff's case.

"They are not such documents as any innocent broker dealing honestly would present to a borrower. They are elaborate and specious, carefully drafted and evidently printed for general use, with recurring forms.

"The object was clearly to cover up the real transaction and to estop the victim from subsequently asserting the usury. But the law here admits of no estoppal upon the truth. That must prevail as against all such devices to cover up usury. These documents color the evidence of the defendant and her father, and they lend additional force and meaning to all the facts disclosed. Parties cannot escape under such circumstances as these simply by keeping the hand that writes the check in the background."

MORTGAGES IN CUBA.

Translation of Captain General Weyler's Decree Relative to Their Collection.

Washington, May 6.—The state department has received a full translation of the decree of Captain General Weyler at Santa Clara on April 19 last relative to the collection of mortgage indebtedness in Cuba.

A year ago the Spanish government found it necessary to suspend the right of creditors to foreclose mortgages in Cuba to prevent the utter ruin of the people who had already suffered so much from the war.

The purpose of the last decree is to modify the former measure so as to save the rights of the creditors as far as possible without being unduly severe with the debtors. This decree gives notice that the interest on mortgages now due or to become due will not be payable until March 31 of next year and that all proceedings looking to the collection of such debts will be suspended for the same time.

After that date the mortgage holders may proceed to claim their debts, but the property may not be sold at public auction for the purpose of collection.

In Pinar del Rio, Havana, Matanzas and Santa Clara provinces, the creditor in cases where the tenant has not suffered the loss of crops or home may proceed to collect 50 per cent of the indebtedness by levying on the products of the property. It is provided that the creditor may draw the usual legal interest on the payments on account of mortgages, which are extended by the decree until next May.

THE PARIS DISASTER

Over One Hundred Corpses Have Been Recovered.

TOTAL NUMBER OF DEAD UNKNOWN.

Only One American Perished In the Dreadful Catastrophe—The Remains of the Duchess d'Alencon Identified at the Temporary Morgue.

Paris, May 6.—The terrible fire at the Grand Bazaar de Charite, a temporary wooden structure about 100 yards long and 60 yards wide erected in the Rue Jean Goujon for the annual charity fair, of which all the most prominent society women of Paris are patronesses, has thrown the French capital into profound mourning. As already reported in these dispatches, the disaster is the most appalling that has ever afflicted this city.

Thus far more than 150 corpses have been recovered, together with 12 portions of bodies whose identity may never be established.

Since 5 o'clock yesterday morning crowds of people have been flocking to the Palais de l'Industrie, where many of the bodies and a large number of the injured were taken.

The search for the dead continues in the ruins. Quantities of coins, watches, rings, necklaces and bracelets have been picked up in the charred mass of burned wood and mud forming the foundation of the debris.

The body of the Duchess d'Alencon has been identified among those of the victims.

The Duchess d'Alencon was the sister of the empress of Austria and the wife of Prince Ferdinand of Orleans. She was a duchess of Bavaria and was born in 1847.

The duchess' daughter, Princess Louise, is married to Prince Alphonse of Bavaria, and her son, Prince Philippe, is the husband of Princess Henriette of Belgium. The former queen of Naples is one of her sisters. The duchess was a woman of great wealth and one of the most prominent ladies of France.

The remains of the duchess were identified by her dentist, who examined the teeth of a charred body which was believed to be hers. The blackened corpse was charred almost beyond resemblance to anything human, but some of the servants of the household of her royal highness fancied that they saw in it something reminding them of their mistress, particularly the teeth. The dentist of the duchess was thereupon sent for in haste, and he promptly recognized his handiwork in the gold filling of the teeth.

Since the Disaster.

As soon as the bodies are claimed by the anxious relatives and others who are searching for the missing and who have been hovering in despair about this spot since the disaster they are placed in carriages held in waiting and are taken to their former homes.

The scene last night was a remarkable one. Long lines of infantry were drawn in cordon around the dreadful spot. The bonfires and torches, electric lights and gas jets used to illuminate the scene reflected upon the bayonets and accourterments of the soldiers and threw a ghastly illumination upon the houses of the vicinity, the windows of which were crowded during most of the night with people watching the work of horror.

Every now and then a hearse would be called from the line of such vehicles stationed in proximity to the scene of the fire, a black mass of what was but so recently joyous humanity would be tenderly lifted into it, and another victim of the conflagration would be taken to one of the temporary morgues in the Palais de l'Industrie or at the neighboring Hospital Beaujon.

Only One American Victim.

Frequently as many as a dozen hearses were gathered together in the courtyard of the Palais de l'Industrie, and opposite the entrance of that building dozens of coffins of plain white wood were ranged, ready to receive the bodies of those who had succumbed to the flames or to the smoke or who had been trampled to death in that terrible stampede and whose bodies had subsequently been charred beyond recognition.

In response to inquiry at the British and American embassies and consulates it was emphatically stated that the only victim of the bazaar fire of American or English nationality was Mrs. Porges. She was a Miss Weisweiller. The Porges family belongs in Vienna. Mlle. Porges escaped uninjured. The rumor that the Comtesse de Castellane (Anna Gould) was among the missing is without foundation.

The unidentified bodies as well as the jewels recovered from the debris have been photographed by the Bertillon method, and the funeral services of the victims have been fixed for the Cathedral of Notre Dame. M. Faure will attend, and Pere Richard will probably officiate.

At a special session of the cabinet it was decided to ask the chamber of deputies for a special credit in aid of the needy families. The minister of justice communicated to his colleagues the first results of his inquiry as to the causes of the fire. The investigating magistrate, M. Dertolu, reports that there was great carelessness and imprudence in the principal arrangements for the bazaar. M. Girard, director of the municipal laboratory, reports that the ether in the lamps used for the cinematograph set fire to the film, the flames then igniting the apparatus.

JOHNSON'S NERVE.

One of the remarkable things incident to the execution of the colored murderer at Somerville, yesterday morning, was the almost unanimous surprise expressed by the witnesses that the carrying out of the law's command was not accompanied with a feeling that it was revolting in the extreme, as many had anticipated it would be. While it may smack of braggadocia, it is a fact that the witnesses averred that they were not effected nervously or otherwise while the execution was being performed. Probably this was so because of the steady step and courageous attitute the condemned man maintained to the last. Had Johnson broken down, the effect would no doubt have been very different. In reality it seemed as though the fated individual acted as though his participation in the gruesome event was a part that he had rehearsed to perfection and had bravely curbed all feelings of natural instict and become reconciled to the inevitable.

READY FOR 1899.

Senator Charles A. Reed of Somerset seems to be in line for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Third district in 1899, according to the Bound Brook Chronicle. That is, if Congressman Howell doesn't seek a third term. If the way is clear, Somerset being entitled to the nomination, no better choice could be made than that of Senator Reed.—New York Press.

A PRACTICAL SUGGESTION.

It has been suggested, and with a good deal of common sense, that the sewer, water, gas and other underground piping should be established in the additional section of Watchung avenue, now being opened, before the roadbed is paved, thus obviating the necessity of ripping up the macadam at a later day for that purpose.

THE BEST ACCOUNT.

The Daily Press was the only paper to publish a detailed account of the hanging of Jacob Johnson at Somerville yesterday. As a result of this enterprise, 1,000 extra papers were disposed of in Plainfield and the surrounding towns where the execution attracted general attention.

FRANK H. DUNN, Clerk.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A large increase will soon be made to the rental department of the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company.

TALKED OF PEACE.

Friends' Association Consider How War Might Have Been Prevented.

The Young Friends Association held their regular meeting last evening, and the following programme was presented.

Reading of the 103d Psalm; selection from Quaker strongholds on the subject of war; an account of the correspondence of George Fox with Oliver Cromwell in relation to this same testimony; current events, and a satirical poem from the London Herald of Peace on "Boys' Brigades."

The discussion which followed the readings was participated in by most all present, and bore especially on the means by which the Civil War might have been prevented.

A recent address by Andrew D. White, on "Evolution vs. Revolution Politics," was referred to in which he showed how we have been educated in the spirit of war since the American Revolution, and how the glorifying of war and wariors led us on to a preparation for the Civil War; whereas, if all people had abhorred it, we could have bought the slaves for twenty-five millions of dollars instead of being afflicted by a terrible war, at the cost of hundreds of thousands of lives, and thousands of millions of dollars.

"You're light enough when I tackle you," said the little can of Cleveland's baking powder to the big barrel of flour.

Cleveland's is the strongest of all pure cream of tartar baking powders, yet its great merit is not its strength, but the fact that it is pure, wholesome and sure.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Theodore Thomas rides a new Wolfe American wheel, since yesterday.

Miss Maude Wilcox was presented by her parents, yesterday, with a handsome new Monitor bicycle.

The son of Rev. Joshua Mead, who is visiting his father, seems very much impressed with Dunellen as a residence place.

Rev. Joshua Mead, the new pastor of the M. E. church, will conduct a union prayer meeting in his church, Friday evening.

William Craig, who has been confined to the house for the past week suffering from tonsilitis, was able to go out yesterday.

Freeholder Firman Gise rode his wheel over to New Brunswick and return, yesterday. He reports the roads quite good, though sandy.

Charles Teel, who suffered from an attack of the mumps two weeks ago, went out of doors a li tle too soon and now he is suffering from a relapse.

Richard Harding, who for a long time past has been braking on one of the early morning trains from here to New York, has resigned his position and will soon start to join his brother in the far west.

Freeholder Firman Gise personally oversees the spreading of crushed stone in the borough, and he turns in and helps spread it around himself. It is doubtful whether the other members would do likewise.

The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Tribe, advertised to open a two weeks open air engagement here, today, have changed their plans and instead will begin a two weeks engagement in the South Plainfield Hall. They will come to Dunellen next.

Taylor Hayes, who occupies what is known as the Merserole place, has just received from New York a new purchase in the shape of a trotter, "Bedion T," with a record of 2:08¼. Postmaster Staats was permitted to take a spin behind the fast stepper, yesterday.

Young John Sayers wandered away from home and went to Elizabeth, Sunday, without informing his parents, and as he did not show up at the house on Monday or Tuesday they became very much alarmed for his safety. The boy turned up safe and sound last night.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

The bicycle path between here and Plainfield, has again been worn down smooth and hard since the late heavy rains.

While there is comparatively little space fit for bicycling except on the two main thoroughfares, it is astonishing at the number of wheels which pass and repass through the town on pleasant days.

Two farmers from the valley, who were in town yesterday, were talking over the damage done by the recent rain storm. One of them claimed to have lost $100 by the uprooting of early vegetables, and the other said that $50 would not more than cover his loss.

LINCOLN.

Peter Hansen, of Plainfield, moved into the Oakley homestead yesterday.

Quite a number of Plainfield carpenters and masons are working on the new houses in course of construction.

A handsome flag pole is being raised opposite the station, and the Stars and Stripes will float at half mast on Decoration Day.

BIG COLONY TO BE FORMED

German Manufacturing Concern to Move to Middlesex County.

By the establishment of an industrial colony in Middlesex county at an early date, its population will be increased several thousand. The agent of a large manufacturing concern in Germany, the name of which is withheld, has purchased a large tract of land from James Buckalew & Sons, of Jamesburg, for the establishment of the colony.

The land comprises a tract of 600 acres along the line of the Camden and Amboy division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Spotswood and Helmetta and about ten miles from this city.

An Illustrated Lecture.

Very many of the views to be exhibited by Mr. Ackerman at the Y. M. C. A. hall, this evening, are in colors and thus will more nearly represent the beautiful and interesting objects photographed. Dr. T. R. Harvey has taken possession of his new dental offices, corner of Broad street and Central avenue.

The Cranford Junior baseball team will play the Westfield Juniors on the Broad street grounds, Saturday, the 15th.

Several members of the Westfield fire department have been summoned to appear before a meeting of the department to be held on the 20th to answer for failure to perform twenty-five per cent. of fire duties during the past year. An interesting fact in this connection is the attitude of the individual companies who are inclined to dispute the right of the department to discipline their members in this fashion.

An illustrated talk on the American Civil War, illustrated by about seventy-five stereopticon views, will be the principal feature of the monthly entertainment of Mizpah Chapter, Epworth League, to be given in the Methodist Episcopal church this evening. The illustrated feature of the entertainment will be under the direction of J. F. Decker, of Elizabeth, and will include views of many important and decisive battles and portraits of prominent generals. The Epworth League orchestra will play national and war music, and Miss Ella L. Ferris will give a national medley on the organ. No charge for admission will be made.

The second semi-annual meeting of the Newark Conference Local Preachers' and Exhorters' Association will be held in the Westfield Methodist church on Saturday and Sunday. The opening session will be at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday, and in the evening a platform and revival service will be held. The Sunday services will be four in number, a love feast at 9 o'clock a. m., the morning sermon at 10:30, by the Rev. John R. Wright, D. D., of Washington, D. C., an afternoon address by Rev. Geo. W. Meyer, of Arlington, and at night a sermon by the Rev. Cotton Amy, of East Bangor, Pa. An invitation has been extended to the public to attend all these meetings.

MAN AS A MACHINE.

NATURE CANNOT BE BEAT IN HER LABOR SAVING DEVICES.

No Lost Motion or Excess of Parts in the Human Frame—Adam's Apple is Sort of Safety Valve, and the Liver Does Police Duty.

Few people are aware of the wonderful engineering skill and ingenuity with which their bodies are constructed. If patents were taken out for all the clever contrivances to be found there, they would probably keep the staff of the Patent Office going for three months.

Who would think that in his eye there is a block and pulley, or "tackle," as the sailors call it, as complete and efficient as that with which a ship hoists her mainsail? There it is, however; and whenever you look at the tip of your nose the muscle that moves your eye-ball works in it. There are several of these pulleys in the body.

Another clever dodge of Nature is shown in the bones of the face. Accomplished engineer that she is, she always uses the smallest quantity of material sufficient for strength. In making the bones of the face, she wanted a large surface to which to attach the muscles; but, as she didn't wish to encumber us with heads as heavy as an elephant's, she burrowed hundreds of little holes in the bones, called air cells, and thus secured strength, large surface and lightness.

When you get a severe cold you are apprised of the presence of another cute device—the Eustachian tube. This tube is two inches long, and passes from the inside of the ear to the back of the mouth. It was put there to keep the air at the same pressure inside the drum as outside. Otherwise there would be no vibration of the drum, and you would be almost stone deaf. When you get a bad cold this tube becomes inflamed and blocked, and you are made quite deaf.

Adam's apple, if it was once that fruit that brought into the world all our woe, is now a useful organ. It serves as a sort of storage cistern of the blood for the supply of the brain. When the heart sends up too much blood Adam's apple intercepts it, or part of it; and when the direct supply from the heart temporarily runs short Adam's apple gives up its store.

The liver is a most wonderful organ, containing facilities of several kinds. But perhaps the most wonderful thing in it is that part set aside to look out for and arrest poisons.

All the food that you eat, except the fat, has to pass through the liver before going to the heart and body generally; and in the liver there appear to be stationed something of the nature of customs officers, who examine every bit of food and remove from it all substances dangerous to the body. But they are only capable of dealing with the small quantities in ordinary food, and when you are so foolish as to eat poisonous mushrooms of mussels they are overpowered.

Another protection from danger is afforded you by the supply of a small quantity of hydrochloric acid to the stomach. There are little machines in the stomach specially designed for the manufacture of this acid from the salt you eat, and they are so regulated that they produce a quantity equal to one-fifth of 1 per cent of the contents of the stomach. Experiment shows that this is exactly the percentage required to destroy the microbes that we swallow in thousands in our food. But for this thoughtful provision of Nature we would probably get a new disease with every meal.

Most people know the use of the epiglottis, which saves us from imminent death every time we swallow a bit of food. At the back of the mouth the air passage and the food passage cross each other, and, whenever we swallow food, it would inevitably go into the windpipe and choke us, only that this little body pops down and covers the entrance. It is like the policeman who regulates the traffic where the streets cross.

The semi-circular canals, for centuries a physiological puzzle, are an extraordinary device for enabling us to keep our balance. They are little channels, hollowed out, in connection with the ear, in the bones of the head, and partly filled with fluid lymph. As our head or body sways the fluid moves, acting like a spirit level, and informing the brain whether we are standing in the perpendicular or at a dangerous angle.

So inventive was Nature when constructing our body that the difficulty is to stop enumerating her clever ideas. She saw that we would very soon grow tired if we had to hold up two heavy legs by means of muscular effort, so she made the hip-joint air-tight, and the pressure of the air alone keeps the leg in its place.

At the same time, although she had not discovered ball bearings, she made the ball of the leg bone and the socket of the hip so smooth, and oiled the joint so well, that the friction is practically nothing.

When the spinal canal in the backbone was made, great pains had to be taken, for, while it consists of many pieces and is freely movable, it contains the precious spinal cord, one nip of which would be fatal. The measurements are so accurate that there is no danger of such an event. Wherever there is much and free motion, as in the neck, the canal is large and open, and a nip is impossible.

But the most remarkable of all devices is that for splicing broken bones. The moment a bone is broken, a surgical genius is at once dispatched from the brain to the spot. He proceeds to surround the broken ends with a ferrule or cartilage. This is large and strong.

CANVAS IN PLACE OF MOHAIR.

Bodices More and More Elaborate—The Blouse Effect Still Reigns.

(By Special Arrangement with the N. Y. Sun.)

Tailor-built dresses are usually the first to blossom out in the spring, and here is a model in a pale tint of violet cloth. One handsome jeweled button fastens the bolero over a full vest of green silk, and dark violet velvet forms the belt. Applique embroidery of irridescent cord on green silk forms the trimming of the skirt and jacket.

In black gowns, which are always worn, there is a moire velour, with a plain skirt lined with pink. The front of the bodice is of embroidered black lisse, and the bolero of black glace silk, covered with black net richly jeweled with turquoise, silver and jet. Pale blue velvet finishes the edge of the revers, being put on in a narrow twist, trims the collar, and lines the bows on the top of the sleeves.

Eglantine barege forms the next costume, which is made with the fashionable accordion-plaited skirt. The yoke, epaulets, and sleeves are tucked in groups, finished with small fancy buttons up the back. The epaulets and opening of the bodice up the side are finished with a kilted frill of mauve chiffon, and the belt is of Nile green satin ribbon. Pale blue and petunia and heliotrope and old rose are new combinations of color this season, which are very effective if the right shades are chosen, and pale green with brown is another popular contrast.

The bodice is becoming more and more elaborate all the time, and the art of making this tucked and trimmed and shirred combination a distinguished success is quite beyond the commonplace dressmaker. Whether the material is gathered or plaited, it is still good style to have the blouse effect in front, the fullness falling a little over the belt, which may be of any width most becoming to the figure.

Canvas, in all its varying weaves, striped, figured, and plain, is decidedly the leading material in wool for all sorts of plain and dressy gowns to be worn in the early spring and all through the summer. They have quite superseded the mohairs, which were so popular last season, and the only kind of mohair which is at all fashionable is a very fine and silky quality.

Health in Flute Playing.

An eminent medical man says that the instrument least detrimental to health of aspiring musicians is the flute. Its practice, he asserts, is not only free from risk, but it may also be indulged in with positive benefit to the health, flute-playing being a capital substitute for walking exercise.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

STATEMENT BY A MURDERER.

Kelley, the Somersworth Slayer, Gives Some Details of the Crime.

Somersworth, N. H., May 6.—Joseph E. Kelley, the confessed slayer of Cashier Stickney, has made some matters plain in regard to the killing of Stickney which have heretofore puzzled the officials. To a Somersworth official who visited the jail Kelley said that he originally intended to chloroform Stickney.

Thursday he went to the bank at noon disguised and had with him a bottle of chloroform and straps to bind him with, also a wooden box in which to carry off the money. Miss Swazey's presence in the bank prevented his carrying out his plans.

On the day of the murder he got the Berwick postoffice stamps on a forged order. He had with him a large parcel, containing an overcoat, hat, pillowslip and iron bar, which he asked the cashier to put in the vault. It was too large to get underneath the wicket, and Stickney opened the door to receive it. Kelley then rushed in and committed the deed.

Having no need to use the iron bar, he threw it in the wood closet, where it was found by William H. Rich.

This new confession disproves the theory that he reached underneath the wicket and struck the cashier with a blackjack. The chloroform and wooden box have been found at his room in Berwick.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

It Is Very Serious and Likely to Spread to Other Cities.

Chicago, May 6.—The strike in the building trades has spread beyond Chicago and is likely to involve important work in a number of other cities. The officers of the Plumbers' union and of the Junior Steam Fitters' union have used the telegraph wires to stop work on jobs in St. Louis, Syracuse, Worcester, Mass.; Columbus, O., and Indianapolis. The union men claim to have received word from all these places that the men have stopped work.

The situation in this city is more strained than at any time since the trouble began. At a meeting of the master steam fitters the organization decided that it would not grant the increase asked by the men, but many members of the organization made individual agreements with the men after the adjournment of the meeting.

With the plumbers it is to be a fight to a finish. Both sides have delivered ultimatums and say they are prepared to sink or swim on the propositions they have advanced.

Denver to Have a Gold Mining Convention.

Denver, May 6.—It has been decided by the Denver chamber of commerce, the Real Estate Exchange and the Mining Exchanges to have an international gold mining convention on July 7, 8 and 9 next. Governor Adams will be temporary president and the governors and lieutenant governors of several states and territories taking part in the convention as vice presidents. The basis of representation will be 30 delegates at large from each state and territory, to be appointed by the governor of each; five from each county, to be appointed by county commissioners; five from each city and one additional for each 1,000 population or fraction thereof, to be named by the mayor; five from each mining bureau, miners' union, Mining Exchange, board of trade, chamber of commerce and other commercial, labor and trade organizations.

Echoes of the Big Strike.

Chicago, May 6.—Judge Adams, in the circuit court, took up the case of the Manhattan Cement company against the city of Chicago. This is the first of a series of damage suits begun by railroads and other corporations to recover money for damages done to their property during the riots incident to the Debs strike in the summer of 1894. In itself, the Manhattan company's suit is a trifling matter, but when it is settled a precedent will be established, and according to this precedent will be settled in all probability suits of several railroads with terminals in the city, involving a total sum of about $1,500,000.

Excise Excitement In Kansas.

Topeka, May 6.—For the first time in ten years there are open saloons in this city, and, as a result, somewhat of a rebellion against the present state administration has been started. Within a week several saloons, with fine furniture, have been opened. Governor Leedy has been appealed to to compel the police commissioners to close the places, but so far has refused to take a hand in the matter. He says he appointed men on the board whom the Prohibitionists recommended and that it is not his policy to spy around to see if they are doing their duty.

Coal Going Up.

Philadelphia, May 6.—It is reported that the anthracite coal companies were arranging to advance prices 15 to 25 cents per ton on various sizes about June 1. The list that is now ruling has been supposed to rule for several months past. At the office of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company it was said that the talk of increase in rates in June would probably not be realized at the time set, but would likely take place a month later.

Cincinnati's Waterworks Scandal.

Cincinnati, May 6.—The board of administration has decided to take active steps toward getting at the bottom facts of the shortage in the waterworks department. It was decided to swear out a warrant for the arrest of Secretary Whetstone charging him with the embezzlement of $16,900 from the waterworks department. It is believed that further investigation will show Whetstone short over $20,000.

Miners' Strike Pending.

Chattanooga, May 6.—The miners' strike in eastern Tennessee and southern Kentucky is growing. The miners at numerous stations have gone out until 3,500 men are involved. At Coal Creek serious trouble is brewing. The men at the Black Diamond mine will also strike. A meeting of miners and operators will be held at Jellico Monday next to discuss the situation.

Bridge Contract Awarded.

Montreal, May 6.—The contract for the reconstruction of the Victoria bridge in this city has been let jointly to the Dominion Bridge company of Montreal and the Detroit Bridge and Iron company of Detroit. This will involve about $1,500,000.

FIGHTING IS RENEWED

Greeks Meet Turks In Battle at Pharsala and Velestino.

CONSTANTINE REDEEMING HIMSELF.

He Says the Hellenes Have Won—Schooner Bearing Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett Captured, With Seriously Compromising Documents.

London, May 6.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "Ten thousand Turks attacked the Greek position at Velestino. The firing ceased at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and it is evident that the Greeks have met with a great success.

"There has been great slaughter at Pharsala, where the battle is proceeding. The Crown Prince Constantine telegraphs as to the engagement at Velestino, 'With God's help our side has conquered.'"

The Athens correspondent of The Times says:

"Simultaneously with the attack at Velestino the Turks attacked the Greek outposts at Tartar, near Pharsala. It is said that both attacks have been repulsed by the Greeks. General Smolenski says, 'The brigade at Velestino is deluged with blood.'"

The Situation at Larissa.

Larissa, May 6.—There was a striking feature in last Friday's cavalry charge. Colonel Mahmoud Bey was fired upon by a Greek officer, who sent four bullets from his revolver in the direction of the Turkish officer. Mahmoud Bey then galloped ahead of his men and, with one fierce blow of his his sword, completely severed the Greek officer's head from his body.

The heat here is tremendous, but the troops are suffering without any complaint, and the doctors are greatly struck with the wonderful vitality of the wounded Turks. One Turkish soldier who was shot in the stomach remained in the ranks and afterward walked 10 miles.

Another Turkish soldier who was wounded twice in the legs and once in the shoulder continued attending to his duties for 24 hours, until an officer noticed his condition and ordered him to the hospital.

The wounded men recover with remarkable rapidity. This is attributed to the abstemious lives which the Turks enjoy. The sultan has sent a number of landaus for the use of the wounded.

Six divisions of Turkish troops have marched forward to Pharsala, and it is understood here that the porte has given Edhem Pasha a free hand.

An English Schooner Caught.

Athens, May 6.—The Greek fleet has captured at the entrance of the gulf of Salonika a schooner in which Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, the Anglo-American member of parliament for Sheffield, recently visited the Turks. The vessel will be taken to the Piræus for examination.

It is reported that documents of a seriously compromising character have been found on the schooner. These will be turned over to the government.

Expenses of the War.

London, May 6.—A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople says that the special and extraordinary expenses of the war department from March 13, 1896, to April 13 last were £3,500,000.

Movement of Turkish Warships.

Salonika, May 6.—It is officially announced that eight Turkish warships have left the Dardanelles and, after proceeding to the Cassandra peninsula, sailed for the island of Lemnos.

Protest Against Moslem Violence.

Athens, May 6.—The Greek government has protested to the powers against the acts of violence and rapine being committed by the Turks in Thessaly.

Decision In Excise Case.

Rome, N. Y., May 6.—In reply to an inquiry from Counselor F. L. Wager of this city H. H. Lyman, state commissioner of excise, writes that the Central hotel at Verona will be entitled to a license under the amended law. This hotel was recently closed by the proprietor because a mortgage upon the property is about to be foreclosed, and he thought the closing for a short period would preclude any one else getting a license. This would have been so under the excise law of 1896, but as the law was amended this year Mr. Lyman says the prohibition does not apply to any hotel that existed March 23, 1896, and which was within 200 feet of a church.

Greater New York Charter Signed.

Albany, May 6.—It was officially announced that Governor Black has affixed his signature to the Greater New York charter. The pen and penholder used by Governor Black in signing the charter were presented to United States Senator Thomas C. Platt and the blotter to H. C. Duval of the New York Central railroad. The pen was an ordinary gold pen which Governor Black had on hand in the executive mansion.

New Postmasters.

Washington, May 6.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed:

Pennsylvania—Imperial, J. C. Kyte; Macungie, H. L. Hertzog; Newhard, O. H. Somers; Strausstown, W. H. Henne.

Fell Between the Cars.

Springfield, Mass., May 6.—John J. Fitzgerald, aged 35, of Westfield, a brakeman on the New Haven and Northampton road, was killed by a freight in East Hampton. He fell between the cars and was so terribly mangled as to be unrecognizable. He leaves a widow and three children.

WHIST.

The match for the New Jersey State trophy was played at Montclair last night between the Montclair Club, holders, and the Elizabeth Chess and Whist Club, challengers, and resulted in a victory for Montclair by thirteen tricks.

The New Jersey players are making a great effort to get together a strong team for the match against New York on Saturday next at Newark. They hope to wipe out the crushing defeat of last month, when New York won by 44 tricks.

The Plainfield Athletic Club baseball team will play the Woodbridge "Browns" next Saturday afternoon at Woodbridge.

PLANS FOR NAVAL RESERVES.

Capt. Jaquss Arranging for the Summer Cruise.

Capt. William H. Jaques has been placed by Gov. Griggs in full charge of the plans for the summer encampment of the naval reserves and will enter into correspondence with the Navy Department at Washington in order to co operate with the Government officials who have the matter in charge. The Navy Department recently proposed that the naval militia of two, three or four States should concentrate at a given point, go into camp and receive instructions in shore and sea duty. At certain times to be decided upon, vessels of the navy are to take the naval reserves out to sea. They will thus have the benefit of drills on sea and on land. This plan was tried to a certain extent last year and proved successful.

It is possible that the New Jersey forces will be divided, the battalion of the west, which includes the Trenton division, going into camp with the reserves of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and the battalion of the east with those of New York and Connecticut.

Died After a Tedious Illness.

Mrs. Mary E. Williams, wife of Julius W. Williams, of 1,035 West Front street, died yesterday afternoon after a long and tedious illness from a cancer. She was 53 years, 4 months and 21 days old, and she leaves six children. Mrs. Williams was a member of the German Reformed church, and whenever able she always attended that church. Throughout her entire illness she was always patient, and when the time came for her to go, she was ready and willing. She will be greatly missed in the home where her loving presence was felt to such a large extent.

Avenue Opening Progressing.

The work of opening Watchung avenue is progressing favorably and there are no prospects of the work being stopped. It will be necessary in a few days to saw off a portion of the house which stands on the corner of Watchung avenue and Front street. With the opening of this street the name of Stiger's alley sinks into oblivion and no one in Plainfield regrets the loss in the least.

This standing committee is the highest power in the diocese next to the Bishop, and in the latter's absence can settle all questions, lacking only the power to confirm.

The last half-hour of the session was devoted to debate on other changes in the constitution and canons, and earnest discussion continued to the moment of adjournment.

Throughout yesterday morning's session, as on the previous afternoon, several of the younger members of the choir acted as pages, taking their stand about the desks of the secretary, Rev. Elkin K. Smith, and his assistant, Rev. Edward J. Knight.

GIFT OF ART WORKS.

Dr. Coles Presents Sculpture to Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, of Newark, whose liberality in gifts of objects of art to educational and public institutions has been frequently displayed, has presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art two handsome pieces of sculpture. One of these is the celebrated statue, "The Promised Land," in Carrara marble, executed by the American artist Franklin Simmons, in 1874. The plinth of the statue rests upon a paralleled pedestal of dark Spanish marble, and is inscribed with four lines of the mediæval Latin hymn, "Urbs Coelestes Sion," by St. Bernard of Cluny. The other gift is a Carrara marble copy, by P. Barzanti, of Florence, Italy, of the "Venus de Medici." The copy is considered to be equal in every respect to the copy in the gallery of the Duke of Devonshire. The gifts are made by Dr. Coles, as executor of the estate of his father, Dr. Abraham Coles, of Newark.

CHILDREN'S FAIR FOR HOSPITAL.

A Surgical Bed to be Purchased With the Profits of the Event.

A fair will be held to-morrow afternoon from two to seven o'clock at the residence of Master Effington Pinto, No. 731 West Eighth street. One of the interesting feature will be a punch and judy show, with performances every half hour. It is intended to purchase with the proceeds a surgical or Garfield bed for Muhlenberg Hospital, which apparatus will be a valuable addition to the equipment of the said institution. Miss Dorothy Fleming, Miss Charlotte Finch, and Masters Effington Pinto, Dudley Barrows and Elliot Barrows have been very active for some time preparing for this event, and their efforts deserve a hearty response from the many friends of the Hospital. Should Friday prove stormy, the sale will continue on Saturday afternoon.

WHERE HE WILL HURT NO ONE.

Peter Brunn Committed to the State Insane Asylum.

Peter Brunn, of the borough, who has been spending some time in the Somerset county jail, was examined recently as to his sanity by Dr. Carman, and the latter adjudged Brunn insane. As a result arrangements were made to take Brunn to the asylum at Trenton, and today Chief Marshal Wilson escorted him to Trenton. It is said that Brunn has been confined before for the same reason.

Frequently Brunn would break out and attempt to kill his family and drive them from home, and in each instance it was found necessary to arrest him and lock him up for a while. This sort of thing became tiresome and it was thought best to have an examination made to learn whether Brunn was of a sound mind. It was decided that he was not and the best place for him was at Trenton.

Girls and Boys Hard at it.

The new scheme of getting a bicycle for nothing that Sherwin, the shoe dealer, has opened up for the girls and boys to work for, is creating a good deal of rivalry among them. The girls and boys are hustling around and getting everyone that they can to buy their shoes of Sherwin and so help them to get the bicycle. Anyone buying anything at Sherwin's can ask to have the amount of the sale placed to the credit of the one that they want to help win the bicycle. It is no wonder that the girls and boys are taking so much interest in the contest, as it is a bicycle that anyone would be proud to own. It is an 1897 Crescent from the F. L. C. Martin Cycle Company and will be furnished to suit the one who wins it. If they are large enough to ride a man's or a woman's size wheel that is what they can have.

A Phenomenon at Metuchen.

The other day Frank Warner, of Metuchen, says he went to his well to draw a third pail of water. Looking down he was startled by a peculiar sound, seemingly coming from the bowels of the earth. Closer inspection proved that the noise came from the well, and on looking down the well Mr. Warner saw the water rushing in the form of an eddy and the stones and earth closing in at the bottom, filling the well until within four or five feet from the top, causing the water to overflow. The well was about forty feet deep, and had been in use for many years. The following day the well was dry, not a drop of water to be seen. The well was sunk in red shale soil.

Only Two Truths Out of Many Statements.

Yesterday's News published an alleged half-column report of the proceedings of the North Plainfield Board of Education, in which several very important matters were said to have been transacted, among them being the receipt of the resignation of Dr. A. D. Warde as superintendent. Of all the statements made there were just two that were not false. They were that there was a meeting of the Board, and that the graduating class was a small one this year. The rest of the story was the empty presumptions of the reporter, none of which were facts.

Alliance Special Services.

The Plainfield Branch of the Christian and Missionary Alliance hold three services today. A prayer and praise service was held this morning in the W. C. T. U. parlors on Watchung avenue. The meeting this afternoon was held at 321 East Front street and Miss Louise Shepard, of New York, made an interesting address and sang several selections This evening, at 7:45 o'clock, Rev. Stephen Merritt, of New York, a well known speaker, will address the meeting in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Watchung.

Lace Curtain on Fire.

A fire broke out yesterday in the home of Rev. Edward Love, East Ninth street, where a lace curtain caught fire from a burning gas jet. In an instant the whole curtain was in flames and the wood work and many bits of finery close by were also burning. Mr. Love, assisted by his son, Albert Love, discovered the fire quickly and extinguished it. Mr. Love estimates the damage to be about $50, and as everything is insured his loss will soon be adjusted.

Notwithstanding its being the smallest piano made by this firm it met all the requirements of the finest artist, Mr. Gilder, and in the most trying test of all, the carrying of the air by repeated notes proved itself to be best in action, as well as tone. Vanderbeek & Sattels are pushing this piano with excellent success.

KNELT ATHYMEN'S ALTAR

FASHIONABLE WEDDING PERFORMED IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The Edifice Beautifully Decorated for the Nuptial Event.—Rev. C. L. Goodrich Officiated.—A Beautiful Bridal Party.

Very happy was the opening ceremony in the wedded life of Miss Elfleda Alberti Whiting, of this city, and Rev. Charles Francis Taylor, of New York. Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, they were united in matrimony at the Congregational church before a gathering of friends and relatives, who came from far and near to witness the happy event.

Everything combined to make the ceremony a charming and impressive one. The church never looked more beautiful, while the day was a perfect one. Miss Whiting is the daughter of Mrs. E. Alberti Whiting, of East Sixth street, and has a large circle of friends in this city. Rev. Mr. Taylor, once a resident of Plainfield, but now of New York, has recently been called to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian church of Cranbury, N. J.

The wedding was held at the church of the bride, the Congregational church on West Seventh street, which was crowded with the many well-wishers of the couple some time before the bridal party entered the sanctuary.

The ceremony was to begin at 5 o'clock, and at that hour the groom was escorted to the front by the best man, his brother, Irving A. Taylor, of New York. Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the church, followed. A few minutes later, the organ pealed forth the beautiful Lohengrin wedding march and the bride entered at the side door, leaning on the arm of her grandfather, Thomas S. Alberti, of New Brunswick, and marched slowly to the front of the aisle.

The bride was attired in a rich gown of white chiffon over cream silk, with an old lace bolera which had formed part of her mother's wedding gown. She wore a long tulle veil fastened with sprays of lilies of the valley and a diamond brooch, the gift of the groom's father. She carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses.

Miss Elmma Titsworth, of New Brunswick, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and followed closely the bride. Her gown was of pale pink organdie. She carried a fancy basket of pansies, forget-me-nots and other flowers.

Following the flower girl was the maid of honor, Miss Edna Minita Howell, of Chester, Pa., another cousin of the bride. She was prettily gowned in pale green organdie trimmed with white lace and with a butterfly of brussels lace on the left shoulder. Her bouquet was of large pink roses.

Then came the four ushers, John C. Whiting, of New York, and William A. Whiting, of Plainfield, brothers of the bride, Edwin A. Howell, of Chester, Pa., a cousin of the bride, and Albert D. Taylor, brother of the groom.

The bride and groom met at the chancel and then the impressive Episcopal service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Goodrich. The bride was given away by her grandfather and then the ring was placed on her finger and the newly wedded couple knelt in front of the minister for his blessing.

Very softly had the sweet tones of the organ floated outward as the ceremony was in progress but, as Mr. and Mrs. Taylor started down the aisle, preceded by the flower girl who scattered flowers in the path of the approaching couple, the organ burst into triumphant strains and all was over. Mrs. B. T. Barnes was in her usual position as organist.

The newly married couple were followed by the maid of honor, the best man, the ushers and the near relatives of the bride. The bridal party went to Mrs. Whiting's home on East Sixth street, where the relatives gathered to congratulate the happy couple.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Palms were on every side and the platform was banked with them and other potted plants, while sprigs of apple blossoms were massed in the centre. An immense bouquet of white bride roses stood on either side of the pulpit.

After a family dinner, the couple drove to Netherwood station, followed by a party of relatives who gave them a rousing sendoff as they boarded a New York train. Rice, old shoes and all the accompaniments of a bridal tour were bestowed with a generous hand. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor went to New York and are expected to take a short trip up the Hudson river and then return to Plainfield, ere taking up their charge at Cranbury.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were William B. Taylor, father of the groom, Irving

ODD FELLOWS GATHER.

The Unwritten Work of the Order Exemplified for the Benefit of the Members—A Banquet Held After Lodge Work.

For the first time in five years a district meeting of District No. 5, I. O. O. F., was held in this city in the rooms of Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F., last evening. The meeting was called for the purpose of exemplifying the unwritten work of the order for the benefit of the members and to instruct them in the grand principles of the order. There was a large attendance from every encampment in the district and the meeting was eminently successful in every particular. All of the Grand Lodge officers were present as follows:

Grand Patriarch, W. H. Blake, Vineland; Grand High Priest, W. V. D. Roth, New Brunswick; Grand Senior Warden, J. M. Walling, Keyport; Grand Junior Warden, L. R. Blackford, Plainfield; Grand Marshal, E. C. Mulford, Trenton; Grand Representatives, J. Barton Smith, Newark; George N. Nutt, Trenton; Past Grand Patriarchs, Albert Bunn, German Valley; A. J. Doane, Jersey City.

District Grand Patriarch Charles Berry, of Elizabeth, presided over the meeting and made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. Remarks were also made by other prominent members present, and the exchange of ideas was very helpful. Every encampment in the district was represented, and as the various reports were called each showed a notable increase. All of the reports were encouraging and the prospects are that the coming year will be very successful.

Following the business of the evening a very fine banquet was served in the banquet hall, where the members enjoyed a feast of good things. It was admitted by all the visitors present that the meeting was one of the most successful ever held.

SIMPLE, BUT IMPRESSIVE.

Friends' Service Conducted at Mrs. Kirk's Funeral.

Very simple, but impressive, were the funeral services of the late Mrs. Elizabeth T. Kirk, which were held last evening from the home on West Seventh street. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Haynes, of New York, who is a member of the Friends' Society, of which Mrs. Kirk was also a member. He spoke from the text "Be Still and Know That I Am God," and from those words a deeply impressive talk was given. The next speaker was Aaron M. Powell, of this city, who dwelt on the words—"Sleeping and Waking." A beautiful picture was presented by Mr. Powell and the words of comfort and help spoken reached the heart of everyone present.

A beatiful tribute to the memory of the dead and her living son was the presence of the twenty-four members of the Grand Jury, who attended in a body.

There was a profusion of the choicest floral tributes, gifts from loving friends. Announcement was made at the close of the service that interment would be made Saturday at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson. The body will be removed in a special car to the place of interment.

New Members for German Society.

A meeting of the Gesang and Turn Verein was held last evening, at which time two members were elected and two propositions were received for membership. The committee on building did not make a report, owing to the fact that one of the committee had not seen the plans. It is expected that the plans will be considered at an early date, and it may be necessary to hold a special meeting to decide the matter. The other business transacted was of a routine nature.

Thrown From His Wheel.

While George Graves, of Liberty street, was returning from Metuchen last evening with the members of the Y. M. C. A. who were out for a run, he was thrown from his wheel, and sustained several cuts and bruises. The head of the wheel was not properly adjusted and this caused the accident. Mr. Graves was obliged to ride home very slow, and today he feels the effect of his fall very much.

Death of Melvin Millington.

The death of Melvid M. Millington, eldest son of former councilman and Mrs. Benjamin F. Millington, of No. 319 Manson place, occured today after a short illness of pneumonia. The deceased was employed at the Pond Tool Works and was in good health until Saturday last when he was taken ill with the above disease. Notice of funeral will be given later.

TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

A BRIEF MIND AND EYE VIEW OF MR. ACKERMAN'S LONG TOUR.

The Well-Known Plainfielder Carried His Audience Through Several Countries and Climes in an Interesting Manner.

Even Jules Verne's famous story was excelled at Y. M. C. A. hall, last evening, when Ernest R. Ackerman was able to take his hearers for a trip around the world in eighty minutes. It was done through the agency of the stereopticon, however, and the tourists found the trip a very pleasant one.

Mr. Ackerman has been around the world and many of the pictures shown were those taken on that trip. His personal recollections made the trip seem much more real and enabled him to give his hearers some real idea of the sights they saw on the white curtain. Mr. Ackerman proved to be a very entertaining speaker, although a newcomer on the lecture platform. The views were very fine and well repaid the visitor for coming.

First, the audience was taken to the Bermudas and through the other West Indian Isles. Pictures of beautiful scenery and natives were shown, with several views of the important cities. Trinidad, with its wonderful asphalt lake, was visited and the curious system of banking noticed, the money being converted into bracelets and fastened on the arms of the wife.

The travellers next came to the South American continent and saw something of Venezuela. There were a number of fine views of the famous Caracas railroad. On arriving at Caracas the capital and opera house were seen. Into Central America and Mexico the party went and saw much to interest. Many of the relics of the ancient Aztecs were noted in the vicinity of Mexico, particularly the Nochestingo ditch, twelve miles long.

Westward the journey continued, with a brief stop at the Sandwich Islands, and then on to Japan. The wonders of that country were seen and then China came under the traveller's eye. Ceylon was the next country and then India. There were a number of views of the famous Taj Mahal and several of the most noted of the Indian mosques.

Then Egypt, Italy and France followed in rapid succession and again the travellers sailed westward to land beneath the Stars and Stripes.

The stereopticon was handled by John Naegle.

More About Mr. Ackerman's Tour.

Ernest R. Ackerman will deliver a lecture on "A Tour Around the World" in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, May 20th. Tickets will be twenty-five cents. The lecture will be essentially different from the one Mr. Ackerman gave in the Y. M. C. A. hall, last evening, and will be illustrated with new views.

A DISTRICT JUDGE PROBABLE.

Justices of Peace Likely to be Done Away With in This City.

Among the many changes which are likely to occur in Plainfield, now that she is a second-class city, is the abolishment of all Justices of the Peace. It is understood that next year application will be made to Governor Griggs asking for a District Judge. If the Governor makes the appointment this will do away with the Justices. For some time past people interested in law matters have felt that there should be a District Judge in this city who could handle all cases that would naturally fall to the City Judge or the Justice. If Plainfield should secure a Judge it would be his duty to sit on the bench during stated hours every day, whether there were any cases or not. The point is that he would be within easy reach and would have all the necessary power to deal with court cases and he could dispose of them with more dispatch than the average Justice.

Such a change would no doubt cause much displeasure among the Justices, but it would be more metropolitan and would do away with a great deal of red tape. It is understood that nearly all of the lawyers in the city are in favor of such a change.

Degree to be Conferred.

A meeting of the Miantonomoh tribe of Red Men will be held this evening. The hunters' warriors and chiefs' degrees will be conferred. The entertainment committee will report that they have decided to hold an entertainment and dance in Red Men's hall on May 24th. The good and welfare committee has prepared an enjoyable programme for this evening to follow the business meeting of the tribe.

Alburtus Swalm, of West Front street, has secured the position of shipping clerk with J. A. Smith & Bro., grocers.

SUNG THEIR DIALOGUE.

A MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

The Story of Bobby Shaftoe Told in Melody by Clever Young People—Followed by Another Novel Amusement.

The literary and social committees of the Epworth League of Grace M. E. church arranged and gave a pleasing and novel entertainment in the church last evening. The forepart of the evening was devoted to the presentation of a musical dialogue, in three parts, entitled "Bobby Shaftoe." It was finely given and every character was taken with credit. The musical part was attractive and the audience showed its appreciation by frequent applause. Miss Mamie Steiner was the accompanist. The cast of the dialogue was as follows:

The second part of the entertainment was called a "Canary Tea," and to carry out the idea the room back of the main auditorium was very prettily decorated in yellow, while a number of canary birds announced their presence by warbling. Yellow bunting was used chiefly, and this, together with a choice display of yellow flowers, gave the room a bright and cheerful appearance.

Those who presided at the chocolate table were Mrs. John Valiant and Mrs. G. W. Smith, and they were assisted by Mrs. Most, Miss Alice Carroll, Miss Clara Steinar, Miss Elizabeth Valiant, Miss Della Voehl and Miss Mary Steiner. At the table where coffee was served was Mrs. H. K. Carroll, and she was assisted by Miss Marguerite Schuck, Miss Grace Carroll and Miss Elizabeth Kirch. In addition to chocolate and coffee, wafers and bon-bons were served to all.

The object of the affair was to raise $35 for the benefit of the church to help meet a certain indebtedness, and it is thought that the desired amount will be realized. The whole affair was a great success, and those who assisted are to be congratulated.

PLAINFIELD TURNED OUT WELL.

Largest Delegation at the First Y. M. C. A. Cycling Run.

The initial run of the Northern New Jersey Y. M. C. A. Cycle League was held last evening. The destination was Rahway. The run proved a great success and about a hundred riders from the different Y. M. C. A.'s of this part of the State gathered in the Y. M. C. A. building in Rahway and spent a pleasant evening. The night was a good one for wheeling and the roads were in good condition although a trifle dusty.

This is the second year of the League and the prospects for the coming season are very bright. Plainfield was well represented at the run by a delegation of nineteen, under the command of Captain Thomas A. Cuming. They left the association building in this city and went out the Springfield road to the branch to Westfield and thence across to Westfield and Rahway. Plainfield had next to the largest delegation, Elizabeth having three more. The other associations represented were Summit, New Brunswick, Passaic, Newark, Morristown and Madison.

The guests were well entertained by the Rahway association. A quartette was present from Rutger's College and there was a local musical club which gave several selections. A bountiful collation was served of which all partook and then started on their homeward ride.

The Naval Reserve.

Plainfield is now pretty well represented in the New Jersey Naval Reserve. Dr. M. S. Simpson, in charge of the hospital corps of the Reserve, ranks as a commissioned officer, then there are two non-commissioned officers, eight petty officers and four seamen. They are divided among the three divisions of the Battalion of the East. Another commissioned officer has been added to the list. At a meeting of the Third or Engineering Divison of the Battalion of the East, Walter B. Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, was elected ensign of the division. The division is composed mainly of the students of Stevens Institute, one of which is Rittenhouse. He is very popular among the members of the division and was elected to the office without opposition.

FOUGHT TO ESCAPE LAW

JOHN BENFORD GAVE POLICEMAN TOTTEN A TUSSLE.

He is a Well-Known Character in the Police Court and is Wanted This Time for Appropriating a Fence.

A fugitive from justice, John Benford, took refuge in his own home on Paradise alley, last evening, and when surrounded by police he made a vigorous resistance and tried to brain Patrolman Totten with a large wooden bowl. The officers finally arrested him and carried him away from his weeping mother and locked him up in the station house. This morning, City Judge De Meza gave him a sentence which will result in a three months' visit in the county jail.

John Benford is a well-known character of the alley. Four times has he appeared before City Judge De Meza on various charges, usually for "jumping" coal trains. There is something the matter with John. The police think that his mind is affected. At any rate, he acts very queerly at times, but only becomes violent when the police are after him. His escapades have become famous; he thinks nothing of jumping from the window, taking sash and all, to escape the blue coats.

Of late somebody has been going to the rail fence around the property of Henry Hanson, on Berckman street, and carrying away the fence. The crime was laid to Benford's door, but the evidence was lacking. Several days ago John was seen to help himself to the fence and take it home to cut up for fire wood. A warrant was then issued for his arrest.

Last night Roundsman Frederickson and Patrolmen Totten and Fraleigh went up to Paradise alley to serve the warrant. John is the son of "Maggie" Benford, famous in the city court annals as one of the leading characters of the alley. She was home and told the officers that her son was upstairs. She then offered them a lamp so that they might search. Now this was so contrary to her usual custom that the police suspected something at once. A closet door was seen to move and Totten investigated to find the recreant John crouched in the corner. He was was dragged forth by the pedal extremity and retaliated by kicking the officer in the chest. The other officers started to take a hand in the game when John made a dive for the table.

On the table lay a wooden pudding bowl, large and heavy. John seized the bowl and waved it over his head, then let it drive for Totten's head. Totten ducked the missile and jumped at the culprit while the bowl grazed the hair of Fraleigh's mustache and crashed against the wall. Totten and Benford were struggling on the floor when the other police came to their officer's assistance and secured the prisoner. He was taken to the station house and locked up.

Maggie Benford was on hand this morning, bright and early with a morning meal for her son. She talked to him but the young man turned away in disgust. Then she pleaded that the Judge might be merciful to him and not take away her only support. As it seems that she supports him most of the time, the Judge ordered her to be still.

Benford was not inclined to talk but hung his head morosely and paid little attention to the trial. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and go to jail for sixty days. As he cannot pay the fine, it will amount to an imprisonment of three months. It is the belief of the Judge that the jail authorities should commit Benford to Morris Plains Asylum.

JACOB KIRKNER HONORED.

Made an Honorary Member of Clinton Commandery in Brooklyn.

On January 27th, of this year, Eminent Sir Jacob Kirkner, of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., was accorded the distinguished honor of being elected an honorary member of Clinton Commandery, No. 14, K. T., of Brooklyn. This Commandery, though not quite so old, is the equal of Palestine Commandery, of New York. In recognition of this honor Mr. Kirkner was presented last Wednesday evening with a beautifully engrossed honorary membership certificate in album form. On this occasion about thirty members of Clinton Commandery were in attendance at a meeting of Trinity Commandery, in this city, and Eminent Sir J. C. Reed, of Clinton Commandery, made the presentation of the certificate. The response made by Mr. Kirkner was evidence of a feeling of appreciation for the very high honor bestowed by so worthy a Commandery.

CAPTURE OF AN ASSASSIN

C. G. SHEPARD TELLS HOW LINCOLN'S SLAYER WAS CAUGHT.

He Was One of Those Who Assisted in Taking Booth Into Custody—His War Experience One of Excitement.

The audience that filled Vincent chapel last evening was one of the most appreciative and patriotic that ever assembled in Plainfield. The war story, including the capture of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Abraham Lincoln, was the feature of the evening, and the speaker, Cyrus G. Shepard, of the 16th N. Y. Cavalry, was one of the most entertaining that has visited this city in a long time.

The platform and the wall directly back of it was very appropriately decorated with large American flags, with here and there an arrangement of flowers. Rev. Dr. Snodgrass made a few remarks at the opening, and said that the women of the church, under whose auspices the entertainment was given, had very wisely selected Dr. Whitney to preside, as he had known Mr. Shepard had been secured to come to Plainfield and give his lecture. Dr. Whitney introduced Miss Clara Northup, of New York, who rendered a beautiful piano solo. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Whitney.

Dr. Whitney made a few appropriate remarks by way of introduction, after which Mr. Shepard was received with hearty applause. He spoke in substance as follows:

"In the spring of 1863 I, together with two schoolmates, sat in a school room in Franklin Academy, in the central part of New York State, and we were reading the call of Abraham Lincoln for 300,000 men. After school we three boys decided that we would enlist, and we did so, becoming members of Spague's Light Cavalry. I shall never forget that time. It took me two hours to reach home and tell my mother what I had decided to do, and, when I did, she replied "The Government wants men, not boys." I had made up my mind, however, and on April 16th, 1863, I enlisted as a soldier. That memorable day as I left my home I shall never forget my feelings. I had gone but a short distance from my home when I looked back. There stood my mother in the doorway. There were tears in her eyes as she bade me an affectionate good-bye.

"After three months of drilling and preparation we were ordered to the front. The first battle we were engaged in was one never to be forgotten. If I could have escaped easily I would have done so. I was really frightened, as one after another was shot down in front of me. As I sat mounted on my horse my feet, legs, hands and teeth chattered so that I was unable to keep them still. If anyone had asked me my name I doubt whether I could have told it. When the fighting was over I was heartily glad."

Throughout Mr. Shepard's talk he related a number of amusing incidents in connection with scouting expeditions and picket duty, and at times the audience would burst forth into applause. The latter part of the lecture was devoted to the capture of Booth, and in the company numbering twenty-five was Mr. Shepard, who assisted in the capture. The story at related by Mr. Shepard was somewhat as follows:

"It was on the evening of Good Friday, April 14th, 1865, that Abraham Lincoln attended Ford's Theatre, in Washington, and witnessed the performance of "Our American Cousin." The President occupied a private box, and in some way John Wilkes Booth, who was an actor, had arranged to enter the theatre from the rear. He crept stealthily along until he reached the box where the President sat, and suddenly he placed the revolver in position and sent a bullet on its deadly mission. In an instant the slayer rushed through the box and leaped therefrom to the stage. In doing so his foot caught in the American flag, which draped the box, and he fell on the stage. As a result a small bone in the leg was fractured. As the assassin left the theatre he exclaimed: 'Sic Semper Tyrannis,' which means, 'Ever So to Tyrants.' How he was ever able to leave the place without being caught is a mystery.

"A short distance from Washington we were in camp, and early Saturday morning we heard the call 'boots and saddles,' and 'to arms.' The sad news was imparted to us and we were ordered to join other cavalry in an attempt to catch the slayer of the President. Later, twenty-five of our number, of which I was one, were ordered to Washington and told to be ready to move at a moment's notice. At the proper time we were sent down the Potomac river in charge of Lieutenant Dorrity. Just previous to this time three rebels were about to cross a

PRINCE FALLS BACK.

Constantine Compelled to Abandon Headquarters at Pharsala.

GREEK ARMY RETIRES TO DOMOKOS.

General Smolenski Forced by Advancing Turks to Leave His Position at Velestino—More Talk of Mediation by the European Powers.

Athens, May 7.—The Greek forces under Prince Constantine have abandoned Pharsala and fallen back upon Domokos, about 12 miles farther southward.

It appears that the great massing of Turkish troops and their movements led to a suspicion that an attempt was being projected to surround Pharsala. A council of war was held in the Greek camp, and it was decided to retire to Domokos, which was reached at dawn.

The Greeks promptly occupied strong positions on the mountain range overlooking Domokos.

During Wednesday night the Turks continued to execute movements with a view of outflanking Pharsala, and only discovered at daybreak Thursday morning that the Greek army had retired.

The retreat began at 3 o'clock in the morning, and the occupation of the new positions at Domokos was finished at 10. The Greeks buried their dead and conveyed 88 wounded, including five officers, to Lamia.

General Smolenski has retreated slowly and in orderly fashion to Almyro, and Volo has been almost completely evacuated.

General Smolenski wired to Athens for instructions, and the government advised him to retreat. He remained at Velestino all night and was attacked by the Turks at 6 the next morning. Hard fighting continued until late in the afternoon, when the firing ceased, and General Smolenski retired to Almyro, where he took up new positions.

Powers Will End the War.

Austria and Germany have joined the other powers in proposing mediation between Greece and Turkey, Russia, England, France and Italy having previously begun negotiations through their ministers here looking to a cessation of hostilities.

A collective note will be handed to the Greek and Turkish governments within the next 12 hours, calling upon them to cease hostilities on the distinct assurance that the powers will undertake the final solution of pending difficulties.

Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, whose schooner was detained by the Greek fleet on the assumption that papers found on board of her, after his interview with the Turks, were of a compromising character, has arrived here. He was met at Piræus by M. Ralli, the premier, who conducted him to the British legation and requested Mr. Egerton, the British minister, not to allow him to leave the legation before quitting Athens in order to prevent a demonstration.

It has been decided to send Colonel Vassos to Thessaly, and Colonel Stratos, with a new general staff, will replace Colonel Manos in Epirus. Major Constantinides will be sent to Domokos.

Two transport vessels have been sent to Volo to remove the few remaining inhabitants. The ammunition, stores and food supplies have already been taken to Stylis.

It is rumored that the few wounded Greek soldiers who were left at Pharsala have been butchered by the Turks.

The Battle Before Pharsala.

London, May 7.—The Daily Mail's correspondent with the Turkish forces at Pharsala, says:

"Wednesday's battle was most sublime as a spectacle and the most decisive of the entire war. It was not intended at the beginning that the fight should be a regular pitched engagement, but on the arrival of Edhem Pasha at the outposts a furious firing began.

"The weather was cool and the sky somewhat cloudy after a thunderstorm. The village of Pharsala could be seen huddled, as it were, under a line of low peaked hills. Higher and round about were black hills, rising behind the others, while between us and the village ran the small stream known to the ancients as the Raipeus, crossed by a bridge at the railway station.

"Between the stream and the village were the Greeks, in an excellent position, well defended by earthworks. Their advance line consisted of two brigades and their reserve of two half brigades, altogether about 20,000 men. As against these were 50,000 Turks.

"The artillery began the engagement, the Greek parctice being much better than usual, but after about two hours they began to retire across the river. This was a great mistake, as they were thus inclosed between the river and the mountains, with no room to deploy.

"The sight was superb. In many places the Greeks fought with the courage of despair. The great black masses, forming the rear guard to hold the bridge, covered the whole rich, green plain. And the endurance and dash of the Turks was magnificent too. I reached the battlefield with a regiment whose men immediately began to run forward, dancing under fire and shouting like children when they saw the enemy. The Greeks repulsed them vigorously and followed up the repulse.

"The Turks had formed in a semicircle of thundering batteries and crackling battalions. The division on the extreme left tried to cut off the retreat to Domokos, while the remainder of the force flung itself upon Pharsala.

"The battle was but little like the battles described in books. There was no firing of volleys, no bayonet assault, no rush, no cheering, but only a steady, leisurely advance into the open in perfect order. There was some individual firing, and the soldiers shouted 'Allah, Allah!' till the constant repetition swelled into one heavy, monotonous shout, like the 'Hear, hear!' of the house of commons. I saw some men suddenly fling up their hands and fall face downward, but the Greek fire in the main was ineffective.

"Before 5 o'clock the last village north of the river had been taken. Then the village of Vasili and the intrenchments near the river were stormed, with considerable loss to the Turks, and the battle ceased at nightfall, the flanking division having established itself behind the Greeks and cut off the best line of retreat to Athens."

A dispatch from Constantinople says that Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in chief in Thessaly, has sent the following dispatch to the ministry of war from Pharsala:

"The imperial army, while marching to Pharsala, met the enemy in the villages of Soubathi, Soulodji, Turcomanli and Lamia. After a severe engagement, lasting fifteen hours, we dislodged them from their positions and advanced to Pharsala, which the imperial army has just victoriously occupied."

More Fighting In Epirus.

London, May 7.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Pallas says:

"The Greek battalion here attacked the Turks near Filippiada. The Greeks fought well, but their ammunition was soon expended, and they were compelled to retire. Officers and men in Epirus are bitterly displeased with the headquarters staff, and lately the soldiers have been plundering their compatriots. A very unsatisfactory condition of things exists."

Renewal of Triple Alliance.

Rome, May 7.—The pact of the powers constituting the triple alliance has been renewed for a period of six years. The right to withdraw, under the terms of the original agreement, expired on May 6, and Germany has succeeded in persuading Italy not to exercise the right of withdrawal.

The Powers to Occupy Athens.

Berlin, May 7.—It is reported here that the powers have decided to land troops at Athens to protect the dynasty, Greece having declined the proffered mediation and Turkey being willing to negotiate on easy terms if Crete is evacuated by the Greeks.

CAPTURED IN VIENNA.

New York, May 7.—The police authorities of White Plains believe that a man they have long been looking for is now under arrest in Vienna. He is wanted on a charge of murder and burglary. The story from Vienna is that a certain George Hochmeister leased a hotel in that city a month or two ago and then decamped with a woman supposed to be his wife and left behind him some 40,000 guelden in debts. He was pursued, captured and brought back to Vienna, where he now is.

According to all descriptions furnished by the Austrian authorities, Hochmeister is supposed to be Peter James, who on the night of Aug. 19 last, in company with two other men, broke into the store of Walker Adams & Co., at Bedford Station, Westchester county. They were discovered, and a sanguinary encounter ensued, during which Mr. Adams was killed.

James Jenkins and one of his confederates were captured after they had been severely wounded. Jenkins soon died of his wounds. John Clare, the third burglar, was arrested, but he, too, died before his trial. On Oct. 27 last, James escaped from White Plains jail, and until now he has not been heard from.

Until last August James kept two bicycle stores, one in Long Island City and the other in Brooklyn. It is now claimed by the police that these stores were headquarters for a desperate gang of burglars.

Could Not Save Their Friend.

Brockville, Ont., May 7.—Edward Coleman, township clerk, and two friends named Burns and Austin, while out rowing in a small boat on the St. Lawrence river were swamped. Burns and Austin reached shore, dragging Coleman with them. They held on to Coleman's hand and hair for some time, but were unable to raise him out of the swift rushing waters, and were forced to let him go to his death.

PAINLESS

DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

A GREAT BANKRUPT SALE.

Recollect, these are sacrifice prices, and will last but twenty days longer. A great opportunity for money-saving clothing buyers, the very finest tailor made clothing in the world will be sold at retail for less than one-half the prices that other stores ask for inferior and commoner goods. As this is such a rare occurrence, we respectfully invite all intending purchasers of clothing to give this their personal attention and call early, as the choicest goods will most naturally go first. The wholesalers must be paid in cash, and this elegant stock of fine clothing will consequently be sacrificed at an enormous loss. We will sell you fine spring suits, trousers, coats and vests and spring overcoats, handsomely and elegantly made equal to best merchant tailor work, for less than the actual cost of labor in making these fine garments. Read the prices for fine clothing, and remember that we guarantee to furnish the goods just as cheap as they are advertised.

Men's tweed spring suits, 33 to 42 size, that are sold all over town at $10 and $12, are sold here at $4.75; if not satisfied with these suits in any way, bring them back and get your money. Men's fine clay diagonal silk and satin-lined dress cutaway suits worth $22, at $8 50. We offer 500 light-colored suits of mixed cheviots and cassimeres at $3.50, $4.50, $5.50 and $6.50, worth easily $12 to $18. Durable men's pants for 95 cents. Cheviot and cassimere pants, light or dark colors, $1.10, $1.20, $1.30 and $1.50; worth double. Fine double breasted black cheviot suits, handsomely made, at $5.90, that other stores ask $15 for. Elegant Prince Albert and dress cutaway suits, satin-lined and very fine imported cloth, wholesale prices from $20 to $30, sale price $9.60. Extra fine dress pants, over 200 styles in stripes, silk mixtures, neat checks and cords, at $1.50, $1.65, $2 and $2.24; worth from $4.50 to $8. Bring this ad with you, and if not shown everything here advertised we will pay your carfare. Boys' neat double-breasted suits, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.24; worth three times as much. Young men's single or double-breasted blue or black cheviot suits at $3.50; regular price, $10. Light-colored cassimere suits for youths, $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50; easily worth double. Extra fine dress suits for young men and boys at $5.90; actually valued at $13 and $16. Bring anything back not entirely satisfactory within ten days. Men's working suits, $2; worth $7.50. Men's cassimere sack suits, in light or dark colors, $4; worth $12. Men's all-wool sack or cutaway diagonal suits at $6; worth $15. Men's blue flannel suits at $4.25; worth $10; best indigo dye pure wool, absolutely fast colors, Grand Army and uniform suits for $7.50; worth $15. Men's imported covert cloth spring overcoats in very latest style and shape, worth from $15 to $18, at $6.90. Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted eelin prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at L. The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. THE SUNDRY CIVIL ACT

After the Amendments the Senate Passes Appropriations.

CLEVELAND'S ORDER IS NULLIFIED

The Clause Revoking the Establishment of Forest Reservations Aggregating Seventeen Million Acres Agreed to—Reed Again Indorsed.

Washington, May 7.—The senate has agreed to an amendment to the sundry civil bill revoking the proclamation of President Cleveland made on Feb. 22 last establishing forest reservations aggregating 17,000,000 acres in the far western states and territories. The debate brought out much criticism of Mr. Cleveland's order, Senators Pettigrew, Wilson, Turner, Rawlins and White speaking against it. Mr. Gray of Delaware defended the course of the president, pointing out that it was the result of an inquiry authorized by congress and conducted by the National Academy of Science.

Mr. Allison endeavored to have the amendment restricted so as to leave the question of revocation to the president, but he was defeated on a yea and nay vote of 14 to 32. Mr. Gorman made a point of order against the amendment, but this being submitted to the senate was defeated by a vote of 23 to 25. The amendment was then agreed to without division.

Another amendment agreed to provides for a continuance of the investigation of the condition of the fur seals in Bering sea.

The sundry civil bill was then passed. It carries an aggregate of $53,000,000.

During the session Mr. Bacon of Georgia introduced a joint resolution deprecating war and announcing the policy of the government in favor of arbitration. The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

House Again Supports Speaker.

The Republicans of the house followed up their recent indorsements of Speaker Reed's policy of postponing the appointment of committees by establishing the policy of biweekly meetings through the adoption of a resolution reported by the committee on rules providing that the house shall meet on Mondays and Thursdays until further action.

On this resolution the Democrats and Populists were solidly arrayed against the Republicans, but it was adopted by a vote of 101 to 83 after a partisan debate.

The opposition, led by Mr. Bailey of Texas, was based on the ground that the programme would prevent consideration of the bankruptcy bill, and Mr. Bailey attempted to substitute a resolution for taking up the Nelson bill on May 24, which the speaker ruled out of order.

The speakers were Dalzell of Pennsylvania, Cannon of Illinois, Grosvenor of Ohio and Walker of Massachusetts, Republicans, and Bailey of Texas, McMillin of Tennessee, Clark of Missouri and Wheeler of Alabama, Democrats. The resolution adopted will relieve the Republicans from the necessity of keeping a quorum in town and cut off the possibility of daily sessions being forced by the Democrats.

For Annexation of Hawaii.

Mr. King (Dem.) of Utah introduced a resolution for the annexation of Hawaii. The resolution declares that citizens of the United States, some of whom reside upon the islands, have extensive financial interests there; that many of the citizens were formerly citizens of the United States and by the ties of affinity and contiguity are indissolubly bound to this government; that the rights and liberties of the Hawaiian people are guaranteed by its constitution, but that the perpetuity of the republic is not assured by reason of efforts to secure European control or Asiatic domination. The resolution declares that the territory may be received into the union whenever the government of Hawaii shall cede it to the United States, the president of the United States to receive it by proclamation and congress to make laws for its government.

It is provided that the laws for the exclusion of Chinese shall apply to the islands, and no Chinese there be permitted to enter the United States. The appointment of a commission of three by the president to act with a like commission of the Hawaiian government is provided for.

Large Meteor Presented to Yale.

New Haven, May 7.—A valuable addition to Peabody museum of Yale has been made by the class of '57. It is a meteoric stone and weighs 65 pounds. It was found on April 10, 1894, by H. T. Martin, in Smoky Hill river, Gove county, Kan., 15 miles from Jerome. Mr. Martin was engaged in hunting fossils at the time. Exhaustive chemical and microscopic examinations will be made of the stone soon. This is twice the size of the hitherto largest meteor at Yale. The British museum has only two stones that are as large.

To Tax Wood Pulp.

Toronto, May 7.—It is stated here on good authority that the Dominion government will place an export duty on pulp wood before June 1. The conservative government would have done so had it not been for the opposition of the lumbermen. The latter are now a unit in favor of the duty.

Business Trouble In Canada.

Toronto, May 7.—The James Morrison Manufacturing company, the biggest concern of its kind in Canada, is in financial difficulties. The liabilities are placed at $210,000, the greater part of which is owed to the Traders' bank. The assets nominally equal the liabilities.

Excise Ruling.

Albany, May 7.—Excise Commissioner Lyman ruled that an all night certificate issued to the holder of a liquor tax certificate only authorizes traffic in the place specified in the existing certificate or in a place to which such certificate has been lawfully transferred.

The Porter Is Speedy.

Newport, R. I., May 7.—The torpedo boat Porter, Lieutenant Fremont in command, arrived here from New York in a record breaking run of six hours and ten minutes. The run is more noteworthy from the fact that the boat was under only two-thirds power.

GREAT IS NEW JERSEY.

New Jersey is lying low and keeping mighty quiet. The New York State investigation of trusts and combinations resulted in a general scare, and when these big concerns talked of moving, the New Jersey Legislature straightway passed laws even more lenient than those now in force. When one of the large dry goods concerns threatened to move over there, New Jersey smiled and said: "We shall be glad to welcome you." The progressive inheritance tax is a progressive blessing to New Jersey, which, with outstretched arms, welcomes each New York millionaire, as he builds his country seat and gains a residence in that State. Ex-President Cleveland has foresight and so he takes up his residence in New Jersey. I do not know how it is in Pennsylvania, but just now New Jersey is doing a roaring trade in millionaires and if the New York brewers and the New York agriculturalists lock arms in a deadly struggle, the beer and cheese business of New Jersey may take an unheard-of boom. It is indeed an ill wind that blows nobody any good.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

FOR REED.

The Bound Brook Chronicle is advocating the nomination of Charles A. Reed for Congress when Congressman Howell's term comes to an end. The suggestion strikes us as a wise one. Somerset is entitled to the nomination next time, and who has she better fitted for the office than Senator Reed? His term in the Senate will end that year, so that he would have nothing to interfere with his going to Washington. Senator Reed made a good record in the Senate last winter, and he would, undoubtedly, get the support of the people of this county should he want the Congressional nomination. He also has numerous friends in Middlesex and Monmouth, who would gladly work for him. Then let it be Congressman Reed—Unionist Gazette.

Threats by a Woman.

Mrs. Lucy Jenkins, of Charles Jenkins, of Race street, was arrested last evening by Chief Marshal Wilson on a complaint made by Theodore Reading, of Race street, who charged that Mrs. Jenkins used abusive language and threatened to do him bodily injury. This morning at 8 o'clock Mrs. Jenkins was arraigned before Justice Thomas and after hearing the evidence committed the woman to the county jail for fifteen days in default of a $10 fine. Constable VanHorn escorted the woman to the county seat.

Costly Bicycle Riding.

Two bicycle offenders had justice meted out to them by City Judge DeMeza, this morning. Harry Hart did not have any bell on his wheel and paid a fine of one dollar for the offence. John Apgar was riding on the sidewalk in the West End and paid a fine of $3 for his little ride. Albert Clark was ordered to appear before the Judge tomorrow for riding his wheel without a bell.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Moore Gould, of Newark, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Force, of LaGrande avenue, have returned home.

Summer Business.

The woman who wishes to do her summer shopping with as little trouble as possible will find White's store to her liking. Never in this wonderful store's history has it been so well prepared to supply every wish as it is now. The millinery department is filled with charming hats, flowers and ribbons, and it does not take a well-filled purse to have them, as the prices are remarkably low. In the wash goods stock there are pretty dimities, ginghams, cambrics, figured swisses; and those new imported organdies are said to be the prettiest in town. CAPTURE OF AN ASSASSIN ferry when two men appeared in a wagon.

"They alighted and informed Major Ruggles, who was one of the three, that they were rebels and wanted to get back to join their army Major Ruggles said he would help them. Just before the two men left one of them said: 'I am John Wilkes Booth, the slayer of Abraham Lincoln, and I am worth $150,000 to anyone who will deliver me to the authorities.' Major Ruggles was very much surprised, but did not care to accept blood-money, and he assisted Booth and Harold, his partner, across the river to a house occupied by a man named Garrett. It was very soon afterward that our company tracked the two men and we were informed that the man at the ferry was in possession of the information we wanted. Lieut. Dorrity had with him a photo. of Booth and he showed it to the ferryman and at the point of a revolver made the latter tell where Booth and his companion were. He did so and we found the two hiding in a barn on the premises occupied by Garrett. We surrounded the house and barn and told Garrett what we wanted. A son of the latter told us that the two men were in the barn. We went to the barn and our lieutenant called to the men and told them if they did not come out the barn would be burned. They showed no disposition to come out and the barn was set on fire. It was then that the two in hiding made their appearance. Every man was given orders not to shoot, but Austin Corbett, of our number, saw Booth make an attempt to shoot Lieut. Dorrity. Quick as a flash Corbett pulled his revolver and a bullet was sent into the body of the cowardly slayer. It entered the neck in about the same place as the bullet which was used to kill Abraham Linboln, and like the latter he lived until 7 o'clock the following morning. His body was taken to Washington and buried in the jail yard."

Mr. Shepard spoke of an article published recently in McClure's Magazine telling the above story. He said that the story was false and misleading. It gave the credit of the capture to a man who should not have it, and he thought that it was especially cruel in view of the fact that only a few weeks ago Lieut. Dorrity died, and he could not defend the unjust wrong which was done him.

At the close of the lecture nearly everyone remained and met Mr. Shepard personally.

Mrs. William Hunt, of Mayville, Chautauqua county, New York, paid her cousin, Mrs. A. W. Warden, a flying visit a few days ago.

T. J. Todd has had his store wired for electric lighting, and last night the current was turned on. The effect was most pleasing and satisfactory to Mr. Todd.

Freeholder Firman Gise is urging along his garden truck and it looks fine to say the least. He expects to eat green peas from his own vines before the Fourth of July.

W. H. Carman made a fine wild goose capture at Warrenville a few days ago which he is going to add to his fine case of collection of birds. It weighed eight pounds.

The crushed stone which was recently spread along the main thoroughfare, and for a time proved an eye sore to bicyclists, is now worn down smooth and even with the roadbed.

About fifty ruralites were in town last evening, expecting to see the Kickapoo Indians. They were not aware of the fact that the Indians would not be here for the next week or ten days.

Mr. Pettit's handsome new summer cottage in course of erection on Front street is nearing completion. Mr. Pettit is connected with the Tidewater Oil Refining Company, and he has chosen Dunellen as his abiding place.

A. A. Parker shipped yesterday one of his high-bred Indian game roosters to Charles W. Chapin, Lebanon Lake, Sullivan county, N. Y. The bird weighed 10½ pounds, and Mr. Chapin intends to keep it on his private game preserve.

A regular meeting of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association will be held on the 17th inst., for the reception of dues. A special meeting was called for last evening, when it is understood arrangements were made for letting out some money.

An Italian and a couple of performing bears furnished a heap of amusement for the small boys—and the big ones, too—on the streets, yesterday afternoon. The trio made a tour of the town, stopping at short intervals to exhibit, and then took the back road in the direction of North Plainfield.

At the entertainment of the Daughters of Liberty, held at Friendship Hall, Thursday evening, April 29th a resident of Dunellen lost an open face gold watch (valued as a souvenir) by the owner. A suitable reward will be given if the finder will leave it at the residence of A. W. Warden.

NEW MARKET.

Postmaster Day received his commission last Saturday and will take charge of the office in a few days. It is his intention to move the office to the other side of the track and a decision from Washington on the question of location is awaited. The deputy will be Miss Lizzie Day, who has been sworn in and is receiving instructions from the present incumbent in the art of stamping, sorting and making up of the mails.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Miss Jennie Frentz is visiting her sister in Plainfield for a few days.

The marionette entertainment advertised to take place in Excelsior hall, a night or two ago, was a fizzle, pure and simple. The ticket seller for the show gathered in about 70 cents and Edward Hand was fortunate enough to collect something like 30 cents on account of rent of hall.

A dramatic entertainment will be given by the Choir Guild of All Saints' P. E. church in the Fanwood Club House, this evening. WESTFIELD

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

ARRANGEMENTS TO CELEBRATE IN WESTFIELD THIS YEAR.

For Several Years the Patriotism of Westfield People Has Been Dormant, But the Firemen Have Stirred it Up.

It is probable that Westfield will celebrate the Fourth of July in true old-fashioned style this year, as was the custom every year for half a century prior to 1894. In that year the town celebrated its centennial on a grand scale, with a large parade, floods of oratory, and an expensive display of fireworks. It was estimated that there were five thousand visitors present. This grand occasion had one undeniable effect, however. It seemed to exhaust the patriotism of the town. Certain it is that Westfield has had no Fourth of July celebration of a public character since then. Every citizen has been content to stay at home and shoot off his own firecrackers, in blissful disregard of what his neighbors might be doing. This year, however, promises to put an end to the town's unpatriotic lethargy. A movement to reinstate the old-time public celebration was begun under promising auspices last Monday evening when the Bucket and Engine Company appointed a committee of arrangements to prepare plans and solicit subscriptions for a rousing celebration. The committee, which is composed of C. F. W. Wittke, Geo. B. Miller, Charles Cox, Elmer E. Love and Cyrus P. Wilcox, held a preliminary meeting in the company's rooms on Wednesday evening, and elected C. P. Wilcox, chairman; Charles Cox, Secretary, and C. F. W. Whittke, treasurer. A financial committee was also appointed to enter upon the work of collecting funds. The celebration as outlined at present will include foot races, obstacle, wheelbarrow and potato races, a tub race in Clark's lake, pole climbing, clog dancing and pie eating contests, and a display of fireworks at night. The financial committee have already collected about $100.

William Dallas, of Prospect street, is on a business trip to Canada.

E. J. Wessels will take an extended European trip this summer, leaving June 1st.

George W. Wrennick is now employed as agent by the Bard Cycle Company.

Mrs. E. Bennett, of New York, is the guest of Mrs. S. S. Mapes, of Prospect street.

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McDougall, of Mountain avenue, are ill with scarlet fever.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church held an interesting meeting in the church parlors, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. James Bragg, of Easton, Pa., who has been the guest for a week of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Ruth, returned home yesterday.

H. S. Manning has resigned his position with L. R. Schofield, to assume the management of Charles Clark's gents' furnishing establishment.

Mrs. J. B. Harrison left last evening for Mobile, Ala., to visit a sister of Dr. Harrison, who is said to be seriously ill at her home in that city.

Harry Gilmore, the young boy who was injured in a runaway accident on Broad street, Wednesday morning, as described in yesterday's Press, is now on the road to recovery.

Some very fast sprinting was done by a number of young men in a 100-yard contest which took place on Middlesex street, yesterday morning. Charles Michel was declared the winner, his time for the distance being 11½ seconds.

The Cooper Lamp Company, of this place, has taken out a patent on a bicycle lamp, which it is claimed will render it impossible to extinguish the light except by removing the top and blowing out the flame. The lamp will at once be placed upon the market.

The Ladies' Thursday Afternoon Euchre Club met at the residence of Mrs. F. A. Kinch, on Broad street, yesterday. Sixteen ladies were present. Mrs. T. R. Harvey won the first prize, a handsomely decorated loving cup, and Mrs. C. B. Peddie received a Dresden china plate as second prize. At the close of the games refreshments were served.

Mrs. J. T. Ellis, the popular temperance orator, addressed an audience of Westfield ladies in the W. C. T. U. Hall, on Prospect street, yesterday afternoon. This evening, at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Ellis will address a general meeting in the same place. Some excellent singing is promised by a large choir under the leadership of Roland Randolph.

Mizpah Chapter, Epworth League, gave a pleasing entertainment in the Methodist church, last evening. A large audience listened with interest to the description of leading battles of the civil war, read by E. R. Pearsall, chairman of the department of literary work. The readings were illustrated by about one hundred stereoptican views in colors. The pictures of prominent war leaders were all roundly applauded, even the Confederate quarrels receiving their share. The Epworth League orchestra played national and war music, and at the close a collection was taken for the benefit of the League.

The I. O. S. held a business meeting at the residence of R. V. Hoffman, last evening. It was decided to have the vice president write a history of the organization, to be placed on file for use by the members. The debate to be held by the club this month will be upon the question, "Resolved, That the English government is in form and operation superior to the government of the United States." The leaders of the discussion will be F. S. Taggart, C. R. Foster, W. J. Naefie and W. R. Lynde. The social committee, through its chairman, Fred P. Condit, rendered a report of the reception given by the club on April 22d in celebration of its fifth anniversary.

—The work of laying flagging in the borough progresses finely. Many property owners are putting down their walks before the notice, requiring them to do so, is served.

AFTER A LOST ISLAND

The Schooner Louisa D. on a Voyage of Discovery.

LONG SEARCH MADE FOR THE PLACE.

It Is Formed of a Coral Reef and Is Said to Be Rich In Guano Deposits, Which Are Very Profitable.

San Francisco, May 7.—The schooner Louisa D. has cleared at the custom house for a cruise to New Baldayo island. Her trip promises to be a long and romantic one, and before she comes back her crew expects that the American flag will be floating over a little coral reef, close to the equator, that no man or nation has claimed. New Baldayo is the name given to the island, but so far the most accurate location that can be given for it is that it is in the North Pacific ocean. The island is said to be covered with an enormous and wonderful deposit of guano, and for nearly 50 years numerous vessels have started out in search of it, but they have always returned without being able to give its location.

It was first reported as being in existence by Lord Clipperton, an eccentric English navigator, naturalist and discoverer, and the man who gave his name to Clipperton island. He said in his report of his cruises that the island lay approximately in north latitude 16 and west longitude 37, but is described as low, and navigators say a vessel could sail within a dozen miles of it and pass by without seeing it.

An Out of the Way Place.

That part of the ocean is out of the track of vessels plying between regular open ports, and should the island exist it could only be found by much diligent search for it. This is the object of the Louisa D. She is being dispatched by the Oceanic Phosphate company. Captain F. Errat will command her, and he says he will not come back until he finds the island. He was the mate of the schooner Moonlight that made an unsuccessful search for the island about a year ago. The schooner has on board a plentiful supply of provisions and a quantity of lumber with which to build a house on the island when found.

Globe Safety Deposit's Receiver.

Chicago, May 7.—A bill has been filed in the superior court for a receiver for the Globe Safety Deposit company, which was a part of the defunct Globe Savings bank. The complainants are Newhampshire banks, which are holders of bonds of the Safety Deposit company. They are the Merrimac County Savings bank of Concord, the Loan and Trust Savings bank of the same city and the Nashua Savings bank and the Newhampshire Banking company of Nashua. The officers of the Globe Deposit company are identical with those of the Globe Savings bank. The company when it was organized issued $30,000 worth of bonds, secured by a trust deed on its property. The vaults have been closed.

New Postmasters.

New Jersey—Rosenhayn, N. E. Barnhart.

New York—Bemus Point, L. D. Haskin; Hammond, D. D. Meyer; St. Lawrence, F. A. Miller.

Pennsylvania — Breinigsville, A. J. Butz; Brookside, Frederick Messner; Carter Camp, Charles Scheibner; Coneville, Scott Swift; Elkin, W. A. Hamilton; Fishing Creek, J. J. Mather; Houstonville, J. A. Berry; Lawrenceville, J. C. Beeman; Loucks Mills, J. C. Loucks; Loyalsock, J. C. Lundy; Middleburg Center, F. W. Starkey; Mount Jackson, J. F. Pitts.

Pathetic Incident of Paris Disaster.

Montreal, May 7.—The terrible tragedy in Paris has created the greatest of consternation here, where there are many people living who are at least distantly related to many of the victims. The Comte de Bouthillier de Shavigny, who lives at Richelieu, about 16 miles from here, was in The Star editorial rooms anxiously scanning cable dispatches as they came in sheet by sheet, and his emotion can be imagined when succeeding sheets informed of the death of his mother, then of that of his sister, then of that of his two aunts and finally several distant relatives.

No Naval Cruise This Year.

Baltimore, May 7.—It has been settled that the interstate naval cruise between Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, suggested by the navy department, to take the place of the annual cruises of the naval battalions of each state, will not be held this year. Commander L. E. Emerson has received communications from the Pennsylvania battalion which flatly oppose a cruise outside the waters of that state, and as Commander Emerson and the Maryland battalion are unanimous against leaving the Chesapeake the states will be obliged to hold separate cruises.

Convicted Murderer Escapes.

Trenton, May 7.—Louis Phell, the convicted murderer of Christian Zaiss of Vineland, escaped from the Trenton insane asylum and has thus far evaded capture. Phell was sent to the asylum from the penitentiary. Some persons believe that he feigned insanity while in the prison so as to better his chances of escape. Before being sent to the penitentiary Phell threatened to kill his sister-in-law, who lives in Vineland, and also some court officials. It is feared he will attempt to carry his threat into execution.

Saw Her Boy Drown.

Watertown, N. Y., May 7.—Sammie Lane, aged 7 years, was drowned in Black river in this city last evening. He was bathing his feet at the water side when he slipped into the water and was carried down stream by the current. His mother heard his screams and arrived in time to see the boy drown.

Topographical Survey Expedition.

Edgartown, Mass., May 7.—The United States coast and geodetic survey has begun a topographical survey of the eastern and southern portion of [illegible] has Vineyard.

COMPLETE VICTORY

FOR THE PLUCKY DISCOVERER OF THE GREAT REMEDY

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills.

Result of a Few Weeks' Test by the People of Plainfield.

They Cure and Relieve Backache, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Blood, and Rheumatism.

Many Persons Cured and Many More Receiving Benefit.

SALES ARE ENORMOUS.

About two weeks ago this paper gave public notice tha Dr. Hobbs, the well known specialist in diseases of the kidneys, had made a discovery which, if his claims could be substantiated, would revolutionize the treatment of all kidney diseases. In order that the public might be given the benefit of this discovery without cost, they were not only asked, but urged, to call at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store, of this city, and get a trial package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills.

And that the claims of Dr. Hobbs might be severely tested, physicians were specially invited to procure samples and use them among their patients.

Dr. Hobbs' faith in the value of his discovery to suffering humanity was so great that he staked the future of his remedy in Plainfield upon the verdict of her citizens, regardless of their wealth, poverty, position or profession. The whole city was invited to participate in the test and render the verdict, which meant much to him and much more to the thousands suffering from that most insidious and devastating disease of this era—kidney trouble. Everyone was enabled to form his own judgment as to the value of this medicine without prejudice. Does any sane man or women believe for one moment that any physician would dare to so openly challenge public opinion, were he not absolutely certain of his ground? Reflect a moment and consider this point carefully.

The avidity with which people from all grades of society availed themselves of Dr. Hobbs' offer revealed the startling fact that there are great numbers afflicted with kidney diseases in this section.

Think of It! Hundreds of Sample Packages of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills were given out at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store to applicants in one day, every one of whom was willing to give Dr. Hobbs' Pills a fair test.

The free test called for no restrictions. Physicians were not barred—in fact, they were welcome—and, as still further proof of this, while the free distribution of samples ended in Plainfield a few weeks ago, the Hobbs Remedy Co., of Chicago, Ill., upon application, will even now be glad to furnish free to all physicians who have not applied for a sufficient quanity of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills, to make such tests as in their judgment may seem necessary—in fact, the fullest and most searching investigation is most cordially extended to physicians as well as to the public.

What have been the result? The test has fully justified the faith of Dr. Hobbs in the ability of his remedy to cure diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism and allied troubles. People who have been doctoring for years testify they have obtained more and better results after taking Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills for less than two weeks than they ever did from anything they ever used.

A well-known physician said yesterday: "One of my patients has been taking Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills for about a week and declared that he felt better than he had for ten years, and he certainly looked better than I ever remember seeing him. I am pretty thoroughly convinced that Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills will be universally prescribed by the medical profession."

Testimony as to the efficacy of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills is coming in from every hand, and from people in every walk in life, proving conclusively that every claim made by Dr. Hobbs is absolutely justified by facts.

Could the public but read all of the letters which are daily received by the owners of this grand remedy from cured patients, letters full to overflowing from joyful hearts once more restored to health after years of suffering and misery—the good this grand medicine has accomplished and is accomplishing today would be more than ever realized and appreciated by the public. No sufferer should hesitate to try the merits of this wonderful medicine to cure his case.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE CALLED DYSPEPSIA?

Like a thief at night, it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes, a faint, all gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. Eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes becomes tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequent attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a Liver Complaint, some for Dyspepsia, others for Kidney Disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success.

Now, the Shaker Digestive Cordial causes the food eaten to be digested. This will cause an appetite for more food, and this being digested will result in an increase of strength, an increase of flesh and an increase of nerve power.

The tired, weary feeling will give way to vigor and courage. The pale, thin and emaciated will recover their color and plumpness, because red blood and fat are the result of properly digested food.

A ten cent trial bottle will produce a result. Its good effect will be realized at once. You will not have to take a dozen bottles to find out if it is doing you any good. Try it and then give praise to the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, New York, for the relief that you obtain.

Your Valuables will be safe in Doane's Safe Deposit Vault.

LOOKING FOR HEIRS.

A Large Fortune In Easton, Pa., to Be Divided.

Easton, Pa., May 7.—Three Chicago lawyers are in this city looking up people in this section who by a complicated condition of circumstances have fallen heirs to an estate in that city valued at $1,000,000.

Forty years ago a woman named Joanna Dickerman of Trenton was married to a man named Gottlieb Henninger. The couple moved to Chicago, where Henninger became blind and was turned out of doors by his wife. He returned to this city and later went to Philadelphia, where he died.

The woman took up with three different men at various times, and they lived together as man and wife. By the last man, Curtis Robinson, she had two children. Six years ago the woman died, and a year later Robinson died, leaving an estate worth about $1,000,000. The lawyers have succeeded in finding two brothers of the first husband. They live in New Jersey, a few miles from here. They will claim part of the estate.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Magowan's Rubber Company Said to Be In an Insolvent Condition.

Trenton, May 7.—Vice Chancellor Reed appointed Charles D. Case temporary receiver for the Eastern Rubber company, of which ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan is president. May 18 was fixed as the date for showing cause why the appointment should not be made permanent. The application for a receiver was made by Senator William A. Skirm, one of the principal stockholders. In his application he declares that the company is insolvent; that it has $6,000 in notes past due and $66 000 of other indebtedness, besides a bonded indebtedness of $189,000.

The assets consist principally of collectible accounts, amounting to about $10,000 and stock amounting to about the same figure. There is also real estate valued at $75,000, on which there is a mortgage for $110,000. Secretary Servis of the company vouches for the correctness of the figures.

HONDURAS PORT CLOSED.

The Authorities There Have Temporarily Shut Out Foreign Commerce.

Washington, May 7.—United States Minister MacGrane Cox, at Tegucigalpa, has reported to the department of state that on the 14th inst. the executive power of Honduras promulgated a decree which provides:

First.—That the port of Puerto Cortez and its tributaries shall be temporarily closed to foreign and coastwise commerce until the power of the legitimate authority is re-established in that section of the country.

Second.—Merchandise which may be entered at the custom house shall not be examined for withdrawal, and in case any should be so examined for withdrawal the importers shall remain indebted for the proper duties under the pain of being considered as defrauders of public revenue.

This action was taken by the Honduras government in consequence of the rebellion now in progress.

The Bear Starts on Another Cruise.

Seattle, Wash., May 7.—United States revenue cutter Bear has sailed on her annual cruise to the Arctic. She will stop at Unga island and Ounolaska and then proceed to Point Barrow, returning to the sound next November. Aboard the Bear is the coast and geodetic survey party, which is to make a survey of Pribyloff islands, at the head of which is W. W. Duffield, son of the chief of the United States coast and geodetic survey service. With him are Fremont Morse, G. P. Putnam and George L. Putnam and six college boys, mostly from Chicago.

Child Killed by the Cars.

Rocky Hill, Conn., May 7.—Howard Francis Wilson, the 18-months-old son of Mrs. James Wilson of this place, was instantly killed on the railroad tracks in Rocky Hill. The child had strayed from the house dooryard, which is almost adjacent to the railroad tracks, and was playing in the sand between the rails. The head and one foot was cut off.

Overcome by Heat.

Chicago, May 7.—The first case of prostration from the heat occurred here. Charles Wilson, a milk wagon driver, unloading cans from his wagon, fell to the street unconscious. He was removed to a hospital. The weather bureau thermometer registered 80 degrees. On the streets in the business portion of the city it was 10 to 15 degrees warmer.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

A meeting of the Cleveland Cyclers will be held on Monday evening.

The Plainfield Cycle Company has just received a shipment of twenty-five Keating wheels which they are offering at good prices.

The members of the Cleveland Cyclers will enjoy their regular weekly run on Sunday afternoon. Last week it had to be given up on account of rain.

The entries for the Crescent Wheelmen's Decoration Day race meet are pouring in very satisfactorily. Among the first to signify his intention of riding here was F. F. Goodman, better known as "Teddy." Goodman left the amateur class last year and is now riding as a professional. He is one of the best in the Metropolitan district, however, and has made a great record for himself in handicap events.

An out-of-town bicycle rider narrowly escaped being killed near Clinton avenue yesterday afternoon. He was riding at a break-neck speed toward Dunellen when the frame of his wheel broke in half. The rider was thrown with great force to the ground and sustained a very severe injury to his right arm and shoulder. He was assisted to his feet by a friend who was passing, and it was some minutes before the rider could recover from his fall. From appearances there seemed to be a defect in the frame of the wheel. The young man, who was a stranger and who would not give his name, walked to the Clinton avenue station where he took a train for his home.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Bound Brook Athletic Club team will go to Englewood on Saturday afternoon to meet the team from that place.

An exciting game was played between the first and second teams of Leals School, Wednesday afternoon. The first team won by a score of 13 to 11.

The High School team will play its last game at home for the championship of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association on Saturday afternoon. The High School has a good show of finishing first in the league which speaks well for the management of Arthur W. Lederer, considering the fact that it is the first year for five years that the High School has had a team on the diamond.

The Crescent Baseball Club will be supported this season by the charging of a small admission to see the game instead of taking up a collection as already stated in the Press. The charge will be 15 and 25 cents, while season tickets can be obtained. It is the intention of the management to keep the field clear of outsiders and to preserve good order. To do this, there will be an effective force of special officers.

Those interested in baseball in this city should begin to hustle and arrange games for the season. Most of the best teams about the metropolitan district are arranging games, and unless the local managers move lively there will be no dates accessible. There are any number of Plainfield people who are anxious to see a good team in Plainfield, and they would like to see good games. If good ball is furnished the patronage will not be lacking.

Captain Lederer, of the Plainfield High School nine, has received a challenge for a game from the Leal School team. The challenge will probably be accepted and a game arranged for the near future. The teams met once before and the Leals boys won by one run. They were materially assisted by a pitcher from another school. It will be in a battery that they will be lacking unless a dark horse appears among the candidates for that position. The High School team has improved wonderfully since that game both in fielding and batting and are likely to give their opponents a hard fight for the victory.

OOM PAUL GIVES IN.

The Transvaal Raad Amends Immigration Laws.

TO PLEASE THE NEIGHBORING STATES

It Was What Secretary Chamberlain Demanded, but the Boers Insist It Was Not Done to Placate Britons—Kruger's State Attorney Resigns.

Pretoria, May 7.—The volksraad has held a protracted secret session to discuss the answer to be made to the dispatches of Mr. Chamberlain, British secretary of state for the colonies, which demanded a repeal of the Transvaal immigration law.

The volksraad repealed the law, not because it was a breach of the London convention, but because it was distasteful to neighboring states.

Mr. Coster, the Transvaal state attorney, has tendered his resignation in disapproval of the appeal.

The position taken by Mr. Chamberlain on the subject of the Transvaal alien immigrants law, No. 30, of 1896, was stated in his dispatch to Lord Rosmead, the British high commissioner at the Cape, under date of Dec. 16, 1896, He said to Lord Rosmead:

"Inform the government of the South Africa Republic that her majesty's government cannot, in view of article 14 of the London convention, admit that the government of the South Africa Republic has a right of expelling or restricting foreigners who are not shown to have failed to conform to the laws of the republic, and that her majesty's government reserves the right of objection to proceedings under the act, which may amount to a breach of the London convention.

"Inform the government of the South Africa Republic that her majesty's government is advised that the alien immigrants law infringes article 14 of the London convention, inasmuch by it new and burdensome conditions, in most cases probably impossible to fulfill, are imposed on persons who under the convention are at full liberty to enter and reside in the South Africa Republic on condition of conforming to its laws.

"You will state that her majesty's government appreciates the reported assurances of President Kruger that the government of the South Africa Republic has no intention of departing from the terms of the London convention and therefore feels confident that it will not attempt to enforce the law."

In a letter to Lord Rosmead, explaining the reasons for the dispatch, Mr. Chamberlain said the British government could not accept the alien immigrants law as an ordinary police law within the terms of article 14 of the London convention, which declares that all persons other than natives conforming themselves to the laws of the South Africa Republic shall have full liberty to enter, travel or reside in any part of the republic. The alien immigrants law provided that such persons should not be at liberty to enter or reside in the republic unless they could show affirmatively that they had the means or ability to support themselves. Mr. Chamberlain argued that as the only condition imposed by the convention is that they should conform to the laws of the republic the new law would be ultra vires and moreover would impose a "further condition of a burdensome nature which it might be difficult for many of the poorer though perfectly respectable immigrants to satisfy."

Mr. Coster's Resignation.

London, May 7.—A dispatch to The Times from Cape Town says that Mr. Coster, the Transvaal state attorney, resigned because of the rejection by the volksraad of his too bellicose draft of the proposed reply to Mr. Chamberlain's dispatch asking Lord Rosmead to inform the government of the South Africa Republic that the British government felt confident that there would be no attempt to enforce the alien immigrants law in the Transvaal.

Labor Riot In Chicago.

Chicago, May 7.—A fight occurred between striking iron workers and nonunion employees of Vanderpoel & Co., at 4533 Cottage Grove avenue, which almost developed into a riot before the arrival of the police. Three nonunion men were injured, one of whom had his head badly cut by a crowbar which was thrown into the basement where he was working. The others were hit with bricks. The trouble arose over an attempt of the strikers to persuade the nonunion men to stop work.

A NEW BOROUGH SOLON.

GEORGE T. ROGERS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED H. B. LOUNSBURY.

Under the New Borough Law, H. S. Thomas is Appointed Recorder—Final Report of Watchung Avenue Opening.

The first business considered by the Borough Council last evening was the resignation of Councilman H. B. Lounsbury. After the clerk read the resignation Mr. Burtis moved that it be accepted and it was so ordered. Mayor Wilson then appointed George T. Rogers, of Washington Park, to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Lounsbury. The appointment was confirmed by the Council, and after the Mayor administered the oath of office Mr. Rogers took his seat. He will fill the same positions on the various committees that the retiring Councilman held.

The regular order of business was then taken up and after Clerk Arnold read the minutes of the previous meeting he read his financial report, which was as follows: Borough balance, $1,880.38; fire department, $1,000.17; light, $764.46; road, $1,130.98; poor deficit, $378.87; total balance, $4,397.12; paid State and county, $3,875 35; total cash, $521.77. There was reported from fines, licenses, etc., $212.64. Tax Collector Spencer reported $40,603.99 collected for 1895, and $38,879 04 for 1896.

A communication was received from the G. A. R. in which they asked the Council to make the usual appropriation for the observance of Decoration Day. The same was granted and the sum of $25 was voted for that purpose.

The following officers were reported as having been elected at the last meeting of Warren Engine Company: Foreman, B. F. Conover; first assistant, H. G. Adams; second assistant, W. B. Bennett; recording secretary, J. J. Stahl; financial secretary, W. T. Newman; treasurer, J. M. Higgins. first assistant engineer, A. Brokaw; second assistant, J. Newman; stoker, J. Shepherd; representative to Firemen's Relief Association, three years, L. B. Woolston, and G. H. Fairchild in place of W. Newman.

The following officers were also reported from West End Hose Company: Foreman, Charles Keller; first assistant, W. Demarest; second assistant, F. B. Perry; secretary, Frank Perry; financial secretary, D. Begley; treasurer, Herman Hansen J. Higgins and S. Peterson were also reported as having recently been elected to membership. All of the above were confirmed by the Council.

A final report was made concerning the opening of Watchug avenue and it was stated that there was a balance yet to be paid of $707.83 to the Contractor David Bowden, also $125 to the same person on the completion of the building of the storm sewer on the above avenue. The final estimate showed that $2,411.75 had been received, $1,703.92 expended, leaving a balance of $707.83 yet to be paid. The matter was adjusted and the latter amount will be paid to the contractor. It will be noticed that the price for the storm sewer is $10 less than called for in the contract. This is explained for the reason that Mr. Bowden left some work for the borough street commissioner to do and for that work Mr. Bowden agreed to give him $10.

A short report was presented by the street committee showing the amount of work done in the borough during the past month.

At this time the Mayor appointed H. S. Thomas as borough recorder, under a recent act passed by the Legislature. This gives Mr. Thomas the power to try all cases and to send prisoners to the County Jail for ninety days if the complaint will warrant it. It also abolishes the office of borough magistrate. After the meeting Mr. Thomas was sworn in as borough recorder. Another appointment by the Mayor was that of pound-keeper and that office was given to John Stein.

Mr. Woolston offered a resolution that a crosswalk be laid on Grove street at the intersection of Craig place. A resolution offered by Mr. MacLoughlin called for the drawing of a warrant in favor of F. A. Dunham for the sum of $200 on account of the tax maps.

Mr. Carey stated that the sum of $45 would not be sufficient to place an iron door at the the borough lockup and he asked for an increase of $35 making in all $80. He offered a resolution to that effect and the same was granted. A resolution by Mr. Rogers was to the effect that $1,500 be borrowed and charged to the light account.

The following persons were granted exemption papers: G. B. Stewart, P. Kellegher, W. V. Krewson, and F. B. Perry, W. Demarest, George Smith and D. Begley were confirmed as

LOOKING TO REALITIES.

SCHOOL DAYS ALMOST ENDED FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES.

The Final Examinations Are Near at Hand and the Students Are Preparing For the Days Beyond Study.

All interest at the Plainfield High School is now centered at the coming commencement. The graduating class is looking to the time when they shall bid farewell to the school days and go forth on a broader field of work. Some are planning to go to college, others will enter business careers at once while a representation of the class will remain at home to share in the household duties. The final and prize examinations are coming on and everybody is working hard.

The latest announcement of interest is that of the subjects for the prize essays, which are due on June 7th. The list is a good one and includes subjects of all kinds. The subjects are as follows: Communion with Nature; A Comparison of Evangeline and Priscilla; Spain in Her Glory and Decay; The Old Greek Spirit Revived; The Land of Dykes and Windmills; Fourteenth Century England as Pictured by Chaucer; A Visit to Shakespeare's Theatre; Jack Frost; Architect; Modern Advertisements; Can a Dog Think?; The Obligations of America and England; Virgil's Picture of Roman Customs; Dress As Indicative of Character; An Olympic Festival at 3000 A. D.; Three Ideals, The Minister of the Deserted Village, Poore Persoun of Chaucer's Prologue, and the Clergyman of Today.

The Kappa Delta Phi has ended its labors for the season. The last meeting for the present school year was held yesterday afternoon. The programme consisted of a short talk by William A. Fisher One new member was elected. The committee on constitution announced a meeting of the committee of the whole for some night this summer at the residence of the chairman, Charles B. Morse, to act on the amended constitution.

The idea of a dinner of alumni members and school members was discussed and the matter was placed in the hands of a committee of three with power. The committee consisted of Arthur Lederer '98, Sydney R. Titsworth, '97, and Charles B. Morse, '95. The dinner will probably be given at the Mountain Park Inn some evening during commencement week. It is expected to have all the charter members present.

JOHNSON'S WORDS OF FAREWELL.

The Executed Murderer Said He Was Happy to the Last.

Jacob Johnson's last request to Sheriff Wyckoff was that he should come to his cell. This was about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. When the Sheriff arrived there Johnson said to him: "I want you to write a letter for me to my wife." The Sheriff consented, when Johnson dictated the following letter, word for word as we give it. The Somerset Democrat took the trouble to secure a correct copy of it, which is as follows:

Somerville, N. J., May 5, 1897.

Dear Wife—As this is my last word and letter to you. I hope you feel as happy as I do. I feel in my inmost soul that I am going into the arms of my blessed Saviour, in whom we have so long trusted and lived together so happily. I hope that you are enjoying good health, and that the blessing of God will rest upon you and our dear children, and that you will strive to meet me in heaven with our dear children who have gone before us.

I feel that I am prepared to go to my Lord and Saviour.

I feel that Sheriff Wyckoff and Mr. Amerman and his wife have been a father and a brother and a sister to me. They have provided me with all the things needful for my bodily health, and the Sheriff's kindness is beyond the love of my heart to thank him. I will send you one of my pictures by the Sheriff.

From your loving husband,

JACOB S. JOHNSON.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

There was a large budget in Justice Newcorn's court yesterday. The cases of Mayer against Smith, on contract, Burgess against Morley, landlord and tenant, Manning et als against Chase, on contract, and Sternberg et als against Ryan, in tort, were tried, and in each case judgment rendered for the plaintiff. The case of Tindall against Riker, on contract, was adjourned for a week. The case of Hand against Coddington, on contract, was adjourned until the 12th.

Taken to Her Last Resting Place.

A private car from the West Shore Railroad was brought to Plainfield this morning to take the remains of the late Mrs. Kirk to her final resting place at Cornwall-on-the Hudson. Rev. Mr. Nickerson, pastor of All Souls church, accompanied the funeral party and the remains. The car was attached to the 9:32 train to New York and at Jersey City the car was transferred to the West Shore road where it was attached to a train on the latter road.

CYCLISTS IN CITY COURT.

VIOLATORS OF THE BICYCLE ORDINANCE ALL PAY FINES.

Those Who Rode Without a Bell are Mulcted $1 and for Riding on the Sidewalk the Sum of $3 was Demanded.

The cyclists invaded the stuffy little court room in the station house this morning. Their number had been increased by several newcomers and they were all anxious to finish their business and get out into the fresh air as soon as possible. Most of the offenders were the result of the recent raid against riders not carrying bells, but there were several who forgot their light or else rode on the sidewalk instead of the road.

There was not much of a trial to any of them, everybody pleaded guilty; there was nothing else to do, as they had been caught in the act. A number of cases were taken together. Raymond Carroll, Arthur Jennings, George Homan, Euffene Doule, Edward French, and William Sweeney lined up in front of the bar, all charged with riding without a bell. The Judge gave them all their choice between a fine of $1 or three days in the county jail. It is hardly necessary to say that the fines were paid. The Judge had a few remarks for "Ex-manager" William Sweeny.

"You ought to know more about this than any of the rest," sternly commented the Judge. "You are now in a law office and you have been in the bicycle business."

'I suppose that I ought," blushingly murmured the culprit. The crowd smiled visibly, and then the prisoners passed over their fines while the spectators, who had come in to see the fun, congratulated themselves that they had bells on their wheels.

Fred Geiger had ridden over from East Orange to play base ball against the Plainfield High School, this afternoon, and he had been arrested. He explained that in East Orange they had never heard of the state law requiring bells whereupon the Judge sagely remark d that it only showed how far ahead of East Orange Plainfield was. His friends paid his fine of $1.

J. R. Giles was fined $3 for riding on the sidewalk. Joseph Peterson had ridden without a light at night and was fined $1. John Scott, colored, paid a $1 fine for having no bell.

John Brown and Henry Brittan had been ordered to appear by Patrolman Cash, but as they did not come. Warrants were issued for their apprehension.

Morgan C. Bird, owner of the building now used by the city as station house and city jail, was brought before City Judge De Meza, yesterday afternoon, for riding a wheel without a bell. He was fined $1. This morning, he was again ordered up for violating the same ordinance.

TWO BICYCLES STOLEN.

BOTH OF THE THEFTS COMMITTED IN THE BOROUGH.

Miss Eleanor T. Vandeventer's Cycle Stolen From Beside the House—Fred Bettman's Taken Out of the Barn Last Night.

Bicycle thieves have invaded the borough. Night before last a wheel owned by Miss Eleanor T. Vanderventer, of Washington avenue, was left standing near the house for a short time by Mr. Vanderventer, who had just returned from a ride. When the latter went after the wheel to take it in the house he found that the bike was missing. The matter was reported to the police.

The second robbery occurred last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bettman, on Willow avenue, when their son's wheel was stolen from the barn. Fred Bettman, the owner of the wheel, was out riding during the evening, and he returned home about 11 o'clock. Following his usual custom he placed the wheel in the barn. The coachman was in the barn at the time and was just preparing to retire when Mr. Bettman appeared. The latter placed his wheel inside of the building and locked the door. This morning he went to the barn for something and at once discovered that his wheel had been taken. He asked the coachman about the theft but the latter was unable to account for the absence of the wheel. There was nothing about the barn, except footprints, to indicate that anyone had been around. The doors were locked as they were left and nothing else was disturbed. This case was reported to the police early this morning, but as yet they have been unable to secure any evidence of value.

Foot Bridge Completed.

The foot-bridge on Watchung avenue over the brook will be completed today so that it can be used The bridge is a substantial one and answers every purpose for the time being.

MUCH DONE IN HIS NAME.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CITY UNION OF KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Encouraging Reports Read From Those Whose Efforts Were to Help and Uplift Humanity—New Officers Elected.

The regular spring meeting and annual election of the Plainfield Union of King's Daughters was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. W. L. C. Glenny, president of the union, presiding.

The meeting was opened by the singing of a hymn, after which Rev. C. E. Herring read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer. The roll of the circles was then called by the secretary, Miss Emma Haviland, who also read the minutes of the last semi-annual meeting. The treasurer's report was next read by Miss Mary E. Tracy, who gave an account of the receipts and expenditures in the contingent fund, the nurse fund, and the camp fund, reporting a balance on hand of $414.56. The nurse committee's report was read by Miss Milly Tracy, and was followed by the report given in person by Miss Kendell, the trained nurse supported by the union to do work among the poor of the city. She reported forty-eight cases cared for, one prepared for an operation, the preparing of food and sterilizing of milk for the sick, medicines given at the dispensary, and many other ways in which she had given help to those who could not otherwise receive it.

Brief roports of work done during the past half-year were given by representatives of the following circles: Benevolent Band, Charity Circle, Daughters of the Cross, Opportunity Circle, Advance Circle, Co-workers, Cheerful Workers.

A vote of thanks was given to the nurse committee for their devoted work, after which the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. The election was by ballot, and while the ballots were being collected Rev. C. E. Herring said a few earnest and helpful words to the workers present He spoke of the glorious work possible to the King's Daughters, if they would but learn the lessons of self-denial that others might be benefited, of sympathy and of practical Christianity, which should show by word and deed the spirit of Christ. He showed himself heartily in favor of the movement.

The offering was received during the counting of the ballots, and a motion was made and carried that the annual dues to the Union from the circles be changed from five to ten cents, after which it was announced that the election had resulted as follows: President, Miss Louise Green; vice-president, Mrs. Charles A. Reed; recording secretary, Miss Emma Haviland; treasurer, Miss Mary E Tracy; corresponding secretary, Miss Delphine Bowers.

Miss Green then took the chair and thanked the Union for the honor they had done her, and in a brief but earnest prayer asked the blessing of God upon the work of the new year. A vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers for their excellent work, and to Mrs J. Kirtland Myers for her assistance in the work of the nurse, and also to the Advance Circle for their cordial invitation to all present to remain to a social tea. The meeting was then adjourned, and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

Officers of the State Missionary Society.

At the annual State meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, held at Freehold, on Thursday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, of Elizabeth; president of junior work, Miss Ida E. Slater, Matawan; recording secretary, Mrs. J. J. Jones, East Orange; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. B. J. Shreve, Plainfield.

Leased Music Hall.

George H. Willey yesterday signed the lease for the use of Music Hall for next season, and will manage it alone as was told in The Press a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Willey left town today for a period of eight weeks, during which Mr. Willey will be engaged in the projectoscope exhibitions. Music Hall will be opened about August first for the season. In the meantime the bookings for the year will be made by Mr. Willey.

Henry Haurand Thrown From a Wheel.

Henry Haurand, of East Front street, who recently purchased a wheel, met with an accident yesterday while out riding. He was thrown from his mount and received a number of scratches and bruises. He was able to ride home and is just as anxious to try it again. Mr. Haurand has become an enthusiastic wheelman and is determined to master his steed.

MORE THAN SUCCESSFUL

WELL MEANING BOYS RAISED MORE MONEY THAN WAS NECESSARY.

A Fair Given to Secure Money to Buy a Surgical Bed for the Hospital—Given at the Home of Master Pinto—$115 Raised.

The efforts of Effingham Pinto and his young friends were even more successful then they had hoped for, and the fair that the lads gave at the home of Master Pinto, at 731 West Eighth street, yesterday afternoon, netted $115, more than enough to purchase the surgical bed for the Muhlenberg Hospital, which was the object for which the affair was given.

All winter the promoters of this fair have been preparing for it, especially Effingham Pinto, who has either made or solicited a great number of the articles which were placed on sale. The booths were arranged about the drawing room, quite tastefully decorated. On the fancy table, draped in green, were a number of fancy articles. There were lamp shades with the figures of Brownies painted on them by the boys. The Brownies seemed to be the favorite object for decorating and were used in various happy combinations. Effingham Pinto looked after that table. Another table, decorated in purple, contained some fancy candies, and a portion of the stock of the flower table which was next in line, decorated in yellow. Miss Dorothy Finch and Miss Charlotte Finch presided over the flowers.

In the front hall was a table with a goodly supply of homemade candies, made for the occasion by Miss Tracy and Miss Gertrude Rushmore. Miss Marjorie Fleming and Miss Marie Finch were in charge. Owen Fleming collected the tickets at the door.

Upstairs a successful "Punch and Judy" show was conducted by the Misses Eleanor T. VanDeventer and Grace E. Overton before an appreciative audience. Ray Harman had charge of the tickets to this successful feature.

A fish pond flourished in another room until all the "fish" had disappeared. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

The mothers of the youthful participants were present and exercised a general supervision over the affair, but the young promoters looked after the details and managed it very successfully.

DOWN CAME BABY AND ALL.

A Twelve-year-old Girl of John Ammon Took a Tumble of Ten Feet.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ammon's daughter, twelve years old, of Elm place, had a narrow escape from fatal injury late yesterday afternoon. Together with several playmates, she was having a good time in an open field close to the house where Miss Ammon lives. The latter started to climb a tree, and her friends thinking it was great fun, cheered her on. The little girl had reached a distance of about ten feet when a limb broke and she fell the entire distance to the ground.

Her associates were frightened and at once went to the injured girl's home to tell her mother.

The latter hastened to the scene of the accident and found her daughter in an almost helpless condition. She picked the girl up and carried her to the house where she was properly treated. An examination showed that there were no broken, but that the body was severely bruised and scratched, and that the girl was suffering a great deal from fright. In a little while the girl recovered from her scare and aside from the bruises and a few other injuries she is doing nicely.

Mrs. Booth to Talk Here.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, of the American Volunteers, will address a meeting at Grace church, Seventh and Sycamore streets, on the evening of May 18th. Mrs. Booth, who has been giving most of her time to work in certain state prisons, will probaly have for her subject the reformation and protection of the convicts, both while in prison and when discharged. A meeting of the Defenders and those interested in the Volunteers will be held early next week at the Y. M. C. A. building to make arrangements to secure the success of Mrs Booth's meeting. The evening for this smaller meeting has not been definitely decided upon, but will be announced in due time.

Whitaker Now Performing in Germany.

Robert Whitaker, the well-known bareback rider, of this city, who sailed for Germany some time ago, arrived at Hamburg on April 27th, after a thirteen days voyage. He writes to a Press man that he is feeling well, and that Dolman, his horse, stood the voyage well. He is now performing in Shumman's circus at Chemnilye, Saxony, where he will remain to June 1st.

A BRUTE, SAID THE JUDGE

SEVERE ARRAIGNMENT OF A POLICE COURT PRISONER.

Judge DeMeza Says That John Newman Causes the Police More Trouble Than Any Other Man—To Jail in Default of $25

A young man, whom Judge DeMeza characterized as one of the toughtest residents of the West End, went to the County Jail this morning for sixty days in default of a $25 fine. The young man was John Neuman, who was accused of assaulting ex-policeman Nicholas Kelly, and quarrelling and fighting.

The story of the alleged assault was told at the time in The Press. The case was to have come up for trial last Saturday, but in the absence of Kelly, the case was adjourned until to-day.

Warrants had been issued for Kelly and James Barry as well as Neuman. All three were tried together. Neuman and Barry were represented by ex-Councilman W. L. Hetfield.

Kelly's story was that he had been jumped upon from behind one Monday evening, just after leaving Willis's saloon, and that the only one of his assailants that he could see was Neuman. He claimed that he was kicked and beaten and might have been killed had not James Barry come and dragged off his assailants. He had several witnesses to prove that he had received several bad wounds, and also that he was not intoxicated at the time.

The other side brought witnesses to prove that Neuman had been walking along the street, when he had been assaulted by Kelly, who was said to be fighting drunk, and knocked down. Barry said that he had dragged Kelly off Neuman. The testimony was very contradictory on both sides. There were a number of witnesses sworn who proved to know nothing about it.

After hearing the testimony, Judge DeMeza discharged Barry as being not guilty. He found the other two guilty, however. Kelly, he thought, had received all the punishment he needed, but Neuman he censured severely.

"You are known to the court," said the Judge. "You are a brute. You delight in mangling people's faces. You have caused the police more trouble than any man in that section of the city."

Neuman was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or go to jail for sixty days. He chose the latter.

FUN FOR TOMORROW.

Visiting Cyclists Without Bells to Be Arrested Indiscriminately.

The police and the visiting cyclists promise to have a lively day tomorrow if the bicycle ordinance is enforced as strictly as it has been in the past few days. The police have been instructed to show no leniency to the cyclists that pass through the city in crowds every Sunday but to stop all who ride without a bell. There are sure to be lots of arrests and the cyclists are sure to be indignant but what the result will be is not known. Of course, the City Judge cannot be expected to sit around all day Sunday for the benefit of the offenders and if the wheels of the riders are held to secure their appearance, there will be a crowd of cyclists who will have to walk home.

A SMALL BLAZE.

Extinguished by the Heroic Action of Two Passing Truckmen.

A small blaze on the roof of Kenyon's machine shop, corner of Richmond and East Third streets, was discovered yesterday afternoon, shortly before six o'clock, and extinguished without much damage.

A. L. Dunovan's truck was passing the machine shop, and on the truck were Dunavan and John Morcraft. They saw a shoemaker living nearby trying to extinguish a small fire that had started on the roof, but he was having poor success. Dunavan and Morecraft sprang out and placed a ladder against the side of the building and Morcraft climbed to the roof. He tore off the blazing shingles with his bare hands, burning them severely, but prevented the fire from spreading and consuming the structure.

Teachers' Cycling Run.

Fifteen of the teachers and pupils of the Plainfield High School went out for their usual afternoon run, yesterday. The party went to New Market, then out to Stelton road, returning by the way of Metuchen. Principal I. Winthrop Travell and Prof. A. J. Knowlton were in charge. In climbing a hill, Miss Whitney and Mr. Knowlton came to grief. The rim of Mr. Knowlton's wheel was smashed. He took Miss Whitney's wheel and she returned home in a passing wagon. Miss Beatrice Miner and Jessie Pruden collided and several spokes in Miss Pruden's front wheel were snapped. Those were the only accidents and the rest of the run was greatly enjoyed.

FORGER SURRENDERS

After Six Years' Wandering He Gives Himself Up.

HE WAS A CONFIDENTIAL CLERK.

His Theft Caused Several Civil Suits Between Different Firms—Had Forged Indorsements—His Case the Subject of Much Correspondence.

New York, May 8.—Tired of being a fugitive, a wanderer over the earth, Thomas H. Stout, forger, after six years of exile, has surrendered himself to District Attorney Olcott. An hour later the grand jury had returned five indictments against him for forgery in the second degree.

In 1891 Stout was the confidential man of Kennett, Hopkins & Co., brokers, on Wall street. While he was ill at home for a few days it was found that there was something wrong with his accounts with the Holland Trust company. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he fled.

The amount of his stealings was estimated at $20,000, and the theft was the cause of civil suits between the trust company and the firm, in which the trust company lost. Stout had forged the firm's indorsement to paper which the trust company had cashed.

His case has been before the state department at Washington. Hundreds of letters have passed between authorities in this country and others all over the world, where Stout had located at various times during the past six years.

Stout reached New York from Boston over the Fall River line. He had come from England via St. Johns, and by rail from there to Boston. He was met at the station by his own lawyer and his son, the Rev. James A. Stout, who has a pastorate in a city on the Hudson.

Stout Declares Himself.

The three men went to the district attorney's office, where Stout made himself known. All five indictments charged forgery in the second degree. The first is for forging the name of Kennett, Hopkins & Co., for $1,131.15, 1891, to a check for $1,600 on the Merchants' National bank of Rutland, Vt., it being a cashier's check for that amount, drawn on the National Revere bank of Boston to Kennett, Hopkins & Co. The second indictment charges him with forging the indorsement of J. J. Raymond on a check to Kennett, Hopkins & Co., for $1,131.15, on the Bank of Manhattan company, Sept. 8, 1891. "H. L. Guffet" was the indorsement that caused the third indictment.

The forgery was for $527.50, on July 31, 1891, on the Bank of Manhattan company. The fourth and fifth indictments were for forgeries of a similar character for more than $5,000.

Stout was arrested on a warrant issued by Recorder Goff, and bail was placed at $10,000. Stout being unable to furnish this, was locked up.

Loan Association Assigns.

Knoxville, May 8.—A deed of assignment of all of the assets of the Southern Building and Loan association has been filed in the county register's office here. The conveyance is made to the receivers of the association, D. A. Carpenter and John W. Connor. The purpose is simply to formally place the assets of the association in the receiver's hands as ordered by the chancery decree and to avoid the taking of unnecessary proof on litigation in other states. Aside from this it has no significance.

Miners Accept Reduction.

Knoxville, May 8.—A special from Jellico says that the miners have about concluded that they will have to go to work under the reduction. All the other districts where reductions were made have accepted and begun work. On account of the summer season, when coal shipments will be light, the miners are at a disadvantage. They cannot live without work, so it is believed that when the conference is held Monday the differences will be adjusted.

Train Strikes a Wagon.

Norristown, Pa., May 8.—A wagon containing William Taber, his 16-year-old son and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Johnson, was struck by a train of the Chester Valley railroad at the crossing about a mile from here. Mrs. Johnson was so badly injured that she died shortly afterward, and Taber and his son suffered fractures of the skull and are in a precarious condition. The wagon was demolished, but the horses were unhurt.

Attempted Wife Murder and Suicide.

Indianapolis, May 8.—Christopher Nichols, a laborer living in West Indianapolis, made a murderous attack on his wife, from whom he had been separated, and then fled to the banks of Eagle creek, took a dose of rough on rats and lived only long enough to tell it to the policeman who found him lying there, after a three hours' chase. Mrs. Nichols was cut in the face, the breast, thigh and head. She caught her husband's hand, and, while her injuries are very serious, she will recover.

International Bakers' Convention.

Cleveland, May 8.—At the convention of the International Bakers' union they refused to permit the use of the union label by any branch of the Baking trust. A resolution protesting against the re-election of Samuel Gompers as president of the American Federation of Labor was defeated. The local dues were increased from 40 and 50 cents to 60 cents.

Passed a Bad Check.

Hudson, N. Y., May 8.—James Broman, who claims to be from White Plains, has been arrested here for passing a worthless check on the Westchester County National bank. The check was for $13.50 and was cashed by a boarding house keeper, at whose house Broman staid one day.

Blast Furnace Shuts Down.

Reading, Pa., May 8.—Anthracite blast furnace No. 3 of the Brooke Iron company at Birdsboro, this county, has been blown out because of dullness in the iron trade. The weekly capacity is about 600 tons. The period of idleness is indefinite.

BENEFACTOR KILLED.

A Man Whom He Had Sheltered Repays With Murder.

SHOOTS TWO EMPLOYEES AS WELL.

He Jumps on a Bicycle and Escapes, Although He Is Pursued by a Posse, Who Will Lynch Him if Caught.

Milwaukee, May 8.—A double and what yet may prove a quadruple murder occurred at the farmhouse of Alexander Harris, who resided about five miles south of Waukesha, the victims being Mr. Harris, his wife, hired girl and hired man.

The crime was committed, it is supposed, by a farmhand named William Pouch, who had been sheltered by the farmer over night. The dead and wounded are:

Alexander Harris, aged about 45 years, killed.

Mrs. Harris, aged 44 years, killed.

Hired girl, probably fatally wounded.

Hired man, probably fatally wounded.

William Pouch, a farmhand, who had worked for Mr. Harris about two years ago, called at the house and requested lodging over night. He was taken in, given supper and assigned to a room. At 5 o'clock the next morning Mr. Harris and the hired man arose and went to the yard to milk the cows, Mrs. Harris and the hired girl remaining to prepare breakfast for the family. Pouch left his room quietly and going to the yard where the men were milking the cows bade them good morning. Harris and the hired man were sitting on stools, and before they were aware of his intent Pouch drew a revolver and fired at the farmer, killing him almost instantly. The murderer then shot the hired man in the body, inflicting a probably fatal wound. The man fell, and Pouch evidently supposed him dead also.

Pouch calmly left his victims where they fell and walked leisurely to the kitchen of the farmhouse. There he met Mrs. Haris and the hired girl. He said Mr. Harris would not be in for a few minutes and that he would partake of his breakfast at once. The women waited upon the murderer, who seemed to relish his meal.

After concluding his breakfast Pouch arose from the table and started to walk toward the door, but suddenly wheeled around, and before the women realized what was about to happen he shot Mrs. Harris in the breast and then fired at the girl. The farmer's wife fell to floor with a fatal wound and expired soon afterward. The girl has a chance of recovery.

After finishing his bloody work the murderer mounted a bicycle and rode away. He started in a southwesterly direction over the Mukwango road, and the supposition is that he is headed for Burlington. A posse of farmers are in hot pursuit, and the chances are that he will be captured before night. They openly vow that they will lynch the murderer.

The supposition of the authorities is that the man is either insane or that he committed the terrible deed in order to hide evidence of another crime. The manner in which the murders were committed shows plainly that he had been deliberate in arranging his plans and had carried them out to the letter.

It is later reported that Mrs. Harris was not fatally shot, as at first stated and may recover.

Italians Discuss Our Tariff.

Rome, May 8.—In the chamber of deputies the minister of husbandry Count Guicciardini, replying to Senor Picardi, explained the clauses of the Dingley bill affecting the Italian trade especially oranges and lemons. He added that Baron Fava, the Italian embassador at Washington, is continuing negotiations to obtain the greatest concessions possible. Senor Picardi expressed satisfaction at the activity of Baron Fava and urged the government to persist in protecting Italian interests, especially with the view of securing a commercial arrangement should the new tariff be enacted.

Killed by His Little Brother.

Amesbury, Mass., May 8.—Dr. Cooper, secretary of the board of health, was notified of a remarkable fatality which occurred here Wednesday night, when Fred Hamel, the 4-year-old son of Napoleon Hamel, died as the result of a blow from an ax, delivered by his 2-year-old brother. The little fellow was injured a few days before. The boys while playing got hold of an ax in their father's yard, and the youngest picked it up and in some way struck his brother on the head, causing, it is thought, concussion of the brain.

International Chess Tournament.

London, May 8.—Mr. Arthur Walter of the London Times, who is a chess player, has written to Mr. J. Henniker Heaton offering a handsome trophy to the winners of the cable chess match between teams representing the house of commons and the United States house of representatives. Mr. Henniker Heaton says the date is fixed for May 24 or May 25, subject to the wishes of Congressman Pearson. The proceedings will be opened with friendly messages between the speakers of congress and the house of commons.

Spalding Pleads Not Guilty.

Chicago, May 8.—President Charles W. Spalding of the defunct Globe Savings bank was brought into court to plead to 29 indictments against him mostly charges of embezzlement. He entered a plea of not guilty to each of the indictments and was then sent back to his cell in the county jail. He has not yet been able to secure bondsmen in the sum of $300,000.

Police Eject the Marshal.

Syracuse, May 8.—Hoyt H. Freeman who has resisted the authority of Mayor McGuire in removing him from the office of fire marshal, was forcibly ejected from the fire marshal's quarters by the police. He says that this was what he expected. It was done on the mayor's orders.

Destruction of Cord Wood.

Saratoga, May 8.—During a heavy wind at Ballston Spa 2,000 cords of spruce pulp wood, owned by ex-Congressman George West, became ignited and more than 500 cords were burned. The fire was fought by a force of 100 men.

That Tired Feeling

An exceedingly common and dangerously significant condition.

A warning which must be heeded, or, as with the express train which fails to regard the danger signal, disaster must follow.

A sure indication of thin, weak, impoverished blood. A certain admonition that the blood is not properly feeding the nerves, tissues and organs of the body.

Weak, nervous, tired men and women are found everywhere. Men strive too hard to "keep their ends up," women too anxiously work "on their nerves" to meet the demands of home and society, all have too little sleep, and the excessive drain on strength and nervous energy will soon completely ruin health.

The strength must be built up by pure blood, and the nerves must also find in pure blood the proper nerve food. For this purpose nothing equals Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The thousands of wonderful cures it has accomplished, the like of which no other medicine and no combination of medicines can show, prove its curative merit; prove that it has never been equalled as a blood medicine; prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla is indeed the ideal spring medicine, the best nerve and stomach tonic, the one true blood purifier.

"I was feeling tired all the time, as tired in the morning as I was at night. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has helped me so that I have no such feelings now. My little girl suffered with pain in her stomach, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured her." JAMES T. MANN, Hubbardston, Mass.

Weakness and Loss of Appetite.

"Last spring my little girl had no appetite and was weak. I gave her one-half bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which cured her. We will now take no other medicine but Hood's Sarsaparilla, and recommend it to everyone for weakness and loss of appetite." WM. F. HANES, Brysonia, Pa.

All Tired Out.

"My husband was all tired out and run down in health. He felt the need of something to build him up, and he began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and the result was very satisfactory. We regard Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills as excellent medicines." MRS. H. L. MOWRY, Towanda, Pa.

Tired and Worn Out Feeling.

"I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and cannot say too much in its favor. It has done me more good than any medicine I have ever tried. I have advised my friends to use it for a tired and worn out feeling, as I know that it gives relief." WILLIAM T. HURDLE, Hollyville, Del.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is sold by all druggists. Price $1, six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. It is the One True Blood Purifier.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Business, In Spite of Contrary Reports, In Fairly Good Condition.

New York, May 8.—Dun's Review for the past week says:

Nearly all will be astonished to learn that actual sales in April by leading houses in each line of business in the principal cities east of the Rocky mountains average only about 10 per cent less than in April, 1892, the year of largest business hitherto, and were 6.1 per cent more than in the same month last year. Yet this is the summary of 357 reports, each covering actual sales of leading merchants in a line of business in one of 14 cities, which are given by cities and by different branches of trade in this issue. They are especially encouraging in view of the great fall of prices within the five years and the exceptional floods and other retarding influences this year. While speculative business in nearly all lines is small and does not swell clearing house returns as in previous years, the volume of legitimate trade shows no corresponding decrease, and the fact is one of the highest importance in all business calculations.

Moreover, returns of failures for April by branches of business, given only by the Mercantile agency, show decrease in number, amount and average of liabilities in almost every branch of trade and in nearly all branches of manufacture except cotton, although failures of five New Bedford mills for $7,990,734 make the total defaulted liabilities for the month 40 per cent larger than last year, 60 per cent larger than in 1895 and 32 per cent larger than 1894. The value of reports tracing failures to particular lines of business is impressively illustrated.

There is a gradual increase in the volume of business, and railway and clearing house returns are more favorable than for previous months. Returns of money from the interior continue large, $2,000,000 for the week. The money market is quiet, with some increase in demand for commercial loans. Failures for the week have been 221 in the United States, against 238 last year, and 36 in Canada, against 24 last year.

BEQUEST TO YALE.

Leroy, N. Y., May 8.—The Lampson will was presented for probate by Butler Ward, one of the executors, in the surrogate's court at Batavia, and Judge North appointed June 28 as the day for probate. The estate is not known. The bequests include one to Yale university of $150,000 for the erection of a building for commencement and public exercises, to be called the Lampson lyceum. If such a building is erected before the estate becomes available, a like sum is to be used for the erection of any other building of which the college may be in need.

The remaining portion of the estate outside of bequests is to be held by Yale in trust forever to establish the Lampson fund, the income to be devoted to the endowment of professorships of Latin, Greek and English literature, each professorship to have $4,000. If the income is more than sufficient for such professorships, this shall be disposed of as the Yale trustees may deem advisable.

Greater New York Charter Memento.

New York, May 8.—Governor Black's private secretary has sent to H. C. Duval the blotter with which the governor dried his signature to the Greater New York charter. It is now in the possession of George W. Chauncey, an ardent Brooklyn supporter of consolidation. The word "approved" can be faintly seen on the blotter, but "Frank S. Black, governor," stands out boldly and can be plainly read by holding the blotter to a looking glass. The authenticity of this memento is certified to in writing by the governor's private secretary.

BAYARD BANQUETED.

A Farewell Dinner Given to the Former Embassador.

BRILLIANT ASSEMBLY WAS PRESENT

Speeches Made by the Present and Retired Minister Are Listened to and Heartily Applauded by a Distinguished Audience.

London, May 8.—The farewell banquet given by the American society in London to Mr. Bayard, former embassador of the United States, was attended by 270 guests. The company included Embassador Hay, Mrs. Hay and all the members of the American embassy, the lord bishop of London (Dr. Creighton), Baron Russell of Killowen, the lord chief justice; Sir Francis and Lady Jeune, Sir Edwin Arnold, Sir Henry Thompson, Lady Randolph Churchill, Lady Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vivian and Miss Genevieve Ward, the actress.

Mr. Bayard had a cordial reception. He brought with him the log of the Mayflower, which he deposited in its glass case in the reception room, where it instantly became the center of attraction. He took Mrs. Hay in to dinner, Embassador Hay taking in Lady Jeune.

The dining room was prettily decorated with flowers and banners, the stars and stripes and the Union Jack being entwined about the arms of the state of Delaware above Mr. Bayard.

The lord bishop of London in a felicitous speech proposed the health of the president of the United States.

Newton Crane toasted the guest of the evening, Embassador Hay cordially applauding all his eulogies of Mr. Bayard. During the presentation of the loving cup, which is in the form of a pumpkin, surmounted by a bust of Mr. Bayard, Mr. and Mrs. Bayard were visibly affected.

Mr. Bayard's Remarks.

Mr. Bayard, on rising to respond to Mr. Crane's sentiments, was greeted with a storm of applause. He spoke for an hour slowly and impressively. He said in part:

"There is nothing we desire to conceal except a shamefacedness that tempts us to restrain the love each feels for the other; but there should never be a trace of doubt as to that affection between the heads of the two countries. No man feels this more than my illustrious successor. If I was ever worth a button, you have here a better button to put in my place. I rejoice in my successor, for he will be as fair as I have always sought to be."

Mr. Bayard insisted eloquently that there was no cause of quarrel between the two nations, and after a few words of graceful and touching farewell concluded with a happy reference to the log of the Mayflower.

Baron Russell, in proposing the health of Embassador Hay, said:

"The United States have sent us their best men to represent them; and we have no doubt that the chain will be continued unbroken. To Embassador Hay we will give the heartiest of welcomes, for we believe that he is the harbinger of peace and good will to all."

This toast was received with great enthusiasm.

Colonel Hay's Speech.

Colonel Hay, responding, said:

"When your chairman kindly invited me to be present, and when Mr. Bayard added the sanction of his own friendly request, I could not but avail myself of the opportunity to pass so delightful an evening in your company. I stipulated, however, that I was to come not in any official capacity, but simply as an American temporarily resident in England and desirous to add my tribute of regard to your distinguished guest.

"I always have been, and fancy I am now, cordially opposed to Mr. Bayard on almost every matter of public concern upon which men of good will may differ, but I have always been happy and proud of his personal friendship. I have shared the pleasure all his friends have taken in observing the unexampled affection and popularity which he has conquered in England. They are successes so complete that they can provoke neither envy nor emulation. Certainly no immediate successor of Mr. Bayard would be so injudicious as to attempt to rival his brilliant career or to replace him in the regard of the British people. Nothing but disaster could follow such an attempt. None but Ulysses could bend the bow of Ulysses. Mr. Bayard will always be remembered as our first embassador and all the more because he has gained the affectionate esteem not only of the government and the governing classes, but also of the masses of the people of these islands.

"Since the great revolution in France, which brought the people forward as the principal factor of sovereignty there, it has been the fashion of the kings and emperors to call themselves emperors and kings, not of France, but of the French. In like manner it would be not inappropriate to call Mr. Bayard not so much embassador to England as embassador to the English. I join you in wishing him and his family godspeed."

COUNTY NEWS.

From the Clinton Democrat this week we cull these few items as evidence of the original and newsy work performed by some of its country correspondents:

Lewis Eick has had his wagon repainted.

Sons of Rest now hunt both sunshine and shade.

We had a very fine rain which made everything grow.

The cider apples are all gone. The Fitzsimmons talk now.

John has got a new bob-tail dog and expects to give free shows this season.

Several of our embryo young men are troubled with an ingrowing moustache. [Simply a case of out of sight.]

The crows came in large flocks and lighted on Jake's barn. Jake you will have to chain fast that horse of yours.

We understand that Walter will soon begin to drive the mules from Lebanon to Parker. Good healthy job, Walter; but keep your feet in the wagon.

The young man who was spoken of in last week's issue as falling on a decayed apple is a valiant member of Chairbottom Council, No. 15, I. O. S. of R.

The Beau Brummell of the town has attained such a degree of expertness in parting his hair in the middle that he is, he states, at any moment prepared to wager on which side the odd hair is. Have you noticed him?

A FACT.

The publisher of a newspaper has one thing to sell and one thing to rent. He has the newspaper to sell and the space in his columns to rent. Can anyone inform us why he should be expected to give away either the one or the other? He can if he so chooses, and he does as a matter of fact, furnish a great deal of space rent free. But it does not follow that he ought to be expected to do so. It ought to be recognized as a contribution, exactly as would be the giving away of sugar or coffee by a grocer. But, strange to say, it is not looked upon in that light at all, yet everybody knows that the existance of a newspaper depends upon the rent of its space and the sale of the paper, as a merchant's success depends on selling his goods instead of giving them away.—New Brunswick Home News.

NEW JERSEY'S PATRONAGE.

President McKinley is reported to have said the following in reference to New Jersey patronage:

"I have not done much for New Jersey yet. She wants something in the way of diplomatic and Consular patronage. She deserves something and I intend to give her something without any unnecessary delay. I don't think I can do anything more in that line for your State awhile, at least not till after New Jersey has been recognized."

THEATRICAL.

There will be a big double bill in continuous progress at Proctor's Twenty-Third street, New York, throughout this week with Edward Harrigan and Henry Lee as the bright particular stars. Mr. Harrigan is to make his reappearance in vaudeville after a long and successful career as an actor, playright and manager both in New York and on the road. He is to play the title roll in "Sergeant Hickey" a vaudeville farce that he has just completed, many of the best scenes of which are culled from his former plays. His company will comprise Harry A. Fisher, Hattie Moore, Michael Carney, Dave Braham, Jr., and Rose Branham. The piece abounds in hilarious complicatians that arise from a topsy turvy condition of Col. Wharton's household.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Andrew Stuart Patterson was one of the twenty-two members elected to membership in the New York Chamber of Commerce at its meeting held May 6th.

What We Inherit

We are not to blame for. We cannot be held responsible for the dispositions and tendencies which we derive from our ancestors, nor are we responsible for the germs of disease which may manifest themselves in our blood as a heritage from former generations. But we are responsible if we allow these germs to develop into serious diseases which will impair our usefulness and destroy our happiness. We are responsible if we transmit to our descendants the disease germs which it is possible for us to eradicate by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, the one true blood purifier. This medicine has power to make rich, red blood and establish perfect health in place of disease.

C. R. THIERS, Dentist.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Jack Auten is entertaining Bound Brook friends.

Fred Giddis spent last night at Port Richmond, S. I.

John Schaeffer, an employe of Paul Reusch, is suffering from tonsilitis.

Carson Johnson is recovering from a severe attack of quinsy sore throat.

Mrs. J. W. Griggs has gone to New Brunswick for a week's visit among friends.

John Krymer's house on Grove street is being wired throughout for electric lighting.

Mrs. J. Peters and daughter have returned from a very pleasant visit with New York friends.

Grove street in Dunellen is the shortest street in the county. It is less than one block long.

Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph, of Newark, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Randolph, of Washington avenue.

T. W. Todd and Freeholder Gise drove over to New Brunswick yesterday and transacted some court business.

The many friends of Miss Mabel Lewis will regret to learn that she is confined to the house, suffering from chills and fever.

The J. S. Craig place on Front street is still in the hands of the carpenters, masons and painters, who are converting the building into a beautiful Summer cottage.

Rev. Joshua Mead will conduct services, both morning and evening, in the M. E. Church, to-morrow. Rev. Mr. Mead is the new pastor of the church, and he is becoming more and more popular each day as a preacher.

A couple of Dunellen urchins got into a scrap on the main street yesterday afternoon, and out of the half dozen or so of men and boys who witnessed it, not one of them had sand enough to go go out and stop the fight.

Edward Teal and W. H. Carman received by express, yesterday, a box of choice brook trout from Sullivan County, N. Y. They were sent on as a gift from a guide there who piloted Messrs. Teal and Carman about during their late hunting and fishing expedition in Sullivan County.

An exciting runaway took place on what is known as the back road early Thursday evening. The horse became frightened at a couple of trained bears, and turning suddenly in the roadway upset the wagon, throwing out the occupants, a man and young woman. Neither were seriously injured.

The electric light company which furnished light for Dunellen and Bound Brook, is getting in shape to place their new engine on the new foundation walls at the company's plant in Greenbrook. The street lights are now giving much better service than they have been for some time past.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Mrs. George Clark has been visiting in New York city.

Mrs. W. S. Emery is indisposed at her home, but it is hoped that her illness will prove nothing of a serious nature.

The children of John Miller, who have been laid up with diphtheria, have so far recovered as to be able to go out again.

The Fanwood Township Committee has inaugurated a good movement. It is the substitution of iron culverts for the wooden ones now in use throughout the township.

Today is the day when the Fanwood club house liquor license comes up at Elizabeth. It is understood that a remonstrance signed by many of the reputable citizens of the place is to be presented to the court and it seems to be the universal opinion that the place is not wanted.

W. P. McCord, a member of the Greenwich, Conn., bicycle club, rode into the Plains yesterday afternoon on his way to Lawrenceville, near Trenton. He said he was entered in several events in the athletic games to take place there today. He seemed to be somewhat fatigued after his long journey, but said he will be all right after a good night's rest.

The stone capping from the bridge over what is known as "Long Meadow Run" is still missing, and although the County Board of Freeholders have taken the matter in hand, the mystery is as far from being solved as ever. What anyone could want of the stone is a mystery. It was cut specially for the position it occupied, and for what else it could be utilized no one seems to know.

WESTFIELD

AFFAIRS OF THE TOWN

WESTFIELD TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE MET LAST EVENING.

Numerous Matters of More or Less Importance Disposed of—Some Timely Personal Gossip and Passing Mention.

The Westfield Town Committee held a meeting last evening. A recommendation from the secretary of the fire department that fire hydrants be placed in front of the Willis property, on South avenue, and at the C. & C. Works, at Garwood, was laid on the table until it could be ascertained how much money remained in the fund set aside for that purpose. A communication received from the Suburban Electric Company stated that eleven new incandescent street lamps had been located and would shortly be placed in position. The application of Adam Huffman for the position of overseer of the township roads, was read and placed on file. A request was received from the Garwood Land Improvement Company, that the township assume the expense of maintaining the electric lights at Garwood on the north side of Elizabeth avenue. A petition was received from the W. C. T. U. that an electric light be placed in front of Temperance Hall, on Prospect street. The report of E. W. Chamberlain, superintendent of sewers, stated that fifteen permits to connect with the sewer had been issued, the fees from which amounted to $45. Town Counsel Frank Bergen presented a blank for the use of property-owners who desire to pay sewer assessments in instalments. A request was received from Stratford & Hawkes, the sewer contractors, that the Committee appoint a day to meet them with a view to effecting a final settlement of their account. It was decided to agree upon a night next week, whenever it would be possible for the Town Counsel and Engineer Dunham to be present. Tax Collector Clark was instructed to pay to the Township Treasurer the money collected from sewer assessments, and to make the same disposition of all similar fees hereafter collected.

J. S. Irving is able to be out again after a week's illness.

Miss Maria Simpson has purchased a new Liberty bicycle.

Miss Carrie Smith, of Newark, is visiting Miss Elsie Welch.

Miss Bigelow, of New York city, is the guest of Miss Minnie Lynde.

James Moffett has completed Wm. S. Welch's house on Prospect street.

The Christian Endeavor and the Junior Christian Endeavor Societies of the Baptist church will hold a union prayer meeting in the church parlors tomorrow evening at seven o'clock. "Why I love Jesus" will be the subject, and Mrs. C. F. Conant will lead.

The funeral services of Mrs. George Dougherty were held at half past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Baptist church, the Rev. George A. Francis officiating. The floral offerings were very fine, and several touching hymns were sung by the church choir. The interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

The lady managers of the Westfield Children's Country Home met at the residence of Mrs. Martin Welles, in Elm street, yesterday afternoon. The president, Mrs. V. O. Burtis, was in the choir. The reports of the different officers were of great interest, and showed that an active summer's work at the Home is contemplated. The treasurer's report was encouraging, showing a cash balance of $275.33. The declination of Mrs. Frank Smith to accept the position of permanent secretary was read. It was decided to defer the election of a secretary until the next meeting of the board. The Home will be opened for the reception of fresh air children from New York about June 1st. Mrs. Fielding, the former matron, whose work at the Home has met with general approval, will remain in charge.

A FIGHT WITH A CONSTRICTOR.

An English Officer Attacked by a Fifteen-Foot Monster.

Of all the snakes in the world the snakes of Java are the most terrible, both in size and in venom. Some terrible stories are told of adventures with these huge scourges of the jungle. Two years ago, says the Chicago Record, an English naval lieutenant went to Java for the purpose of making a collection of Javan reptiles. His only attendant was an English sailor lad about sixteen, and these two, against all warning, went roaming around the forests without a guide.

In Chorn, the ruined city, the lieutenant found a rich harvest, but an adventure with a snake ended his sport. One day he and the boy were under an archway of the big temple, and, looking through the doorway of one of the dark chambers, he saw something yellow in the far corner. Without a moment's thought he entered and gave the mass a punch with his cane. A tremendous hiss that fairly shook the walls was followed by an assault swift as the leap of a tiger, and the man found himself seized by a huge Dari snake, the most aggressive and dangerous of Javan constrictors. His left shoulder was crushed in the brute's teeth, and quick as a flash a coil was around his body, and he felt the steel-like compression.

But the grit of the boy saved his master's life. He had a heavy, sharp wood knife, and he struck the reptile two quick blows just back of the head, the most vulnerable part of its body, because the thinnest. Its backbone was divided. The coil relaxed, but the powerful tail lashed out, breaking the boy's leg. It was two hours before they were found and brought up in a cart. The lieutenant's left shoulder was crushed beyond surgery, and the arm was useless. Both the master and the boy recovered after a spell of fever. The snake, a hideous object, black and yellow, was fifteen feet long. Such a brute would crush a horse.

A GEORGIA NEGRO PRODIGY.

Can Multiply Numbers Without a Moment's Consideration.

Robert Gardhire is a negro and an uneducated one, but when it comes to figures he can't be stopped by any mathematician in the world. He is an humble resident of Augusta, and is employed as a laborer at the Interstate Cotton Oil Company. In multiplication Gardhire is as quick as thought. Before the average person can set the figures down with a pencil Gardhire has given the correct answer, and yet he cannot say how he does it.

He was asked what was the sum total of 99 times 67, and without repeating the figures to himself, Gardhire answered off-hand, "6,663." "How much?" asked some one, "is 501 times 32?" Without stopping a second Gardhire replied, "16,032." And thus for over half an hour numbers were thrown at him, and he gave the correct multiplication like a flash. In the multiplication of fractions the man is equally proficient, and there seems no limit to his powers, which are almost occult.

Gardhire cannot remember when he first became aware of his power, and does not even know how he discovered it. He says that when the figures are given him he sees their answer immediately. Simply by glancing at a long line of figures he can tell immediately what the addition is. —Augusta Chronicle.

A Scotch Child.

I have a small cousin, aged eight, who has already contracted the very bad habit of smoking whenever he gets a chance.

The other evening, after he had been put to bed, his father went upstairs to the room where he was and began to search the youngster's pockets.

The boy lay watching him for a few minutes, then suddenly sat up and exclaimed:

"Oh, faither, I clean forgot! I pocht a pennyworth of cigarettes the day for a present tae ye."

And just then his father drew four cigarettes out of one of the small pockets. Needless to say, he escaped that time.—From Answers.

Their Peculiar Aversions.

Most people have aversions of some kind or other, and some very strange ones. Napoleon did not like to see a white dog. Agassiz could not bear to touch polished steel. The sight of the rising moon, when it was full, always made Mme. De Stael ill. Barefooted children made Louis XIV. nervous. Dean Swift has aid that Bolingbroke would "act like one bereft should he cast his eye on a poor, harmless toade." Disraeli had an attack of vertigo when he saw anybody chewing gum. Dickens never liked a stiff shirt bosom, and Buffon would fly into a rage if any one put an egg on the dining-table at which he sat.—Golden Days.

Wholly Vindictive.

"It is shameful!" exclaimed the actress to whom the manager-star owed money. "But I will get even with him some time."

"What do you propose to do—sue him?"

"And give him the benefit of all that advertising? Never!"—Washington Star.

Cautious.

The example of a Scotch baronet of old might be valuable as regards the only safe method of proceeding to arbitration. Sir John Innes, after discussing the preliminaries of an arbitration, was asked:

"But will ye abide by my award?"

"Faith, I would like to ken first what it is," replied Sir John.

How He Selected His Deputy.

That tale related in the telegrams of an Alabama girl who shot a young man a couple of times and then married him recalls the methods employed by George Bardsley, one of the early day sheriffs of Ellis county, in appointing his deputies. One night he was called to Chris Riley's saloon, where "Texas Frank," a newly arrived desperado in Hays City, was "shooting out" the place—a performance which consisted in the promiscuous firing of his "gun" at the barkeeper, bystanders, lamps, bottles and pictures. Sheriff Bardsley grabbed the first weapon handy in his own saloon, which happened to be a double-barreled shotgun, and proceeded to Riley's on the run. Dashing in he ordered Frank to throw up his hands, and the response was a bullet from Frank's .44. Letting go both barrels of his shotgun, Bardsley brought the desperado to the floor, so full of shot holes that he couldn't hold either air or water.

Frank was not killed, however, and in course of time recovered, under the kind attention which he received in the county jail. Presently it was observed that the Texas man was walking around town without a guard, and a little later the people were astonished to find him serving legal papers and making arrests. Bardsley was approached by a newspaper man at this time, when the following colloquy took place:

"Is Texas Frank your deputy?" queried the reporter.

"Yep!" was the sententious response of Bardsley.

"How does that come?" was the next inquiry.

"Well, you see," said Bardsley, "most sheriffs appoint their deputies, but I like to shoot mine."—Kansas City Journal.

Got No Credit for It.

"I haven't any confidence in Hicksworthy. He's a hypocrite."

"What makes you think so?"

"I saw him when he mashed his thumb accidentally with a hammer the other day. All he said was 'ouch!'"

THE UNCONSCIOUS ADVERTISER.

Meekins is by no means an outlaw, but nevertheless there is a price on his head.—Harper's Weekly.

YOUR BUILDINGS will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? DEATH OF DUC D'AUMALE.

He Succumbs to Shock on Hearing of the Duchess d'Alencon's Fate.

Paris, May 8.—News was received here that the Duc d'Aumale died at Zucco, Sicily, on Thursday from the shock consequent upon learning of the death of the Duchess d'Alencon in the Paris fire. He was 75 years of age.

Henri Eugene Philippe Louis de Orleans, duc d'Aumale, the fourth son of the late King Louis Philippe of France and his queen, Marie Amelie, was born in Paris on Jan. 16, 1822. He entered the army at the age of 17. From 1840 to 1843 he served in the campaigns in Algeria. For this brilliant service there he was made a lieutenant general. He married Marie Caroline Auguste de Bourbon, daughter of Prince Leopold of Salemo, in 1844. She died in 1869.

The duke became governor general of Algeria in 1847 and continued there until the revolution in 1848, when he rejoined the exiled royal family in England. For a time he devoted himself to literary labors. In 1861 he addressed a pamphlet to Prince Jerome Bonaparte, which created a great sensation. The duke challenged the prince, whose refusal to meet him created great indignation in France.

The duke lived in England until the repeal of the law banishing the Orleans family. He then returned to Paris, became a member of the assembly and president of the council general of the Oise. He was elected a member of the French academy in 1871. He was made a general of division on March 10, 1872. On the passage of the bill of expulsion against his family the duke again withdrew from France.

After he had left it was discovered that he had given his chateau at Chantilly, with all the priceless treasures it contained, to the institute in trust for the French nation. The decree banishing him was revoked in 1889, and he returned. In the same year he was elected president of the French academy for three months. He published several well known literary works, chief among which was his "Histoire des Princes de la Maison de Conde."

The Duc d'Aumale was an uncle of the Duc d'Alencon, whose wife perished in the charity bazaar disaster in Paris on Tuesday.

TWO ASPHYXIATED.

The Body of an Aged Lady and Her Grandnephew Found.

New York, May 8.—The dead bodies of Mrs. Fannie Scott of Yonkers, N. Y., and her 5-year-old grandnephew, George McKenzie, whose parents live at Mott Haven, N. Y., were discovered in a sleeping apartment in Mrs. Scott's summer cottage at Asbury Park, N. J. Mrs. Scott opened her cottage about three weeks ago, taking her grandnephew with her to Asbury Park on account of his health.

They were last seen alive on Wednesday afternoon. Neighbors wondered where they had gone and yesterday broke into the cottage. A flood of gas almost suffocated them, and when this had escaped sufficiently to allow the searchers to make an investigation the bodies were found, that of Mrs. Scott lying on the floor and that of the little boy on the bed. Gas was pouring full force out of an open burner.

It is believed that the woman had turned on the stopcock by mistake just before retiring. Mrs. Scott was 70 years of age.

GREEKS ARE DEFIANT

Although It Seems Hopeless, They Keep Up the Fight.

TURKS FIND PHARSALA DESERTED.

The Powers Have Not Been Heard From In the Matter of Intervention—The English Commons Blames Greece For the State of Affairs.

Athens, May 8.—The Greek fleet at Volo has been instructed not to hinder the entrance of the Turks in order to save the town from destruction.

General Smolenski's artillery, engineers and some cavalry have proceeded to Almyros by sea.

A dispatch from Pharsala via Larissa says: "During Wednesday's battle our losses were not heavy, but it is impossible to exaggerate the strategic and moral importance of the Turkish victory. Our soldiers are hunting for umbrellas, which are almost a military necessity, the sun is so broiling hot."

It appears that the Greeks intended to resist to the uttermost. On the platform at the railway station were barricades of turf and forage, and the houses had been strengthened by heaps of turf and were loopholed for rifles.

The coolness of the Turks was extraordinary. Three soldiers stood together in advance of their comrades on a path crossing a meadow while a whole battalion of Greeks fired at them. They did not condescend to stoop or to lie down, but fired away coolly till their skirmishers came to their help.

The stoicism of the wounded is equally admirable. One young fellow, an Albanian, with a ball in his foot, and even then under fire, stood calmly and smilingly discussing with a companion the best way of retiring. Another, with a wounded hand, slept all night without troubling to get the wound dressed.

The courage and physical force of the Turkish soldier are prodigious. Many of them fought on Wednesday from dawn till 7 in the evening without the least distress.

Engagement Near Velestino.

Pharsala, May 8.—An engagement began near Velestino and lasted several hours, the Greeks being finally beaten back. They have retreated upon Volo, sharply pursued by the Turks.

When the Turks entered Pharsala, they found the place utterly deserted.

The Turks are beginning to believe the Greeks are not serious in their fighting, as Pharsala was so strongly fortified that they believed its capture, if resolutely defended, would have been impossible.

The Greek artillery fire during the Turkish advance was wonderfully accurate. Nevertheless, the Turks advanced singing and without heeding the shells bursting in their midst. During the attack on Vasili some of the Turks picked up stones, saying, "These are good enough for the Greeks."

The scene half an hour before darkness was most impressive. The Turks had determined at all costs to drive the Greeks out of the town. The constant flashes of the fieldpices illuminated the faces of the gunners, who were eagerly watching the effect of each discharge through the gathering darkness, while on the opposite side was a long, thin line of spluttering infantry fusillade.

As night fell the firing gradually ceased, and by 7 o'clock all was quiet. The Turks threw themselves on the ground and slept. Only 30 Turks were killed and 200 wounded during the fighting.

Curzon Defends England's Policy.

London, May 8.—In the house of commons the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. George N. Curzon, warmly defended Great Britain for her part in the concert and blamed the provocation of the Greeks, saying that the attitude of the Christians in Crete was due to the presence of the Greek force. Mr. Curzon further said that the withdrawal of the Turkish troops in Crete would be the prelude to a massacre of the Mussulmans, compared with which the Armenian massacres would sink into insignificance.

Continuing, Mr. Curzon remarked that the day the Greeks withdrew would be the dawn of brighter prospects for Crete.

Regarding affairs on the mainland of Greece, Mr. Curzon said that there were few persons who did not know on which side the provocation rested, but he added the chastisement had been so terrible that he would not say any more on the subject. The Turks, he asserted, had exercised considerable self restraint before they accepted the challenge, and the powers had carried their conciliatory attitude toward the Greeks almost to the point of weakness. They now expressed their willingness to mediate with Turkey if Greece would express her willingness to accept mediation.

King and Queen Insulted.

London, May 8.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"Private news from Athens which has escaped censorship shows the position of royalty there to be more perilous than ever. The members of the royal family rarely leave the palace, and their portraits have been withdrawn from public view.

"When the queen and princess visit the hospitals, they are openly insulted in the streets. The palace is watched by revolutionary agents, lest their majesties should attempt to flee the country.

"It is said that Turkey is really the chief hindrance to the powers proposing mediation, as the porte claims the right to finish the war in the ordinary way."

The Powers Not Heard From.

Athens, May 8.—The intervention communications from the powers have not yet been received.

The Greek government has notified the powers that the Greek fleet has established an effective blockade of the coast of Epirus.

Prominent Banker Dead.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Great preparations are being made for the semi-annual field day of the Plainfield High School at the Crescent Oval on Saturday afternoon, May 15th. William A. DeLong, chairman of the committee in charge, is hustling to make the affair a success and there seems no doubt but that it will be one. Although the events are confined only to members of the New Jersey Interscholastic Association, there will be no lack of entries as all the schools in the association will enter teams of men.

CYCLING COMMENT.

The following persons purchased Keating wheels from the Plainfield Cycle and Sporting Goods Company yesterday: Senator Reed, Charles Lyman, Henry Haurand, Horace Moore, W. Sorenson, Morris Sutphen, Miss Huntington, Miss Dora Frederickson, of this city, and Mr. Coriell, of Dunellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Woltman, of West Seventh street, entertained a few friends at their home Thursday evening by giving a card party.

A pleasant birthday surprise party was given to James McInnes at his home on Pond place last evening. There were about thirty-five or forty friends present, and the evening was spent in singing, dancing and various other amusements.

Last Week of Buffalo Bill.

Next week will be the last of the engagement of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders of the World at Madison Square Garden, New York. There is every indication that it will continue to play to a series of crowded houses. There will be but few changes in the programme from last week, as the present programme is so entirely satisfactory. There is not a number on the programme that is not entertaining. Col. Cody may leave the Garden with the certainty that he has fairly captured New York with a novel, unique and diverting entertainment, which is an exhibition and not a "show."

Too Drunk to Walk.

Jeremiah Garry, of Watchung avenue, was arrested last evening by Marshal Wilson, of the borough. Garry was on Somerset street in an intoxicated condition and the officer was obliged to secure a wagon to take his victim to the lockup. This morning Recorder Thomas gave Garry his choice between $8 and fifteen days. Garry took the latter.

Avenue Bridge to be Considered.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders will hold meetings next Tuesday and Wednesday at Somerville. At this time it is expected that some arrangements will be made for the erection of a bridge on Watchung avenue across the brook.

Campbell's Condition Critical.

James Campell, colored, who was injured at Whitehouse last Sunday morning, is rapidly growing worse and it is not thought that he will live long.

A Famous Poem in Danger.

Tennyson, just after finishing the manuscript of "In Memorium," had trouble with his landlady, and gave up his lodgings. He forgot the manuscript, but could not be induced to go back and face the landlady. His friend, Coventry Patmore, who was with him, returned to the lodgings, forced his way in, and found the poem, already thrown carelessly into a drawer of rubbish.—Tid-Bits.

He Was the Compass.

A NEW BOROUGH SOLON.

members of West End Hose Company, while P. Seader was confirmed as a member of Warren Engine Company. Mr. Schutt offered a resolution that the action of Collector Spencer in paying the monthly pay roll to the amount of $190.99 be confirmed. Mr. Burtis called up the telephone ordinance and asked that it be placed on its third reading. There was a desire on the part of Mr. MacLoughlin to have the ordinance amended so that the telephone company would place its wires under ground. Mr. Reed stated that the company was anxious to place their wires under ground but they were desirous of doing the work in the city and borough all at one time. Mr. MacLoughlin withdrew his amendment to the ordinance and the ordinance was adopted as a whole after being read by sections. The members then went into executive session, supposedly for the object of settling the Watchung avenue matter, and the council interviewed both Engineer F. A. Dunham and Contractor Bowden while in session. All matters were amicably adjusted and the money due will be paid over by the council.

When the council returned to the regular order Mr. Rogers was made president of the council in accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. MacLoughlin. Mr. Rogers thanked the members for the honors bestowed and stated that he would do his best to work for the interest of the borough.

Mr. Rogers then offered a resolution that the West End Hose house be accepted by the council and that the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee be given the power to have the necessary apparatus placed in the house and everything put in order for business. The au hority was granted and the house was accepted, after which the council adjourned.

A GAY FETE FOR SOCIETY.

THE TOWN IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION'S GREAT AFFAIR.

To Be Given on Mrs. Pierre Mali's Beautiful Grounds for the Purpose of Raising Money to Improve Park.

The ladies of the Town Improvement Association are planning a delightful fete champetre, to be held Saturday afternoon and evening, June 5th, on the grounds of Mrs. Pierre Mali's country home in this city, says the New York Herald. The property is familiarly known as the home, during the summer, of John Taylor Johnston, when he was president of the New Jersey Central Railroad. His prominence as a man of letters and patron of art made Mr. Johnston a conspicious figure in New York city, where he resided in the winter, until his death, about four years ago. He was the founder of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, its president for many years, and a liberal contributor to its art treasures. Mrs. Pierre Mali, his daughter, well-known in New York society circles as a resident of Fifth avenue and possessed of artistic tastes, has inherited the public minded spirit of her father, and is the president of the Town Improvement Association of Plainfield, where she spends her summers at the home of her childhood.

The newly elected officers of this association are: President, Mrs. Pierre Malli; vice presidents, Mrs. A. S. Patterson and Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph; recording secretary, Mrs. S. R. Krom; corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Stewart; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Gilbert. The working committees for the new year are as yet incomplete, but will consist of many of the best women of the highest social position in Plainfield.

Funds being needed for the fitting up of a park, in the development of improvements in that charming suburban town, Mrs. Mali has given the use of the buautiful grounds that surround her home for the coming entertainment. No more delightful spot could be found anywhere for a fete champetre. Broad lawns, shaded by fine old trees stretch out in verdant beauty, inviting to rest and comfort. Some of these trees were planted by Mr. Berkman, a former owner of the property, who came from Belgium and claimed his descent from Rubens. Carriage drives and enticing footpaths intersect the acres of greensward, counted by the hundred, and a beautiful brook courses through the whole in such a charming way that no word but "meander" describes it, even if the word is hackneyed and hints of sentimental description. Boats under the care of competent oarsmen will sail upon this winding stream for those who wish to gratify at the same time two American ideas—ease and motion. Mr. J. Doull Miller has charge of these boatmen, and the decorations of the boats and illumination at night with Chinese lanterns will be under the control of Miss Edith Hyde.

An artistic rustic arbor to the left of the front entrance will be the centre of the fruit and flower department. It will be a veritable bower of beauty, with its floral decorations and twining green. Japanese lanterns at night will shed their tinted glow over the whole, making a scene fit for faryland. Mrs. J. Parker Mason is in charge of this bower, and she and her assistants will wear wreaths of June flowers. Mrs. Mason's aids are Mrs. J. Doull Miller, Mrs. Barrows, Mrs. Pinto, Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mrs. Fred Yates, Mrs. Edward Van Buren, Mrs. W. C. Delaney, Mrs. Marion Ackerman, Mrs. Joseph Reinhart, Mrs. F. G. Mead, Mrs. Clifton Wharton and the Misses Edith Smalley, Daisy Shepard, Edith Hyde, May Waring, Florence Waring, Marion Dumont, Elizabeth Stewart, and Katharyn Reinhart.

The dark old trees, with heavy foliage and masses of greenery, suggest gypsies, and here they will be, on an island in the stream—dark-browed, gaily costumed, artistic and bewitching. Here gypsy songs and dances in Hungarian costumes will be given, to the sound of tambourine and stirring music. Here, too, Hungarian gypsies, dark of eye and wild of blood, will tell strange fortunes for the crossing of their palms with a "bit o' siller." In the evening the gypsy encampment will be illuminated by flaming torches and a genuine campfire, around which gypsy youths and maidens will be clustered with banjos and mandolins, singing their wild glees. A special feature of this part of the entertainment will be the serving of flapjacks, baked over the campfire and served in the true Adirondack style, with maple sugar and butter. The committee in charge of the gypsy encampment include Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. A. Walter Haviland, Mrs. William L. Saunders, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr.,

A TINGE OF ROMANCE.

LOVE AND BUSINESS DID NOT MIX WELL IN THIS CASE.

Brooks Carson Borrowed Money From His Former Fiance and Paid Her—In Trouble With Another Creditor.

There is a tinge of romance in the case that has now come to the district court of Somerset county for settlement. The principals are or were residents of North Plainfield, and the entire thing hinges on Carson's greenhouse, just over the brook in North Plainfield, on Franklin avenue.

In 1895, Brooks Carson came to this city to start a greenhouse and enter the business of raising flowers. Not having the necessary capital, he borrowed $500 of Mrs. Sarah Mair, wife of James Mair, of Summit avenue, and Miss Rose Carson, now of Jersey City, his second cousin. Now it happened that Brooks Carson was engaged to his second cousin and it was said that the marriage was to take place as soon as the business could be put on a paying basis. Of the money borrowed, Mrs. Mair lent $300 and Miss Carson $200. To secure the debt, Carson gave them a bill of sale of all his property.

There was a quarrel between the cousins and the engagement was broken off and Carson afterwards married another girl. By frugality and industry his business had flourished so that he was able to keep a house of his own. When he married he came to his former choice and paid her the $200 that he owed her. Then Mrs. Mair asked for her money also. She claims that Carson refused to pay her unless she would consent to take the money in installments of $5 monthly. He is said to have given as a reason that he had not the money to pay the debt in full.

Then Mrs. Mair came to Swackhamer & Williams and placed the matter in their hands. They went to Somerville and secured a writ of replevin which it is expected will be served today. The court will now be called upon to see whether Carson is compelled to pay the debt at once or give up the greenhouses and other property.

FIRST PLACE GONE NOW.

HIGH SCHOOL BALL TEAM LOSE AN IMPORTANT GAME.

East Orange Boys Came and Defeated the Local Players by a Score of 6 to 2—No Chance in View for the Championship.

All chances for the baseball championship of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association as far as the Plainfield High School is concerned, disappeared Saturday afternoon when the crack team from the East Orange High School came to this city and defeated the High School boys in a hotly contested game. The final score was 6 to 2.

The visitors were a gentlemanly lot of fellows and they put up a good clean game of ball. The principal factor in the result was Mamie, pitcher for the East Orange nine. The Plainfield players did not understand his curves and did not seem able to bat him safely. There were few errors on the part of the visitors, but quite a number on the part of the local nine. The runs made by the East Orange team were the result of combined hits and errors.

Sutphen had good control of the ball as pitcher for the Plainfield team, but he was hit more freely than his opponent.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd, a few of the fair sex being present. The crowd was not partial and applauded the brilliant plays on both sides.

Plainfield took the lead in the first inning, but the East Orange boys tied in the second and forged ahead in the third. The local team did not score again until the sixth inning when Smith managed to get around the circuit of the bases with the assistance of his fellow school mates. East Orange scored in the fifth and sixth innings also. Only six-and-a half innings were played.

While the High School team were somewhat disheartened at the defeat, yet they have a record to be proud of and after being absent from the diamond for so long and the chances of having a winning team next year are very strong. None of the team graduate this year, and there will be another class entering from which material may be selected. The score by innings was as follows:—

CUPID'S COY SECRET OUT

FRANK LINBARGER MARRIED UNDER THE NAME OF DR. LEE.

The Bride, Miss May Sandford, of Red Bank, Knew the Secret, But Did Not Tell—Parents Are Indignant.

It was two years ago that Frank Lee Linbarger, formerly of this city, but recently of Elizabeth, was spending the summer at Asbury Park, and while there met and was introduced to a charming young woman whose name was Miss May Sandford. Almost from the start there seemed to be an affectionate regard between the two. They met frequently and took long walks together, and during their stay at the Park their love increased until finally they became engaged. Soon afterward Mr. Linbarger returned to Elizabeth, where he was practicing dentistry, while his fiance, together with her mother, returned to their home at Red Bank.

After that time Dr. Linbarger called on his betrothed regularly. Not a great while ago the day for the wedding was set. That time happened to be within the past two weeks. On neither side of the two families did there seem to be any objection to the marriage until after the ceremony was performed. It was then learned that Dr. Linbarger was not married by his right name, but instead he had given the name of Dr. Lee, the last name being his middle name. He had divulged the secret to his wife to be, and she advised him to keep the name he had given. She did not like the idea of having her friends know that she was introduced to her lover by a wrong name. The young man consented to keep the name and thus be married by it. The wedding took place at the home of the bride at Red Bank within the past two weeks and the couple are now residing there where Dr. Linbarger is practicing dentistry.

His wife is reputed to be worth about $75,000 and the doctor's friends are congratulating him. The latter is very popular wherever he is known and he has a large circle of friends in this city who will be surprised to learn of his marriage. The doctor's parents, who live in Elizabeth, are very indignant over the fact their son should be married under an assumed name and it is said that they have disowned him for doing so.

The news of the marriage was received in this city on Saturday and very few persons knew of it. It is now claimed that Dr. and Mrs. Linbarger are not legally married, owing to the fact that the doctor was married under an assumed name, and the friends of both parties are anxious that the ceremony should be performed a second time. It is not known as yet whether the couple will be married a second time or not. Both are very well pleased with their choice and the prospects are that they will live happily together.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Mrs. Oliver P. Vosseller Passed Away Saturday Night.

The sudden death of Mrs. Oliver P. Vosseller, of 319 East Second street, which occurred Saturday night about 12 o'clock, will be a great shock to her many friends and acquaintances who were not conscious of her serious illness. Mrs. Vosseller has been ill for a long time past, and while her disease was one which could not be cured, it was not thought that the end was so near. Everything possible has been done to prolong her life, but all efforts failed, and the end came peacefully.

Mrs. Vosseller was a faithful Christian woman and a member of the Trinity Reformed church. Whenever possible she always identified herself with the work of the church, and she will be missed by those with whom she was associated. In the home she was a loving mother and wife, and her place can never be filled. The husband and children have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Veghte, of Somerville. She leaves a husband and three children.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow at 12 o'clock noon from the house on East Second street. Interment will be at Somerville.

An Illustrated Lecture.

The illustrated lecture given at the First Presbyterian church last evening by Rev. C. E. Herring was a thoroughly enjoyable one. It was the continuation of the series of lectures given on the life of St. Paul. The lecture last evening closed with an illustrated hymn appropriate to the lecture, the slide for which was made by Mr. Herring.

Robert Bremmer, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., was the guest of Russell F. Hazard, of East Sixth street, over Sunday.

KEPT THE JUDGE BUSY.

DRUNKS AND BICYCLE OFFENDERS WERE ARRAIGNED BEFORE HIM.

A Quarrel Over Rent Caused Trouble on South Second Street and Two Policemen Had an Exceedingly Lively Time There.

The summer weather has made things lively at the City Court and City Judge DeMeza is kept busy with the different cases. The Judge was called out yesterday to attend to some of the offenders.

John Little of this city had little to say. It was so warm that he had gone out doors Saturday evening and fallen asleep on the sidewalk. He admitted that he had had one drink. Sentence was suspended on him.

John Decker came from Newark, got drunk and was sent home in a hurry. The Judge gave him ten minutes to leave town.

Mike Kelly came up before the City Judge again this morning. He had been drunk again and Patrolman Myers had locked him up. He was given his choice between a fine of $10 and thirty days in jail.

John Wilson had never heard of the bicycle ordinance, so he told the Judge this morning, but Roundsman Flynn, the "Bicycle Cop" as the boys call him, had found Wilson riding on the sidewalk without a bell. For the double offence, Wilson was fined $3.

James Conway and Michael Finnerty quarreled over a question of rent in Finnerty's rooms, on South Second street, Saturday night. Mrs. Finnerty screamed "Police!" and "Murder!" from the front door and Patrolman Myers came in. He arrested Conway and grabbed Finnerty by the vest. Finnerty, aided by his relatives, left the officer in possession of the vest but not the man. Conway was locked up. Myers and Patrolman Saunders went after Finnerty. They found him. Finnerty's dog tried to anchor its teeth in Saunders' leg, so the officer used his club. The officers dragged Finnerty and family to the gate and finally separated them. Both prisoners were drunk. They were arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning. Conway, for being the cause of the trouble, was fined $8 Finnerty escaped with a $3 fine.

Part of Her Wheel Returned.

Miss Eleanor T. Vandeventer, of Washington Park, who had her wheel stolen last week, was greatly surprised on Saturday when a portion of it was returned to her. Everything except the two wheels were brought back by workmen who found it on the new portion of Sycamore avenue where they were working. Miss Vandeventer at once recognized the part returned and she was pleased to secure that much of her wheel.

Mr. Durlach Falls in Line.

Mr. Durlach, of Jersey City, was in town yesterday and made a close survey of the work of the opening of Watcung avenue. He is reported to have said to a Plainfield man that he was very glad that the street was opened and he was of the opinion that the ones who engineered it were enterprising people. He also said that in all probability the old house at the corner of Watchung avenue and Front street would be torn down and in its place a handsome brick building erected.

Reward For an Incendiary.

The National Board of Underwriters have offered a reward of $250 to the person who shall produce evidence that will lead to the detection of the person or persons who set fire last month to the dwelling house situated on Mountain avenue and occupied by Mrs. Philpitt. In the opinion of the Board it is thought that the house was set on fire and for this reason the above reward is offered.

Almost the Desired Amount.

The subscription committee having in charge the collection of funds for the erection of the new East Third Street chapel met yesterday and made a report of the amount received to date. The committee stated that the desired amount was almost raised and it was hoped that the balance would be secured this week. Another meeting will be held next week.

Satisfied With Present Service.

A rumor has been started that the residents of Netherwood are anxious to have a postoffice established in their midst, as heretofore. The Daily Press is able, however, to state that the rumor is without foundation and that the residents of that section are very well pleased with the present free-delivery system.

Knights Attending a Conclave.

William Sebring, Frank Coriell, Jacob Kirkner and W. R. Codington, of this city, went to Trenton, today, to attend the annual conclave of the Grand Commandery, K. T. There will be a banquet this evening and tomorrow there will be a meeting all day.

HUMAN BARRICADE CASH.

A WEIGHTY POLICEMAN'S EFFECTIVE WAY OF STOPPING A CYCLIST.

The Officer Threw His Fat Form in Front of the Approaching Rider, and the Two Went Sprawling in the Dusty Roadway.

Patrolman Cash has troubles of his own at present. He tried to stop a bicyclist who, he thought, was riding without a light. Cash says that he called to the cyclist when he was a hundred yards away and ordered him to stop. The cyclist says that he never heard the warning. Then Cash jumped forward and interposed his body in the path of the rider. The wheelman was thrown over his handlebars and was badly cut up by the fall while Cash rolled about in the dust.

The rider in question was Fred Vieweg, of East Fifth street, a bookkeeper at the Scott Press works. He was leading the way for Fred Stack, who is employed in a similar position. They were coming from New Brunswick where Stack's lamp had been stolen. After the tumble, Vieweg arose and vented his opinion of a man who would stand in front of a moving cyclist. Cash took the two riders to the station house.

They appeared before the Judge yesterday noon and Stack was fined $2 for riding without a light. Vieweg was ordered to appear this morning. This morning both appeared before City Judge DeMeza, another complaint having in the meantime been made against Stack for calling the officer improper names and for "scorching."

Vieweg admitted that he had called Cash a "fool," with a certain prefix before it, but said that was exactly what he thought of him. He said that Cash, who had charged the bicyclist with knocking him down, was utterly to blame as far as the fall was concerned, as he had not warned them and had deliberately stepped in front of the wheel, making an accident inevitable. The trial was set down for next Saturday morning.

CYCLISTS OUT IN FORCE.

PLEASANT WEATHER AND GOOD ROADS WERE THE CAUSE.

The Bicycle Ordinance Was Not Enforced on the Visiting Wheelmen—Most of Them Had Bells on Their Wheels, However.

The cyclists found yesterday a most delightful day for wheeling, despite the breeze from the north west, and they turned out in unusual numbers. Most of the prominent clubs of New York, Brooklyn and the surrounding towns have started their Sunday runs and many of them chose the beautiful roads of Union county for their spin. There was plenty of dust but the real wheelman don't mind that.

The fear that the fair reputation of Plainfield with these cycling visitors would be greviously injured by the wholesale arrest of riders who had not bells, was infounded. The police were instructed, Saturday evening, not to arrest the passing wheelmen even if they did not have bells but, as it turned out, there was only a very small percentage of the wheelmen who passed through Plainfield, yesterday, who were not equipped with bells.

Several enterprising men secured a stock of bells and took positions on the principal thoroughfares leading to Plainfield, and, for a time, sold quite a number to passing cyclists who were not already equipped with the necessary bells.

It is impossible to estimate with any degree of certainty as regards the number of wheelmen who rode through this city yesterday. The number must have been in the thousands, however. There were all kinds of wheels represented, from the latest model of road racer to the ancient "Century Columbia" There were a number of club runs that had Plainfield for their destination and others that merely passed here en route for New Brunswick, Princeton and Philadelphia.

Plainfield's cyclists were out on the road and several parties from this city enjoyed a spin to some of the neighboring towns during the day.

A Much Used Bridge.

As stated in Saturday's Press the foot bridge on Watchung avenue across the brook was completed that day. Yesterday the bridge was in great demand by people living on both sides of the brook. Within one hour one hundred persons were counted who crossed the brook. On the borough side is a sign which reads "This bridge leads to MacDonald's grocery and Leggett's pharmacy." The effort made to erect this bridge is certainly commendable.

Miss Lucy Huffman is visiting in Clinton and vicinity.

A WORTHY CHURCH AID.

SIXTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF LADIES' CHRISTIAN WORK SOCIETY.

Celebrated in Trinity Reformed Church Last Night by the Reading of Favorable Reports and a Good Sermon.

The sixteenth anniversary of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church was celebrated last evening in a very interesting and appropriate manner. There was a good-sized audience present to enjoy the service in commemoration of the anniversary.

The pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., read the reports of the society, both of which were exceptionally interesting. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. O. W. Dunham, was read first, and it gave evidence of excellent work in the financial department. The report of the secretary, Mrs. B. D. Newell, followed, and this also was an excellent statement. Both reports give in detail what has been done during the past year, and they are as follows:

REPORT OF SECRETARY.

The sixteenth anniversary of the Society finds it with an enrollment of fifty-five active and four honorary members. Not one has been lost by death during the year. Two have resigned and three new members have been gained. Ten meetings have been held with an average attendance of eighteen.

The work of the society compares favorably with that of preceeding years. Much credit is due each committee for the faithful manner in which the work has been done. Our missionary collectors have gone from house to house asking from each family in the congregation the sum of one cent a week. From this source has been obtained $74.14, which has been equally divided between our two Woman's Boards of foreign and domestic missions. Other mission work has been the donation of $9 to Rev. Mr. Cantine for work in Arabia; and $12 towards enabling missionaries to return to their work in foreign lands. In response to an appeal from the Woman's Executive Board of domestic missions $5 was sent to be used towards completing the parsonage for Rev. Frank Wright, our Indian missionary in Oklahoma. According to the society's usual custom of sending a box away Thanksgiving, one was prepared and sent to a minister's family in Northern New York, valued at $68.55. Those nearer our doors were also remembered. A barrel of flour was sent to the Children's Home, and $5 donated to the W. C. T. U. of our city. The poor of our church have been looked after by the visiting committee; and the stranger among us visited and welcomed by this committee. In all 225 calls have been made. $28.05 the proceeds of an entertainment given by the sinking fund committee, was donated the musical fund of our church. From a supper given by the same committee, $141.35 was realized. This sum was placed to the credit of the fund for a new carpet for the church. Miss Dunn's class of the Sunday school raised $63.87 for this fund; two individual donations of $5 were made, and though the "Tithe Gleaners," $12 have been received for it.

Twenty-two garments were made and sent to the Needle Work Guild. These garments were kindly returned to the Society and used in the Missionary box.

Our sewing meetings have been held each month. Many garments have been made; some were used in the Missionary box and some were sold; the proceeds going into the carpet fund.

A new feature of the sewing meetings is the discussion of church matters of interest to all. This is found to be very enjoyable.

Special credit is due the floral com-

ASKS FOR MEDIATION

Greece Makes a Written Application to the Powers.

TURKS OBJECT TO AN ARMISTICE.

When the Turkish Troops Entered Volo, the Inhabitants Were Granted Protection, Which Resulted In the Greek Fleet Leaving the Gulf.

Athens, May 10.—It is learned upon the very best authority that Greece has made a written application to the powers through their representatives at Athens for mediation. All the representatives have promised in their replies to use their best offices except the German minister, who has merely acknowledged the receipt of the note from the cabinet.

The porte is inclined to support the powers, with a view to the facilitation of negotiations, but it declines to consent to an armistice, on the ground that this would enable Greece to reorganize her forces.

As a matter of fact, Turkey continues to send troops from Salonika homeward, and it is probable that Osman Pasha has returned to Constantinople from Salonika. In view of both facts it may be assumed that nothing serious is expected, but the continuance of a state of war is regarded as the very best means of hastening the efforts of diplomacy.

Without doubt hopes have been raised in Turkey that the Ottoman government might annex Thessaly and restore the old frontier of 1881, but the sultan is not inclined to risk such a step. On the contrary, he opposes it uncompromisingly and will not yield to the pressure of the war party at Constantinople. He will be satisfied with a reasonable indemnity and a slight rectification of the eastern Thessalian frontier, such a one as would give Turkey several strategic positions in the vicinity of Nezeros.

It is understood that Grece agrees to confide her interests to the powers in the peace negotiations.

King George Yields.

So great is the change in public sentiment that but little opposition is provoked by the decision to recall the army from Crete. King George, who was believed to be unapproachable on this subject, has finally yielded with good grace.

It is reported in official circles that Queen Olga has sent a telegram to the czar soliciting the mediation of Russia.

The government has addressed a request to the powers to allow their admirals in Cretan waters to permit the Greek warships to embark the troops that have been recalled. The government explains the recall as due to the urgent need of men for the defense of Thessaly.

The latest news from the front is that General Smolenski is now with the Greek forces at Persepia, where he is expecting a fresh attack.

M. Skouloudis, the Greek minister of foreign affairs, said in an interview that he expects many difficulties will be encountered in the peace negotiations.

The Greek western squadron has rescued large numbers of women and children from villages along the Epirus coast threatened by the Turks.

A dispatch from Lamia dated Saturday says that the Crown Prince Constantine is still at Domokos. The dispatch says that the exodus of inhabitants from Domokos, Lamia and the surrounding country continues.

Greek torpedo boats still patrol the gulf of Volo. It is probable that more fighting will occur at Domokos.

Some Startling Revelations.

The Journal Akropolis publishes some startling revelations. It sent a correspondent to Pharsala to investigate the cause of the retreat from Larissa, and he was allowed to question the members of the dismissed staff.

Without exception they denied that they had refused to carry out the orders of the cabinet, save on one occasion, when the government wished to remove some superior officers from their commands. On all other occasions the staff was in complete harmony with the cabinet. The ministers had indeed ordered the army to remain on the defensive, but the staff considered that a defensive position would be most effectually secured by advancing to certain points. The officers positively denied giving the order for the general retreat from Mati and declared that they were not responsible for the abortive attack on Menexe.

They explained that the retreat began with wholesale desertions from the division of Colonel Mavromichalis, facing the Turkish position at Dereli. Then the panic spread, the staff was powerless to check it, and a reorganization to defend Larissa was impossible. M. Ralli came to headquarters during the night and begged the staff to save the army.

With reference to the retreat in Epirus, the papers print the following extraordinary telegram from Colonel Botzari: "It is a disgraceful slander to say that I ordered the retreat. My brigade had advanced victoriously to the gates of Janina. Why it retreated is a question for a court martial to decide, and the guilty parties should be punished with death."

The Occupation of Volo.

Volo, May 10.—A correspondent, describing the entry of the Turkish troops, says:

"Edhem Pasha sent a flag of truce with a proclamation that he would protect all inhabitants remaining in the town. A touching scene ensued. In the principal street an immense crowd gathered, with anxious upturned faces, listening eagerly to the reading of the proclamation which was to decide their fate. When the reading was finished, a murmur of intense relief was heard throughout the dense throng, quickly followed by frantic shouts of 'Long live the sultan!'

"But there still remained cause for the most serious anxiety, for the question was whether the Greek admiral whose ships were lying off the town and in plain sight would accept Edhem Pasha's terms. A single gunshot from the fleet would have compelled the Turks to treat Volo hostile.

"Three newspaper men, myself among them, were appointed a deputation to go on board the flagship and get the admiral's reply. We bore a white flag. At the quay, however, we met the captains of the foreign warships with a written communication from the admiral saying that he intended to remain in front of the town until assured that it would be occupied quietly.

"To this the Turkish commander replied that only one battalion would enter, the main army going into camp outside, and he again requested that the Greek fleet be withdrawn, as otherwise he could not be responsible for what might occur."

Greek Fleet Ordered From Volo.

London, May 10.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Volo says that as the result of the proclamation of Edhem Pasha promising to protect the inhabitants and to use only one battalion as the occupying force on condition that the Greek fleet be withdrawn, the Greek admiral has been ordered to withdraw forthwith. Volo has been occupied by a Turkish force of 6,000.

Germany Backs the Sultan.

Constantinople, May 10.—Turkey will certainly claim a fair allowance of the rights of a victor, and in this claim she will be supported by Russia and Germany.

TROUBLE IN NATIONAL GUARD

Militiamen May Be Court Martialed if Damage Claim Is Not Paid.

Albany, May 10.—There is some evidence here of serious trouble for a few members of the national guard, including some officers. There may be a court martial if the commander of the river steamer Kaaterskill is not paid a bill of $60 damages he claims was done by members of the guard on his boat while it was transporting the troops to and from the Grant monument ceremonies.

The first intimation of trouble was when the Tenth battalion, located in this city, was served through its officers with a bill for $60 for damages done to the boat. This claim was in excess of the amount charged to the state for transportation of the troops. The officers refused to pay the bill, and an appeal was made to the brigade commander, General Robert Shaw Oliver. To him the captain of the boat reported that a stateroom used to lock up a drunken soldier was wrecked.

At the same time it was alleged that several civilians had been taken down on the boat contrary to orders; that the guard detailed for duty was not to be found at its post, and that liquor in large quantities was carried. It was further said that several officers of the Tenth battalion failed to return with the men.

General Oliver ordered Colonel William E. Fitch, who was in command of the troops, to at once make a detailed report upon the alleged charges.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Two sisters, the younger of whom was just about to sail for Ireland, were asphyxiated by gas in New York.

Receivers of E. S. Greeley & Co. of New York found accounts muddled and said there may have been a big defalcation.

The new timber drydock at the navy yard at Brooklyn sprung a leak, and an accident to the Massachusetts was narrowly averted.

President McKinley opposes the sugar schedule in the senate revised Dingley bill on the ground that it gives too much protection to the Sugar trust.

E. Kellogg Beach, a retired millionaire capitalist, committed suicide in the bathroom at his home in Chicago by shooting himself in the mouth. Despondency over ill health is supposed to have been the cause.

Two shocks of earthquake were felt in Rome and vicinity. Many residents of the city were panic stricken and rushed from their houses into the streets, but no lives were lost, nor was any serious damage done.

F. M. Blichtenberg of Astoria, Or., a young Englishman who arrived in this city about a year ago and left a year later, has met a horrible fate at the hands of cannibals in the South Sea islands, who devoured him.

Indian Woman Murdered.

Watertown, N. Y., May 10.—The body of an Indian woman came ashore on Warner's island, near Henderson, a village on the shore of Lake Ontario. Dr. O. F. Buell, assisted by Coroner Sias, made a post mortem examination of the body of the woman. No water was found in her lungs, and all the organs were normal. There was a wound over her eye which, in their opinion, was made with a sharp instrument or bullet, causing an extravasation of blood. This wound is the one which caused her death. It is believed that she had been dead but a few hours when found. Coroner Sias will hold an inquest. The squaw and her husband have been selling baskets in this vicinity. Their names are unknown.

Warning to the Senate.

Paris, May 10.—The syndical chamber of textiles and draperies has addressed a communication to the United States senate pointing out the dangers which the Dingley tariff involves to the industry and trade of the whole world.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Rev. Floyd Appleton, of Park avenue, returned Saturday from his trip to the south, where he went on account of his health.

For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

SHIP ON FIRE AT SEA.

The Francis of New Bedford Burned Off New Jersey Coast.

VESSEL WILL PROVE A TOTAL LOSS.

Several Ships Encounter Disaster, Some by Fire, Others by Stranding, While One Unknown Craft Is Sunk Beneath the Waves.

Beach Haven, N. J., May 10.—The ship Francis of New Bedford, Mass., under command of Captain A. F. Smith and with a crew of 25 men, which left San Francisco on the 17th of January last with a general cargo bound for New York, took fire at sea, and in order to save the lives of those on board and the ship and cargo if possible she was beached on the south end of Long Branch, six miles below here. The captain and crew reached shore safely and were taken care of by the crew of the Little Egg Harbor life saving station. The vessel was burned to the water's edge and, with the cargo, will prove a total loss.

The fire was first discovered about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and was burning fiercely in the hold. All hands were ordered on deck and manned to extinguish the flames, but they had gained too much headway, and it was as much as the men could do to prevent the fire from spreading so rapidly as to necessitate their taking to the boats on the open sea.

The captain saw that his only hope lay in reaching shore, where he could possibly have a chance of saving the ship and part of the cargo. With this end in view he headed the Francis toward the beach, while the crew kept pouring water into the hold.

It was well after dark, and the position of the men on board was perilous in the extreme. With her bow pointed well on the shore the ship struck hard and fast. Meanwhile the fire was raging even more furiously than before, and all hands were forced to leave with nothing but the clothes on their backs.

They were assisted in reaching shore by the life guards, and were supplied with needed clothing and nourishment. The tugs I. J. Merritt and North America arrived and endeavored to put out the fire. They were unable to accomplish anything and finally gave up. The captain and mate left on one of the tugs for New York, and the crew will go by train on Tuesday. What renders the accident still more unfortunate is the fact that Captain Smith's wife died at sea on the outward trip of the ship. He had the body embalmed and sent home by train. It awaits his arrival in Boston.

The Francis is a full rigged ship of 1,974 tons burden. She was out 112 days and experienced no unusual weather throughout the voyage. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Vessels Encounter Ice Floes.

St. Johns, N. F., May 10.—The overdue steamer Benedick has arrived, after a 15 days' voyage from Liverpool. For nearly a week she was in an ice floe and unable to make any progress, though she escaped serious damage. The steamer Corintha, 16 days out from Cadiz, which came into port, reports that she encountered vast fields of ice 140 miles southeast of Cape Race and met a number of large bergs. The weather was very severe, and her chief officer had both legs badly injured.

Returned to Port on Fire.

New York, May 10.—The Mallory line steamer Leona, which sailed for Key West and Galveston, has returned and anchored off Liberty island. Off the lightship the captain spoke the tug I. J. Merritt, which was returning from Egg Harbor, and reported that a fire had broken out on board the Leona, but was then under control. He decided to put back to port as a precautionary measure.

Passed a Wreck at Sea.

Belfast, Me., May 10.—Captain Reed of the schooner Mary J. Elliott has arrived in Booth bay and reported that while coming up the Muzzleridge channel near Spruce head he sighted the topmast of a sunken vessel. The vessel was apparently about 70 tons, and the water about there indicated that she was loaded with kerosene.

Schooner Ashore.

Hyannis, Mass., May 10.—The schooner Benjamin Oliver, Captain Harding, Wellfleet, bound from New Haven with a cargo of oysters, struck on Bishop and Clerks shoal and will probably be a total loss. There is no insurance on the vessel. The crew were landed here.

The Tennessee Fair.

Nashville, May 10.—The first seven days of the Centennial exposition showed an attendance of 47,500. While this was gratifying to the management and citizens, Saturday, the eighth day, more than surpassed all expectations. Twenty-six thousand admissions were registered during the day and night, several thousand more than on the opening day, making a total so far of 73,500, although the government building is not open to visitors and the pictures in the Parthenon were not all in place. With continued good weather the coming week will show increased receipts, for as yet the visitors have been almost exclusively from the vicinity of Nashville.

Has a Dry Sunday.

Somersworth, N. H., May 10.—By order of Mayor Hanson and the police commission all saloons and restaurants were closed on Sunday, and are to be kept closed on Sundays in the future. Drug stores are allowed to remain open for the sale of drugs only from 9 to 10, 12 to 2 and 5 to 7. Restaurant keepers propose to petition the mayor to stop the sales of Sunday papers and stable keepers from letting teams. The petition, if granted, will affect the mayor, who conducts two livery stables. The recent bank tragedy is said to have caused the citizens to urge the authorities to eliminate everything illegal, especially on Sundays.

Student Dies From Wound.

Princeton, N. J., May 10.—Rowly Shepardson, the Princeton student who was accidentally shot while rowing on the Raritan canal, died from the effects of his wound. The remains will be removed to Richmond, where Eugene Shepardson, father of the dead youth, resides.

A SUSPICIOUS DEATH

Young Man Wanted as a Witness Dies Suddenly.

TO APPEAR AGAINST HIS FATHER.

He Had Taken His Mother's Part In Divorce Proceedings and Was to Have Testified In a Perjury Case Arising Therefrom.

Norwich, Conn., May 10.—The case of the state of Connecticut against Ransom S. Sholes, a wealthy farmer, who dwells on a 500 acre farm about three miles from this city, in the town of Preston, and who is under indictment on the charge of subornation of perjury in connection with a divorce he recently obtained from his wife on statutory grounds, was further complicated by the sudden death of his son, who died at midnight Saturday, it is believed, from poisoning. The case is just now the sensation of Norwich and Preston and in fact of all eastern Connecticut.

Ransom S. Sholes is a character, a typical hard, crusty, coarse, rough and ready, money making farmer peculiar to the sterile hill towns of southern New England. He is between 50 and 60 years old.

It was about a year or a year and a half ago that a strange woman, calling herself Emily Turpie, who was neither very young nor middle aged, who had a handsome face, a prepossessing manner, came to the Ransom Sholes dwelling and applied for the position of housekeeper there. Ransom seemed to be smitten with her appearance at once and engaged her for the place without consulting with his wife about the matter at all.

About six weeks ago Sholes introduced a petition into the superior court of the county praying for a divorce from his wife on statutory grounds, by naming as co-respondent one Herbert MacAllister, a 19-year-old lad.

Sholes regularly appeared in court, and in accord with the loose and lax divorce statutes of the state of Connecticut had no difficulty in obtaining a legal separation from his worn and faithful wife. In fact, the action was carried through with a rush.

Sholes got his divorce papers regularly and promptly enough, and his wife went forth from the homestead which had been her home for forty years without a word.

Stood by His Mother.

Her youngest son, Ebenezer, 22 years old, stood by his mother faithfully, resisting his father's divorce proceedings so far as he was able and striving to right her wrongs. Moreover, it was through his energetic efforts, about two weeks after the divorce had been granted to his father, that he procured, through a superior court judge, an order directing State Attorney Solomon Lucas of this county to investigate the circumstances under which the divorce had been granted. Mr. Lucas began an investigation at once, and the result of his inquiry was that he was enabled to provide Judge Elmer of the superior court with evidence which led him to declare the divorce flagrantly unjust and void.

In the course of his investigation the state attorney met with many suspicious circumstances in the case, and the upshot of it all was that he promptly put detectives on the track of Emily Turpie, who had suddenly quitted the Sholes home and gone to her town place in New London, and these men, after shadowing her for some time procured evidence that led Mr. Lucas to have her arrested on the charge of perjury in the Sholes divorce suit. Presently she was released, however, on a bond of $1,000 furnished by George H. Pratt. Next came Herbert MacAllister's turn, who was also accused of perjury through his admission of his relations with Mrs. Sholes. He was arrested, too, and being unable to obtain bail he was lodged in the Norwich jail, where he now is.

But the sensation of the early part of the week was the arrest of Ransom S. Sholes himself, who was charged by State Attorney Lucas with subornation of perjury, the allegation being that he had engaged and paid both Mrs. Turpie and MacAllister to testify falsely in enabling him to obtain his divorce. No one had believed that Ransom Sholes could be brought thus easily to book, and his arrest was a tremendous surprise to the domineering and arrogant Preston farmer. However, he promptly obtained bail in $2,500 through the same George H. Pratt, wholesale liquor dealer of this city, who had released Mrs. Turpie from durance.

The Son's Sudden Death.

So the case of Ransom Sholes stood until Saturday. Then it was changed completely through the sudden and mysterious death at midnight of his son, Ebenezer Sholes, who was the chief and most effective witness against his father in the perjury proceedings of the latter's divorce suit. Ebenezer, who had stood faithfully by his mother, naturally was not agreeable to his father or to Mrs. Emily Turpie.

At 12 o'clock Saturday night he was taken suddenly and singularly ill, and in about an hour, notwithstanding the efforts of physicians hastily summoned from Norwich, Drs. George and Orrin F. Harris, he died in agony and convulsions. The circumstances of his death were peculiar, and all the next day Coroner Frank H. Brown, Medical Examiner Pardock, State Attorney Lucas and the Drs. Harris have been making an examintion of the case. Dr. Pardock and the Drs. Harris made an autopsy of the remains, which showed that the young man's lungs and brain were badly congested, indicating an abnormal cause of death, and Dr. George Harris said that there was strong reason to believe that he had died from the effect of a virulent poison.

State Attorney Lucas was noncommunicative, but it was plain from his manner that he considers the case to be a most serious one. Young Ebenezer Sholes was delegated to testify in the perjury suit against his father that was to be tried to-morrow. After the autopsy the stomach of young Sholes was removed, and that organ, together with its contents, was forwarded to Dr. Smith, the famous analytical chemist of New Haven for a toxicological examination.

Every one in eastern Connecticut is acquainted with Ransom Sholes and his family, and probably there never was a case of the kind that caused a greater sensation in this region.

MANY BILLS KILLED.

Gov. Griggs has vetoed about forty of the one hundred or more messures in his hands. These have not as yet been filed with the State Librarian, as was always done by former governors immediately upon vetoing the bill. Gov. Griggs has had experience enough with politicians to know that when one of their pet measures is disapproved by the Chief Executive a great howl goes up and usually this is followed by a united effort to save some other fellow's pet. The pets are usually worst of all the measures passing the Legislature, and to escape the pressure and to have the clamor all at one time, the Governor has hit upon a new scheme.

FAST STEPPING HORSES.

Saturday Races Held at the Gentlemen's Driving Park.

Saturday was a great day at the Gentlemen's Driving Park and many interested sporting men were present to witness the fine trotting. In all there were about four hundred people present and the fine weather, together with the fine condition of the track, resulted in several good exhibitions. Tom Brantingham's "Myrtle Twig" and J. W. Johnson's "Sydnutt," furnished a pretty race, which was run in three heats. The former horse won the first two heats, but the other horse made the best time, which was 2:25¼. Horses owned by D. Darby and R. Gwynett participated in the second race, and the former won the three heats in 2:32, 2:37 and 2:39. The last race was given by horses owned by N. B. Smalley, Frank Hand, A. Lutkins and C. Brower. The first heat was won by Hand's horse in 2:42, and the second heat by Smalley's horse in 2:37. It was then so late that there was not time for the third heat. Next Saturday a very fine programme will be given and it is expected there will be a large attendance.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. A License Refused.

There was a hot fight Saturday in the Union County Court of Common Pleas over the application of John M. Nash for a hotel license for the old Fanwood Clubhouse. A delegation of prominent residents of Fanwood personally appeared before the Court against the application and the objectors were also represented by Counsellor James R. English. Much stress was laid on the fact that the club house had no stable accommodations for travellers, and Judge McCormick refused to grant the license. A hotel license was granted Joseph L Welborn in the borough of Mountainside, and a wholesale license to Charles Schomp, of Springfield.

A GAY FETE FOR SOCIETY.

and Mrs. William J. Roome. The uncompleted list of aids has among their number the Misses Annie Murphy, Emma Schoonmaker, Mabel Vandeventer, Alice Barlow, Elizabeth Hull, Mary Hull, May Tracy, Elizabeth Van Boskerck, and Messrs. Willis West, Harry Curtis, Arthur Murphy, "Jack" Dumont, Laurens Van Buren, Harry Patton and William N. Runyon.

Adjoining the gypsy encampment a band of music will discourse sweet strains, in the rear of the lawn devoted to refreshment tables, where, in addition, a supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock. Mrs. O. T. Waring and Mrs. VanBoskerck are at the head of the supper committee. The ice-cream tables will be in charge of Mrs. Henry Lapsley and Miss Kate Martine. Their aids will be the Misses Ethel Plummer Bowen, Bessie Bowen, Lena Howard, Margaret Macready, Jessie Bushnell, Josephine Lapsley, Florence Patterson, Stephanie Krom, Margaret Goddard, Harriet Goddard, Mary Anderson Reinhart, Martha Wadsworth, Constance Patton, Sarah Richards, Edmee Corlies, Florence Curtis, Clara Case, Helen Brown, Helen Martin, Elsie Martin, Elsie Harmon, Ida Strong, Ethel VanBoskerck, Ethna Strong, Agnes Strong, Sallie Schuyler, Mary Mann, Blossom Randolph, Dorothy Wells, Margaret McCutchen and Virginia Hegeman. These waitresses will be costumed as Swiss peasants, with large straw hats, white waists, with velvet bodices and colored skirts.

In the evening the entire lawn will be illuminated by electric lights and Chinese lanterns, under the care of J. Parker Mason. A place where nature has done so much and inventive and ingenious minds have added more cannot but make a charming rendezvous for bicyclists. A beautiful fete with charming hostess and attentive aids, the gathering of the "beauty and chivalry" of Plainfield, the possibility of securing delicious viands and refreshing drinks, the hope of meeting old friends and making new ones, and the variety of entertainment provided supply motives for bicycle riders that do not often fall to the lot of residents in New Jersey. Already there are rumors of bicycle parties forming in towns adjacent and remote. Without doubt the Oranges, Montclair, Elizabeth, Rahway and towns on the line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey will send their delegates from the east; riders from Somerville, Bound Brook and Raritan will represent the west, cyclists from Morristown, Sterling, Summit and Bernardsville will ride down from the north, and the south will send delegations from Metuchen and New Brunswick.

If June 5th should prove a rainy day the fete will be postponed until Saturday, June 12th. Many of the committees are necessarily incomplete at this date. Among those partially formed are:

Finance—Mrs. Alexander Gilbert. Music—Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers and Wm. E. Cock. Bicycles—Mrs. D. W. Pond. Tickets and menus—Mrs. S. B. Krom. Omnibuses from the railroad station to grounds—Mrs. M. H. Eaton. Decoration of entrance—Mrs. Craig Marsh. Press—Mrs. Benjamin J. Shreve, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Miss Harriet R. Shreve and H. P. Reynolds.

Among the patronesses are: Mrs. A. D. Shepard, Mrs. Edgerton, Mrs. Charles Hyde, Mrs. Lawrence Myers, Mrs. J. Parker Mason, Mrs. William Palmer Smith, Mrs. D. P. Defenders to Assist Volunteers.

A meeting of the members of the Defender League of American Volunteers, and others who are interested in the Volunteers' work, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening to consider plans for extending the work of the Volunteers in this city. Arrangements will also be made for the meeting to be addressed by Mrs. Ballington Booth at Grace church on Monday evening, May 17. In former notices it was given out that Mrs. Booth was to speak in Plainfield on May 18, which was incorrect.

—Three members were received on confession of faith at the Congregational church yesterday morning.

A Table Delicacy.

A mushroom, known as the morel, has been discovered in this section by Dr. M. S. Simpson, of West Fifth street. While this species, the botanical name of which is Morchella esculenta, is common in the western states, it is very rare and the specimens found by Dr. Simpson may be regarded as quite a curiosity. Dr. Simpson became acquainted with them in the west, but never saw one in the east until one day last week he found two large specimens growing on a grass plot on Somerset street, near Chatham street. He picked them and has preserved them. The morel is considered a great delicacy and is largely sold in the west.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Miss Della Fritts is entertaining company from High Bridge.

Mrs. G. S. Farlee has been entertaining friends from Patchogue, L. I.

Postmaster Staats drove over to New Brunswick Saturday to attend to some important real estate matters.

Edward Hurlich has completed the work of wiring for electric lighting a large summer boarding house at Glen Cove, L. I.

Mrs. W. H. Coles is rapidly regaining her strength, so that on Saturday she walked over to her husband's office just for a little recreation.

Dunellen's baseball team went to Westfield Saturday, and played a match game with the team from that place. The boys played well, but Westfield won by a score of 7 to 6.

A union temperance meeting, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was held in the M E. church, last evening, and it was most ably and forcibly addressed by Major Hilton, of Washington, D. C.

Freeholder Andrew Lutkins, of the Somerset County Board, on Saturday caused to have replanked the bridge over Green brook at Jefferson avenue, which was so badly damaged by the recent high water.

The safe of the Dunellen Building and Loan Association was on Saturday removed from Alvah Gray's office where it has stood during Mr. Gray's several terms as treasurer, to the office of the new treasurer, George W. Day, on Front street. The safe weighs 800 pounds.

Charles A. Beekman, of Front street, who has been unable to work for the past several months, owing to illness, has been advised by his physician to go into the country, and in consequence Mr. Beekman left Saturday for Centreville, Hunterdon county, where he will endeavor to regain his health, if possible.

The borough's officers are not very well paid. For instance, the treasurer gets only $100 per annum, it is said, and the secretary of the board gets $220. There seems to be quite an unequal distribution in the salaries of these two important offices at least, but of course the secretary has considerably the most to do in writing up the minutes and having in charge many other details in connection with the running of the borough government.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

William Ilisley visited friends in town Sunday.

Moses Parse, of Springfield, spent Saturday with his brother, Stites M. Parse.

Miss Wilcox and Miss Hoyt, of Westfield, spent Sunday with Mrs. Wilcox.

Irving Quereau, of New York, was the guest of George W. Randolph on Sunday.

Mrs. Riley, of Harrison, N. J., is visiting Mrs. John Flannery, of Westfield avenue.

Lowry Van Dyke, of New York, spent Saturday and Sunday with the family of T. J. Nichol.

A union meeting of the Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor societies was held Sunday evening. Mrs. Braker led.

Frank W. Quereau, a former resident of the town, spent yesterday with his daughter, Mrs. Edward Fields, of Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Pythian, of Bridgeton, N. J., are spending a few days with Mrs. Pythian's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ritchie.

Myren Young, father of Thomas S. Young, the first mayor of the borough of Fanwood, is dangerously ill at his home on Forest avenue. Very little hopes are entertained of his recovery. Mr. Young is over ninety years of age.

There will be a contribution sociable held in the parlors of the Baptist church, on Wednesday evening. Those attending will be given an envelope into which they are to put a silver offering. A programme will be rendered and refreshments served.

LINCOLN.

Rev. J. O. Jones, of the Congregational church of Bound Brook, visited the new town Friday, and expressed himself as deeply interested in the mission work here.

D. H. Townley, chief engineer of the Central Railroad, made his first visit to Lincoln on Friday and completed arrangements for building the siding for the steel works.

Captain Bache, manager of the graphite works of Bound Brook, has applied to President Drake, of the Realty Company, for two lots on which it is proposed to erect and conduct a pentecostal mission.

J. A. Oakley, Jr., the architect, of Elizabeth, spent a day at Lincoln. Mr. Oakley was one of the pioneers of the thriving town of Lorraine, and contributed materially toward building it. He will identify himself with the new town of Lincoln.

An official of one of our leading railroads has visited the town and made application for ten acres of land for a large German syndicate who propose erecting large factories. The proposition was declined, as with the steel works and the Franklin Manufacturing Company, the town is being developed rapidly enough to suit its projectors.

The first baseball game of the season in Westfield was played between the home team and the Elizabeth Field Club on the South Broad street grounds, Saturday afternoon. The result was a victory for Westfield, the score being 20 to 9. The Elizabeth's came with the determination to put up a good game, and succeeded so well in the first four innings that the score then stood 9 to 5 in the visitors' favor. At this stage of the game Westfied put Randolph behind the bat and Pitcher Higgins did some scientific twirling. Ten of Elizabeth's batters struck out and no more runs were scored by the visitors. Crooks and Smith did some great batting for Westfield and the excellent work of Higgins, the new pitcher, threw the local "rooters" into transports of joy. At the close of the seventh inning the game was called on account of the darkness.

A DECEIVING PICTURE.

A Clever Trick to Swindle the Unsuspicious Buyer.

One of the most barefaced swindles on record was perpetrated by a Western real estate agent. The field of his operations was in a "town" which never has amounted to anything and never will. He bought a run-down farm lying at the edge of the town, and cut it up into lots. Then at one corner of the tract he built up a toy residence addition to the town. He laid out a little roadway about two feet wide, and stuck up little trees along each side of it. On this road he put some houses, each one foot high. He put in a factory building that was nearly three feet high, and laid water pipes about the size of pipe stems. He had the whole thing photographed, and after the photographer had touched up the picture it indicated a beautiful driveway at least sixty feet wide, with big houses on either side of it. He took these photographs with him when he went on the road to sell the lots. He would say, "Now, here is a picture of one corner of the sub-division. I have already built twenty houses out there. We have water pipes laid and the street is gravelled. Your lot is less than six hundred feet from the corner of the factory building here." You see he was careful to protect himself in case he was arrested for fraud. The photograph was genuine, and it was true, as he said, that water pipes were laid and houses built. Of course he did not take the trouble to explain that the houses were no longer than bird cages, and the street not much wider than a plow furrow. Well, he traded four of these lots to a farmer for a drove of young cattle. When that farmer went over to look at the lots he was the maddest man on earth. He had the real estate man arrested for perpetrating a fraud. The man who sold the lots insists that he told the truth, and backed up his statements with a photograph.

AN INVOLUNTARY SPONSOR.

A Young Englishman Unintentionally Became Godpapa to a Bambino.

A pushing young Englishman, just home from a foreign trip, relates an amusing experience that he had in Rome. He was anxious to visit the Vatican, and, understanding that cards of admission were to be had at St. Peter's, he hurried thither.

Seeing a small crowd around a priest who sat writing at his desk, he jumped to the conclusion that this was his man, and at once elbowed his way through the crowd. In his hurry he pushed aside a woman with a baby in her arms, and the baby began to cry at the jostling.

A slight confusion resulted, under cover of which the stranger gained the desk. The priest, looking up from his writing, asked something in Italian, which the Englishman took to be an inquiry for his name, and he answered, "Davis."

The priest, after writing the name, turned to the woman with the baby, and taking the child in his arms, held it over a font which the Englishman until then had not noticed. Dipping his hands in the water, and placing them on the child's head, the priest began a curious jargon of Italian phrases, in which the astonished Davis caught the sound of his own good English name, and saw with dismay, as he turned and fled, that he had given his name to the priest as godfather to the child.—Tid-Bits.

How Clever Pigeons Outwitted a Hawk.

H. S. Edwards owned a flock of pigeons which one day were cut off from their cote by a large hawk. The pigeons knew that if the hawk once got above them one at least of their number would go to make the hawk a meal, and so up they flew in circles, perhaps hoping to go higher than the hawk. In the rising game they were no match for the hawk. The latter kept under the pigeons and leisurely followed their laborious movements.

Then came a curious and unexpected sight to Mr. Edwards. Every pigeon closed its wings, when they appeared to be the size of sparrows, and down they came past the hawk at a terrific rate. That astonished the hawk. It actually dodged the dropping birds and missed half a dozen wing strokes before it got in full chase of them. When it got down to the barnyard not a pigeon was in sight. Some were in the cote, some in the porch, two in the well-house, and one was in the kitchen. The hawk had been outwitted completely. It is a question how the pigeons managed to check their fall, as they did not slacken up till they were about sixteen feet above the ground, when they scattered in all directions to escape the hawk.—Sportsman.

Crabs Knew of the Coming Earthquake.

For some time previous to the day upon which the great earthquake of August, 1857, occurred, great swarms of crabs of an unknown variety were seen in the Bay of Payta, Chili. They all appeared to be greatly excited, and were literally climbing over each other in their efforts to escape an impending calamity. How they knew that the earthquake was collecting its strength to desolate the coast is more than any man can say, but that they knew something unusual was about to happen there is no doubt whatever. That there were millions of them may be inferred from the report of Dr. Forbes, who says that "ten days after the earthquake the dead crabs were thrown upon the beach in a wall-line, three to four feet wide along the whole extent of the bay."

PAINLESS

DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

A POINT TO BE REMEMBERED

is that the man who got stuck wasn't the man who wore a pair of our properly adjusted and perfect-fitting eyeglasses or spectacles. Those who have their eyes examined and tested by us, while wearing a pair of our glasses, never fail to see a point clearly.

YOUR BUILDINGS

will look a hundred times better, last many years longer, and fetch a higher price in case you wish to sell if you keep them well and handsomely painted. A fine coat of paint is like a dress suit, and puts a building in proper shape for show. Nothing pays better than keeping a house up. It costs something to build and paint is a cheap preservative.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

SUICIDE OF A VETERAN.

Killed Himself to Avoid the Disgrace of Being Sued.

Kansas City, May 10.—Major Henry McNamara, a veteran of the Fenian army that invaded Canada in 1866 and again in 1870 and who was later prominent in the Invincibles, the Clan-Na-Gael and kindred Irish societies, killed himself rather than suffer the disgrace of being sued for a $20 debt. An acquaintance who had loaned him money threatened arrest if it were not paid. McNamara had been unable to secure work and could not meet the demand.

Major McNamara was 56 years of age and formerly came from Boston, where he now has a brother employed in the custom house. He was a member of the G. A. R., having served with distinction in the Union army throughout the war. He was a newspaper writer and had done press work on dailies in the southwest for years. He leaves a widow.

People's Christian Prohibition Church.

Scranton, Pa., May 10.—A People's Christian Prohibition church has been organized in this city, chiefly through the instrumentality of J. C. Hogan, the Forest City temperance enthusiast. Mr. Hogan is the ex-minister whose ministerial certificates were demanded by the Wyoming Methodist conference at its recent session at Oneonta, N. Y., on account of his radical temperance views, but who refused to surrender the paper and attempted to burn it in the presence of the conference. Four hundred dollars has been subscribed for the new church. Its pastor will be Rev. Levi Bird, now of Freeland, Pa.

Fire In New Hampshire.

Seabrook, N. H., May 10.—Fire was discovered in the factory occupied by Poore & Dole, boot and shoe manufacturers, and W. P. Bradford, contracting shoe manufacturer, and owned by A. A. Locke. Owing to there being no fire apparatus in town, the building was soon destroyed, and the flames spread to two houses and a barn owned by Judge Jeremiah Chase, which were also destroyed. The villagers organized a bucket brigade and by hard work prevented a further destruction of property. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

The Affairs of Nicaragua.

Managua, Nicaragua, May 10.—President Zelaya has signed the law abolishing capital punishment from and after July 1 next. Nicaragua is about to establish a postal package service under the treaty with Germany established last February. The rate on 15 grammes will be 80 cents in gold and on fractional excesses 10 cents. Money, watches, jewelry and such importations as are prohibited by law will be excluded from the service. The tax on bananas for export will be suspended from and after July 1 next.

Will the Governor Resign?

Nashville, May 10.—While Governor Taylor refuses to talk for publication concerning the reports that he has decided to resign and that about October will cease to be governor, it is known that he has so decided and that he told several gentlemen that the reports are correct. It is almost certain that he will again go upon the lecture platform. The publication of the story in a local paper created quite a sensation in political and other circles.

No Trace of the Escaped Murderer.

Trenton, May 10.—The authorities here have been unable to learn anything as to the whereabouts of Louis Pfeihl, the convicted Vineland murderer who escaped from the Trenton insane asylum on Thursday last. It was reported that he had been seen at a railroad station some distance from here, but this proved incorrect. It is believed that he has crossed the Delaware river into Pennsylvania.

Historic Building Burned.

Mount Vernon, O., May 10.—Rosse hall, at Kenyon college, has been burned. The loss on the building, which was totally destroyed, was only $10,000, but the hall had a historic interest. It was built fifty years ago with money raised in England by Bishop McIlvaine. Lords Gambier and Kenyon and Lady Rosse contributed most of the money, and the hall was named in honor of Lady Rosse.

Rumors Concerning Steel Beam Pool.

Pittsburg, May 10.—The rumor is prevalent that the beam pool has collapsed, though local manufacturers will not discuss the matter. It was composed of the Carnegie Steel company, the Lackawanna Steel company, the Illinois Steel company, the Shenango Steel company and Jones & McLaughlin. It is said that within a week prices have dropped from 1.55 cents per pound to .95.

Helped by an Unknown Benefactor.

Paris, May 10.—An anonymous donor has sent the sum of £37,500 to the committee of management of the charity bazaar in the Rue Jean Goujon, which was the scene of last week's terrible tragedy from fire. This amount, with the proceeds of the first day's sale, £1,800, equals the full receipts of the bazaar of 1896, and the committee is thus enabled to make distributions as before.

Large Malt House Destroyed by Fire.

Detroit, May 10.—The large malt house of Henry W. Rickett & Co. has been destroyed by fire. It is estimated that $50,000 worth of malt was destroyed. The loss on building is $20,000; fully insured. Two firemen were slightly injured.

MORGAN-HALE SETTO

Lively War of Words Promised on Cuban Resolution.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Measure Returns to the House For Action on Senate Amendments—Additional Facilities to Be Given to the Postal Service.

Washington, May 10.—There is no certainty as to the line of proceedings in the senate during the present week. Senator Morgan is quite determined to press his Cuban resolution to an issue and Senator Hale just as determined to prevent its passage. Mr. Hale ultimately will move to refer the resolution to the committee on foreign relations, and an effort will be made to enlist the friends of the administration against it. The committees will be filled tomorrow, but as this will be done on the basis heretofore agreed upon there will be no friction over the proceedings. The conference report on the Indian appropriation bill may cause some debate, but the probabilities are that the agreement of the conferences will be generally acquiesced in.

The house programme of three day adjournments will be suspended this week. The sundry civil appropriation bill has passed the senate and now returns to the house for action on the amendments will be considered in the when the Indian bill came back to the house probably will be followed in the case of the sundry civil—that is the amendments will be considered in the house before the bill is sent to conference.

There is a good deal of bitter feeling among the house factions, which may break out as soon as opportunity for debate is given, and some very lively oratorical displays are expected. The conference report on the Indian appropriation bill also will be ready for consideration before the week closes. The questions involved in the opening of the Uncompaghre reservation in Utah will of course furnish the main source of contention in the debate on this report.

Improving the Postal Service.

Washington, May 10.—A vigorous policy of extending mail facilities for the suburbs of the large cities as far as possible by both steam and electric cars has been adopted by Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger. Many of the big cities will be given material additional service for the outlying districts if the citizens of those points co-operate with the department to make it a success, and the statement will be a welcome announcement to numerous places where feeling is evidenced that the demands of the suburbs are not met.

Mr. Shallenberger is giving the matter careful attention and as an initiative has just made contracts at Pittsburg for additional train service to the various suburbs there within a range of about 30 miles from the city whereby from one to three extra mails a day will result from the use of accommodation trains. Electric cars will figure largely in future postal operations owing to the large number of settled districts where the steam roads do not touch.

Burglar on the Puritan.

New York, May 10.—George Hamilton, whose picture is in the rogues' gallery, was caught in the act of robbing a stateroom on the sound steamer Puritan on Saturday afternoon shortly before the boat was to sail. Thomas H. Bussey and wife of Troy had engaged rooms and returned in time to find Hamilton going through their satchels and caused his arrest. The thief had forced the door of their stateroom with an icepick, which was found in his pocket. Hamilton was arraigned in the Center street police court and remanded until Mr. Bussey will appear against him.

Veteran Showman Dead.

Cincinnati, May 10.—James M. Hutchins, veteran showman, more widely known as "Uncle Jim," died here on Saturday. He was born in Paris, Ky., and was 70 years of age. He crossed the plains to California in 1857 and engaged in mining. He drifted back during the war and with his brother William operated museums in St. Louis and Cincinnati. In 1877 John Wilson, assistant manager of Robinson's circus, brought him to Springfield, Tenn., to take charge of the side show, in which position he has since been occupied.

Second Trial of Blauvelt Case.

Nyack, N. Y., May 10.—The case of William R. Thompson against ex-School Commissioner George A. Blauvelt for $25,000 for alienation of his wife's affections is again on trial in the Rockland supreme court before Judge Hirschberg. This case was tried in September and a verdict of $10,000 awarded Thompson. Judge Smith set the verdict aside on the ground that it was not in accordance with the law and the evidence and ordered a new trial.

Found Shot Through the Body.

Spencerville, O., May 10.—Henry Harris was found in a ditch near Keeth park with two bullet holes in his body. He refused at first to tell who shot him, but in ante mortem statement to the coroner and his physicians gave the name of a well known woman as the murderess. The physician and coroner say they will not disclose the name unless Harris should die, when a sensational arrest will be made.

Election Contest Settled.

Trenton, May 10.—Chief Justice Magie has issued a certificate of election to Charles Gallagher as freeholder from the Fifth ward of this city. Gallagher was declared to be duly elected on a recount by the county board of election by a plurality of 1. The original returns gave Chambers, Republican, the office by a plurality of 7.

After the reading of the reports Mr. Schenck announced that the evening offering would be used to help defray the expenses of Mrs. J. W. Schenck, of New Brunswick, who was going to Japan as a missionary. Following a selection by the choir, Mr. Schenck introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Eugene S. Booth, a returned missionary from Japan. Mr. Booth expects to return to his mission field in a short time. His remarks were instructive, and gave all more enthusiasm for mission work.

The number of missions and schools being conducted by the Reformed church were spoken of and the speaker told what a good work was being accomplished in the foreign fields including Arabia, China, India and Japan. He cited an instance where a few missionaries had a parish of four and a half millions of people to which they were supposed to carry the Gospel. Mr. Booth then preached a short sermon regarding the reconciliation of the Word of God.

AROUND THE BASES.

Leals' first team has scheduled a game with the Roselle nine at Roselle for next Saturday afternoon.

The High School team will not play again for the championship of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association until May 29th, when they go to Montclair to play off the postponed game with the High School team of that city.

Leal's School second team defeated the nine from the Plainfield Grammar School, Saturday morning by a score of 20 to 7. The game was a close one up to the last inning when the score stood 10 to 7, but the Grammar school boys became rattled and the other side ran up ten runs in the one inning. Crowe and Dumont pitched for the winning team and Roome caught. Westpnal and Kennett were the battery for the Grammar School nine.

MISS MARSH'S MUSICALE.

PIANO PUPILS SHOW PROGRESS MADE FOR A YEAR.

Students Acquitted Themselves Creditably and at the Conclusion the Prizes for Excellence Were Awarded.

The drawing-rooms of Miss Ada Marsh's charming home on Franklin place were filled at 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, with the relatives and friends of Miss Marsh's piano pupils to attend their annual musicale, and to witness the progress they had made in the study of music during the past year.

A pleasing programme had been prepared, and compositions of Schubert, Greig, Mendelssohn and others of the best composers, were well rendered by the dainty young girls in their pretty light summer gowns. The pupils who took part in the musicale were the following: Clinton Ivins, Hartley Mellick, Anna Fiske, Marion Grace Marsh, Nathalie Work, Anna Richards, Louise Booth, Henrietta Work, Miss Isabelle Scott, Miss Florence Taylor, Miss Elma Thayer, Miss Emily Gould, Miss Helen Martin, Miss Helen Drake, Miss Mary Anderson Reinhart, Miss Frances Weir and and Miss Edith Arens. The six girls first mentioned were all under eleven years of age, Marion Grace Marsh being only six and Annie Fiske seven.

The students all acquitted themselves well, showing careful training both in technique and in playing with expression. Nearly all played without notes, and very difficult music was skillfully and tastefully rendered by the older girls, their playing bearing witness to Miss Marsh's unusual ability to develop the very best powers of her pupils. Miss Frances Weir's playing was so heartily encored that she was obliged to return to the piano, and gave a very clever little composition of her own.

At the close of the programme, Miss Marsh announced that there were two prizes to be awarded to her pupils. The first, two volumes of Chopin's Waltzes and Nocturnes, was offered for diligence in study during the last three months, and was given to Miss Edith Arens. With regard to the second, Miss Marsh had slips of paper distributed, and asked those in the audience to vote as to which student had best pleased them by her playing. Miss Edith Arens was excluded from this contest, as both prizes could not be given to one pupil. The prize was Mendelssohn's "Songs Without Words." Miss Francis Weir was the winner, receiving fifteen votes. Miss Louise Booth and Miss Helen Drake received the next largest number of votes, the others being given to Miss Reinhart, Miss Thayer, Miss Gould, Miss Martin, Miss Fiske and Miss Work.

Dainty refreshments were now served by the young girls, and the guests crowded about Miss Marsh and her pupils to thank them for the very pleasant entertainment they had given, and to congratulate them on the successful close of their winter's work.

Beerbower's Examination Postponed.

The trial of John Beerbower, proprietor of the City Hotel, on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday, which is contrary to the city ordinance, was again adjourned. WHY WILLIAM HATES THE GREEK.

The Emperor Objected to His Sister Joining the Greek Church.

The former Princess Sophia of Prussia, now Crown Princess of the Hellenes and Duchess of Sparta, has not been on good terms with her imperial and imperious brother from the day, three or four years ago, when she first declared her intention to join the Greek Church. The Emperor made strenuous opposition to this resolve, but the Duchess, after explaining that she had been in no way coerced, either by her husband or his family, to take the step, quietly put an end to the discussion by embracing the faith of her future subjects.

Since then the Princess Sophia has become a stranger to her native city, and her name is never even mentioned at the Berlin court.

The Cretan incident afforded the Kaiser the first opportunity to punish Princess Sophia and her husband. It was he who proposed that the Piraeus be blockaded at once. The Crown Princess of the Hellenes has become one of the most popular women of Athens, where she leads all movements to benefit womankind an aid the poor. Of late she has become the patroness of a society for the introduction of a new national dress. She is also at the head of an organization for furnishing wholesome food to the poor at cost price, and the poor school children receive free noonday meals at her expense every day in the year. —Chicago Tribune.

GRAND OPERA IN BELGIUM.

Prices Ridiculously Low—Two Performances for a Nickel.

Liege, Belgium, has a grand opera, of which a correspondent of the Musical Courier gives this amusing account:

The prices are low, ranging from $1.25 down to 10 cents. On Mondays performances are given at half price, which brings the cheapest seats down to 5 cents. What would the boxholders of the Metropolitan Opera House say to opera at 5 cents? And you get two operas at that, for they like to give you your money's worth here. "William Tell" and "Faust" are on to-night, "Carmen" and "Trovatore" to-morrow. Wagner is not given at all, and other German composers very seldom. French or Italian opera is the rule. Massenet and Saint-Saëns are great favorites. The opera house is a large old building, utterly devoid of ventilation. If you want to know what stale air is—guaranteed genuine—sit through a performance here. It is the self-same air that the grand-parents of the present opera-goers breathed fifty years ago. It is there to stay; it can't get out, as there is no outlet for it.

To Render Iron Weather-Proof.

Countless attempts have been made to deal with the rust problem in iron structures. A new process has been suggested which consists in treating the iron with a solution of ferro-cyanide. This forms a coating of cyanide of iron, that is stated to be uniform and impermeable, and of such a nature as to effectively protect the iron so covered. The solution is mixed with flaxseed varnish, to which has been added a little turpentine or benzol, so as to cause a very homogeneous emulsion which can be applied without difficulty. The evaporation of the alcohol leaves the flaxseed varnish, which forms a coat and protects the cyanide of iron which is deposited upon the metal. The iron requires no preparation for this treatment beyond removing any rust that may already have been formed, and which may be too thick to admit of the action of the ferro-cyanide.—From Industries and Iron.

Let Them Paint Bull Run.

On a visit to Boston, Gen. John B Gordon, the ex-Confederate, was entertained by a well-known lawyer, who showed him the sights. One of the places the Southerners visited was the cyclorama of the Battle of Gettysburg; the old soldier did not make any comment on it. When the two came out of the building and were on their way down town, the lawyer inquired:

"Well, General, what did you think of it?"

"What did I think of it?" said the General, coming to a standstill and striking a defiant attitude, "Let them paint Bull Run."—Argonaut.

The Sultan's Money in America.

The Sultan is reputed to be one of the richest men in Europe. He receives something short of a million a year from the country, and half a million from his private estates. He has saved a large amount, but keeps a small portion only in Turkey. He used to have five millions invested in England, but since the relations between England and Turkey became strained the bulk of that amount has been transferred to America, where His Majesty has already three millions invested.

WHERE LYNCH FOUND HIS MILL.

The Trees Had Grown Taller and the Building Had Ascended.

Away up in the Adirondacks, in the town of Minerva, a few years ago, lived a man of the name of Daniel Lynch. Mr. Lynch lived back in the lumber district and on the banks of a nice little stream. Anxious to make money and turn his timber into cash, he built a mill. It was a rather queerly constructed affair, for, instead of a frame, he used as corner posts for his building four trees. Dan began the manufacture of lumber and had it piled up in large quantities all around. Buyers came from all parts of the country to look at his stock intending to buy, but all went away dissatisfied, for the boards were uneven and worthless. After trying in vain to get a few dollars out of his venture, he abandoned the place and moved into town.

Years passed, and one day Dan thought he would visit the scenes of his unfortunate speculations, but on his arrival at the spot was surprised to find that his mill had gone. There in the bed of the stream was the old flume and wheels, but no building. As he stood gazing in wonder on what was left of his old establishment something—perhaps a little bird—attracted his attention up in one of the trees, and imagine his surprise on looking up, for about twelve feet in the air above him was his mill. In his absence the four trees that he had used as corner posts had grown and taken the mill up toward heaven.—Utica Daily Press.

A Remarkable Power of Touch.

Sir William Hamilton mentions a tailor, whose name he does not give, who was blind from birth, and yet, by the sense of touch alone, could distinguish the patterns of Scotch plaids used in the kilts of the Highland costumes, matching the cloth with all the exactness that might be expected of one having perfect vision.

TUMULT OF ELEMENTS.

FIRST REAL THUNDER STORM OF THE SEASON CAME YESTERDAY.

Accompanied by Vivid Lightning Which Struck Several Places in This Section But Did Not do Any Serious Damage.

The first real thunder storm of the season visited this section, yesterday afternoon. For nearly an hour, the rain poured down in a uninterrupted torrent accompanied by vivid lightning and heavy crashes of thunder. The damage done by the storm was comparatively light although a number of visitations of the lightning are recorded. Of course, the street car system was delayed during the heaviest of the storm, and several telephones suffered but those are the usual incidents of an electrical storm.

There was plenty of warning that a storm was at hand, yesterday afternoon. The western sky grew hazy and there was a stillness that betokened a tumult of the elements. Then a long row of dense black clouds appeared over the mountain and bore down on the city, rolling up the light slate colored clouds in front. There was a sharp gust of wind that preceded the rain which soon fell heavily, flooding the streets for the time. Although the ground was very dry, it was unable to receive all the rain that fell, and the puddles on the streets did not disappear until this morning.

The lightning was sharp and filled the air during the discharges. The thunder claps followed the flashes very closely.

The residence of P. C. Purdie, of Martine avenue, was struck. The bolt struck the chimney, splintering it and sending the bricks in all directions. A hole was torn in the slate roof and then the lightning continued its way downward. The laundress was working in the kitchen at the time and the lightning played about her. She was not injured although so dazed that she was compelled to stop work for some time.

The storm was also felt at Lincoln. About twenty people were assembled at the railroad station when a ball of fire passed out of the telephone across the room and out of the door, just grazing the head of S. D. Drake, who was standing in its path.

Daniel Dugan's house on LaGrande avenue was damaged slightly by the lightning. A bolt struck the roof and removed a number of slate but the lightning did not enter the house

The house occupied by Ralth Rigby, located on Stebbins place, was damaged to the extent of about $30 The lightning entered from the roof and descended in a zigzag manner to the cellar. On its way down it entered a closet and demoralized a large number of dishes. The plaster was torn from the ceiling and sidewalks and scattered about the rooms. The family was home at the time and all were thoroughly frightened. The house is insured by William Woodruff and this morning the loss was adjusted satisfactorily.

At the Pond Tool Works the lightning entered the rear part of the building and was attracted to the electric crane, which was in operation. Two men were working near it and they both received a slight shock The actual damage was very small. The electric fluid passed through other portions of the works but no damage is reported.

Mayor Brakeley of Dunellen had a thorough shaking up during the shower, yesterday afternoon. The Mayor was seated in his easy chair directly under the telephone, while on top of the 'phone lay some compressed cotton. The last heavy clap must have struck the electric wire leading to the store for it twisted the wire into an inextricable tangle, and passing into the store rung up the telephone and set fire to the cotton on top. The doctor was stunned for a minute or two and recovering himself noticed the fire in the cotton, which he hastened to extinguish. The doctor considers it very fortunate that the shower occurred in the daytime when he was at the store, for had it been at night and under similar circumstances, there is no telling what the result might have been.

Stepped on Good Luck Rice.

Miss Edith Titsworth, of Madison avenue, now carries her hand in a sling as the result of an accident received in a rather remarkable manner. Miss Titsworth is related to Mrs. Elfleda Taylor, nee Whiting, who was married last Thursday. Miss Titsworth was at the house after the wedding, and while walking down the steps to the piazza, she slipped on some of the rice that had been thrown at the bridal party and fell, spraining her right hand in two places. The injury will prevent her from using that hand for several weeks.

FIGHT FOR U. S. SENATOR

GRIGGS AND KEAN ARE WORKING FOR THE HONOR.

If the Republicans Win Next Fall Either One of These Men Will Probably be Elected to the Highest Legislative Body.

Gov. Griggs and John Kean are the only candidates mentioned on the Republican side for United States Senator. It is safe to predict that either of these leaders will, in the event of Republican success next year, succeed James Smith in the highest law-making body of the nation. Franklin Murphy as a candidate is not seriously considered. His health is poor and it is probable that during the heat of the campaign he will be found taking life easy in a foreign mission or else in traveling for recuperation. Even if Mr. Murphy became an active candidate it is not believed that he would cut much of a swath as against Gov. Grigg and Mr. Kean. When Mr. Murphy's adherents bolted the nomination of Gen. Sewell for Senator in 1894, his standing as a party man was irretrievably damaged. His appointment to a foreign mission, however, would not raise any objection.

Governor Griggs' friends would like very much to get Mr. Kean out of the way by inducing him to become a candidate for Governor. That would make plain sailing for the sturdy statesman from Passaic. But Mr. Kean says he does not want to be Governor, his ambition being to become a United States Senator. Twice already has he been balked while trying to reach the Executive chair, and he feels that it is unreasonable to ask him to make a third attempt. He has not yet had a chance at the United States Senatorship when his party was in power, and he asserts that the time is now ripe for the announcement of his candidacy. That is his ambition, and he will not be side-tracked for any consideration. By this time, no doubt, Governor Griggs is fully conscious of Mr. Kean's intention and consequently the battle between these rival leaders is already in progress.

Prospecting for votes has been going on since last fall, when eight State Senators were chosen, six of whom, it is stated, are committed to Mr. Kean Those are Messrs. Miller, Stanger, Johnson, of Camden; Reed, Francis and Ketcham. If that is true then Mr. Kean has a very good start in the race. Next fall Senators will be elected in Cape May, Burlington, Middlesex, Sussex, Hunterdon. It is not so certain that the Republicans will retain control of all those counties, because Sussex and Middlesex are naturally Democratic, and Hunterdon is not much of a field for Republican campaigning. Burlington is about the only safe Republican county of the lot. Cape May is fighting ground, and Passaic is also debatable.

A FINE PIANO RECITAL.

CULTURED PLAINFIELDERS HEAR A TALENTED ARTIST.

W. H. Barber a Thoroughly Subjective Musician Who Played With a Feeling and Technique That Pleased His Hearers.

A musical event of more than usual interest to Plainfielders was the piano recital given at the Casino last night by William H. Barber, of New York. A large audience, composed of the most cultured and music-loving people of the city, was present, and thoroughly enjoyed the charming programme, rendered by one of America's most eminent and accomplished pianists.

Mr. Barber's playing showed both magnificent technique and an ususual amount of feeling. A thorough subjective musician, he appeared equally at home in classical and romantic music; in the stately movement of Handel's Gavotte in B flat major, the dainty sprightliness of Stavenhagen's "Caprice," the passionate sweetness of Chopin's melodies, and the wild tragedy of the Schubert Liszt "Erl-King." Besides the composers already named, the programme contained compositions by Mozart, Rubenstein, Grieg, Wagner, Schumann and Liszt. Perhaps the most popular numbers were Stavenhagen's "Caprice," the Schubert Liszt "Erl-King," and Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise No 13, after all of which Mr. Barber was recalled, the last number receiving a double encore.

While Mr. Barber's execution was remarkably finished and brilliant, his most strongly marked characteristic was his thorough sympathy with the thought of the composer; to an unusual degree he might be said to live in the composition he was interpreting, thereby swaying the minds of his audience at his will from grave to gay, from joy to tragedy.

A LIFE IN THE BALANCE.

JUST A FAINT HOPE THAT CLAWSON MAY NOT HANG.

Court of Pardons is Considering His Case Today—Everything in Readiness for Execution in Somerset County Jail.

A second and final attempt is being made among the members of the Court of Pardons, which sets at Trenton today, to save Elmer Clawson, the eighteen-year-old boy, condemned to death in the Somerset county jail at Somerville. Clawson's case was considered by the Court of Pardons several weeks ago, and though Steele & Meehan, the murderer's lawyers, made a strong plea for the sentence to be commuted to life imprisonment, the Board refused to interfere with the decision of the Somerset county court that he should be hanged to death to morrow between 10 in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The lawyers, however, have not given up hope that the Board may change their opinion and decide to save the boy's life. While it is not likely that they will appear in open session before the Board, it is understood that they are working quietly among the individual members in the endeavor to have the case taken up again with a favorable result for the condemned prisoner.

Up to last week, when Johnson, who has been Clawson's companion in the jail since his incarceration, expiated his crime on the gallows, the boy seemed to be totally oblivious to his position, but the knowledge that the colored man paid the awful penalty of taking a life in the same manner as he himself is doomed to suffer, unless his sentence is commuted, seems to have toned down his defiant and diffident spirit as to the consequences of his act At first he acted sullen and offensive in every way that he could, but now he meekly submits to his position. Though Rev. John Hart, of Neshanic, who spiritually consoled Johnson in his last days, has visited Clawson several times of late, the boy has not expressed penitence for his sins. However, he has listened to the minister's words and prayers in a quiet manner, but without any visible affect on his mind. He spends most of his time in chewing and smoking tobacco. Within a week he has told one of the guards that watch him, that he does not want to be hung—the first sentiment of the kind that he has spoken.

Public sentiment against him in Somerset county is very strong, and nowhere is it possible to hear a word of sympathy for him. He has a few visitors, but none of his relatives, though his mother and sisters live but a short distance from Somerville, visit him.

If the decree of the court that he be hung is carried out, as it is likely to be, it is expected that Somerville will be jammed with curiosity-seekers tomorrow.

James Van Hise, who performed his eighteenth hanging when he pulled the rope that jerked Johnson from this earth last Wednesday, will do the same thing for Clawson. The gallows will be the same as used in Johnson's execution and the same corridor in the jail will be utilized.

Sheriff Wyckoff had his list of witnesses made up some time ago. They include about thirty-eight persons. He had several hundred applications from people who wanted to witness the execution. Even Mrs. Harry Hodgetts, whose husband Clawson killed, has expressed a desire to see the hanging.

THE WINDOW MAN AGAIN.

An Attempt Made to Gain an Entrance to a Dunellen Home.

Dunellen seems to be a sort of haven for burglars. Sunday night they visited the residence of Mrs. Emily Apgar on Front street. About 1:30 o'clock a daughter of Mrs. Apgar, who is not a very sound sleeper, was aroused by a strange noise at what she supposed was her bedroom window. She got up and walked cautiously to the window and there in the bright moonlight she saw a strange man cutting away the putty from around a lower window pane. Mrs. Apgar was too frightened to give an alarm, so she stood almost motionless leaning against a large pane of glass watching the manœuvres of the burglar. Presently, the glass she was leaning against broke and the glass rattled down on the head of the intruder, who immediately suspended operations and darted off toward the railroad.

HUGH O'DONNELL IN JAIL

THE ALLEGED ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLER CAPTURED IN A GARRET.

He Told the Police That He Had Just Returned From Brooklyn and Had Intended to Give Himself Up Anyway.

Hugh O'Donnell is in Plainfield again. He is reposing in the rookery until the City Judge has time to attend to his case and the chances are that his repose is not a particularly pleasant one with all the many-legged visitors for which the jail is noted.

It will be remembered that Hughie O'Donnell was arrested some time ago on the charge of selling liquor at his place on Plainfield avenue, on Sunday, which is contrary to the city ordinance. He pleaded not guilty and retained Assemblyman W. R. Codington and ex-Councilman Walter L. Hetfield to represent him in the case. The trial of O'Donnell was set down for a certain day and everybody interested in the matter, except O'Donnell, appeared at the appointed time. After waiting an hour, it was learned that the alleged offender had sent word that he had been suddenly called to attend the funeral of his sister in law in Long Island. O'Donnell's counsels had gone security for his appearance but they were as much at a loss regarding his non-appearance as the city authorities. The trial was adjourned for a week.

At the end of the week, there was still no O'Donnell and all the police were ordered to arrest him on sight. Nothing more was heard from O'Donnell and the case was indefinitely adjourned.

Last night, Patrolman Saunders reported to Chief Grant that he had good authority for saying that Hughie O'Donnell had returned and was now in hiding at the home of a friend on West Third street. Accompanied by Saunders and Roundsman Frederickson, Chief Grant went to look for the missing culprit. The house in which it was thought he had taken refuge was that occupied by John Kiely.

Mr. Kiely said that he had no knowledge of the whereabouts of Mr. O'Donnell, but the police wished to investigate and so Frederickson and Saunders commenced a search while the Chief remained outside to keep an eye on the windows for fear that the "wanted" man might choose one of them as a means of egress. The officers inside of the house hunted high and low until they reached the garret. Then they looked behind the chimney and there crouched in the shadow was O'Donnell.

O'Donnell came to the front at once after his discovery and told the police that he had just returned from Brooklyn and had intended to come down in the morning and give himself up. Judging from his past behavior, the police put little faith in the remarks and locked O'Donnell up in the rookery.

As O'Donnell has kept the court waiting several times, the Judge was in no hurry to try the case. The Corporation Counsel was not ready this morning and so O'Donnell was left in his cell. He will probably come up for trial, this afternoon.

FOR A DAUGHTER'S LIFE.

$10,000 Wanted of Middlesex County as a Result of a Bridge Caving in.

Suit will be brought this week by Patrick Rodgers, of Bonhamtown, against the county of Middlesex for $10,000 for the loss of his daughter's life. His daughter was Mrs. Margaret Renney. On Sunday afternoon, May 2, she and her sister, Mrs. Martin, took a short walk near their home on the road from Piscataway to Bonhamtown. They stood a few minutes on the newly made arch span of a brick culvert over a small brook known as Mill Creek. Suddenly the earth and bricks began to give way under the women. Mrs. Martin jumped to a place of safety, but Mrs. Renney went down with the debris, the culvert having caved in. The earth and bricks dammed up the stream, and the rise of the water caused the drowning of Mrs. Renney.

The question of responsibility was at once suggested. Members of the Board of Freeholders, who had the building of this bridge in charge, said that it had not been accepted by the county nor the construction pronounced satisfactory by the County Engineer. The contractor who did the work declared that the county had accepted the bridge. Mr. Rodgers has retained as his counsel Swackhamer & Williams of Plainfield.

Lawyer Runyon Liberal.

While Isaac Runyon, of the law firm of Pope & Runyon, was attending court yesterday, some one entered the office on North avenue and removed a blue serge coat belonging to Mr. Runyon. The latter says that if the person who removed the coat will come back he will give him the vest and trousers.

THE HIGH SCHOOL GAMES.

ENTRIES FOR THE ATHLETIC EVENTS OF NEXT SATURDAY.

All the Cracks in the Interscholastic Association Will Compete and Some Good Sport is Promised for the Day.

The entries for the semi-annual games of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association, to be held next Saturday afternoon, were to close Saturday, but owing to a misunderstanding the entries of several of the schools in the New Jersey Interscholastic Association were not received in time. They will be allowed to enter, however.

The entries received up to this morning are as follows:

100 yards dash—George Proctor Smith, P. H. S.: A. Lindley, M. H. S.; A. Sulzer, A. F. Myers, and W. P Howe, P. S.

220 yards dash—George Proctor Smith, P. H. S.; A. Lindley, M. H. S.; C. A. Sulzer, A. F. Myers, and H. E. Manvel, P. S.

Quarter-mile bicycle race—Harry Cuming, L. M. Hillman, P. H. S.; A. R. Allen, C. Anderson, M. H. S.; P. N. Golden, Borden Hance, and John Brynes, P. S.

One mile bicycle race—Harry Cuming, L. M. Hillman, P. H. S.; A. R. Allan, C. Anderson, M. H. S.; P. N. Golden, W. M. McCully, Herbert Appley, Borden Hance, and John Brynes, P. S.

Two mile bicycle race—Harry Cuming and L. M. Hillman, P. H. S; A. R. Allen, M. H. S.; W. M. McCully, Herbert Appley, P. S.

Pole vault—George Proctor Smith, P. H. S.; P. A. Moore, P. S.

Putting the Shot—Carroll L. Runyon, George Proctor Smith, and Walter T. Serrell, P. H S.

Throwing the Hammer—Carroll L. Runyon, George Proctor Smith, and Walter T. Serrell, P. H. S.; Howard Higbie, P. S.

Throwing the Discus—Carroll L. Runyon, George Proctor Smith, Walter T. Serrell, and Harry Cuming, P. H. S.

It will be seen from the above that the only schools now entered are the Plainfield High School, the Montclair High School and Pingry's School of Elizabeth. The Newark Academy, the East Orange High School and perhaps some of the others are expected to compete.

It will be noticed that Plainfield is represented in the bicycle races, and particularly so in the shot hammer and discus. Local athletes may be looked upon almost certain winners of the last three events unless a dark horse puts in an appearance, which is not likely.

WOOING SLEEP 'MID BUGS

UNMARRIED PATROLMEN TO SLEEP IN THE ROOKERY.

The New Edict Causes a Good Deal of Dissatisfaction—Reserve to Act in Case of an Emergency, as a Fire, Riot, Etc.

The latest edict to go forth from the Police Board is one that has caused a great amount of dissatisfaction. It is to the effect that three of the patrolmen are to make their headquarters at the police station, otherwise known as the "rookery." This action was decided recently by the Board. Last Saturday Sergeant Kiely and his family moved from the station to a house on West Fourth street where they will reside in the future. The plan is that the three unmarried patrolmen, Morris Higgins, Florence McCarty and John Watson, shall take up their residence at the station so that there will always be some one on duty in case of fire, riot, etc. It practically keeps the three men on duty continually, for while at the station house they will be subject to call at any time.

The objection to the plan is that the station is not a fit place for even a prisoner, and on the floor of the City Council it has been stated that it was a disgrace to the city of Plainfield. The interior of the building is almost alive with animals that crawl and with such unmistakable evidences of life it is far from being pleasant for one to think that he is obliged to make the place his home. The officers who will sleep in the day time will necessarily be disturbed by the prisoners who will be locked up, and the same trouble will be experienced at night It is not known whether the officers will make any serious objection to the plan or not, but it is thought that they will.

Power to Sell Church Property.

A parish meeting of Grace P. E. church was held last evening. The vestry was given power to sell the lot on East Front street, near Richmond street, belonging to the church.

DESECRATING A GRAVE.

SERIOUS CHARGE BROUGHT AGAINST KATE FREY.

It is Said That Because Her Brother Changed His Religious Belief She Tore up the Flowers on His Grave in the Cemetery.

Charged with desecrating the grave of her brother and insulting her sister-in-law, Miss Kate Frey, of this city, stands in a perilous position. The cause of all the trouble was a difference over religious beliefs

Charles Frev has been in the city court several times for different reasons. He has a sister Kate. Some time ago, their brother died and was interred in St. Mary's cemetery. It is understood that he was first a Protestant but afterwards became a Roman Catholic. Kate Frey is a Protestant and was greatly incensed at her brother's change of faith. Mrs. Mary Frey, wife of Charles Frey, is a Roman Catholic. There were not pleasant relations between Mrs. Frey and her husband's sister and they quarrelled frequently.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Frey attended a funeral and then accompanied the remains to St. Mary's cemetery on Berckman street. It happened that Kate Frey went out for a walk in the afternoon and went in the direction of that cemetery. She finally went in and visited the grave of her brother.

Then followed the trouble that caused Mrs. Frey to appear before City Judge DeMeza and make a complaint against her sister in-law for using indecent and profane language, and for disturbing the peace in that neighborhood. The story, as told by Mrs. Frey, is that she met Kate at at the grave and that Kate called her all sorts of vile names and that Kate then pulled up the flowers that had been planted on the grave and dug up the soil with her heels in her fury. Whatever did happen, the grave was found later in a disordered condition and the flowers torn up by the roots, while footprints showed plainly in the soft earth of the grave.

The complaint was made and Roundsman Flynn served the warrant, yesterday afternoon. Kate Frey was taken before the Judge and allowed to go on bail until this morning. This morning, Judge DeMeza set the trial down for Wednesday morning so that the matter could be thoroughly investigated.

The desecration of graves is a State offense, punishable with a fine of $100 or a year's imprisonment. It is understood that as soon as the local tribunal has settled with the prisoner, she will be called to answer to the State for her alleged crime.

Large Stone Crushed His Finger.

William Dagnall, engineer at the Berkeley Heights stone crusher, met with a very painful accident yesterday afternoon while at work. A large boulder fell on his left hand and crushed the little finger on the hand. The bone was broken and for a time Mr. Dagnall experienced no pain. He went to the home of Dr. Westcott, who dressed the finger and took several stitches in the lacerated wound. It was then that great pain was felt and Mr. Dagnall suffered intensely. He did not stop work, however, although he is somewhat handicapped.

Explosives Must Not Be Kept.

In another column of today's Press will be found an ordinance published by the township committee of Fanwood Township, to the effect that all persons are prohibited from keeping, maintaining, or permitting to be kept or maintained any dynamite, nitroglycerine, explosive powder or other dangerous explosive material, except such as now authorized by law to be kept on sale at stores or other business places within the township of Fanwood. For violations of this ordinance a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200 is to be imposed.

Death of an Aged Friend.

The death of Myron Young, aged 92 years, of Fanwood, occurred on Sunday. He was the father of Mayor Young of that place and was a highly respected citizen. His wife passed away several years ago and since that time he had lived with his son. He belonged to the Society of Friends and was a faithful member. The funeral services will be held from the house at Fanwood tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

For the West Enders.

H. P. Baldwin, the Central's progressive passenger agent, has again showed his willingness to accommodate the residents of Grant avenue and vicinity, by causing the Newark train (7.48 a. m.) to stop there for passengers. It will make Grant Avenue station an express train station for New York passengers, by transferring to the 7.58 express at the North Avenue station.

Mrs. McVey, of North avenue, is critically ill at her home.

TRANSVAAL OUTLOOK

The Inhabitants Desire Peace, but Will Fight.

THEY OBJECT TO ENGLAND'S METHODS

An Interview With the South African Republic's Postmaster General—He Says the Situation Is Grave In His Country.

New York, May 11.—Isaac Van Alphen, postmaster general of the Transvaal, and his secretary, S. J. C. Vana Tigen, have been stopping at the Holland House. They have just departed for Washington to attend the international postal congress.

"All the South African states," said Mr. Van Alphen, "are inhabited by the Boers. Sixty years ago we went to Cape Colony. The English drove us out, and we went to Natal. Then John Bull saw what a fine country that had become, and he said it was his, and so we were forced to move again. 'Go to the Orange Free State,' he said, and we went. At last we were driven from there over into the Transvaal.

"At that time the Transvaal was full of wild beasts and Zulus. We whipped the Zulus and killed off the wild beasts. Then they wanted to take away the Transvaal.

"They did do it, and we had all our plans made to move to Mashonaland after burning all our towns behind us, but they finally gave us back our country, and we are still there.

The Situation Is Grave.

"The situation there now is very grave. We are all for peace, but if it must be fight—why, then we will fight to the last. We don't mind having the uitlanders in the Transvaal. Let them come and make all the money they want if they will only let us alone, but the trouble is they don't stop there.

"They boom the share market in mines, and then they depress it so as to make speculation. They have forced up wages so high that we can't work our properties at a fair profit, and what we would have refused £40,000 for five years ago we are now glad to sell for £20,000."

"What sort of a man is your president?" was asked.

"Ah," he replied with enthusiasm, "he is the greatest of living statesmen. Paul Kruger is a man who knows no language but the Dutch. He can read it, but he is apt to make mistakes when he writes it. But he is the greatest politician that ever lived. He has done everything for the country. John Bull can't fool with him."

No Diphtheria Present.

Albany, May 11.—In December last Dr. George B. Silliman's son, a student at St. Stephen's college, Annandale, was afflicted with acute tonsilitis and called a local physician who diagnosed the case as diphtheria. The young man was quarantined and required the college to be dismissed. A culture tube was sent to the college inoculated from the throat of young Silliman, and on examination by expert bacteriologists it was determined there was no diphtheria bacilli present. Dr. Silliman was indicted by the grand jury for violation of the health law. District Attorney Wood of Dutchess very frankly stated that on a full investigation he was unable to establish the fact that the boy had diphtheria, and the case was dismissed.

Capsized by a Squall.

New York, May 11.—The yacht No Name, flying the flag of the West End Yacht club of this city, was upset in the Hudson river off the Edgewater Oil works, near Fort Lee, N. J. The yacht had four men on board. They were Andrew Hurecke, Frederick Bard, C. Doner, all of New York, and an unknown man, who was taken on board at Eighty-fifth street to aid in handling the boat. The yacht was struck by a squall and capsized. Doner, who was the owner of the boat, and the unknown man were unable to swim. They were kept above water until several shad fishermen, who were out attending to their nets, went to the rescue. Doner was revived, but it is thought the helper will not recover.

Archbishop Thanks the Government.

Paris, May 11.—Cardinal Richard, the archbishop of Paris, has written to President Faure thanking the government for having taken part in the funeral ceremony on Saturday last at the Cathedral of Notre Dame, where a requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of the souls of the victims of the charity bazaar fire, and expressing confidence that the ceremony will mark an epoch by the union of all Frenchmen in their devotion to the country, and that henceforth there will be no dissension to separate French hearts united in grief.

Henderson's Expedition Captured.

Cape Coast Castle, Gold Coast, Africa, May 11.—Official news has been received to the effect that Lieutenant Henderson's expedition, reported to have been attacked by Chief Samory at Wa while the British officer was making treaties with the chiefs in the Hinterland and concerning whose safety the gravest fears were expressed, have been made prisoners by the Sofa tribe. It is added that the members of the mission are in no danger.

Street Railways Consolidate.

Baltimore, May 11.—It is announced that the consolidation of the Baltimore Traction and the City and Suburban Street Railway companies is practically settled, that the agreement has been signed and nothing remains to be done save to obtain the consent of the stockholders. A meeting for that purpose will be held on May 29.

Large Iron Deposits.

St. Johns, N. F., May 11.—English experts who have been inspecting the large iron deposits in the vicinity of Conception bay, deposits more than 14 miles long, report favorably upon the quality of the ore, and it is probable that the tract will be extensively worked during the coming summer by an English syndicate.

Schooner Strikes a Rock.

Newfoundland, May 11.—The schooner Mary struck a rock off Renowse, a port about 50 miles south of St. Johns, and her crew of seven narrowly escaped drowning.

CUBA IN THE SENATE

Turpie Makes an Earnest Plea In Behalf of the Insurgents.

HALE AGAINST MORGAN RESOLUTION.

Chandler Offers a Bill For a Permanent Census Bureau—The House Wrestling With the Senate Amendments to the Appropriation Measures.

Washington, May 11.—The Morgan Cuban resolution was discussed at considerable length in the senate. Mr. Hale of Maine and Mr. White of California spoke against the resolution, while Mr. Turpie of Indiana supported it.

Mr. Hale insisted that the country did not demand congressional action favorable to the Cuban insurgents.

If there was a real sentiment through the country, he said, hundreds of veterans would spring to arms. But on the contrary 6,000 men had started to aid Greece in her struggle where one had gone to Cuba. Mr. Hale closed with a motion to refer the resolution to the committee on foreign relations.

The Cuban resolution was laid aside temporarily to allow Mr. Vest to secure agreement to a resolution directing the committee on commerce to inquire into the causes of the recent floods on the Mississippi river and report to the senate next December. The consideration of the Cuban resolution was resumed, and Mr. Turpie of Indiana spoke in support of it.

He said the sympathy of the people of this country was universal in behalf of the struggling Cubans, but it was time now to give this sympathy official expression. Practically, he said, the present war of independence was in its thirteenth year, the first period of the war having lasted ten years. When the terms of the temporary truce were violated, then this second period of the same war for independence broke out. No government, monarchial or otherwise, has succeeded in subjugating a nation which had made up its mind to be free and to throw off oppression.

"It is the age of revolution," exclaim the senator, "and I hope that it may last long enough to drive the last remnant of monarchy from the American continent." The senator took up Mr. Hale's plea that the president should be left unhampered to pursue his inquiries. "How can the president learn anything we do not know?" he asked. The president's special commissioner was limited in his inquiry to the Ruiz case. We might as well send a special commissioner to Athens to find out whether war exists between Turkey and Greece as to seek further information as to Cuba.

A vote on the resolution was not reached, as Mr. Morrill of Vermont gave notice that he desired to speak upon it.

The senate committees were named in accordance with the previous agreement between the Republican and Democratic steering committees.

Mr. Chandler, chairman of the committee on census, reported favorably the bill providing for taking the twelfth census and contemplating the establishment of a permanent census bureau. The original bill is modified so that the director of the census is to receive $5,000 per year.

Proceedings of the House.

The house resumed the transaction of public business, which had been suspended since the Indian appropriation bill was sent to conference three weeks ago. The consideration of the senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill was entered upon under a special order providing for a recess each day until disposed of.

Mr. Simpson of Kansas attempted to harass the majority with points of no quorum, but without success.

The debate was mainly confined to the discussion of the senate amendment to restore the lands reserved as forest reservations under President Cleveland's order of Feb. 22 to the public domain.

Mr. Hartman moved a conference on the senate amendment relative to the forestry order.

Mr. Lacey moved concurrence with amendments providing for the suspension of Mr. Cleveland's executive order until March 1, 1898, when the order, as it may be modified, shall go into effect, and substituting what is known as the McRae bill for the provision permitting the use by bona fide settlers of timber and stone on such reservations. Messrs. Shafroth, Bell and Jones argued for the senate amendment.

A vote was not reached on the amendment.

Mr. Wheeler (Dem.) of Alabama used a pro forma amendment to refer rather sensationally to "the very important admission" made in an interview by "the distinguished chairman of the ways and means committee, Mr. Dingley, to the effect that the real purpose of the tariff bill was to create a surplus and impound the greenbacks."

Mr. Dingley replied with emphasis that he had made no such statement.

Mr. Fowler of New Jersey introduced in the house a bill for the creation of a tariff commission to investigate federal taxation, to recommend changes and to adjust inequalities of existing law. The bill provides for a commission of seven members at a salary of $7,000 per annum, with a term of office each of 21 years. The commission shall, under the terms of the bill, make annual reports to the president, and it is given power, with the written approval of the president, to suspend any tax on imports in whole or part.

Spring Humors

During the colder season impure humors accumulate in the blood.

The surface of the body being chilled, the pores are closed and clogged, and impurities which might pass off in perspiration are forced back into the blood. Besides this, winter's hearty food, fats and sweets, contribute more impurities.

This briefly explains the existence of Spring Humors—those unsightly eruptions, painful boils, annoying pimples and other affections, which make the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla absolutely necessary at this season.

But with some people, impurities in the blood cause very different symptoms. The kidneys, liver and bowels are overmatched in their efforts to relieve the clogged system. Dizzy headaches, bilious attacks, failure of appetite, coated tongue, lame back, indigestion or that tired feeling are some of the results.

From the same cause may also come scrofula, neuralgia sciatica or rheumatism.

All these troubles and more may properly be called "Spring Humors," and just as there is one cause, a cure is found in just one remedy, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the impure blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla enriches that which is weak and thin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes that which lacks vitality.

Hood's Sarsaparilla leads in Merit, Sales and Cures.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. THE LEONA DISASTER.

Thirteen People Burned to Death—Captain Wilder Placed Under Arrest.

New York, May 11.—Captain Wilder, in charge of the Mallory line steamship Leona, on which 13 lives were lost by fire, has been placed under arrest, pending the coroner's inquiry into the cause and responsibility for the disaster. No specific charge is made against Captain Wilder, and the coroner paroled him in the custody of Charles Mallory, one of the members of the steamship company. The inquest was set down for next Monday, and all passengers on the ill fated vessel were required to remain in the city until after that time.

The Leona was en route from this port for Savannah, and was off the South New Jersey coast, within 30 miles of Cape Henlopen, when, about 2 o'clock in the morning, fire started in the hold and resulted in the death of 13 persons—10 steerage passengers and 3 of the ship's crew.

Those who lost their lives were penned up below decks, and although frantic efforts were made by the officers of the vessel to save them the fire had such terrific headway before the danger was discovered that all escape was cut off.

The following are the steerage passengers who perished: Bridget Sullivan, Mrs. B. Cotrane, Mrs. C. Guzza, daughter of Mrs. Guzza, Miss Hannah Solomonson, sister of J. Vlacikek, Sophie Schmalz, Marie Modro and her two children.

The following of the ship's crew are dead: Albert Harvey, 42 years old, of New York, waiter; Albert Lang, 19 years old, of New York, also a waiter, and B. Hartman, 27 years old, of New York, butcher.

TO SAVE BROKER CHAPMAN.

Petition Signed by Senators to Be Sent to the President.

New York, May 11.—Friends of E. R. Chapman, the contumacious witness before the United States senate sugar investigating committee, admit that the strongest pressure is being brought to bear to save the broker from the ignominy of a stay in jail.

Several senators have signed a petition asking for Chapman's pardon, and the petition will be sent to President McKinley in a few days. Final disposition of the case will probably be made during the present week. In the meantime Chapman is in daily attendance at his office, but his affairs are so arranged that if necessary he will go to Washington and serve his sentence without further loss of time.

Large Paper Plant Sold.

Livermore Falls, Me., May 11.—The plant of the Jay Paper Manufacturing company at Jay Bridge, which has been shut down since December on account of a lack of orders, has been sold in the interest of creditors by a committee chosen some weeks ago to adjust the company's affairs. The committee declines to make public the names of the purchasers, but intimates that they are prominent New England capitalists. The plant is one of the finest in the country for the manufacture of paper and wood pulp. It was built only a few years ago, the original cost being $450,000.

Foresters Meet.

Newburg, N. Y., May 11.—Grand court, state of New York, Foresters of America, is in biennial session in this city. Four hundred delegates are present. Dr. William R. Howard, grand chief ranger, of Rochester, will preside. The convention will last four days. The banquet, which will be held Thursday evening, will be attended by most of the delegates. Several prominent persons will be present, the name of Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn appearing on the programme as one of the speakers.

A Dangerous Orchard Pest.

Hudson, N. Y., May 11.—George T. Powell of Cornell university has been inspecting the orchards in Columbia county and has discovered at Germantown the San Jose scale, one of the most dangerous pests known. He said that unless vigorous steps are taken to eradicate it the entire orchard interests of the Hudson valley will be endangered. The entomologists of Cornell university, Professor J. H. Comstock and Mr. F. Slingerland, agree with the statement.

Bank Officials Arrested.

West Superior, Wis., May 11.—Homer and Walter Fowler, ex-president and vice president of the Northwestern National bank, have been arrested by United States Marshal Main on a bench warrant as the result of a federal grand jury investigation. The charge against the Fowlers is misappropriation of funds by overloaning to the Russell & Miller Milling company.

Struck by Lightning.

Wilkinsville, Mass., May 11.—During a thunderstorm a barn owned by William Johnson was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The house of Mr. Johnson adjoining was also partially destroyed. The loss on both buildings will be $2,500.

WAS IT CONSPIRACY?

Baroness von Turkheim Declares She Was Victimized.

WAS ABANDONED BY HER HUSBAND.

An Important Witness In the Fair Will Contest—Induced to Marry an Alleged Nobleman and Left Penniless In London.

London, May 11.—Jeannine von Turkheim, nee Young, of San Francisco is in this city and in great distress. She says that she is the victim of a conspiracy which has grown out of the Fair will contest at San Francisco. She charges her husband with a knowledge of the conspiracy and is anxious to return to California in order to expose it. She is entirely without funds and is beseeching her friends in San Francisco to send her money enough to pay her passage home.

She has sent the following cablegram to Chief of Police Lees of San Francisco:

"London, May 9.

"Discovered proof of Delmas' villainy at Hotel Cecil, London. Turkheim intends leaving early tomorrow. Tell friends. Wish for immediate return. No money. Can you have Arnold, alias Von Turkheim, extradited to San Francisco? Has valuable papers in Fair case in his possession. Cable me care of American embassy.

"JEANNINE VON TURKHEIM."

A press representative interviewed the Baroness von Turkheim, as she is known. He found her in a state of great mental agitation. In the course of the interview she said:

"Owing to my knowledge of important facts bearing on the Fair will case, it became desirable in the interests of certain persons to remove me from the scene of action. To bring this about I was induced or instigated to marry the man calling himself Baron von Turkheim. We sailed for England.

"During the voyage there were repeated attempts to poison me with laudanum. When we arrived at Liverpool, I discovered among the effects of the man calling himself Baron von Turkheim certain papers showing him to be a detective employed by Stilwell's agency in San Fransico. When I charged him with his duplicity, he admitted it. We came to London and took rooms at the Hotel Cecil.

"Yesterday he paid the hotel bill and left me. I do not know his whereabouts. I am penniless and am obliged to go to a boarding house. The bottle of laudanum used against my life on board ship was purchased of the Joseph Hahn company, Sacramento."

Interesting License Question.

Middletown, N. Y., May 11.—The Cornwall Gun club members have raised a point for Excise Commissioner Lyman to decide. They made an application for a liquor license. This was refused by County Treasurer Mead, as the town of Cornwall decided this spring to allow only druggists to sell on the "liquor club basis." Their demand is based on the Raines law provision which allows clubs organized previous to March 23, 1896, to sell liquors during certain hours and also on the ground that no opportunity was given to people to vote on the proposition to license clubs.

Sentenced For Solicitation of Arson.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., May 11.—Robert B. Hutchinson, the leading merchant of Kipple, this county, was sentenced in court to pay a fine of $50 and to serve six months in jail for solicitation to commit arson. Hutchinson hired two men to burn the store of Pheasant & Wagner, his rivals in business. This is the first instance on record in the state in which a person was punished for this crime. Hutchinson's attorneys will appeal to the supreme court.

Embassador Hay Dined.

London, May 11.—A luncheon was given at the St. James club in honor of the United States embassador, Colonel John Hay, in order to enable him to meet the leading English bimetallists. The Hon. Hucks-Gibbs, Sir David Barbour, Sir William Houlsworth, Mr. Henry R. Grenfell, Mr. Barclay Powells and Mr. Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy, were among those present.

Wanted In a Number of Towns.

Saratoga, May 11.—Daniel and Charles McCarty have been lodged in the Saratoga county jail. They were sent here from Mechanicsville. COMING EVENTS.

May 13—Annual meeting of Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m.

A TARIFF COMMISSION.

Congressman Fowler introduced in the house yesterday a bill to establish a tariff commission to investigate changes therein and to adjust any inequalities in the existing law. The bill provides for the appointment of seven commissioners by the President for a term of office of twenty one years, at a salary of $7,500, the chief commissioner to receive $8,000. The terms of the first seven commissioners are to be twenty-one, eighteen, fifteen, twelve, nine, six and three years, respectively. Mr. Fowler states that agitation every four years on the tariff paralyzes public business, and if power were placed in the hands of a commission the tariff could be changed gradually without affecting general business.

AN IMPROVEMENT WITHOUT COST.

Mayor Wilson, of North Plainfield, is letting no opportunity pass by which the municipal government may be improved without extra expense to the taxpayers, and in line with this idea he has induced the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company to establish telephones in the Mayor's office and in the home of Chief Marshal Wilson as sort of a token of good will on the part of the telephone company towards a community that is treating them with considerable consideration and profits.

COULD NOT SURVIVE HIS INJURIES.

James Campbell, Hurt on the Railroad, Dies at the Hospital.

James Campbell, colored, who has been confined at Muhlenberg Hospital during the past two weeks suffering from a fractured skull, the result of an accident at White House, died at that institution this morning about 8:30 o'clock. During the past two days Campbell was unconscious and when he died he was partially so. He had nothing to say before he died, and was only able to partly understand what was said to him. His married daughter, whose home is in Hartford, Conn., has been in this city for several days, and has been in constant attendance at the bedside of her father. She took charge of the body and instructed Undertaker Cole to prepare the body for burial. Interment will probably be made at Hartford.

Lawyer Marsh's Good Fortune.

Craig Marsh has considerable good fortune at the opening of court at Elizabeth Tuesday. He was counsel for the defense in four important cases, three in the Supreme Court and one in the lower court, and in all three of them counsel for the other side consented to judgment in favor of the defendants, discontinuing the cases with costs. Counsel on the other side were from Newark, Jersey City and Elizabeth. Probably no lawyer attending the Union County Court has a greater host of friends, and no counsellor has gained more respect and confidence with the presiding judges. Mr. Marsh's mien in court is that of dignified intelligence, while his affability stamps him a gentlemen to the manner born. Mr. Marsh is never too busy to be courteous and agreeable.—New Jersey City.

A Busy Congressman.

Representative Howell has recommended the appointment of postmasters at Gladstone, Somerset County; at Sewaren, Middlesex County; at Allentown, Monmouth County, and at Atlantic Highlands, Monmoth County. The postmaster at Gladstone had resigned. The terms of the postmasters at Sewaren and at Atlantic Highlands had expired. Mr. Howell has also applied for the reestablishment of a discontinued postoffice in Monmoth County. Representative Howell has presented petitions from citizens of Millstone, Seabright and Basking Ridge, in the Third District, favoring the passage of a bill restricting immigration.

Teachers to Meet in the Borough.

The next regular meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association will be held at North Plainfield, on Saturday, May 22. Teachers throughout the county are requested to mail before the 12th inst., to Principal George A. West, Raritan, such questions as they desire to have answered or discussed at this meeting.

A Little Fellow's Death.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Kinney, of Arlington avenue, have the sympathy of a host of friends and acquaintances in the loss of their only child, George Montgomery Kinney, aged five years, which occurred last evening. Notice of funeral will be given later.

Greater New York should inspire this city to annex Plainfield, Metuchen, Highland Park, Milltown and South River. Why not Greater New Brunswick?—New Brunswick Times.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Miss Carrie Hyle is visiting her sister in Brooklyn.

Thomas Robinson, of Newark, has been visiting among relatives here.

Mrs. Sutton, of Fourth street, is improving the appearance of her home by adding a bow window to it.

Bernard Sirisky has gone to New York to spend a week with friends, and during his absence his business is being looked after by his brother John.

The many friends of Isaac Titsworth will regret to hear that he is failing rapidly. His condition is such that he does not recognize the immediate members of the family.

Miss Mamie VanPelt, of Manasquan, who has been visiting Mrs. Jane Apgar, left for Plainfield, yesterday, where she will visit for a few days among friends before returning home.

During the heavy thunder shower, yesterday afternoon, Miss Estella Eick, daughter of J. B. Eick, of Front street, was entertaining her friends at a birthday party. The guests kept on with their merriment just as though nothing had happened.

Major Hilton, who spoke at the union temperance meeting in the M. E. church Sunday, said that he was so favorably impressed with Dunellen, its people and surroundings, that if he could dispose of his property in Los Angeles, he would locate here.

A careful inquiry among Dunellen residents after the storm yesterday, failed to disclose any great damage. At Greenbrook one or two big maple trees were split by bolts of lightning, but aside from this no other damage had been reported up to night.

A team of horses attached to a heavy stone wagon left untied in front of the Park Hotel during the shower yesterday afternoon, became frightened and ran away. The team ran like deers and narrowly escaped colliding with several rigs died along the roadway. Near Taylor's Hotel the runaway team was captured. No particular damage was done by the runaway.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

The rain, yesterday, made good fishing in the mountain stream.

Miss Annie Collins, of New York, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John H. Blimm.

Mrs. W. S. Emery is slowly regaining her health, but she is yet extremely weak.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Grant, of West Front street, spent Sunday with relatives at the Plains.

Don't forget the Royal Arcanum entertainment in Excelsior Hall next Tuesday evening, May 18th.

After a long and continued draught, the well in the Plains now gives forth an abundant supply of pure and wholesome water.

Wilson Swaback, one of the parties arrested by Constable Walpole a day or two ago, for disorderly conduct went before Judge Clark, yesterday, and paid his fine and costs amounting to $5.20.

Stage Driver Thomas Newman reports the Plains traffic is falling off and says it does not begin to be what it was during the winter. Certain days in the week, however, he can hardly accommodate the Scotch Plains passengers.

Since the Board of Chosen Freeholders, through Director Hubbard, offered the $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who maliciously tore away the stone capping from the Meadow brook bridge, some two or three persons here in town have assumed the title of private detectives and are "working on the case."

Miss Elsie Cook gave a charming birthday party at her home in Scotch Plains, Saturday afternoon. About twenty five of her friends were present and spent a very enjoyable time. After games and the like, refreshments were served. Miss Cook received a number of handsome and valuable presents from her relatives and friends in honor of the occasion.

Tony Albert and Herbert Wilson amused thomselves a week ago Saturday night by swinging on and breaking the chaim on the school house gate, but on the following Monday they had the damage repaired and paid for the same individually. Some smart fellow with little or nothing else to do informed the Board of Trustees, and they in turn caused the arrest of Albert and Wilson on Saturday night. The prisoners were taken before Judge Clark and fined $3 and costs, amounting to $5.20 in each case.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

The dramatic entertainment which was given in the Fanwood club house, last Friday evening by the Choir Guild of All Saint's church proved a great success. It was largely attended and the two farces given during the evening were well received. The first was a farce in one act, entitled "Truth." Those taking part in it were Miss Maude Kyte, Miss Emma Pool, Miss Florence Kennedy, and Charles Cottrell. A farce in three acts, entitled "The Jack Trust," was also given. The different characters were taken by Elizabeth Kyte, Miss Marion Beardsley, Miss Grace Kyte, Miss Elizabeth McAnery, Miss Marguerite Kyte, and Ten Eyck Beardsley. During the evening there were several piano duets by Miss Josie Marsh and Miss Florence Nicholl, which were well rendered and several delightful vocal solos by Mrs. A. P. Bennett, of New York.

LINCOLN.

Mr. and Mrs. Wortman, for many years residents of the old Oakly house, now of New Brunswick, visited the family of John Gulick over Sunday.

Although President S. D. Drake, of the Realty Co., is in town all day any one desiring to make a particular appointment may do so by calling him up at Lincoln over the long distance telephone.

The boys are organizing a base ball game and are securing a number of promising players. Some of them are members of the High School team of Plainfield and members of the Bound Brook Athletic Association.

On Saturday and Sunday unusually large crowds of people visited the town. Among those coming here on Saturday were J. W. Johnson and F. S. Runyon, President and Secretary, respectively of the First National Bank, A. D. Thompson, George Hurlbert and family, of Plainfield and A. B Giles, the plumber of Dunellen. Sunday, Gen. J. Madison Drake and J. Madison Drake Jr., publishers of the Daily Leader of Elizabeth, made their first visit here. H. R. Johns and Mr. Robert Stir, of Newark, Amos Stile and brother and many others visited the town.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. WESTFIELD

HAD TO VACATE AT LAST.

END OF A LONG DRAWN OUT LEGAL FIGHT IN WESTFIELD.

Mrs. William MacDonald Finally Leaves H. N. Taylor's House—Personal Gossip and Passing Mention of the Town

The end of an interesting battle between a Westfield landlord and his tenant came up yesterday, when Mrs. William MacDonald was forced to vacate her premises on Broad street. It appears that Mrs. MacDonald has not paid her rent of late, and on last Tuesday the landlord, H. N. Taylor, served a notice upon her to move out. As this had no effect, Mrs. MacDonald was summoned before Justice Hart yesterday morning. Lawyer Angleman appeared for Mr. Taylor. Mrs. MacDonald's excuse for not leaving was that an invalid woman in her care was not in a suitable condition to be moved. The attending physician contradicted this statement, however, and the Justice issued a dispossess warrant. Mrs. MacDonald was defiant until two o'clock in the afternoon, the time set for her to leave. She then engaged a moving van and had her household effects removed and placed in storage. Thus has the law again asserted its majesty, and the star of peace shines over the village.

ITALY ON OUR TARIFF.

Her Minister Says It Would Be an Error to Retaliate.

Rome, May 11.—In the chamber of deputies the minister of finance, Senor Luzzatti, replying to Count Della Rocca, said it would be a serious error to retaliate against the United States, since the Dingley bill permits a new convention. Italy, the minister added, will open negotiations to protect her exports, which include nearly all agricultural products.

American imports, chiefly petroleum, he explained, are taxed 400 per cent, and the cotton necessary for the manufactories of tobacco is bought by the government. It would not be practical to increase the duties upon these imports. They must await the action of other countries whose commerce with the United States is more important.

In spite of the tariff, Senor Luzzatti continued, Italy's commerce may increase, and they should wait for the results of the experiment.

In conclusion, Senor Luzzatti assured the house that the government would devote every attention to the question and would carefully protect the commerce of the nation.

A CUBAN STOWAWAY.

New York, May 11.—On board the American bark Nineveh, which arrived from Cienfuegos, Cuba, was Antonio S. Salas, a Cuban, who stowed away on board the bark shortly before sailing from that port. He was discovered in the after hold when the vessel was about 24 hours at sea. Salas is an intelligent Cuban, aged 46 years, and was the proprietor of three large stores in Cienfuegos, but was obliged to leave the country owing to his sympathy for the insurgent cause.

Salas and about a dozen of his friends had been supplying the insurgents for many months with clothing and medicine, and were all captured by the Spaniards excepting Salas, who succeeded in eluding his captors and boarded the Nineveh as she was about to leave her wharf. Salas will be sent to Ellis island, but intends to sail shortly for Paris. He has a brother who is a machinist in the Baldwin Locomotive works at Philadelphia.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

A NEW DISCOVERY by the SHAKERS.

For more than a hundred years the Mount Lebanon Shakers have studied the cultivation of medicinal plants and sought to extract from them their healing essences. Their labor has not been spent in vain. They have made a discovery that will prove a blessing to mankind. It consists of a cordial that causes immediate relief in cases of indigestion. The importance of this discovery will be apparent when we realize that nearly nine-tenths of our suffering are caused by dyspepsia or indigestion. Nearly every person you meet has this digestive trouble in some of its varied forms—sick headache, distress after eating, pain and fullness in the chest after eating, palpitation of the heart, etc., are but symtoms of indigestion. To relieve these sufferings has been the study of the Shakers, and they have succeeded. The reason the Shaker Digestive Cordial has such an immediate and salutary effect is that it causes the food eaten to be digested, for it is undigested food that causes the distress. The Cordial causes the food to be digested before there is time for it to ferment and sour on the stomach. When the food is so digested it gives strength and vigor to the feeble body, makes one feel bright and cheerful, and makes one gain in flesh.

The Digest Cordial is so prompt in its actions that the very first dose will have a perceptibly favorable result. It gives immediate relief.

Every druggist has been sent a supply of our handsome Donkey Puzzle Books, and a copy may be had for the asking. It tells all about the Cordial as well as Loxol, the new castor oil.

Try a twenty five cent bottle of Digestive Cordial and see what it will do for you.

VOTING FOR A POSTMASTER.

A Way to Solve a Problem that Will Prove Popular.

Huntington, New York, Republicans have gone about naming a candidate for the local Postmastership in a business-like fashion. The candidates and their friends have agreed to submit the question to a vote. The only voters eligible are to be those Republicans who voted within the election districts of Huntington town embraced within the postoffice district of Huntington town. This includes the Second and Third Election Districts.

Huntington politicians are profiting by the experiences of the Democrats in different parts of the country. Under Cleveland's first administration a Republican held the fat office of Postmaster of Babylon the whole term, notwithstanding he sent in his resignation, because the local Democracy was unable to agree on a candidate.

There is no dearth of candidates in Huntington. Only one man can get the place. All dog-in-the-manger tactics have been eliminated from the race. The man who receives the greatest number of votes from his fellow-Republicans will be unanimously recommended for the place.

To make everything fair and aboveboard a committee was appointed in each election district to prepare and publish an election notice. This notice reads:

"The vote will be by ballot, and upon each ballot will be written or printed the name of the person whom the voter wishes to be appointed postmaster."

"Of those who habitually patronize the Huntington Post-Office, the following will be entitled to vote:

First, All Republican voters."

"Second, All who (whatever their past party affiliations) are willing to declare that they are now in sympathy with and approve of the political principles of the Republican party. William S. Funnell and Charles E. Sammis will act as inspectors at such election. All questions as to voting shall be decided by the inspectors."

"The result of the election will be certified by the inspectors."

There are a few Republicans in the town who contend that this election will not settle anything. These few object to retiring from local politics the question of "pull." They prefer to leave the question of office open to the men with the strongest friends at court. The great majority, however, have agreed that the matter be finally submitted to a vote and that the voice of the Republicans thus expressed be final.

TERMS OF MEDIATION

Greece Must Place Herself In the Hands of the Powers.

ABSOLUTE ABANDONMENT OF CRETE.

Germany Exacts Her Military Conditions, Which the Hellenes Are Forced to Accept—Another Cabinet Crisis Imminent—Hints of Revolution.

Athens, May 11.—The conditions of mediation insisted upon by Germany, the chief of which is that Greece shall give her formal consent to the principle of autonomy for Crete, will be accepted by the Greek government.

The note of the powers has not yet been presented, but it has been drawn and is to the following effect:

Upon a formal declaration by Greece that she will recall her troops and agree to such an autonomous regime for Crete as the powers in their wisdom shall deem best and accept unreservedly the counsels of the powers they will intervene in the interests of peace.

It is understood that Greece in her reply will assent to all these conditions.

M. Ralli, the premier, and M. Skouloudis, the minister of foreign affairs, have had a long interview with Mr. Egerton, the British representative, which has caused considerable comment. It is believed to be connected with the expected intervention of the powers.

A dispatch from Domokos says that the heavy rains there prevent fighting.

The Situation at Volo.

Larissa, May 11.—Affairs at Volo are fast assuming their normal condition, but the inhabitants are very indignant at the way in which they were deserted by the Greek troops. It is said that when the municipal authorities asked the military commandant what they were to do when the Turks arrived he replied, "Do what you like. It's no concern of mine."

The Turks found a quantity of railway material at the Volo railroad station, but they were unable to use the engines, as the Greeks had removed the essential parts.

The French naval detachment saluted the Ottoman troops, and the latter responded.

The Turkish officers complain of the nonresistance of the Greeks and declare it is not war but merely a military promenade.

The opinion is expressed here that the Greeks are avoiding a serious fight in order to spare their troops, who may be needed in Athens in the event of a revolution.

The Greeks at Almyros are in a state of panic. The newspaper correspondents with the Greek forces are subjected to the severest censorship. General Smolenski is highly praised, but the prevailing opinion is that the majority of Greek officers have had only the smallest practical training and entirely fail to command the confidence of their men.

The Turks have no doubt whatever as to the speedy capture of Domokos, although the place is fairly well defended. Edhem Pasha and his staff have gone on to Pharsala.

The Cause of the Retreat.

London, May 11.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says:

"The real cause of the Greek retreat to Pharsala was the blunder of one who mistook the retreat of the enemy for a forward movement designed to outflank the Greeks and therefore ordered a hasty retreat.

"The Crown Prince Constantine left Larissa because he believed the exaggerated reports of danger to his forces. It is a fact, however, that on the evening of the retreat Edhem Pasha, despairing of breaking the Greek lines, had ordered his army to retire to Elassona, while the sultan had dispatched a special commissioner to the Greek government with overtures of peace.

"The state of the Turkish army at that moment was simply critical, and terror reigned at the Yildiz kiosk."

Thessalians Flee to the Mountains.

London, May 11.—The Athens correspondent of The Standard says that almost the whole population of Thessaly, numbering 350,000, has fled to the mountains in the west. Refugees from Volo, Pharsala and the villages around Mount Pelion have been transported to the islands of Skiathos, Skopolos and Eubœa. Forty-five thousand refugees from villages along the coast are clamoring for food at Almyros.

Ripe For Revolution.

London, May 11.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Patras says: "Everything is ripe for a serious political crisis or for a revolution. The army is disgusted and the armed peasantry in universal discontent. The Greek National society could not have a better opportunity."

Greeks Lose Another Position.

London, May 11.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says: "The Greek army has been compelled to abandon Salagora and Fort Imaret, the Turks having occupied the heights commanding the latter."

Says It Was Rank Cowardice.

London, May 11.—Mr. Stevens, the special correspondent of The Daily Mail with the Greek forces in Thessaly, declares that the province has been lost through rank cowardice.

Probably Another Ministerial Crisis.

London, May 11.—The Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent says it is reported there that the king of Greece has summoned M. Delyannis in view of a possible cabinet crisis.

Lawyer Charged With Forgery.

Paterson, N. J., May 11.—Michael M. Ritchie, a lawyer of Lyndhurst, was brought to this city and is now in the county jail pending the finding of bail. He is charged with forging the name of John H. Keogh to a check. Ritchie left the city a couple of weeks ago, when a warrant was issued for him. He has since been indicted.

Struck by a Falling Chimney.

Middletown, N. Y., May 11.—Fire destroyed two dwelling houses and a store at Wurtsboro. Jacob Helm, president of the village, was found unconscious near the edge of the ruins. He

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Adam Neuman, the Watchung avenue grocer, has purchased a '97 Relay wheel.

Frank Fulton of Leggett's pharmacy, rode his wheel to New York Sunday and visited Grant's tomb.

Edward C. Searing, foreman of the composing room of The Daily Press, has just received his new Hartford wheel, purchased of the Eldridge Bicycle Company.

George Van Camp, Leonard Van Camp, Fred Ross and Edward Ross, of the borough, rode their wheels to Flemington on Sunday. They report the roads as being in excellent condition.

Frank Randolph and Henry L. Maxson, of this city, rode to Hackensack on Sunday and spent the day with E. T. Perrine, cashier of the United States Mortgage Company. Mr. Perrine was formerly a resident of this city.

Wm. M. McCutchen, of this city, is now hard at work with the bicycle squad at Yale University. He is one of the team chosen to represent Yale in the dual games with Harvard. He has just received his new mount for the year, a Spalding.

The beginning of the cycling season is an excellent time to join the League of American Wheelmen. The new road book has just been issued and it is very advantageous to every cycler in the State. Application blanks can be obtained at this office.

The members of the Mecca Wheelmen, of New York, of which John L. Blackford, of East Fifth street, is a member, have been appointed as marshals of the course for the Irvington-Millburn race on Decoration Day. The honor is a coveted one.

The day when the Crescent Wheelmen will open their bicycle track for the season is near at hand. On May 31st the first race meet of the year in Plainfield will be held there. The readiness shown by the crack riders to ride in this city has already been shown by the rapid manner in which their entries have arrived. That will mean good racing, which is what the people like. Of course, there will be lots of visitors here on that occasion, but the Crescent Wheelmen should have the solid support of the people of Plainfield. It has been often remarked by the visiting wheelmen that Plainfield does not turn out to support her leading bicycle club as she should. The city owes much to the Crescent Wheelmen. They have brought large crowds here on many occasions and maintained her reputation while in other places. The Crescents deserve a good backing from their friends. In some cities the present accommodations at the track would be insufficient to accommodate the crowd of townsfolk that would turn out for such a race meet as the Crescent Wheelmen give every year at different intervals. Such should be the case in Plainfield. It is to be hoped that the people of Plainfield will come out to the race meet on May 31st as they should. There is no need to fear that the racing will not be good; the entries already received assure that. If the local support comes, then the Wheelmen will be able to offer better and more frequent attractions to their patrons, and bicycling will be given an advance in this section.

AROUND THE BASES.

The baseball team from the Pond Tool Works desires to challenge the team from Leal's School.

The nine of the Bound Brook Athletic Club met defeat at the hands of the Englewood Club, Saturday afternoon, on the grounds of the latter club. The score was 16 to 2, in favor of the Englewoods. The Englewood team is a notably strong one but the defeat would not have been so great had pitcher Brampton, of the Bound Brooks, received the support that he should. Only nine hits were made off Brampton while the Bound Brook team made eight.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Somerset County Adds Another Case to its Ara of Crime.

Alfred Cono, a farmer of Warren Township, was assaulted last evening while returning to his home from Plainfield.

Cono and a neighbor, named Alfred Nelson, who formerly kept a store on Somerset street, collided on the road.

The collision between the wagons took place on the road between Mount Horeb and Round Top school house. It is alleged that Nelson called Cono a number of insulting names.

Both farmers went home and then Cono returned to Nelson's house later in the evening and called Nelson to account for his remarks at the time of the collision.

Nelson ordered his neighbor off the premises and, it is alleged, threatened to shoot him.

Cono started down the road and Nelson followed him with a double-barrelled shotgun.

Then, it is alleged, that Nelson fired the contents of both barrels at Cono. They struck him just above the knees. The gun was loaded with bird shot.

Cono fell on the road and Nelson, he claims, continued the assault with the butt of the gun, breaking Cono's arm.

Cono managed to crawl to his home which was not far distant, where he now lies in a precarious condition.

Nelson disappeared and has not been seen since. A warrant has been issued for his arrest by Justice Wood.

The farmers are very indignant, and they threaten to lynch Nelson if they catch him.

The team ran into Front street and collided with a wagon owned by Daly Bros., tea merchants, and damaged it considerably. The animals were captured as soon as possible and further damage prevented.

—The funeral services of the late Mrs. Oliver P. Vosseller were held today at 12 o'clock noon, from the house on East Second street. Rev. Cornelius Sehenck, pastor of the deceased, officiated, and his words were full of consolation to the bereaved ones. The floral tributes were profuse and among them was a large pillow from the Daughters of Rebekah. Interment was in the family plot at Somerville.

Plans for the New Trolley Road.

An enthusiastic meeting was held Friday night by the Union Township Committee over the petition presented by the Westfield and Elizabeth Traction Company to operate a trolley line across the county. The company was represented by Col. E. W. Hine and Mr. Headley, who were well received. By resolution of the committee notices of a public meeting, to be held May 26th, were ordered published. The traction company has more than half as many signatures of property holders as are required.

SIR WALTER SCOTT'S FIRST BRIEF.

One of His Best Fee's was the Sound Advice of a Burglar.

Sir Walter Scott had his share of curious experiences in the same connection shortly after being called to the bar. His first appearance as counsel in a criminal court was at Jedburgh Assizes in 1793, when he successfully defended a veteran poacher. "You're a lucky scoundrel!" Scott whispered to his client when the verdict was given. "I'm just o' your mind," returned the latter, "and I'll send you a maukin (namely, a hare) the morn, man." Lockhart, who narrates the incident, omits to add whether the "maukin" duly reached Scott, but no doubt it did.

On another occasion Scott was less successful in his defense of a housebreaker, but the culprit, grateful for his counsel's exertions, gave him, in lieu of the orthodox fee, which he was unable to pay, this piece of advice, to the value of which he, the housebreaker, could professionally attest: First, never to have a large watchdog out of doors, but to keep a little yelping terrier within; and secondly, to put no trust in nice, clever, gimcrack locks, but to pin his faith to a huge old heavy one with a rusty key. Scott long remembered this incident and thirty years later, at a judges' dinner at Jedburg, he recalled it in this impromptu rhyme:

Yelping terrier, rusty key,
Was Walter Scott's best Jeddart fee.

Cream Candies.

The Canadians make the most delightful cream candies of maple sugar, cream and butternuts.

Melt a pound of new maple sugar with a cup of thin cream and boil the syrup to a creamy ball, but not until it "cracks." When the syrup has reached the proper state, scatter butternut kernels evenly over sheets of buttered tin and pour on just enough of the syrup to cover them. Crease the sheets of candy into small squares and break them apart when the candy has become cold.

How to Serve Macaroni.

Macaroni served in the Italian style means simply boiled macaroni over which a highly-seasoned brown gravy is poured, grated cheese being sent round with the dish. The gravy is nicest made by cutting up in two-inch pieces some lean, juicy beef from the round and simmering in a little water into which a fried onion is put. Strain and thicken, adding half a dozen chopped mushrooms.

A New English Tire.

A new tire which attracted great attention at the recent bicycle shows in England is likely to be on the market here before long. This tire has no inner air tube, but is a single tube, which opens so that it may be repaired from the inside. It is almost identical with the outer cover of an ordinary clincher tire, except that one of the edges laps inside the other one, the air pressing them together and keeping it prisoner.

Fraud Detected by Use of X-Rays.

The X-ray nipped in the bud some time ago a clever scheme to defraud the City and Suburban Railway Company of Baltimore. The man who attempted to perpetrate the trick represented that he had had one of his arms broken by a car of the company, and, through an attorney, he demanded $3,500 damages. His arm was tied up from the wrist to the elbow, and he pretended to be in great pain.

Rather than go to the expense of a lawsuit, the railway company offered to compromise the claim by the payment of $100, which was refused. The company then thought of the X-ray, and, believing the claimant to be a fraud, they arranged to have a picture taken of the bones of the man's arm. The photograph showed that the bones were intact, and that they had never been fractured.

When the bandages were removed from the arm the skin was found burned and discolored, and the physicians who examined it said that it had been burned with acid.—Baltimore Sun.

SHOT ON THE HIGHWAY.

ALFRED CONO, A MT. BETHEL FARMER, CRUELLY ASSAULTED.

His Assailant is Alleged to be Alfred Nelson, a Neighboring Farmer—The Trouble Over Some Insulting Remarks.

Somerset county seems fated to see more than her share of horrible crimes, in which murder plays a prominent part. Another attempt at murder has been added to the criminal annals of that county, as was exclusively told in last night's Press. The bare facts of the assualt of Alfred Cono, near Mt. Bethel, Warren township, were then given, and that the man accused of the crime was a fellow farmer named Alfred Nelson.

Alfred Cono is a farmer, living back of Mt. Bethel on the old Harrison Stites farm. He is a native of Switzerland and came to this country many years ago. He has a wife and a large family of children. Half a mile from his farm, near Mt. Horeb, is that of Alfred Nelson. Nelson formerly kept a grocery store on Somerset street, where Titus' bakery is at present.

Both farmers drove to Plainfield, Monday afternoon in spring wagons. Cono came particularly after an incubator which he had purchased and he took it home with him. Both men were alone in their wagons. They left here about dusk and started home. It is thought that Cono went first and that Nelson tried to pass him in the narrow road near Mt. Bethel.

At any rate, they came together on the road at about 3:30 o'clock. There was a collision but no damage was done. Nelson was very indignant at his neighbor, blaming him for the accident, and then calling him insulting and improper names. They then continued their way homeward.

Cono reached home, took a little refreshment, and then walked over to his neighbor's home. Nelson had, in the meantime, partaken of his evening meal and answered Cono's knock at the door.

Cono says that he asked Nelson to explain what he meant by his remarks at the time of the collision. Nelson appeared to be excited.

"Get off the place, or I'll shoot you," he shouted, according to the statement of Cono.

"I suppose, Mr. Nelson, I'll have to get off if you tell me to, as you own the place," was the reply of Cono Nelson turned and went into the house while Cono slowly walked to the road and started in the direction of his home. He did not notice Nelson who had reappeared at the door with his shot gun in his hand. Both barrels were loaded with bird shot. Nelson followed Cono a short distance down the road and then, without warning, Cono alleges, Nelson fired both barrels. The shot struck Cono in the legs just above the knees and he fell to the earth with a groan.

Then, according to Cono's story, Nelson rushed at him with the butt of the gun raised in the air. Cono put up his arm to defend himself and the force of the blow fell on the arm just above the elbow, fracturing the bone. Then Nelson departed, leaving Cono groaning in agony.

Slowly and painfully, Cono crawled to his home, half a mile away, where his appearance caused consternation. A physician was summoned, and as soon as Cono explained the cause of his wounds, Justice Charles Wood was summoned.

After hearing Cono's statement, the Justice issued a warrant for the arrest of Nelson and the warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Jacob Rienmann. Nelson was not at home, however, when the constable went to look for him. The premises were searched but there was no trace of him. The family professed ignorance as to his whereabouts

The news of the shooting spread quickly and the farmers gathered, indignant at the wanton assault, and there was talk of lynch law for the assailant should he be caught.

IN A HURRY TO MARRY.

NELSON GRAVE REFUSED AND SO HIS BETROTHED TOOK POISON.

Grave Was a Painter and Came Here Three Months Ago—He Was Planning to be Married in Two Weeks.

A most tragic scene was enacted, last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Claassen, on Liberty street, when Miss Freda Peterson, of Perth Amboy, attempted to commit suicide by taking half of a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid. The handsome young woman is engaged to Nelson Grave, who is a boarder at the home of Mr. Claassen, and she came to the place ostensibly for the purpose of getting married.

When she came to the house last night she was met at the door by Grave and he evidenced surprise on seeing his fiance. However, she entered the house and the two occupied the parlor for a few minutes, during which time, Mrs. Claassen, who sat in the dining room, could hear a low conversation which seemed to be of a pleading nature. The fact was that the girl wanted Grave to marry her at once. To this proposition he objected, that is for the present. He wanted Miss Peterson to wait two weeks when he would have a sufficient amount of money to start married life right. He told her that he had engaged rooms on Chatham street, North Plainfield, and had furnished the same preparatory to their marriage.

This announcement did not seem to satisfy Miss Peterson and she demanded that he marry her at once. Again he refused, and while his back was turned, she drew from her pocket a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid, and, before he could prevent, she drank about half of the poisonous liquid. She gave one scream and fell to the floor. Grave hastened at once to the dining room and asked Mrs. Claassen for some mustard and water, but did not tell her what he wanted it for. He secured the preparation and gave it to his betrothed. It had little effect and she showed no signs of returning to consciousness. Grave became frightened.

He called Mrs. Claassen and the two carried Miss Peterson to the dining room where she was laid on the sofa still in an unconscious condition.

In the meantime someone was sent for two doctors, but for some reason neither one was able to come. The next step taken was to send for the ambulance, which Patrolman Saunders did, and the woman was removed to the hospital. The acid when taken burned the mouth and tongue of the young woman very much and she was apparently in great pain.

Grave came to Plainfield from Perth Amboy about three months ago and secured a position as painter with Rushton & Hansen. He is a very industrious lad and is well thought of by all who know him. He has been saving his money so that he could get married, and it was his intention of doing so in two weeks' time. The young woman, a native of Denmark, to whom he is engaged, is a highly respected person and has a large circle of friends in Perth Amboy, who will be unable to account for her strange actions.

BOY THOUGH HE WAS, CLAWSON WAS HUNG.

WALKED TO HIS FATE IN A PENITENT AND COURAGEOUS MIND.

The Trap Sprung at 10.07 And He Was Pronounced Dead Eight Minutes After—There Was But Little Convulsions of The Limbs.

In a penitent and courageous attitude Elmer Clawson, the boy murderer of Harry Hodgetts, a Bedminster farmer, was hung to death in the Somerset county jail at Somerville, this morning.

As was arranged last Wednesday, when Johnson was executed, the Court Jury and the Sheriff's deputies, gathered in the latter's office between 9 and 9:30 o'clock. They were as follows.

Sheriff's deputies—Benjamin S. Totten, Dr. C. B. Wright, Dr. John P. Hecht, Dr. W. H. Cawley, Andrew McArdle, Andrew Lutkins, Dr. C. B. Matthewson, Oliver Perry, William J Logan, George D. Totten, E. H. Casterlin, A. B. Rohn, Jr.

Court Juriors—Dr S. A. B. Taylor, Dr. J. Howard Cooper, W. J. Swinton, Dr. L. T. Reed, Dr. A. B. Mosher, Dr. J. F. McWilliam, W. V. Gibson, E. B. Mathews, C. W. Hoagland, Luther Marshal, E. B. Allen and John Whitenack. Judge George W. DeMeza, of Plainfield, represented the Bar of Somerset county.

The reporters were: J. A. Searey, National Press Association; John E. Wehrly, Somerville Democrat; R. S. Brunt, Somerville Unionist-Gazette; John Anderson, Somerville Messenger; J. F. Byrne, Evening Journal; and a Daily Press reporter.

The skilled help were James VanHise, hangman; Wm. Thompson, assistant, and E. S. Amerman, Deputy Sheriff of Essex county.

The court jurors were sworn in before County Clerk Somers shortly after 9 o'clock and then filed into the Sheriff's office.

At 9:30 o'clock the Sheriff instructed the court jurors to fall in line and as their names were called they responded and were escorted by a deputy-sheriff to the Judges' room in the rear of the court house, to enter which it was necessary to pass near the gallows located in the west corridor. where a few furitive glances were cast as the jurors filed by the door.

After the jurors had left the Sheriff's office, the Sheriff's deputies names were called off and as each answered they were taken to the corridor where the execution was to take place.

They passed the gallows and were clustered in the farthest end of the corridor.

In the intervim the court jurors and reporters had been waiting in the Judges' room above, where they were smoking and chatting in a manner more characteristic of a political convention than of the realization that they were about to stand in the presence of death, as brought about by the majesty of the law.

Just before 10 o'clock a deputy made his appearance and told the assembled witnesses to go to the improvised death chamber below.

Previous to all this, however, James Van Hise and his assistants, accompanied by the Press representative, had left the Sheriff's office at 9:20 o'clock and went to the west corridor by a side entrance.

Hangman VanNise had set up the gallows that was to deal out the death penalty earlier in the morning, after the prisoners confined for minor offenses had been removed from their cells and quartered in another portion of the jail. After looking the apparatus over with a critical eye trained by participation in almost a score—eighteen to be exact—events of this sort before, to see that nothing was out of place or order, and thus liable to mar or delay the carrying out of the law's command, VanNise set about to arrange the few details left for him to do.

In one end of the corridor set a drab colored box, a foot high and four feet long. From the depths of this box he took out the straps that were to pinion Clawson's hands and feet, the blackcap that was to shut out daylight forever, and the rope noose that was to be the effective means of jerking the boy murderer from this earth. The straps and black cap were folded up in a neat pile and laid aside, while the finishing touch to the noose was completed when a common bar of yellow soap was produced and the portion of the noose that tightens around the neck, greased so that it would slip easily when the trap was sprung.

At 9:40 the immense weight, weighing 400 pounds, was hauled into position seven feet above the surface of the floor by Van Hise and his assistants. This concluded the work of preparing the gallows for their deadly work.

The hour hand on the clock had scarcely passed the 10 o'clock mark when the Sheriff, Hangman Van Hise and his assistant, Thompson, accompanied by Deputies Barkalew and Totten, ascended the stairs leading to the cell that has been Clawson's abiding place since his incarceration. The cell door swung back and the Sheriff announced that they were ready for the execution. Clawson arose without a word and assumed a position that his hands might be pinioned, the noose put around his neck and the black cap adjusted on his head, the front lap being pulled back so as to allow him to see until just before the trap was to be sprung. These articles were the same as those used in the execution of Johnson a week ago.

Van Hise adjusted the noose himself while Thompson pinioned the hands. This took about three minutes, and was witnessed by Revs. Winner and DeHart, besides the officers mentioned before.

It was just about 10:04 when the witnesses below heard the tramp of feet, for then it was that the walk to death was started. Hangman VanHise took the lead, followed by the Sheriff, Clawson, on either side of which were Deputies Barkalew and Totten holding his arms, and the two ministers who had been offering consoling words to the condemned boy.

A moment later the party were seen coming down the stairs. Clawson walked with apparent effort, and seemed to be bearing up under a heavy load. The tread was a slow one.

The boy murderer never looked to the right or left as he entered, his eyes being listless and cast towards the floor. He was guided to the side of the projecting support of the gallows and took up his position under the dangling rope on the same spot that Johnson had a week ago.

Though it was plain to be seen that he was undergoing great mental anguish, and was on the point of collapse, he maintained a courageous attitude to outward appearances as Sheriff Wyckoff, with the folded death warrant, bearing a big red seal, walked in front of him and said in a quiet tone:

"Elmer Clawson have you anything to say?"

Glancing at the Sheriff he replied in broken syllables, some so quietly pronounced as to be almost indistinguishable to those a few feet away:

"I want to thank you and Mr. Amerman Steele and Meehan for all your kindness to me, and to my brothers and sisters and mother. I hope to meet you all in heaven."

The last sentence was spoken so that those only very near to him could understand it.

Hangman VanHise immediately pulled down the black cap and shut out the light of the world from Clawson's vision for the last time. Then he knelt and buckled the straps around his legs.

While this was being done the Sheriff grasped the boy's hand and shook it fervently, after which Dora Barkalew, the venerable old jailer, who has been Clawson's confident in many instances, and to whom he made several requests early this morning, grasped the hand through which the blood was coursing in throbs, and, after shaking it, held it until the trap was sprung.

By the time VanHise had got through strapping Clawson's legs the latter commenced to quiver and swoon as though he was about to fall. Deputy Totten caught hold of his arm and held him for the moment that it took VanHise to move from the spot where Clawson stood to the little rope that held the death dealing apparatus in abeyance.

At just 10:07:30 VanHise gave the rope a quick jerk and the ponderous mass of iron attached to the other end of the rope connecting with the noose dropped into the box of sand with a dull thud.

Clawson's body shot into the air for seven feet and then dropped back two feet as the rope drew taut. The murderer's body swung back and forth as a result of its sudden ascent, and then

COST OF LIQUOR TRAFFIC

MAJOR HILTON TOLD INTERESTING FACTS REGARDING IT.

He Gave a Lecture on the Subject at the First Baptist Church Last Evening Which Was Well Attended.

Two very successful meetings were held at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., and the members were very fortunate in having with them Major Hilton, the famous temperance orator. In the afternoon he gave a very instructive Bible reading to a large number of people and in the evening he delivered a highly profitable lecture. Mrs. Parse, president of the union, presided and introduced the speaker. There was an excellent attendance and the remarks of Major Hilton were thoroughly enjoyed. After the lecture a number of persons joined the union on the solicitation of Mr. Hilton. A portion of the speaker's remarks were as follows:

"I have not come tonight to deliver a temperance address. I have given up the subject. Opinions differ so widely that we are unable to understand a definition of the word. A man who appeared in court at one time said that he was a temperance man and yet he drank sixty glasses of beer a day.

"I want to speak to you regarding the legalized liquor traffic of this country. We are as a people grievously deceived in this matter. We have been trying recently to make ourselves believe that we are poor. We are not by any means poor. We are a great people, but not a good people. We are poor in wisdom. No people who spend $45 a second for liquor can be prosperous.

"We have a great deal of liberty in this country, and it often becomes in reality a license.

"We spend $75,000,000 more for beer than we do for education. Newark holds the honor of being the greatest consumer of beer in the United States. You can usually smell Newark before you reach it.

"In one sense, there is today a hopeful outlook for the temperance people. The liquor traffic holds the power, it has paralyzed everything. Legislators are under its influence, and the pulpit has not escaped, for the ministers are often afraid they may offend some of their members.

"The liquor traffic is proving to all that the wages of sin is death. Who are those behind the prison bars, filling our asylums? Are they not drawing the wages of sin?

"The men who engage in the liquor business are characterless. In New York state 90 per cent have been in State Prison.

"The liquor traffic demands all and gives nothing in return. It is easier to find evidence to hang a man than to convict a liquor dealer of violating the law, yet these are the men to the number of 250,000 who are sending souls to perdition.

"We are grumbling today over our heavy tax rate, and yet we increase it to support our courts and police departments. It costs the government about $5 for every one dollar they collect.

"When Americans drink they don't alone. Everything is provided for them in the saloon to attract. The finest free lunch is served free, but it is expensive in the end.

"There are twenty-seven trunk lines of railways in this country who will not employ a single man who touches liquor. This is encouraging.

"Many of the banks, insurance companies, etc., serve dinner in their buildings so that the clerks may keep away from saloons. It has cost these institutions thousands of dolars for this experience but we are glad to note this advancement.

"Our railroad company has prohibited its employees from playing cards or the use of tobacco in any shape, form or manner. This is also encouring.

"Over 150,000 children enter the saloons of Few York every day except Sunday. Last year 4,000 children were arrested in New York as drunkards In the United States last year 280,000 women were arrested as ruined and outcast. Its a marvel that so few women interested in women.

"What we need today is loyalty to principle and we must have it by all means."

The tandem race at the Decoration Day race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen will be something new for Plainfield audiences. Last year saw only one of those very exciting contests on the Crescent Wheelmen's track but that one found great favor with all who saw it. Some of the best tandem teams of the Metropolitan district have decided to ride in Plainfield on that occasion.

CECELIA CLUB CONCERT.

A DELIGHTFUL MUSICAL EVENT AT THE Y. M. C. A. HALL.

The Club Made An Excellent Impression on the Large and Enthusiastic Audience—A Cantata Was a Feature of the Affair.

The pretty little Y. M. C. A. hall presented an unusually charming appearance last night, at the opening of the concert given by the Cecilia Club, great bunches of lilacs in every available place giving a summery look to the room, a large and enthusiastic audience filling the seats, and the stage being occupied by the women of the club, in their dainty light gowns, with the skilled accompanist, Miss Jessie Utter, at the piano, and Edward J. Fitzhugh, so well known to Plainfield audiences, in the conductor's place.

The Cecilia Club, though comparatively a new musical association, is composed of over fifty of the musical women of the city, and has been doing excellent work during the past few months, under the skillful training of Mr. Fitzhugh. The programme for their concert, in which they were assisted by Mrs Frank J. Smith, an accomplished reader, was a very pleasing one, and the concert proved an unqualified success.

Two part songs by the Cecilia Club, "Now is the Month of Maying" and "To Daffodils," opened the program. Both were dainty and sweet, one with a bright joyousness, the other graver, but both showing the careful training of the club to great advantage. Mrs. Browning's "Rhyme of the Duchess May" was then recited by Mrs. Frank J. Smith, a pretty and charmingly dressed young woman, with a clear sweet voice, and a manner that was grace itself. The hearty applause that followed testified to the audience's appreciation of Mrs. Smith's rendering, and she returned to the stage to give a sprightly little piece entitled, "An Ibyl of the Present." A beautiful waltz-song, "The Woeing of the Rose," by the Cecilia Club, followed, and was much enjoyed, after which "The Same Old Story," a lively little love tale, was recited with much spirit by Mrs. Smith, who was encored as before. The Cecilia Club now gave two selections, "To Stay at Home is Best," by Tours, and Schubert's "Serenade," which latter was perhaps the most popular number of the evening. It was exquisitely sung, and the audience insisted on a repetition.

"Cupid's Alley" was Mrs. Smith's last number on the programme, and was a dainty little recitation with a musical accompaniment, which was played by her husband. It was greatly enjoyed, and when an encore was requested, Mrs. Smith gave another recitation with accompaniment, saying farewell with a low and very graceful bow.

A cantata, "King Rene's Daughter," by the Cecelia Club, closed the evening's entertainment. This cantata, which is by Smart, is a free adaptation from Henrik Hertz's drama, and its plot is as follows:

Iolanthe, daughter of King Rene, of Provence, has been betrothed in infancy. Stricken with blindness when but a year old, she has been reared with all knowledge of the faculty of sight withheld from her. A magician has promised to restore her sight, on condition that she is first informed of the missing sense, but the king has refused permission. Iolanthe's betrothed, wandering as a troubador, lights upon her abode, and without knowing her is enthralled by her beauty. He does not know she is blind, and his words reveal to her the faculty of which she had been kept in ignorance. He thus unwittingly aids the magician's art, and Iolanthe is restored to sight.

The part of Iolanthe was beautifully sung by Mrs. Frank T. Clawson, while other solo parts were taken by Miss Delphine Bowers, Mrs. H. E. Rider, Miss Bessie Blair and Miss Alice Carroll, all of whom sang with much taste and ability. The chorus parts were excellently rendered, and much praise was given to the club for their faithful study and pleasing singing, and to Mr Fitzhugh for the careful and thorough training which, in so short a time as the club has been practicing, had brought a chorus of so many voices into such perfect harmony and unity.

J. J. Kenney, of east Second street, has received his new '97 Hunter wheel.

A. D. Thompson, of Belvidere avenue, has purchased a new Keating wheel.

The Cleveland Cyclers held their regular Sunday afternoon run to New Brunswick last Sunday. Fifteen of the members turned out for the run.

Clement Morgan, of East Ninth street, has selected his mount for the coming season. He will ride a Hartford wheel. He is one of the most enthusiastic wheelmen in the city.

IMPORTANT LAW CASE

Decision In a Suit Concerning Very Valuable Land.

MINNESOTA CITIES ARE INVOLVED.

The Property Was Bought When the Sites Were In the Wilderness, but Now Are Parts of Great Towns.

Albany, May 12.—The New York state court of appeals has just decided a case of great importance not only to the litigants, in this state, but to Minneapolis and St. Paul people. The case decided was that of Hannah Niedlinger et al. versus Mayer A. Bernheimer et al., executors of Isaac Bernheimer, deceased, respondents, and Augusta Niedlinger et al., appellants, in which the latter tried to set aside a sale of land upon which the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis now stand to the respondents. The court refuses to do this, and the sale stands.

The story of the case runs back for 50 years. In 1855 the firm of Bernheimer Bros., New York merchants, consisting of three members; the firm of Arnold, Nusbaum & Niedlinger, merchants of Philadelphia, in which firm Jacob Niedlinger had a one-third interest, and one Mayer Arnold of Philadelphia entered into an agreement to purchase an immense tract of land in Minnesota, at that date a comparative wilderness. The cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis stand on a portion of this original purchase. In all divisions the profits were to be on a one-third basis.

In 1859 the parties resolved that on a portion of the land purchased they would lay out a town to be called Chicago City. In this enterprise Bernheimer Bros. were to have three-sevenths, Arnold, Nusbaum & Niedlinger the same and Mayer Arnold one-seventh.

Money Spent on the Property.

In pursuance of this plan large amounts of money were expended in the purchase of lands and the development of Chicago City. Bernheimer at all times controlled the enterprise, but the other parties furnished the money. The sum contributed by Isaac Niedlinger, with the interest to Dec. 31, 1888, amounted to $52,072, and a small portion of the land was sold to the St. Paul Improvement company for $48,000.

During the early years of the enterprise the various parties contributed large sums of money toward perfecting and placing it upon a paying basis. In June, 1887, Jacob Niedlinger sold his one-ninth interest in the Minnesota purchase to Isaac Bernheimer for $9,000. Niedlinger's death occurred the following August. One-half of this, or a one-eighteenth interest in the property, has been recovered by the heirs of Jacob Niedlinger.

The last suit was to set aside the sale of the one-ninth interest on the ground that the sale was made by the deceased without sufficient knowledge of the value or location of the lands, and that his position was taken advantage of by the purchaser, who was thoroughly aware of the great bargains he was securing.

Another significant feature of the controversy is that when the action was begun, in 1893, the property was far less valuable than now, and Bernheimer was willing to account to the heirs of Frederick Niedlinger for the gains of the property held in trust.

The decision of the referee on the first trial in this action was made in 1888. Since then the land has wonderfully increased in value, many of St. Paul's business blocks being erected upon it, and Bernheimer appealed, claiming to hold the land as his own. The court decides against Niedlinger and in favor of the heirs of Bernheimer.

Inheritance Law Tax.

Springfield, Ills., May 12.—The Illinois supreme court decided the inheritance tax law, passed by the state legislature two years ago, to be constitutional, reversing the decision of the lower court. The law provides for a graduated tax on all inheritances of a value of over $4,000, and a test case was made on the estate of the late John B. Drake, formerly proprietor of the old Grand Pacific hotel, who left property estimated at $2,000,000. The case will probably be carried to the federal supreme court.

Found Dead In His Berth.

Kingston, N. Y., May 12.—John Kleeman, a resident of this city, was found dead in his berth on the steamer James W. Baldwin, having taken passage from New York. He left here by the same boat Sunday night. He acted strangely and would not go to bed. He said he could not rest. He was found distributing money carelessly on the street, having been given $60 by his brother when he left home. He lost his wife recently and had sustained considerable trouble. He leaves six children.

Senators to Visit Jefferson's Home.

Washington, May 12.—The members of the senate are arranging an excursion to Monticello, Jefferson's old home, to take place Friday or Saturday next. The idea originated with Senator Hoar, who has seen a large number of the senators. He says most of them have expressed a desire to attend. They will be provided with a special train.

Meeting of Electricians.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 12.—The annual meeting of the General Electric company was held in this city. About 210,000 shares were represented either in person or by proxy. The old board of directors was re-elected. The board of directors will hold their next meeting the second Monday in June.

Burglars at Kingston.

Kingston, N. Y., May 12.—Burglars made a raid of considerable importance here. Several private dwellings were broken into in the upper part of the town. Valuable articles and heirlooms were stolen. No clew to the thieves has been discovered.

Work of the Fish Commission.

Saratoga, May 12.—Captain Thomas Pierce of the United States fish commission, Cape Vincent, placed in the waters of the upper Hudson river 400,000 salmon fry.

New National Bank Organized.

Washington, May 12.—Authority has been granted for the organization of the Merchants' National bank of Kittanning, Pa.; capital, $50,000.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

Baltimore, May 12.—John A. Coler of Glencoe, Pa., under sentence to serve 15 years in the Maryland penitentiary for forging Union Pacific bonds, made a desperate and probably successful attempt to commit suicide by jumping from an express train on the Baltimore and Ohio railway while the train was going at full speed.

Coler was sentenced in Cumberland, Md., and almost immediately after took poison in the jail, but was pumped out, and a deputy sheriff started to bring him to Baltimore. He was handcuffed to the deputy, but made an excuse to leave his seat, and upon returning struck his captor a terrific blow with his manacled hands and before he could be stopped sprang through a window.

He turned half a dozen somersaults as he fell. The train was stopped, and the conductor and deputy sheriff found him lying by the track unconscious. The physicians at Maryland General hospital say he sustained injuries which will probably prove fatal. He had previously served nine years in another state for forgery.

Crew of a Schooner Saved.

New York, May 12.—The schooner Thomas N. Stone of Boston, Captain Newcomb, left Philadelphia on April 26 for Kingston, Jamaica, laden with coal. At 6 p. m. on May 1 the vessel was found to be leaking badly. Pumps were started and all efforts made to locate and stop the leak, but to no avail. At 10 p. m. of the same day, with eight feet of water in the hold and gaining fast, Captain Newcomb and his crew of six men took to the boat. For four days they were adrift in the boat, but suffered no hardships. On May 5 the British bark Africa, Captain Davison, from Montevideo for New York, picked them up and brought them to this port.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

THE CUBAN QUESTION

Discussion In the Senate Became Very Spirited at Times.

ADMINISTRATIONS ARE COMPARED.

Senator Gallinger Introduces Various Amendments to the Tariff Bill Increasing the Rates on Certain Articles—Nominations Confirmed.

Washington, May 12.—The Cuban question occupied the entire attention of the senate, the debate taking a wide range and at times becoming spirited when comparisons were made between the attitude of the former administration and the present one on the subject of Cuba. Senators Morrill of Vermont and Caffery of Louisiana spoke in opposition to the resolution, Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Foraker of Ohio advocated deferring the question until further information could be secured from the state department, and Senators Mills of Texas and Allen of Nebraska urged the immediate passage of the resolutions.

The debate went over. Senator Kyle (Pop.) of South Dakota, rising to a question of privilege, disclaimed having sought committee places from Republican senators. A partial conference report on the Indian appropriation bill was agreed to.

Senator Warren introduced a bill granting land to the states west of the one hundredth meridian for normal school purposes. The bill grants 100,000 acres for each senator and member from the states affected by it.

Some Tariff Amendments.

Senator Gallinger introduced amendments to the amendments suggested by the senate committee on finance to the tariff bill increasing rates as follows:

Chloride of lime or bleaching powder from one-fourth to one-half cent per pound; dressed building stone from 50 to 60 per cent ad valorem; surface coated papers from 2½ cents per pound and 45 per cent ad valorem to 5 cents per pound; surface coated papers, printed, from 3 cents per pound and 20 per cent ad valorem to 5 cents per pound and 20 per cent ad valorem; Portland cement in packages from 8 to 12½ cents per 100 pounds and in bulk from 7 to 10 cents per 100 pounds.

In executive session the senate confirmed the following nominations:

Stanford Newel of Minnesota to be minister to The Netherlands; Edward G. Bradford, United States district judge of the district of Delaware; George Moulton, Jr., collector of customs of the district of Bath, Me.; Henry A. Castle of Minnesota, auditor for the postoffice department; Samuel B. Grubbs of New York, assistant surgeon in the marine hospital service.

Sundry Civil Bill Passed.

The consideration of the senate amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill was finished by the house and the bill sent to a conference. President Cleveland's forest reservation order was the subject of much debate, and the house voted not to concur in the senate amendment to annul the order, with the understanding that the conferees should arrange an amendment which would have the same effect.

The most interesting debate was on the appropriation of $50,000 to improve Pearl harbor, in the Hawaiian Islands, which was rejected by a vote of 85 to 53. Mr. Hitt of Illinois, past and prospective chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, earnestly urged the importance of taking steps to confirm the title of this government to the harbor in view of the senate proposal to abrogate the Hawaiian treaty.

He was supported by Messrs. Cummings of New York, Henry of Connecticut, Parker of New Jersey and Simpson of Kansas and opposed by Messrs. Cannon of Illinois, Sayers of Texas, Hilborn of California and Walker of Massachusetts.

The house decided to concur in the amendment which gives the president power to appoint the 12 mineral land commissioners, thus taking them out of the classified service, and the provisions for four new commissioners and four deputy marshals for Alaska and for continuing the investigation of the seal fisheries.

Cuban Correspondence Sent to Senate.

Washington, May 12.—The president has sent to the senate a report by the secretary of state containing the state department's translation of the letters written by General Gomez of the Cuban army to President Cleveland in February last and to President McKinley in March, appealing for the sympathy and support of this country. The letters are the same which were published six weeks or two months ago, differing only on account of the fact that the translations were evidently made by different persons.

In the same communication the secretary takes up the report that Cuban authorities have refused to permit the consul of the United States at Sagua La Grande to communicate with Consul General Lee at Havana by means of cipher dispatches.

GREECE SURRENDERS

Formally Accepts the Scheme of the Powers For Mediation.

TURKEY ASKED FOR AN ARMISTICE.

Constantine's Brave Talk to His Defeated and Crestfallen Soldiers—The Porte Denies the Rumors of a Holy War.

Athens, May 12.—The note of the powers has been presented by M. Onou to M. Skoloudis. The following is the text of the document:

"The representatives of France, Italy, Great Britain, Germany and Austria charge M. Onou, the representative of Russia and the doyen of the diplomatic corps, to declare in the name of their respective governments that the powers are ready to offer mediation with the view to obtain an armistice and smooth the difficulties actually existing between Greece and Turkey on condition that the Hellenic government declares it will proceed to recall its troops from Crete, adhere formally to autonomy for Crete and accept unreservedly the counsels which the powers give in the interests of peace."

The reply of the Greek government was as follows:

"The royal government, in taking the note and declaration of the Russian representative, acting in the name of the ministers of the powers, declares it will proceed to recall the royal troops from Crete, adheres formally to autonomy for Crete and confides the interests of Greece to the hands of the powers."

So soon as the reply of Greece to the note of the powers was handed to the representatives of the powers the latter telegraphed the Greek decision to the representatives of the powers at Constantinople, with the request that they obtain an armistice, with the view of arranging for permanent peace.

There is a sense of relief in Athens at the prospect of an immediate end to the calamitous war. There is no excitement, and no popular demonstration is anticipated.

Constantine's Brave Talk.

Crown Prince Constantine issued the following address to the troops at Domokos:

"Soldiers—The Greek army retired to Domokos because our positions at Pharsala were not strong enough against an enemy greatly superior in numbers, but the positions you occupy here are so strong that our army may be considered invincible. I am confident you will be able not only to repulse with success every attack of the enemy, but you will shortly be able to take the offensive and compel him to abandon Greek territory.

"Remember, you defend the sacred soil of the fatherland and the honor of the king and nation. The enemy must not be allowed to make a farther step into Greece. I know you have suffered and are still suffering many privations after having been obliged to fight so many days, but we must endure these privations patiently, confident that we are doing our duty to our fatherland.

"CONSTANTINE."

The Greek commissariat has collapsed. The only rations now received by the soldiers are bread and cheese. Not even coffee is procurable.

Outrages Committed by Turks.

London, May 12.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says:

"M. Ralli, the premier, has shown me dispatches and reports from Colonel Manos and various civil authorities in Epirus showing that 14 villages between Toulour and Kastrosykia have been burned by the Turks after all the women and children had been massacred except a few who hid in the fastnesses of Mount Zalongas, famous during the war of independence, and a few more who concealed themselves in the marshes along the shore and finally managed to get on board the Greek ships, half dead from hunger and fear.

"Not a stone of the village of Kamarina is left standing. The men fought like lions in defense of the women, who sought refuge in the woods and caves of Mount Zalongos, and when chased by the Turks jumped from precipices to avoid capture and dishonor."

Turkey's Terrible Warning.

Arta, May 12.—It is reported that the Turks have severed the arms and legs of all the Greeks found in a village on the plain of Louros and left the mutilated bodies by the roadside to terrorize the population.

The Greek western squadron has bombarded the village of Sykia, on the coast of Epirus, between Nicopolis and Ella, where the Turkish provision depots are located.

Porte Denies Holy War Rumor.

SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

Gov. Griggs has issued a proclamation calling a special session of the Legislature for May 25th. In the bill which provides for the special election to be held to vote on the proposed constitutional amendments the lottery amendment to paragraph 2, section 7 of article IX., has a typographical error. The amendments state among matters: "Nor shall any gambling device, practice or game of chance now prohibited by law be legalized." In the bill "prohibited" reads "provided." At the Governor's office it was said that the Legislature would be in session only two hours, and will at once make the necessary technical changes. There are others, however, who think many members will take advantage of the opportunity to force some of their pet measures from the hands of the committees and make deals that will be conducive to better indorsement of measures that are waiting for the Governor's signature.

STONE CARTERS IN TROUBLE.

John C. Cooper and Jacob Reinnmann, of Warrenville, Had a Fierce Encounter.

John C. Cooper and Jacob Riennmann are both residents of Warrenville, and until recently they were in partnership in the stone carting business for the township. Last Saturday the two men were carting stone as usual, when a dispute arose between the two regarding the selection of a certain place which was being used to dump the stone. At the time Riennmann was riding on the wagon with Cooper, and the war of words became so fierce that a fistic encounter followed. The former attempted to get off of the wagon and fell down behind the horses. For a few minutes he was fast, and while he was trying to extricate himself Cooper took advantage of his position and struck his opponent several times in the face. As soon as Riennmann could make his way out he pulled Cooper off of the wagon and began to strike him. This made Cooper angry and he secured a club and pounded his antagonist into insensibility. This frightened him somewhat and he made his escape, leaving his partner in the road. Later some friends of the injured man happened along and took him to his home. His face was covered with blood, and he seemed to be injured otherwise.

As quickly as possible a warrant was issued by Justice Austin for the arrest of Cooper, but the latter has not been seen, and the officers of the law have been unable to find him. Riennmann is confined to his home and will not be able to work for some time.

A union meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. and the Junior Christian Endeavor was held in the chapel last Sunday evening. The service was in charge of Miss Etta Lee, Junior Superintendent. During the exercises a soprano solo, entitled "There is a Green Hill Far Away," was rendered by Miss Grace Lambert. A beautiful acrostic, representing "Love," was presented by four Juniors. The subject of the meeting was "Why I love Jesus," and the leader made a few remarks appropriate to the text. The service was in every way a most interesting one.

SURVIVORS LANDED.

A Schooner Saves Thirty-two Men From a Wrecked Bark.

St. Johns, N. F., May 12.—The French fishing schooner St. Clair arrived at St. Pierre, bringing 32 men, comprising the crew of the French bark St. Jean, Captain Miliard, from Focamp, which collided on the Grand banks on May 6 with the Norwegian bark Loining, a vessel of 1,800 tons, during a dense fog.

The St. Jean leaked so badly that the crew took to the dories, and the vessel sank four hours after. The St. Clair picked the crew up the next morning.

The Norwegian vessel was even more damaged than the St. Jean, and it is feared that she sank shortly after the accident. It is not known whether the crew escaped. She drifted away in the fog, and when the weather cleared the next morning neither the vessel nor any of her boats could be sighted.

PENSION FRAUDS.

Imprisoned For Impersonating a Special Examiner of the Bureau.

Washington, May 12.—The pension bureau has been notified that James H. Ferguson, an alleged imposter, impersonating a special examiner of the bureau, pleaded guilty at Portsmouth, N. H., of violating the act of April 18, 1884, and was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment in the penitentiary. The action is a source of much congratulation to the pension authorities.

Ferguson is alleged to have operated in the states of Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, pretending to appoint agents or inspectors at a salary of $60 per month and expenses, first obtaining $10 dollars from each dupe on the plea that it was security for handcuffs and revolver.

Indians Present Large Claims.

Providence, May 12.—The Narragansett tribe of Indians, which is engaged in pressing its claim for $14,000,000 against the state of Rhode Island, filed its question of rights with the clerk of the judiciary committee of the senate, and the document will at once be submitted to the supreme court. The Indians dispute the authority of the state to pass laws taking the property of the Indians and validating all titles to land that had been purchased by private individuals from the last King Ninegret. The case is an important one as it involves the titles to the bulk of the property in the southern part of the state.

TO MEET IN A TENT.

AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS PLAN FOR THEIR SUMMER CAMPAIGN.

Mrs. Booth, Wife of Commander Ballington Booth, Will Speak in Grace P. E. Church Next Monday Night.

A meeting of the Defenders and others interested in the work of the American Volunteers was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. building. On account of the cloudy evening, with every chance for rain, and a concert, besides other attractions, the room was not entirely filled. The first question discussed was how to make the meeting at Grace P. E. church, next Monday evening, to be addressed by Mrs. Booth, a success. It was urged that each Defender make an effort to bring some one to the meeting who will become actively interested in this work. Other arrangements were also decided upon to ensure the success of Mrs. Booth's meeting. The next subject brought up was about a tent for the meetings in various parts of the city and also the locations of it. What is desired especially is to secure a good location for a tent about 40 by 60 feet. It was proposed that the tent be located in one place for a month or so and then moved to another location where it would remain for the same length of time. In four months it would be around to the same place from which it started originally. This plan was urged as it would bring the Volunteers in contact with the people of the various localities of the city. Committees were appointed to see about securing a tent and another one in connection with a location. Captain and Mrs. Fisher, the officers in charge of the local post, were present. They spoke of the usefulness of a tent and also of the price one, such as needed in this city, would cost. The question of securing a regular subscription each month from those interested was fully considered. It should be remembered that the expense of running the organization in this city was considerable, all of which must be secured by collections at the evening meetings. It is hoped to form a Rent League; that is, a person subscribes 50 cents or less, or more for that matter, a month, for which a collector will be sent and a receipt given. Any one who wishes to join this Rent League can do so by addressing Captain Fisher, Central avenue and Second street. A few other plans were considered.

In five weeks the Captain and his wife have made about sixty visits to homes of almost as many families. This shows only part of the work to be done by these people in this city. This work can only be extended if earnest and substantial support can be given.

It is hoped to call another meeting of Defenders and friends, ere long, at which plans for organizing the members so that they can do a little with the Volunteers will be decided upon. At about 9:30 o'clock the meeting came to a close.

Lightning Struck the Cable Four Times.

The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company suffered considerably by Monday's storm. A number of telephones were burned out and the new cable which is being strung along North and Park avenues was struck in four places. A great rent was torn in it by lightning at the corner of North and Park avenues when one of the linemen was working near it.

The engagement of Miss Maggie Grant, of this city, to Walter Smith, of New Rochelle, L. I., is announced.

Miss Elizabeth Rice, of Somerville, was the guest of Miss Nellie Hickey, of Plainfield avenue, for over Sunday.

The many friends of Leonard Golding, formerly of Plainfield, now a resident of Brooklyn, will be pleased to learn that he has recently led one of Brooklyn's fairest daughters to the hymenial altar.

—A meeting of the Christian Missionary Alliance will be held Thursday evening, at the W. C. T. U. rooms. All are invited.

—Leggett's soda was in great demand last evening after the concert by the Cecilia Club. It kept four clerk's busy to wait on the large number of thirsty people.

—Mrs. L. B. Bonnell, of the Woman's Prayer-meeting of the Broad-Tabernacle, New York, will speak this evening at the service to be held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held in the M. E. church this evening.

William Shivley has returned from a visit with his friend, Sylvester Vleit, at Elizabeth.

The carpenters, masons and painters are thoroughly overhauling the Craig homestead on Front street.

A force of men are at work papering and decorating the interior of Willard Apgar's house on Lincoln avenue.

Miss Minnie Laible, of Somerville, has returned home from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Laible.

W. H. Carman seems never content without he is getting something new. His latest purchase is a new horse for his delivery wagon.

W. J. Winges, of Front street, was slightly shocked by touching a live electric light wire after the shower Monday afternoon.

A. Anderson & Co's brick works near here may shut down during the summer months. But few brick are now being made and shipped.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randolph and son, Irving, have returned to their home in Newark, after a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Randolph.

Paul Reusch has placed a bicycle stand in front of his bakery, and it's well patronized by bicyclists who stop to quench their thirst at his soda fountain.

The election of trustees for the Presbyterian church took place on Monday evening. Alvah Gray's term having expired, and he refusing to serve longer, his place on the board was filled by the election of Mr. Bogardus.

W. H. Coles counted up his loss by robbery yesterday, and the three times the burglars got just $2.25. The first time they got 50 cents; the second, 75 cents, and the last time $1.00, hardly enough to pay for the dangerous work.

Two of the cells in the borough lockup were occupied by a couple of drunken umbrella menders last night. During the afternoon Marshal Whyhusky found one asleep along the railroad track and he gathered him in. Constable Warden caught the other fellow who seemed very glad of getting a place to sleep. The novelty of a double arrest in Dunellen spread like wild fire, and about fifty boys surrounded the lockup trying to get a peep at the prisoners.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Frank Allen is recovering from an attack of quinsy sore throat.

The Township Committee is having the sidewalks on Westfield avenue fixed up and repaired.

George Thatcher and wife piloted a party of friends to the Plains, yesterday afternoon, and spent the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Emery.

The carpenters and masons are getting along nicely with W. H. Turton's annex to his store. Two weeks more time, it is believed, and the annex will be ready for occupancy.

The heavy thunder shower which passed over the town Monday afternoon, did not do any particular damage right here in town, but the mountain roads were badly washed out and in some places the washouts were exceedingly dangerous.

Conrad Peltz, who was so seriously injured by the John Cook explosion several months ago, and was a patient in Muhlenberg Hospital, and was thought to be cured when he was released from that institution, is not yet cured by any means. The burns and cuts to his left arm seem to have broken out anew and his injuries are about as serious as at first.

Louie Morell's horse and wagon was carting a load of furniture for Ernest Wilson, of Park avenue, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the horse became frightened and ran a short distance. The furniture, which had not been properly packed on the wagon, was thrown out in a promiscuous heap, but very fortunately none of it was much broken.

REPAIRING THE STREETS

THE STREET COMMISSIONER'S MEN WORKING ON CENTRAL AVENUE.

That Thoroughfare is to be Improved from Randolph Road to West Front Street—The Method of Repairing Roads.

There has been lots of work for the street department of Plainfield to do this spring and the entire gang of men from that department has been kept busily at work. Front street, from Watchung avenue to Grove street, is now in excellent condition. Now Street Commissioner Gavett has turned his attention toward Central avenue and a large gang of men and the steam rolier have been busy there for several days.

The work in that part of the city was started on Central avenue and Randolph road and the repair of the road was continued down Central avenue to Seventh street. Central avenue below Seventh street is greatly in need of repair, and the work is to be continued to Front street. The method of repairing the road is similar to that used on West Front street, the large stone being rolled in with sand and then a layer of fine stone put over the rest. Of course, it puts an end to most of the wheeling in that thoroughfare for several weeks but, as soon as the road becomes completely cemented together, its surface will be fine for cycling or driving.

While the major-part of the force of men under Street Commissioner Gavett are now working on Central avenue, there are several small gangs of men working about the streets of the city. A number of rough spots on Watchung avenue, East Fifth street, East Seventh street and LaGrande avenue have been repaired by the use of crushed stone and sand. Many of the unmacadamized streets have been made much smoother by the use of the scraper. Such improvement is but temporary, however.

St. Paul's Journey on a Blackboard.

The meeting of the Plainfield Primary Teachers' Union, held Monday afternoon, was a most profitable and instructive one. Mrs. Smalley conducted the devotional exercises and the lesson, "Paul Preaching to the Gentiles," was taught by Rev. L. E. Livermore. In beginning the lesson Mr. Livermore said that a blackboard sketch was just as good as a map in placing the locations of different cities in the minds of the children. He told the story of an infidel who said that "God was no Where," and his little daughter arranged the same words so that they read "God is Now Here." This the speaker said was the means of the infidel being converted. He gave the members present a very clear idea of St. Paul's journey by a rough sketch on the blackboard and suggested ways whereby the teachers might interest the children.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

The dancing began at 9:30 and continued until 12 o'clock, when supper was served. After supper the strains of the music were again heard, partners were chosen, and the guests whirled in the dance until 3 o'clock. The success of the affair was due largely to the efforts of the entertainment committee, Dr. F. A. Kinch, J. W. Sherman and R. I. Townley, and the floor committee, R. I. Townley and R. I. Carberry. The music was furnished by Westervelt, of New York city.

Georgia Savings Bank Reorganized.

Atlanta, May 12.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Georgia Loan Savings bank, of which institution the cashier, H. A. Cassin, was recently found to be short $45,000, a new board of directors was elected. It was decided to resist the application for a receiver, as the report of the committee of stockholders, which has been investigating the assets, showed that the bank has ample funds to pay all creditors. A statement from ex-Cashier Cassin was read at the meeting. He denied that he had been guilty of any criminality.

Meeting of Engineers.

Boston, May 12.—The American Order of Stationary Engineers met in annual session here with 40 delegates, representing the principal branches in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylania, Delaware, Maryland, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Indiana and Massachusetts. Supreme Chief James Lightfoot presided. The early business included reports from Supreme Chief Lightfoot, Supreme Secretary Franklin T. Moore and Supreme Treasurer George Richardson. There are at present 2,500 members, and the finances are in a sound condition.

England May Buy Wagons Here.

New York, May 12.—There is no truth in the report published that the British government had ordered 20,000 transport mule wagons from a Cortland (N. Y.) firm for use in South Africa. The facts of the case are that a Cortland wagon company received a cablegram from the British government merely asking for samples of various wagons, which will be shipped at once. If these are satisfactory, a large order will probably be received for wagons for government use in India.

Part of the Cargo May Be Saved.

Beach Haven, N. J., May 12.—Captain F. R. Sharp, foreman of the Merritt & Chapman Derrick and Wrecking company, and Captain A. Doane, the representative of the owners of the burned ship Francis, visited the wreck. Captain Sharp stated that the cargo between decks is a total loss, but he believes, with the aid of divers, the cargo below can be saved. Large quantities of California cider have washed out and come ashore.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

The favorable result of the recent test in this city of the value of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills as a remedy for diseases of the kidneys and kindred ailments has caused sufferers residing here and in adjoining towns to send for samples and go to the drug stores for full boxes. The pills seem to be in general demand.

Letters from recovering and cured patients are coming in daily. Physicians are astounded at the rapid improvement in cases they have treated with the pills.

A physician, who had little idea that his words would ever appear in print, was recently overheard to say: "I have never in my life had faith in anything advertised as a medicine until recently, but I must confess that I really do believe that Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are a remedy of great worth. I procured some of these pills and used them in my practice. Several of my patients have been taking them, and have experienced a great change for the better."

CUBANS VICTORIOUS.

Jail Attacked In Havana Province and Prisoners Liberated.

A BATTLE NEAR PINAR DEL RIO.

The Spanish Cavalry Are Attacked by the Insurgents and After a Severe Engagement Escape With a Heavy Loss. General Weyler's Close Call.

Havana, May 12.—A raid was made on Casqua, in Havana province, on Friday, and the jail was broken open. Fifteen prisoners who had been kept there a long while were liberated. There were seven women and eight men. Among the men were two insurgent officers who had been sentenced to be shot on Saturday.

At the jail the insurgents found a little boy aged 7 years who had been imprisoned over six months in the vile place simply because he had worn a Cuban flag on his shirt waist one day. The boy was emaciated and could hardly stand when taken out.

A letter has been received here from General Ducassa. He reports that on the outskirts of Pinar del Rio City he encountered a large force of Spanish cavalry, and a running fight of several hours' duration ensued. The Spanish force retreated toward the forts. A part of Ducassa's force got between them and the forts, and a most determined fight followed. The Spanish cavalry charged again and again upon the insurgents, but they were well posted, and the Spanish could not make any headway. The Spanish were cooped up in a depression between hills and were exposed to a most galling fire from the insurgents.

Spaniards Sent to the Rescue.

The firing attracted the attention of Pinar del Rio city, and 500 Spanish were sent to the rescue. These attacked the smallest band of insurgents and opened a way for the imperiled Spanish to escape. Notwithstanding the Spanish forces greatly outnumbered the Cubans, they did not offer to renew the fight, but retreated in hot haste. It is said that their loss was 100 or more. Large quantites of arms and 65 dead bodies were found on the field.

General Weyler is reported to have had a narrow escape in the western part of the island recently. When leaving San Juan with a smaller escort than usual, a Cuban squadron of cavalry attacked them, and nothing but fleet horses saved them. It is said that Weyler had a half hour's ride for life, and that he was very much chagrined at this incident after his reports of pacification in that part of the island.

Insurgents Growing In Numbers.

Washington, May 12.—The state department is in receipt of a report from Consul General Lee, dated the latter part of April, in which he deals with the general situation in Cuba and presents all the facts at his command without making any recommendations as to the policy to be pursued by this government. In this report General Lee states that the insurgents are not decreasing in numbers, but that, according to the most trustworthy information at hand and to all appearances, there are more of them now than when he went to the island.

He explains the apparent want of organization by the statement that it is against the Cuban policy to conduct the war after the accepted modern ideas on this point.

The Cubans believe they can be most effective by pursuing their present method. General Lee also dwells upon the condition of affairs in the island.

Defective Work on the Canal.

Lockport, N. Y., May 12.—An examination of the recently constructed and defective sluiceway by a professional diver engaged by E. H. Bennett, the contractor, shows that the huge timbers have been sprung so badly as to render them useless and that 78 feet of the sluiceway will have to be removed in order to permit the use of both sets of locks. The diver at 1 o'clock began the work of sawing the immense timbers under water. As matters now stand, preparatory work on the new lift locks will be delayed until navigation closes.

Distillery Sold.

Chicago, May 12.—In accordance with the orders of the court, Receiver John McNulta of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company has sold the Calumet distillery, part of the assets of the old Whiskey trust. The price paid for the plant is $250,000, for which sum it was knocked down to Levy Mayer, who represents as attorney the reorganization of the trust. The only other bidder was Attorney A. A. Canavan, who represented several brewing interests in the city.

Damages For Loss of Both Legs.

St. Paul, May 12.—The conclusion of a remarkable suit for damages has been reached and a verdict given in favor of James M. Fonda against the Twin City Rapid Transit company for $17,640. Nearly two years ago Fonda lost both legs by being run down by a street car at Seven Corners in this city. He brought suit for $25,000. The case came on for trial a few days ago, and this big verdict against the street railway company resulted.

Fire Underwriters Meet.

Louisville, May 12.—The executive committee of the Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Fire Underwriters and the governing committee of Western Insurance union are in conference at the Galt House trying to settle the disagreement brought about by the executive committee deposing Secretary Ashbrook in favor of Frank G. Snyder.

Murderer at Bay.

Milwaukee, May 12.—Richard Asby, a farmer of the town of Franksville, Racine county, reached Racine and reported that Puch, the triple murderer, was at bay near Franksville, surrounded by a cordon of citizens. The sheriff and deputies have gone to the scene.

Shipping Merchants Fail.

San Francisco, May 12.—Williams Brown & Co., wholesale shipping and commission merchants, have failed. The liabilities are said to be $600,000.

Child Killed by a Horse.

Tannersville, N. Y., May 12.—Harry Hunt, a child aged 5 years, was kicked to death by a horse at this place.

CLAWSON'S EXECUTION.

VanHise caught hold of the pinioned legs and brought the body to a standstill, where for nearly a minute it remained motionless.

Then the hands commenced to clutch and grasp and the legs convulse a trifle. The convulsions of the hands and feet continued intermittingly for about four minutes, during which a slight gurgling sound could be heard coming from the throat. After that the suspended body hung there without a sign of agitation or the sickening throes of a healthy system fighting against the inevitable.

After six minutes had elapsed VanHise lowered the body to within six inches of the floor while the assembled physicians made observations of the effect on the heart and pulse. The physicians were Drs. Taylor, McWilliams, Cooper and Swinton.

In just eight minutes after the trap had been sprung they pronounced him dead. Some of the doctors wanted VanHise to take the body down then, but he refused to do so, as, he told The Press representative, he had never known an executed murder's body being taken down in that short space of time, and there ought to be no chance of life reviving.

At 10:27 a plain hardwood casket was brought out of one of the cells and set down under the gallows. Deputy Totten buttoned up the coat worn by the dead and the body was placed in the casket, after which the jurors and the reporters were dismissed.

After the jurors had been dismissed the doctors were permitted to make a further examination of the dead man's body, but they were unable to determine whether or not the neck was broken. Hangman Van Hise told the writer, however, that he thought it was

After the examination had been made the physicians and other witnesses, who were permitted to remain, made their exit and a few minutes later the undertaker came and took charge of the body.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a short funeral service was held in the jail building, conducted by Revs. Winner and De Hart.

The remains will be interred at Fox Hill, Hunterdon county.

Clawson's last hours were spent in receiving visitors and hearing words of consolation from his spiritual advisers, Rev. J. O. Winner, of Somerville, and Rev. John DeHart, of Neschanic.

He went to bed at 9 o'clock in an apparently composed state of mind and soon fell asleep. Firman Lowry and Charles Hetfield, the guards who were on duty last night, noticed that he awake at 3 o'clock, but he went to sleep again for some time, and arose at 5 o'clock this morning. He ate a light breakfast of strawberries and cake and drank a glass of milk.

At 8 o'clock Sheriff Wyckoff performed the unpleasant duty of reading the death warrant to him.

After this Dora Barkalew had a talk with Clawson, during which the latter requested that the bicycle and sweater which he rode and wore at the time he killed Hodgetts, and which has since been in the possession of the court officers, be given to his brother Charles, who works for Gilbert Hoffman, near Somerville.

At 9:30 o'clock Revs. Winner and DeHart went to the cell to spend the last hour with Clawson. During this time the former read the Scripture and the latter offered prayer.

Rev. Mr. Winner told the writer after the execution that Clawson was a thoroughly changed boy from the time he was first committed to the jail. He said that it was about ten days ago that Clawson first showed signs of a change in his attitute towards things of a religious nature Just before the death walk was commenced Clawson said that he was ready to meet his God now that he had confessed his sins, and he was ready to give his life in atonement for the one he had taken. He believed that God had used his offense for his own benefit.

During the time the execution was in progress there were about 1,000 people congregated in the court house yard and along the side of the jail where the death chamber was located. Through the open windows a few saw the body shoot up after the trap had been sprung, and many heard the noise of the falling weight.

George Clawson, an older brother of the condemned man, was among the crowd outside of the jail, but he was watched by two officers who had instructions to arrest him if he made an outbreak, as he threatened a few days ago.

CLAWSON'S CRIME.

Killing of Harry Hodgett Was Peculiarly Brutal and Inexcusable.

Clawson's crime was peculiarly brutal and inexcusable and the only hope ever had of a commutation of his sentence lay by his possible moral irresponsibility at the end of his first trial last September, when the verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was brought in by the jury, so great was the doubt on this point that many influential persons seriously thought of making a plea for mercy in his behalf before the Court of Pardons, but certain things that developed after the trial convinced them that the verdict was just and they made no recommendation to the Court of Pardons.

The case of Clawson and the sentiment of the people of Somerset county toward him are interesting. Clawson was a boy of twenty of a type frequently found in the inland counties of New Jersey. He has had practically no upbringing. Three months was sufficient for all his educational needs, and since he was ten years old he had supported himself, chiefly by doing work about the neighborhood. He not only managed to exist by doing this, but he saved up money to buy a bicycle.

Among the farmers who employed him at times was Harry Hodgett, a young Englishman, who several years ago bought a little farm in Pluckamin township in Somerset county. Last spring Hodgett had his wife and three small daughters come from England to rejoin him He was well liked and respected. On August 29th last Clawson took his bicycle and rode over to Hodgett's farm to get work. Hodgett told him he had none. Then Clawson asked him how mauy cows he milked each morning. Hodgett said he milked four. Then Clawson, without any more words, drew a revolver, and, in the presence of Hodgett's wife and children, shot the young Englishman four times. Hodgett fell dead. Clawson jumped on his wheel and rode away, but was caught later in the day by a posse of farmers.

Absolutely no motive for the crime was ever found. The murderer's history revealed no characteristics that would tend to the belief that he would do such a deed. The sentiment of the community was against him, but it is possible that if certain other circumstances had not arisen he would have had its support in an appeal for mercy.

Since 1787 there has not been an execution in Somerset county. There have been murders, but in no other case except one had the evidence led to a sence of death. The execution is the case of Johnson, who was hanged on May 5 for the murder of a woman named Annie Rogers in 1895. He was convicted upon circumstantial evidence, but it was of such a nature that when the appeal was carried to the Supreme Court that body unanimously affirmed the sentence.

When the verdict against Clawson was brought in there was considerable sympathy for him. He was young, and his moral responsibility had not been fully established. His counsel, who had been assigned to his case by Judge Magie, did everything in order that when they went to the Court of Pardons they might take with them a substantial petition for mercy from the county people.

The case was taken to the Court of Errors, March 1st, but a failure was made to get a new trial. Then the case was taken to the Court of Pardons. This was a few weeks ago, and there had happened in that time certain things that had banished any sympathy that might have existed for the man. In the first place certain few things had developed in his case that made it look blacker, and he had made an attempt to kill one of his jailers. Moreover, there had swept over Somerset county a wave of crime Since the first of the year there have been two murders and two attempted murders there.

These crimes made the people think that heroic measures must be taken, and a sentiment against Clawson set in very strongly. The belief that he was justly sentenced became universal, and the desire to have him pay the full penalty of his crime became stronger and stronger. When the case reached the Court of Pardons there were no petitioners for mercy except Clawson's counsel, and on the other hand a great deal of wild talk was indulged in as to what would be done if his sentence should be commuted to life imprisonment. The Court of Pardons refused to grant the petition, it is said on good authority, unanimously. March 29th he was sentenced to be hung by Judge Magie.

AN EXECUTION IN 1779.

For Over a Century No One Had Been Hung in Somerset County.

The date of the last execution, previous to that of Johnson's, last week, in Somerset county, is not definitely known, but was probably in the early part of the year 1786. The only authentic records of executions are to be found in the minutes of the Board of Freeholders, from which is quoted all that refers in any manner to such events. At a meeting held December 3d, 1779, it was "agreed that the sum of 224 pounds, 14 shillings, be paid unto Peter Dumont, late Sheriff of said county, for executing the sentence of death on a negro convicted of murder, and for sundry expenses attending the same, and for sundry other expenses conveying prisoners from Yorktown to Somerset."

Again, at a meeting held Jan. 14, 1782, we find "an account was also produced by the said Sheriff" (Peter D. Vroom) "for an additional allowance for making a coffin and gallows for negro, Toby, for which one dollar and a half, State money, had been allowed, and was not enough. Ordered paid."

The last reference is as follows: "At the annual meeting of the Justices and Chosen Freeholders, for the county of Somerset, held the 10th day of May, 1786, at the Court House for said county, John Harlenburgh, Esq., Sh'ff of Somerset, presented an account for guards, ammunition, etc., at the time of Samuel MacDonald's imprisonment, and others charged with the murder of John Connet, amounting to 136 pounds, 7 shillings."

"John Hardenberg presented two other accounts for execution fees, etc., of Samuel McDonald, amounting to 8 pounds, 9 shillings; the other for the State's Attorney and Clerk's fees at the same trial, amounting to 11 pounds, 1 shilling, 2 pence, both of which sums are allowed."

The court records in the County Clerk's office show that at the October term, 1788, Dine Sam. the elder and Sam. the younger (negro slaves) were indicted for arson, pleaded guilty, and were sentenced to be hanged—the two first named on October 17th and the latter on November 14th. There is no record that their executions ever took place, but tradition indicates that some, at least, of the condemned suffered the death penalty.

COUNTRY CLUB ELECTS.

The Annual Meeting Held and But Little Business Transacted.

The annual meeting of the Union County Country Club was held at the club house, last evening. The polls for the election of the members of the Board of Governors were open from 8 until 10 o'clock, but there was little excitement, as there was but one ticket in the field.

There were twelve members of the Board of Governors, six of which are elected every year. Those elected last evening were H. G. Runkle, E. H. Booth, C. F. Abbott, C. E. Brooks, A. F. H. Streuli and O. G. Waring.

Printed copies of the treasurer's report showed that the club had been run during the last year with less loss than in previous years.

It was decided by a vote of 27 to 12 to continue the regulations at the club-house.

J. F. HUBBARD DIRECTOR

A PLAINFIELDER AGAIN CHOSEN TO PRESIDE OVER FREEHOLDERS.

County Collector Wood Explains That the Finances of the County are in Excellent Shape—Other Business Transacted.

There are no new members in the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county, which organized for the new year at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. All members were present, excepting Freeholder Hulskamper. Freeholders Ehrlich and Farrell, of Rahway, who were recently re-elected were resworn, immediately upon the assembly of the Board. J. Frank Hubbard was re-elected Director by a unanimous vote, and he was escorted to the chair by Freeholders Clark and Roll.

Director Hubbard briefly thanked his associates for the renewed expression of confidence.

He said he appreciated the honor fully, and that he would endeavor to do all in his power to assist them in the conduct of the business for the year, feeling assured of the co-operation which he had had in the past.

The salary of the County Collector was fixed at $1,500 per annum, and E. M. Wood was re-elected for a term of three years. The election was unanimous, Clerk Ryno casting the ballot on motion of Freeholder Clark.

Mr. Wood expressed his gratitude for the renewed mark of esteem. He said it was the sixth time he had received the honor, and it was gratifying to him to know that he had the esteem and confidence of his associates. He was first elected collector in 1887, and he said that the disbursements that year aggregated $380,000. This past year the disbursements were $450,000, an increase of $70,000 in ten years, or an average of $7,000 per year, but as against this increase there has been an increase of the amount for state school fund, over which the board has no control. This increase is to cover $4,000 per year, so that the actual increase for current expenses has been only $2,000. This was a matter for which the public should be grateful to the freeholders.

In addition to this, Mr. Wood said that a fact existed at the close of the year that never before existed in the history of the county. There was standing to the credit of each committee a balance. In all previous years it had been necessary to transfer from one account to another, but no such action was necessary this year, and it was proof of the extremely careful and economical administration of county affairs for the year.

The salary of the county road inspector was fixed at $60 per month, and Inspector James Finck was reappointed.

A resolution by Freeholder Littell designated the newspapers to publish the official minutes as follows:

Elizabeth—Daily Journal, Daily Leader, Freie Press, and Contractor and Gazette.

Plainfield—Courier-News and Daily Press.

Rahway—Advocate and Union-Democrat.

Summit—Record and Herald.

Westfield—Standard and Leader.

The standing committees were all reappointed by Director Hubbard, and a special committee comprising Freeholders Tier, Ogden, Robinson, Roll and Clark, was appointed to report on the cost and advisability of building two line bridges over Green brook in Plainfield.

County Physician Westcott submitted his annual report, showing that he had given certificates of death in 105 cases. The number of cases of death from natural causes were 42, and as the result of accident, as follows:

Railroads, 30; other casualties, 7; drowning, 6; burning, 3; heat, 2. Five of the fatal accidents were to people unknown.

Culvert Being Put In.

A much needed improvement has been made at the corner of Park avenue and West Eighth street by the placing of an iron culvert over Eighth street at that point. There used to be a deep ditch at that point which was quite dangerous to carriages and wheels that crossed it at any rate of speed. Similar culverts are to be placed across East and West Second street at the intersection of that thoroughfare with Park avenue.

Crops in Good Condition.

Weather Observer Neagle has the following report in the weekly bulletin of the New Jersey Weather Service this week:

The crops are in a better condition than they were last week, but much warmer weather is needed. Grass and grain have taken a new start; plowing for corn is progressing; frost was very perceptible on young clover on the 8th; trees in bloom give promise of an abundance of fruit. 57 degrees, 0.34 inch.

ELY-BEEKMAN NUPTIALS

MARRIAGE CEREMONY PERFORMED BY REV. J. A. M'KELVEY.

A Pretty Home Wedding Celebrated on West Fourth Street—Miss Kittie May Beekman Becomes Mrs. Louis C. Ely.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of last evening when Miss Kittie May Beekman, daughter of Mrs. Drucilla Beekman and Louis C. Ely, both of West Fourth street, were united in marriage by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel.

The bride and groom were attended by Miss May Moulton, as maid of honor, and Edward Beekman, brother of the bride, as best man. The bride was richly gowned in white cashmere trimmed with white satin ribbon and silk lace. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the presence of the nearest relatives. Following congratulations, a wedding supper was served.

The groom is a valued employee of A. M. Griffin for whom he has worked for some time past. The bride is a most estimable young woman and the couple have a host of friends who extend their west wishes for a successful and happy journey through life. They will reside at No. 434 West Fourth street.

The many presents received were both useful and costly, and they were the admiration of all present. Mr. and Mrs. Ely will at once go to housekeeping. After all had enjoyed a supper the remainder of the evening was passed in sociability and at a late hour the guests departed for their homes.

COL. MOORE'S NEW VENTURE.

Associated With C. S. Westervelt in an Enterprising Establishment.

Recognizing the fact that the city of New York is the greatest business center in the country, where thousands of people living away from the metropolis desire to purchase goods or solicit information that requires personal attention, but are prevented or handicapped by distance, besides the small army of visitors who are seeking escorts thoroughly acquainted with the topography of the city to show them the interesting and notable points, is what led to the establishment of the information, escort and purchasing bureau, now presided over by the genial Col. Charles K. Moore, known to all Plainfielders and nearly every other Jerseyman.

Associated with Colonel Moore is Charles S. Westervelt, recently assistant comptroller of Jersey City. Their office is at 143 Liberty street.

In matters of purchasing goods, to use their own words, they "know just where and when to purchase, at lowest possible prices, any article required, from a needle to an elephant."

Persons visiting the metropolis for the first time are assured of seeing every thing that is worth seeing if they put themselves under the chaperonage of this bereau. The employes of the establishment are experienced in the particular duties assigned to them, and are therefore pretty sure to give satisfaction.

The list of references offered by Col. Moore and his associate, Mr. Westervelt, include the names of Mayor Strong, William Foster, Jr., Samuel Knox, secretary of the C. R. R. of N. J., Luther C. Voorhees and Col. James Moore, which alone are sufficient to command the respect of anyone seeking the service of the bureau.

RAN AWAY WITH A PLOW.

A Lively Trip Made by a Horse on John I. Holly's Farm.

A lively runaway occurred on the farm of John I. Holly, near Avon Park, Tuesday afternoon, in which John Israel, foreman of the farm, had a narrow escape from a serious accident. Israel was driving a horse attached to a plow in one of the fields. The reins were around his back while he used his hands to handle the plow. The horse slipped the bridle and started to run, dragging Israel and the plow after him. After being dragged for some distance over the rough ground, Israel managed to slip out of the reins and let the horse go. The frightened animal cleared several fences with the plow at his heels but finally ran the plow into one of them, wrecking the fence and the plow. The harness of the horse became entangled abaut a tree nearby and the animal could not get away. Israel was not seriously injured.

The house was prettily decorated with choice flowers and plants. The bride was gowned in a black traveling costume and both she and the groom were unattended.

Following the ceremony congratulations were showered on the happy couple, after which a wedding supper was served by Max Wiertz, of this city.

The groom is the well-known fancy and trick bicycle rider and is now the senior member of the hardware firm of Maltby, Henley Company, of New York.

SPRAINED HIS SHOULDER.

Painful Accident Suffered by Charles Randolph in a Collision.

Charles Randolph, of West Front street, is suffering from a sprained shoulder. He went out riding with another cyclist, last Saturday evening, and started to Metuchen. Just as they were approaching Pumptown, they saw a carriage coming in the opposite direction. They started to pass the carriage on the right when three wheelmen came in the opposite direction. They were riding quite rapidly. There was a misunderstanding and one of the unknown riders started to spurt past the carriage. He ran into Randolph's shoulder and both were thrown from their wheels. The stranger was knocked senseless. He recovered in a few moments and was able to ride on. Randolph did not feel any injury at the time but, after riding a short distance, he felt severe pains in his shoulder and he is now barely able to be around.

Year Book for the Organized Aid.

"The year book just issued by the Organized Aid Association, is one to interest heartily the citizens of Plainfield, be they charitably incined or otherwise," writes a correspondent. "Even a hasty glance through its pages reveals conditions of helplessness and poverty that cannot be ignored without injury to the community, and the amelioration of which deserves the interest of every citizen of Plainfield. To the noble men and women, who have given this subject their conscientious study and support, too great thanks cannot be given. The report itself is an admirable one in conciseness and satisfactory detail. The printer who had its publishing can congratulate himself on the style of the publication, for the good paper, clear type and correctness throughout."

HIS NAME TO BE CHANGED

DR. FRANK LEE LINBARGER WANTS TO BE KNOWN AS LEE.

He Was Married Under the Name of Lee and Will Ask the Union County Circuit Court to Legally Change His Cognomen.

Dr. Frank Lee Linbarger, whose marriage to Miss Mae Sanford, of Red Bank, under the name of Dr. Frank L. Lee was exclusive told in the Daily Press, has decided to legally change his name to the one under which he was married. He came to that decision sometime ago but it has only now been made public.

Dr. Linbarger formerly lived in Plainfield and then went to Elizabeth where he secured a good practice as a dentist. He still looks upon Elizabeth as his legal residence although he now has a practice in Red Bank, the home of his bride.

Dr. Linbarger met Miss Sanford at Asbury Park during the summer of 1895. He was introduced by a friend as Dr. Lee. It was done in a joke and the Doctor never thought at the time that anything would come of it. He was introduced among Miss Sanford's friends as Dr. Lee, and as he became better and better known under that name, the harder it grew to make the announcement that his name was not Dr. Lee, but Dr. Linbarger.

The Doctor and Miss Sanford became better friends and he used to call on her frequently. They were finally married April 14th in Red Bank, as has already been told.

As his wife wished him to continue the name of Lee, the Doctor decided to have it changed by law.

Dr. Linbarger was interviewed by a reporter from an Asbury Park paper and is credited with saying that he had applied to the Legislature, through his counsel, City Judge DeMeza, of this city, to have his name changed and that a bill to that effect was to be introduced. He was confident, according to the interviewer, that the bill would be passed.

A Press reporter called at the office of City Judge DeMeza, this morning, to learn the facts in the case. The Judge admitted that he was the counsel for Dr. Linbarger but that it was the Circuit Court of Union County to whom they would apply and not the Legislature. According to an Act of the Legislature passed in 1876, if any one wishes to change their name, it is necessary for them to petition the Circuit Court in the county in which they reside, asking for permission to change their name and stating their reasons for the same. This wish must then be published at least once a week for four weeks in a newspaper in that county.

This is exactly what the Judge intends to do at his first opportunity The papers are now ready and all that is necessary is to have the application made to the court and properly advertised.

The only reason that the Judge would give for the change of name of his client was that he preferred Lee to Linbarger. The marriage, the Judge said, would not be void, even if the docter did not change his name, but would be perfectly legal.

Dr. and Mrs. Linbarger, or Lee, visited in Plainfield, Tuesday evening.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Two Daughters of Louis L. Drake just Escaped a Watery Grave.

The little daughters of Louis L. Drake, who represents the town of Lincoln in this city, met with a narrow escape from drowning Tuesday afternoon.

They were trying to make a short cut to their home at Brookside by crossing Bound brook over a fallen tree. Little Catherine, aged seven, slipped and fell in the water. As her nine-year-old sister, Aimee, was about to plunge in to her assistance she grasped the branch of an overhanging tree and held her head above water until extricated from her perilous position. A wetting to both children was the result to what might have been a fatal accident.

Under Bonds to Keep the Peace.

Miss Kate Frey, the young woman who was charged with desecrating her brother's grave in St. Mary's cemetery, appeared before City Judge DeMeza at his private office, yesterday afternoon. She indignantly denied that she had desecrated her brother's grave, but admitted that she might have said something in the excitement which she did not mean to say. The Judge put her under $200 bonds to keep the peace.

Epworth League Rally.

The Junior Epworth League members of this district will hold a rally this evening in the Monroe Avenue church. Delegations will be in attendance from Dunellen, Scotch Plains, North Plainfield and Plainfield. A programme of rare excellence has been prepared and a good time is promised to all who attend.

CLAWSON IN THE GRAVE

INTERRED IN THE COMMUNITY WHERE HE WAS ABHORRED.

It Was Necessary for the Jail Officials to Use Strategy, and it was Feared There Might be an Outbreak of Violence.

The feeling of antagonism against Elmer Clawson, the nineteen-year-old boy who paid the penalty of death on the gallows in the Somerset county jail yesterday for having deliberately murdered Harry Hadgetts in his own doorway and in sight of his wife and children, was so marked among the sturdy farmers of the county, that the jail officials feared that there might be some outbreak among the hundreds who came to the town yesterday to loiter about the place of execution, if it became known that the dead body was to be interred in the village cemetery at Somerville.

There were those who, it is said, had threatened that under no circumstances would they permit the murderer's remains to be laid at rest in proximity to the graves of their departed relatives and friends. Since it was the decision of the county officers that Clawson's body should be interred in the cemetery in Somerville, they determined on a little strategy to avoid any disgraceful scenes that might ensue in case it was known that the remains were buried there.

After the execution was completed and before the reporters and all the witnesses had left the corridor where the execution was performed, it was announced that the body would be taken to Fox Hill, several miles distant from Somerville in Hunterdon county, and buried there. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon a brief funeral service was conducted in the jail corridar by Revs. W. E. Winner, of Somerville, and William DeHart, of Neshanic, who had been Clawson's spiritual advisers.

It was a little after 3 o'clock when the dead wagon of Undertaker Johnson backed up to the door on the east side of the jail, and the plain pine box, inside of which was the casket containing the executed boy's body, shoved into the wagon.

There were still a large number of people hanging about the building in blind curiosity and as soon as it was seen that the body was to be taken from the jail there was a rush for the side entrance. The crowd looked on with countenanceshalf sullen and half awed.

Dora Barcalew, the deputy sheriff, who was to oversee the interment, jumped into the wagon and instructed the driver to drive towards Fox Hill. It took only a few minutes for the wagon to disappear from the sight of the crowd.

As soon as the dead wagon had gone about two miles north of Somerville, Barkalew instructed the driver to take another road and by a circuitous route the return trip was made to the cemetery in Somerville, where, just before dusk, the body was interred in a grave dug by the sexton who had been told to work cautiously so as not to arouse suspicion.

Up to today it was not generally known that Clawson's body was buried in the heart of the place where the sentiment was so pronounced against him.

UNSIGHTLY LUMBER SHEDS.

Fashionable Resident Section of Westfield Invaded and Property-owners Angry

The residents on the fashionable South avenue, which is the county road from Westfield to Plainfield, are up in arms over the erection of big unsightly lumber sheds and the proposed establishment of a lumber yard right on the avenue, at its intersection with Broad street, Westfield. The sheds will project out to the line of the avenue, and thus cut off the view from all those who own houses on that side of the street. The residents threaten to apply for an injunction to restrain the work, which is now in progress, from going ahead on the ground that it will be a big detriment to their property and greatly depreciate its value.

The proposed lumber yard will have a frontage of 80 feet on South avenue and extent back for 200 feet. The land is owned by an estate, and three maiden ladies, the Misses Clark, who occupy an old-fashioned house on Broad street, are among the heirs. They leased the ground to Tuttle Brothers, of Horsehead, N. Y., for the storage of lumber. The estate is said to be in such a shape that the property cannot be sold, or else it would have been purchased by persons who are desirous of preserving the fine appearance of South avenue and its advantages as an eligible residential street. Since the erection of the lumber sheds began several of the residents of South avenue, it is said, have become so disgusted and incensed that they have offered their holdings for sale.

HE GETS THE EXTREME PENALTY FOR EXCISE LAW VIOLATIONS.

Sentenced to Pay a Fine of $100 and Go to Jail for Fifty-nine Days—He is Said to Be Apparently Almost a Physical Wreck

Illegal liquor sellers of the West End have been given a warning of what they may expect. Hughie O'Donnell, who runs a hotel at the corner of Grant avenue and South Second street, came to trial yesterday, and he was fined and sentenced to the Union county jail at Elizabeth to serve a long term.

Although O'Donnell was caught several days ago, there has been no hurry to try the case. It has been impossible for the City Judge and the Corporation Counsel to get together, and as O'Donnell kept the court waiting before, so the court kept him waiting this time. He was confined in one of the cells in the city jail during the wait.

Yesterday afternoon, at 5:30 o'clock, the Judge went over to the court room in the station house to hear the case. The Corporation Counsel was not present. There was a hurried consultation between O'Donnell in his cell and his legal advisors, Assemblyman W. R Codington and former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield. Then the word came to the Judge in the court room that O'Donnell wished to change his plea.

The hotel keeper of the West End was then brought into the court room and a pitiable sight he was. He is a small man. It was evident that his short imprisonment in the city jail had not agreed with him. He looked ill and his limbs trembled at every move. He kept his eyes fixed on the floor save now and then to cast a pleading look to his counsel or the Judge. Mrs. O'Donnell was present and appeared to be greatly worried.

Assemblyman Codington stated for his client that he had decided to change his plea from not guilty to nonvult. He said that on the occasion mentioned in the complaint there may have been a bottle or two of beer sold, but it was done without the knowledge and consent of Mr. O'Donnell. He continued his plea, mentioning Mr. O'Donnell's present physical condition and explained that imprisonment in jail would be certain to aggravate the trouble and perhaps cause his death. He explained that Mr. O'Donnell had just told him the cause of his nonappearance. That he really did attend the funeral of his sister-in-law on Long Island, and had then come home only to find that his brother had died. He had expected to give himself up, said the lawyer, when he was arrested in the house of a friend.

Mr. Hetfield also made an eloquent plea for mercy and asked that the prisoner be not compelled to go to jail on account of his physical condition.

The Judge was not inclined to look leniently on the offender. He said that he had caused the police a great deal of trouble and that he had been constantly and flagrantly violating the excise laws, not only of selling liquor on Sunday, but, he was informed, selling it to minors and children. There were enough complaints against O'Donnell, said the Judge, which if pressed and he was found guilty, would keep him in jail for two years.

The Judge then sentenced O'Donnell to pay a fine of $100 and go to the county jail for the term of 59 days, which is one day less than the extreme sentence. O'Donnell trembled all over when the Judge announced the decision of the court and then appeared as if about to collapse.

"All I've got to say," half whispered the prisoner, "is that I'll never come out alive."

He was then locked up to await the convenience of the Chief who will take him to Elizabeth.

John Dalziel a Magazine Contributor.

In the May number of "Popular Science," there is an interesting article on "The Elm Beetle," by John Dalziel, of this city. The article is illustrated with cuts of the beetle itself, its larva, magnified, and its eggs on a leaf, much magnified. The subject is comprehensively and interestingly treated.

STATE OF CUBAN WAR

Investigation of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

THE VIEWS OF CHAIRMAN DAVIS.

Says the Sympathy With the Insurgents Is as Great as Ever—Thinks the Administration Should Have More Time to Act.

Washington, May 13.—The senate committee on foreign relations is busy with the investigation of the Cuban situation and will probably be able to make a report tomorrow.

Some question has arisen as to the effect the report of the committee or the information at the state department may have upon the resolution now pending in the senate. Members of the committee do not express an opinion on the subject, but enough is known to justify the conclusion that instead of weakening the resolution its friends will find cause for insisting that there is a strong reason for passing it. The object of the foreign relations committee, which has deprecated hasty action and suggested that the resolution be referred to the committee, is that the senate should not act in the premises until there is more information at hand. The opponents of the resolution have declared that the newspaper reports of the conditions in Cuba are not based upon facts and are highly exaggerated. Those who have become acquainted with the reports in the state department are of the opinion that the reports in the press have been in the main correct. One member of the committee who had listened to the summary of the reports in the department said that a very serious condition existed in Cuba and that the inquiry now being made by the committee would result in bringing to light the exact facts.

Davis Replies to Criticisms.

Some strictures were passed upon members of the foreign relations committee who about a year ago voted for a resolution similar to the one pending and who now ask for time to consider the matter with more deliberation. Speaking of this criticism, Chairman Davis of the foreign relations committee said:

"At the time the former resolution was reported Gomez was at the head of a large army in the eastern end of the island, and Maceo was at the head of another army in the west. They could march from one end to the other of Cuba. Campos had been defeated in a great battle and was shut within solid fortifications and confined to a small territory around Havana. Every one knew that a state of war existed. That was a year ago. Great changes have since taken place. Maceo is dead and his army dispersed. Gomez is at the head of but a small force, certainly it is no such army as was reported then. There are conflicting statements as to the strength of the insurgents and the control which Spain has over the island. It is right and proper that the facts that have since reached the state department should be laid before the senate and the committee so that intelligent action can be had."

Mr. Davis says that the sympathy with the struggling Cubans is as great as ever.

Senate Without Official Information.

Another member of the committee said that the senate was practically without official information for nearly a year. The senate would not be justified in acting upon information a year or even six months old. What it wanted was the facts as they had been reported from time to time and up to date.

The Republicans of the committee do not feel justified in pushing the administration until it has had time to act. It has been pointed out that only two months have elapsed since the administration came into power, and it has scarcely had time to take up and consider so important a matter as that which has been presented. The pending resolution, unlike a joint resolution, will require the executive either to approve or disapprove of it. This being the case, the Republican senators feel that they should act in concert with the executive.

It is not believed that in case the senate foreign relations committee find upon a thorough examination of the reports in the state department that the resolution is justified that any effort will be made to prevent its passage. Members of the committee on foreign relations feel that the question which confronts the senate is serious, and any action that is taken by the senate will have great weight with the administration. In case the resolution should pass both senate and house there is no reason to believe that it would not be approved and that the United States government would thereafter conduct itself on the lines which it lays down.

Express Trains Collide.

Manchester, Vt., May 13.—Two express trains on the Bennington and Rutland railroad came into collision just outside of this town, but the accident was fortunately not of a serious character. The trains had orders to pass here, but the up train was 45 minutes late, and before the switch was reached the down train came around the curve. Both engineers reversed their engines, but the rails were wet, and the wheels slid along the tracks. The pilots of both engines and one baggage car were smashed, but none of the passengers or employees was injured.

Alleged Accessory to Child Murder.

Dalton, Mass., May 13.—Ever since the body of an infant was found in the river Saturday the police have been quietly working on the case, and Mrs. Fannie Stearns was arrested by Chief of Police Hibert. Mrs. Stearns will be arraigned in the district court at Pittsfield, charged with being an accessory after the fact. The police will claim that the infant was taken to Mrs. Stearns' house and taken from there and thrown into the river. It is understood that the mother of the child is known to the police.

Body of a Missing Man Found.

Shelburne Falls, Mass., May 13.—The body of William J. O'Rourke, aged 26, who has been missing from his home since April 13, was found in the river just below the dam. It is believed he committed suicide or fell into the river while intoxicated.

A NEW TELESCOPE.

Dedicated In the Presence of a Large Gathering of Scientists.

Philadelphia, May 13.—The new Flower telescope and observatory buildings of the University of Pennsylvania were dedicated in the presence of about 1,500 persons.

This new addition to the university is the result of a bequest made by the late Reese Wall Flower, after whom the observatory is named. The observatory has a revolving steel dome 18 feet in diameter. The telescope tube is 28 feet long, and its direction is accomplished by clockwork. The Flower lens is 18 inches in diameter and was tested on top of a mountain at Flagstaff, A. T., by Percival Lowell. Fine observations were made with it on the canals of Mars.

Boston to Have Elevated Roads.

Boston, May 13.—The subcommittee which has had in charge the drafting of an elevated road bill for Boston reported to the full committee. The bill as reported by the subcommittee provides for a deposit of $200,000 to cover suits for damages which may be brought against said road. It also stipulates that seven miles of the road outside of the subway must be built within three years, or the elevated road will forfeit the lease to the west end. The bill provides for a 30 year franchise and 5 cent fares. The railroad commissioners are given power to reduce the fares if it can be done without dropping the dividends below 8 per cent.

Receivers' Fees Allowed.

Boston, May 13.—Judge Colt of the United States circuit court has allowed Thomas J. Lathrop, James P. Stearns and Charles A. Vialle, receivers of the Atlas Tack corporation, $30,000 for their fees and the fees of their counsel. This sum is to be deducted from $250,000 in cash which was paid by Aaron Hobart, who bought the entire property in the receivers' hands for a reorganization committee. The company has been virtually carried on by the court for more than two years, having been put into the receivers' hands April 29, 1895.

The Porter's Good Showing.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 13.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, who is in this city to inspect the gunboat Nashville, that is now anchored in this harbor awaiting the official trial, was given an evidence of the speed of the torpedo boat Porter by a run over to Oyster Bay, N. Y., at the close of his inspection of the Nashville. The run from Bridgeport to Oyster Bay was made in 45 minutes, showing a speed of over 26 knots, although but two-thirds boiler power was used.

Held For Poisoning.

Springfield, Mass., May 13.—Mrs. Clara E. Condon, charged with attempting to murder Mrs. Lucinda W. Hunt by giving her poisoning wine, has been found probably guilty in the police court and held in $4,000 bonds for the September term of the grand jury. Professor E. F. Harris of Amherst college, who, with Dr. Magill of Paris, who is studying in Amherst, made an analysis of the wine, testified that it contained an alkaloid of aconite. Mrs. Condon will not be able to get bail.

West Point's Popular Postmistress.

West Point, May 13.—When it became known here that Miss Newlands had been appointed postmistress of the post, the young lady was the recipient of congratulations from every station of life at West Point. Miss Newlands is a great favorite here and had the support of the academic board and heads of all the departments. She is the only child of Judge Newlands, who for nearly half a century was a clerk in the headquarters building.

Japanese Minister at Honolulu.

San Francisco, May 13.—The steamer from Honolulu May 5 has arrived. On May 5 the Japanese cruiser Naniwa arrived from Yokohama with Japanese Commissioner Abiyama, who is to investigate the cases of the rejected immigrants. Commissioner Abiyama states that his mission is friendly. If he finds the Hawaiian government has erred, a claim for damages will be made. He denies that Japan seeks war and says negotiations will be conducted diplomatically.

About Covering.

The victim of the ready-mixed paint-trap finds that there is but one way to "spread out" a mixture of clay and whiting satisfactorily — and he does it. When buying he neglected to look for the big "H," the guarantee of the House of Harrison that is under the cover of the painters' paint can.

The Harrison Town and Country Ready-Mixed Paint will work wonders in the hands of the amateur, will cover more surface, stand more brushing out and last longer than the other kinds simply because it's pure—nothing but white lead, zinc, and pure linseed oil

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. CHAPMAN MUST TALK

To Purge Himself He Must Answer Questions He Evaded.

SENATE ON SUGAR TRUST WITNESS.

The Cuban Resolution Goes Over—A Number of Minor Bills and Several Nominations—General Forsythe Promoted.

Washington, May 13.—In the senate the sugar investigation of 1894 was recalled by the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Allen of Nebraska proposing that Elverton R. Chapman be brought to the bar of the senate to purge himself of contumacy as a prerequisite to pardon.

The following is the text of the resolution:

"Whereas, said Chapman is now an applicant, as it is said, for executive clemency and for relief from said sentence; therefore be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the senate of the United States that as a condition precedent to receiving executive clemency in the remission of the penalty imposed the said Elverton R. Chapman should be required to appear before the bar of the senate and purge himself of the said contempt of which he is and was guilty by answering the questions which he contumaciously refused and declined to answer during said investigation and make such disclosures as the senate committee then requested him to make or that may now be required of him by the senate."

Mr. Allen sought to secure immediate action on the resolution, but it went over on objection from Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire and Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts. The latter criticised the resolution as giving away the authority of the senate and said he would propose an amendment, with a view of having Chapman punished unless he purged himself of contempt without reference to the question of pardon.

The Cuban resolution also went over to permit the committee on foreign relations to submit a statement of facts bearing on the subject.

The calendar was taken up, and several bills of minor importance were passed.

Senator Quay gave notice of his intention to offer amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill removing special Indian agents, deputy collectors of internal revenue, storekeepers, gaugers and examining surgeons in the pension office from the classified service. The amendment provides for the nomination of the special Indian agents by the president and their confirmation by the senate and for the appointment of the other officers mentioned by the heads of their respective departments with or without examination.

Senator Pettigrew introduced a bill authorizing the postmaster general to acquire for the United States the invention of Professor Crehore and Lieutenant Squire for rapid telegraphing by alternating currents and also to contruct a line between Washington and New York for the purpose of experimenting with and perfecting the use of rapid telegraphing.

In executive session the nominations of Sidney B. Everett of Massachusetts to be consul at Batavia, Java, and John N. Quackenbush to be commander in the navy were confirmed. The following nominations of postmasters were also confirmed:

New York—Cornelius Van Cott, New York city.

Massachusetts—C. F. Bryan at Sharon, G. W. Jones at Falmouth, Mrs. E. W. Smart at Merrimac, C. L. Scranton at Cottage City.

During his service in the war of the rebellion he was on the staff of General McClellan during the Peninsula and Maryland campaigns and chief of staff of Major General Sheridan during the Richmond campaign and participated in the famous raid from Winchester to Petersburg in pursuit of Lee's forces. He accompanied General Sheridan to Europe as an aid during the Franco-Prussian war. Since 1873 he has been stationed mainly in the west and has been in conspicuous service in the Sioux expedition of 1875, in the Bannock campaign at Fort Walla Walla, Wash., and in actions with Indians at Wounded Knee creek and Catholic Mission, S. D. He became a brigadier general Nov. 9, 1894, and was assigned to the department of California, where he has since remained.

SOCIAL HIGHWAYMEN

Two Well Known Young Men of Atlanta Charged With Robbery.

SAID TO BE MEMBERS OF A GANG.

The Leader, Wounded by an Intended Victim, Is Recognized by Him, and This Fact Led to the Discovery of the Organization.

Atlanta, May 13.—The police have taken into custody a young man who is alleged to belong to the aristocratic band of highway robbers whose chief is said to be Frederick Jackson Cunningham, a social leader of the younger set.

The name of the prisoner is put down on the police blotter as John Smith, but the detectives admit that his real name is very different from that. All efforts to learn his identity have failed, but one of the detectives has volunteered the information that he comes from a good family and has occupied as high a social position as Cunningham. The detective added:

"It is not true that we expect to unearth a large band of organized highwaymen, but it is true that we have discovered unmistakable evidence that several highly connected young men in this city who have been spending a good deal more money lately than they ought to have spent got it by holding up travelers after dark. Even the families of these youths do not yet know that their sons are suspected."

C. A. Stanford was closing the doors of his store Saturday night when three men held revolvers in his face and ordered him to "hold up his hands." Instead of obeying he drew his own weapon and fired at them and put them to flight. He was sure he had wounded one of them.

Identifies the Highwayman.

Shortly after midnight Frederick J. Cunningham, well known socially in this city and all over the state, entered the police barracks at West End, Atlanta's most fashionable suburb, severely wounded and related a thrilling story of having been held up, robbed and shot by a band of outlaws. He seemed to be on the verge of collapsing. The police sergeant had hardly finished the entry when in walked Stanford to report the attack upon himself.

The police took Stanford to the residence of Cunningham, and the two men were confronted with each other. Stanford instantly recognized Cunningham as one of his assailants. He said he not only relied on personal appearance, but instanced the wounds under Cunningham's arm, where he said he was positive he had hit one of the highwaymen. The police a second time visited the scene of the encounter and found a hat marked with Cunningham's initials.

Cunningmam was placed under arrest. His father is a wealthy cotton planter, living in a small town near Atlanta.

The detectives have searched Cunningham's house, but found nothing except a number of revolvers, which could not be used in any way as evidence against him. The man is keeping remarkably cool under the circumstances, although his wounds have taken a turn for the worse, and he is now suffering severely. His friends are standing by him and have visited the prisoner as often as his physicians would permit.

He is a trustee of St. Ann's Catholic church there. The postal authorities claim to have positive proof of his guilt. The defendant asserts his innocence. Charles A. Dolson of Hornellsville and John B. Stanchfield of Elmira are attorneys for the defense.

His friends have ineffectually tried to induce him to return.

COMING EVENTS.

May 13—Annual meeting of Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m.

A PROPER SELECTION.

It was manifestly proper that the Union County Board of Freeholders should again honor J. F. Hubbard, of this city, by selecting him as their Director. Mr. Hubbard has filled that position for several years with credit to himself and benefit to the county. His executive and administrative qualities are well-known in a busines way, and it has always been his aim to exercise the same careful attention in matters of a public character that he does in private life.

TROLLEY CHAIN BROKEN.

The New York Press says that if it were not for "pigheaditiveness" in Somerset and Middlesex, where governing bodies have held up trolley franchises that would develop the principal cities in these counties, there would now be an unbroken trolley service between the Hudson and Delaware rivers. The chain is broken in Somerset, which it was expected to connect with Union, then with Middlesex and so on to Mercer, Burlington and Camden.

MONDAY ELECTIONS ABOLISHED.

The Governor has signed the bill providing that in every city, town or borough in which the annual election for municipal officers is now held on Monday, such election shall hereafter be held on the next succeeding day after such Monday.

GUESTS OF CONSUL DEMAREST.

Fine Fishing Found by Jerseymen in the Waters of Canada.

A number of prominent New Jersey gentlemen are being entertained at Charleston Lake, near Brockville, Canada, by U. S. Consul J. A. Demarest, where fishing is the principal sport offered. The Brockville Times speaks of them as follows:

Some of them are old visitors, and others are having their first experience here, but they are all catching more or less of the game fish which inhabit Charleston Lake. Here is a record of a two days' catch by some of them,—and the figures are vouched for by that obelisk of virtue and veracity, Col. J. A. Demarest, U. S. Consul at Brockville, so that they are bound to be correct:

According to the statement of the plaintiff the assault occurred April 19th, when the defendant entered the house of the former.

Edith Behr Set Free.

Edith Behr will be discharged from the county jail today. The girl's time, even with the deductions for good behavior, would not have expired until May 20th, but her mother and father are ill, and Warden Blore called the attention of the jail committee of the Board of Freeholders to this fact, with the result that they signed the order for her release.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

The following cases were tried before Justice Newcorn, yesterday, and judgment rendered for the plaintiff in each case: Hand against Coddington, on contract; Cannon against Shearen, in tort. The contract case of Irvine against Woltmann was settled. The contract case of Reed et al's against Wyckoff et als was adjourned for a week.

SAD ACCIDENT TO A HORSETHIEF.

Lynching Party Had Not Considered the Shrinking of the Rope.

Western Judge—"You are charged, sir, with being the leader of a party which hunted down and lynched a horse thief. The days have gone by when citizens of this great Commonwealth can thus take the law into their own hands, hence your arrest. What have you to say?"

Prominent Citizen—"I ain't guilty, Jedge. I'll tell you how it was. We caught the feller and tied his hands and feet. Nothin' wrong about that, was there, Jedge?"

"No, that was no doubt necessary."

"Wal, Jedge, there was a storm comin' up, and we couldn't spare him an umbrella very well, so we stood him under a tree. That was all right, wasn't it?"

"Certainly."

"Well, the clouds kept gatherin' an' the wind was blowin' pretty high, and we didn't want him blown away, so we tied a rope around his neck and fastened the other end to the limb above—not tight, Jedge, just so as to hold him—and we left him standin' solid on his feet. Nothing wrong about that, was there?"

"Nothing at all."

"Then I kin be excused, can't I?"

"But the man was found suspended from that tree, and stone dead the next morning."

"None of us had anything to do with that, Jedge. You see, we left him standin' there in good health and spirits, for we give him all he could drink when we said 'good-bye;' but, you see, durin' the night rain came up an' I s'pose the rope got purty wet and shrunk a couple o' feet. That's how the sad accident happened, Jedge."—New York Weekly.

Serpent on a Florida Key.

Black Point Key, Florida, is now known as "Snake" Key, from the fact that a huge Brazilian boa has had control of the island, much to the terror of the guides who go there and the few inhabitants of the close-by islands. The story is that several years ago a steamer with a circus on board foundered off the island. The snake was then possibly ten feet long, but reliable persons state that it is now thirty feet long, and of generous proportions otherwise. Indian guides are afraid to go there since two of their number were killed by some mysterious things and the snake was blamed for it. Several other persons who ventured to land have disappeared, and tourists cannot now get guides to go there to explore the island, which is about fifty acres in extent and thickly grown with low shrubs.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Strictly True.

Here is one of Dean Hole's stories: A chairman, after a depressing address, assured the speaker that his discourse was "moving, soothing and satisfying." When reproved the next morning for having commended a dismal failure, he denied the charge, and maintained that he had uttered no approbation, but simple facts—namely, that the lecture was "moving," because a large proportion of the audience fidgeted and left their seats, and several left the room; it was "soothing," because many fell asleep; and it was "satisfying," because there was not a single person present who had not had quite enough.

The Essence of Caution.

"Schymser's awfully afraid of germs."

"Is he?"

"Yes. He never writes a letter without first boiling the ink."—Chicago Record.

Two Birds and One Stone.

An impressionable Paris banker, the owner of immense riches, died of grief on hearing that he had lost everything in the world except $20,000. His pauper brother on inheriting that sum from him died of joy.

An Awkward Predicament.

Father: "What, sir, you want to dishonor my name on the stage?"

Son: "I will take an assumed name."

Father: "Then, if you succeed, I'd like to know how people are to know I'm your father."

We Have Read That The Older

people grow, the longer their shoes wear, the tread of an older person being less heavy, which of course makes the shoe bill less. There is one thing dead sure—that the younger a child is, the sooner he will wear out his shoes. Every father and mother knows that. Our children's department is a stronghold with us, and we're making it stronger every day.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. TURKEY GETS NOTICE

Collective Note Presented Asking For an Armistice.

THE PORTE DELAYS ITS ANSWER.

Anxiety Felt In Athens For the Safety of General Smolenski's Army—Sultan Demands $15,000,000 War Indemnity or Possession of Thessaly.

Constantinople, May 13.—The embassadors of the powers here held a prolonged conference, at the close of which they presented to the Turkish government a collective memorandum proposing an armistice between Turkey and Greece on the basis of the negotiations for peace now in progress through the powers.

The memorandum, which was presented to Ahmed Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister of foreign affairs, by the dean of the diplomatic corps, Baron de Calice, the Astro-Hungarian embassador, enumerates the conditions which have been accepted by Greece and begs the porte to issue the necessary orders to arrest the progress of the Turkish troops.

Much Uneasiness In Athens.

Athens, May 13.—The fact that there is no news of renewed fighting must be regarded as good news, but an uneasy feeling exists here.

The Turks are trying to outflank the Greek position at Domokos, and the delay in the porte's reply is also interpreted to mean that Turkey does not intend to cease hostilities.

Telegrams from the front report that both armies are concentrating in anticipation of an engagement.

The city continues quiet, though it is believed that the numerous Italian volunteers and socialists now here will endeavor to foment a revolution, leading up to a republic. But the Greeks are devoted to the monarchial idea, and the worst that is likely to happen will be a change of sovereigns.

The return of the Crown Prince Constantine to the capital might produce disturbances, but he is likely to be discreet enough to avoid Athens for a time.

The Vatican and the Porte.

London, May 13.—The Rome correspondent of The Standard gives today the history of the discontinuance of relations between the porte and the Vatican. He says:

"Last summer the pope in an autograph letter begged the sultan to protect the Christians in Crete. The papal delegate, Mgr. Benetti, obtained an audience at the Yildiz kiosk and formally presented the letter.

"The sultan, evidently irritated, said in an undertone in Turkish, 'Who's this pope that's always meddling in the affairs of our state?' and then aloud in French, 'Tell his holiness that it is my constant care to attend to the welfare of all my subjects.'

"The pope, deeply offended at seeing his plans for the eastern churches upset in this fashion, tried another letter last October. This had a better reception, but was never answered, and there have been no direct communications between the Vatican and the porte since."

Greece's Unenviable Position.

London, May 13.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says:

"Acute anxiety is felt here because of the absence of any news from General Smolenski's column.

"Owing to the delay in arranging the armistice, the government has addressed a strong protest to the powers declining to bear the responsibility should further bloodshed occur and lead to serious complications.

"As M. Ralli explains to me, the government is in a serious predicament. In order to secure mediation it has compromised itself in the eyes of both Greeks and Cretans without obtaining a positive guarantee that Turkey will cease hostilities. Should the war be resumed the position of the government will be most unenviable."

Thinks Turkey Will Accept.

London, May 13.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily Mail says:

"I ascertain at the Italian foreign office that Turkey will certainly accede to the request for an armistice and will place herself in the hands of the powers. The general conditions of indemnity and a strategic rectification of frontier, upon which Turkey insists, have been already acquiesced in by the powers. It is probable that the powers will land additional troops in Crete."

May Not Pacify Cretans.

London, May 13.—The Times' correspondent at Candia says: "It is feared that autonomy will fail to pacify Crete, owing to the opposition of 20,000 Cretan Mohammedans in the island. They suspect that autonomy will end in union with Greece, while the insurgents are still defiant and actually talk of resisting the departure of the Greek troops."

Removal of Troops From Crete.

Athens, May 13.—It is officially announced that the powers have notified the Greek government that the Greek troops may leave the island of Crete and that the admirals of the international fleet will release the steamers which have been seized during the blockade.

Duchess of Sparta Thanks Americans.

Chicago, May 13.—Miss Willard has received a cable from the Duchess of Sparta requesting her to "warmly thank American ladies" for the money sent from the W. C. T. U. to help secure nurses for the wounded in the Grecian army.

The Sultan's Demands.

Berlin, May 13.—It is asserted on excellent authority that the Turkish government demands a war indemnity of £3,000,000 and the right to occupy Thessaly until it is paid.

Professor Appointed at Columbia.

Boston, May 13.—Henry Marion Howe of Boston has been appointed professor of metallurgy in Columbia college. Mr. Howe is the son of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, and his home is at 287 Marlboro street. He was born in 1848, was graduated from the Boston Latin school, from Harvard college in the class of '69 and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1871.

THREE CURIOUS PLANTS

One Whose Leaves Are Strong Enough to Crush the Life out of a Man.

Three of the most dangerous of vegetable plants in the world are the "cannibal tree" of Australia, the "death" or "grapple plant" of South Africa, and the "vegetable python," of New-Zealand.

The "cannibal tree" grows up in the shape of a huge pineapple, and attains a height of 11 feet. It has a series of broad, boardlike leaves, growing in a fringe at the apex, which forcibly brings to mind a gigantic Central American agave; and these boardlike leaves, from 10 to 12 feet in the smaller specimens, and from 15 to 20 feet in the larger, hang to the ground and are easily strong enough to bear the weight of a man of 140 pounds or more. In the ancient times this tree was worshipped by the native savages under the name of the "devil tree," a part of the interesting ceremony being the sacrifice of one of their number to its all too ready embrace. The victim to be sacrificed was driven up the leaves of the tree to the apex, and the instant the so-called pistils of the monster were touched the leaves would fly together like a trap, crushing the life out of the intruder. In this way the tree would hold its victim, sapping his vitality and life, until every particle of flesh would disappear from his bones.

The "grapple plant" is a prostrate herb growing in South Africa. Its flowers are purple and shaped like the English foxglove. Its fruit has formidable hooks, and by clinging to any passer-by is conveyed to situations where its seed may find suitable conditions for growth. Sir John Lubbock says it has been known to kill lions.

The "vegetable python," which is known to the naturalist as the clusia, or fig, is the strangler of trees. The seeds of the clusia, being provided with a pulp and very pleasant to the tropical birds which feed thereon, are carried from tree to tree and deposited on the branches. Here germination begins. The leafy stem slowly rises upward, while the roots flow, as it were, down the trunk until the soil is reached. Here and there they branch, changing their course according to the direction of any obstructions met with. Meanwhile from these rootlets leafy branches have been developed, which, pushing themselves through the canopy above, get into the light, and enormously accelerate their growth. Now a metamorphosis takes place! For the hitherto soft aerial roots begin to harden and spread wider and wider, throwing out side branches which flow into and amalgamate with each other, until the whole tree trunk is bound in a series of irregular living hoops. From this time on it is a struggle of life and death between the forest giant and the entwining clusia. Like an athlete the tree tries to expand and burst its fetters, causing the bark to bulge between every interlacing; but success and freedom are not for the captive tree, for the monster clusia has made its hands very numerous and wide. Not allowed expansion, the tree soon withers and dies, and the strangler is soon expanded into a great bush, almost as large as the mass of branches and foliage it has effaced. It is a tragedy in the world of vegetation.—Los Angeles Herald.

Science of the Mosquito.

There are four truths respecting the mosquito which modern science has established:

First—A mosquito cannot live in air free from malarial poison. Untainted air has the same effect on him as a healthy community on a doctor. It deprives him of patients, and he must go to less-favored localities to practise his profession.

Second—The lymph, which flows through an automatic valve when it inserts its proboscis, contains a modified germ of the malarial fever, and, according to the well-settled law of inoculation, the introduction of the weak germ renders harmless a subsequent attack by the strong germ.

Third—The mosquito never swallows human blood. It cannot. The fact that its body becomes discolored and swells, while probing, is caused by the discoloration of the lymph in contact with the blood and the muscular effort of inserting the probe.

Fourth—A mosquito will never insert its lancet in a person not susceptible to an attack of malaria. In this respect, its sense is more accurate than the most skilled and experienced pathologist. This also proves, not only its unerring instinct, but that it never wounds unnecessarily. Its thrusts are those of a skilled and human surgeon, and even more unselfish, for hope of a fee never quickens him, nor does the malediction of his patient deter him in the fulfillment of his duty.

Remember, then, that the presence of a mosquito is an infallible sign that malaria is in the air, and that you are exposed to it, and when you hear that well known but solemn note of warning, do not treat him as a foe but as a friend.—Boston Transcript.

Candlefish.

Recent experiments by the curious at Portland, Ore., have revived recollections of a primitive light used in the early days of the settlements along the Columbia River, when the residents called smelts candlefish. The dried smelts burn as well as candles, and give off an appetizing odor.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"No, sir," said the physician, pompously, "I never lost more than half a dozen patients in my life."

"Well, I'm surprised," answered the cynical man.

"Surprised at what?"

"At your ability to make a living on so small a practice."—Washington Times.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

Concentrated Vitality.

The Vital Element of Life—Dr. Campbell Succeeds in Charging Impoverished Blood With Natural Iron.

Science has demonstrated that iron exists in great quantities in the Sun. It is not wonderful, therefore, that it is found in the soil. It is known that neither beast nor man can live unless their blood contains sufficient iron; it is therefore obvious that Nature has put it in the soil so that both beasts and human beings may get iron from their food We may live without salt, but we cannot live without iron. It is the iron, in the form of Hæmoglobin or "Blood Iron," in the blood which enables it to carry oxygen from the lungs to every part of the body. It is the iron and this oxygen which keeps the whole system pure. Together they kill off the germs of disease, and by enriching the blood maintain the health and enable many people to go through life without an ailment, and die merely from old age.

The only form of iron ever discovered that could be entirely taken up by the blood has just been produced by Dr. Campbell, an eminent English physician. Working on the theory that both animals and human beings secured their supply of iron from the same source, Dr. Campbell conceived the idea that iron must exist in the blood of animals in exactly the same form as in that of man. After much labor and tedious experiment he verified his belief by extracting the iron from a bullock's blood and subjecting it to the closest analysis. To demonstrate its efficacy it was necessary to prepare it in such form that it could be taken into the stomach by even the weakest infant.

This was accomplished by first fully dissolving it and then enclosing it in small pointed globes of pure gelatine to which was given the name of Capsuloids. Close observation in various cases disclosed the fact that as soon as Capsuloids were taken into the stomache the gelatine covering dissolved and the pure natural iron was taken up by the blood restoring vitality, giving strength, curing sleeplessness, anæmia, dizziness, paleness, and the more serious diseases of the blood, such as scrofula, erysipelas, rheumatism, liver trouble and kidney complaint.

To fully establish the efficacy of this new remedy it has been decided to distribute a quantity of Capsuloids to the weak and ailing. This distribution will take place at L. W. Randolph's druggist, 143 West Front street, on Monday, May 17th, between the hours of 1 and 8 p. m., when any adult presenting this notice will receive without charge, a box of Capsuloids.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Room 1011, Downing Building, 108 Fulton street, New York city. 5 13 d & w

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

STATE INSANE HOSPITAL.

Charges Against Its Management Found to Be Without Foundation.

Trenton, May 13.—The board of managers of the State Hospital For the Insane held a meeting at which the charges preferred against the institution were discussed. The reports of the officers of the asylum were received, and the board informally reached the conclusion that the charges are without foundation. A committee will be appointed, however, to make an investigation.

It was charged that Charles W. Haines of Burlington improperly met his death. The board found that he died from typhomania, and that the bruise on his head, which formed the basis of the charge, was caused by his falling out of bed.

It was also charged that the physicians of the institution had disagreed over treatment of a patient. This, the board alleges, is pure invention. Complaints had also been made of the warden selling diseased hogs and that the escape of Louis Pfeihl a week ago was due to carelessness. The former complaint the board did not consider well founded, and as to the latter, it was held that any man who could escape from Joliet prison, could easily escape from the asylum.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Another race meet is being arranged to be given in this neighborhood on Decoration Day. The Vim Bicycle Club is planning to hold one on the new South Orange track if it is completed in time.

Every afternoon sees a number of riders and athletes at the track of the Crescent Wheelmen training for the High School meet on Saturday afternoon or the race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen on Decoration Day.

The fourth bicycle run of the Park Club will be held on Saturday afternoon. The destination will be West field. The start is to be made from the club-house on Washington avenue at 4 o'clock. The run is called by the cycling committee.

An unknown bicyclist came to grief near Holly's Corners on Park avenue, Sunday afternoon. He was scorching toward Plainfield when he collided with a buggy and was thrown heavily to the ground. His wheel was wrecked and he was badly cut about the head and hands. Several of his friends were with him, and after bandaging up his wounds they carried him and the remains of his wheel to the Oak Tree station on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and he took the next train.

It should be the duty of every L. A. W. member in Plainfield to bestir himself in the cause of the League and "good roads." There are plenty of wheelmen and wheelwomen, too, who would gladly join the League if given a personal invitation and explanation of its objects and purposes. Plainfield, sorrowful to say, stands at the foot of the list of suburban cities in its percentage of members, but there are enough members here to soon increase the number to a high place in the line. With all the delightful roads in this section, wheelmen should be glad to join the association, which has done so much in this country for the promotion of these good roads.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Y. M. C. A. is arranging to put a nine on the diamond, this season. They are negotiating for grounds near Park avenue and Martine avenue.

The Young Stars of Plainfield wish to challenge any nine composed of players under fifteen years of age. Communications should be addressed to the captain, J. Montross, 211 Richmond street.

The members of the second team of Leal's school are jubilant over their defeat of the first team, Tuesday afternoon. The second team, on that occasion defeated the first by a score of 15 to 14. Aubrey Crowe and William J. Roome, Jr., were the battery for the second team, and Morris Dumont and Daniel White for the first team.

The sale of reserved season tickets for the Crescent Baseball Club's games has been going on and the management has met with great success. It has been a very important question whether the club could secure sufficient financial support to put up a team as was expected. If the rest of the cranks give such support as has already been promised, the club will be well provided for in that direction.

Plainfield base ball cranks will have a chance to witness a good base ball game next Saturday afternoon on the Washington avenue grounds. The Plainfield Athletic Club will have for its opponents the strong Perth Amboy Base Ball Club, and a sharp game is looked for, and it is hoped a large crowd will be present to encourage the home team. The game will commence at 3:30 p. m. There will be no admission charge.

Manager Mumford, of the Crescent Baseball Club, has signed Frank E. Cox, of Cranford, as one of the pitchers for the season. Cox was formerly pitcher on the Cranford Athletic Club, on which team he made an excellent record. He has played in this city a number of times and has been very successful in holding down the local batters to a few hits. Socially, he is a very nice young man and popular among his friends in Cranford and Plainfield.

The Crescent Base Ball Club will open the season on their grounds on La Grande avenue and Richmond street, Monday morning, May 31st. Their opponents will be one of the strongest amateur teams from the vicinity. After that the team will play every Saturday afternoon. Games are being scheduled with the strongest teams in this district, including the Bound Brook Athletic Club, the Cranford Athletic Club, the Roselle Casinos, the Rutgers "Varsity" team, and many others of equal strength.

FOOTBALL.

Although this is not the season for foot ball, the enthusiasts in that game should not forget that another season is approaching. Plainfield has splendid material for a strong team as was shown last year but unless there is a movement toward an organization that will be able to support the team, several of the best players will be lost. Outside teams were very anxious to secure some of the Plainfield crack players and they have made flattering inducements to local men to play away from home during the coming season but all the players have expressed a willingness to stand by their own city if someone will take the initiative and start a movement to organize an All-Plainfield team or else have one of the local clubs offer the last year's players the necessary support to run the team.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The event of the season among the school boy athletes of New Jersey is the annual field meet of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, which is to be held on the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club at Bergen Point, on May 22d, beginning at 2 o'clock. The Plainfield High School should win its share of the prizes. There should be a good attendance from this city to encourage the local competitors on to victory. Carroll L. Runyon, of this city, is a member of the ticket committee and he has arranged so that one of the best sections on the grand stand has been reserved for the Plainfield contingent. Reserved seats can be obtained from Mr. Runyon, Walter T. Serrell, and George Proctor Smith of the High School, or the sporting department of The Daily Press.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Last evening on the Y. M. C. A. alleys of this city, the local association team met the Y. M. C. A. boys from Newark in friendly battle. The Newark team was composed of strong players and our boys hardly expected to win, but the short run rather changed matters and the Plainfield boys came off victorious. The Newark boys have played their games on alleys with a long run and therefore the local association's alleys rather queered them. A return game will be played at Newark one week from tonight.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

The races will be continued at the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park on Saturday afternoon if the weather is good. There have been several men employed this week in putting the track in good order for the races, of which there promises to be several exciting ones. Some of the fast horses of the city and borough have been matched for the occasion, and the local horsemen are looking forward to seeing some good sport.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

The regular monthly shoot of the Climax Gun Club will be held on Saturday afternoon.

Dennis Kane is confined to his home on West Third street by illness

—Timothy McCarthy, a former conductor for the streeet railway, is now a motorman for the above company.

Under the Martin Act.

The councilmanic committee for the assessment and collection of taxes met last evening in the council rooms for the purpose of meeting and treating with all persons who come under the Martin Act for the collection of back taxes. In all, about twelve persons appeared and each one was willing to settle with the city providing the latter would compromise. William Rockwell, of East Front street, was present and produced a certificate showing that his taxes were paid to date. The result of the meeting will be reported to the council at the next meeting, when some action will be taken regarding the matter.

Water Company Meets.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening. The election of members of the board of directors was held and resulted in the re-election of all the old board as follows: Frank Bergen, John Kane, James McGuire, J. F. Hubbard, and H. F. Kean. The directors met later and orgrnized with Frank Bergen, as president, and J. F. Hubbard, secretary and treasurer.

Julia Ward Howe's Son a Professer.

Henry Marion Howe, of Boston, has been appointed Professor of Metallurgy in Columbia College. Mr. Howe is the son of Julia Ward Howe, and a sister of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city. He was graduated from Harvard in 1869 and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1871.

An Important Meeting.

The Board of Representatives of the Firemen's Relief Association held an important meeting last evening, at which the officers for the next year were elected. The election resulted as follows:—President, T. O. Doane; vice-president, Auguste Saltzman; treasurer, J. A. Hubbard; secretary, G. Thorn.

—A member of the family of Patrick Sharkey, of Harmony street, was taken ill with scarlet fever last evening and the house has been quarantined.

—Fred W. Hargrave, who has been employed for the past five years with Rushmore & Co., has left their employe and gone into partnership with Mr. Miller, of Westfield, under the firm name of Hargrave & Miller. Mr. Hargrave will attend to this city's trade while Mr. Miller will look after the Westfield business.

DOG THAT CAN TEST METALS.

Silver Tip Knows Good Money from Bad Every Time.

No bank teller, crook or populist in Iowa has a truer instinct for real, genuine, 16 to 1 cart-wheel silver dollars than has a Rock Rapids dog called Silver Tip. Silver Tip is tan-colored and weighs about ten pounds. All of his two years of life he has been the property of Landlord Barber, of the Lyon Hotel, at Rock Rapids, but it is only within the last year that his power of immediate insight into the nature of metals has become known to his owner, says the Chicago Times-Herald.

The way Tip manifests his powers, as his owner puts it, is as follows: If one takes a pile of coins the size of an American dollar—say a trade dollar, a Mexican dollar, a five-franc piece and some counterfeit dollars—and puts one genuine dollar piece in the center of the pile, Tip will rummage around among them for an instant and then snatch the good coin and proceed to take care of it in approved dog fashion to an accompaniment of growls and bites. Or if one rolls a coin along the floor, Tip can tell every time whether it is good stuff to be chased.

Tip never makes a mistake, and there isn't a bit of doubt about his powers. He has been tested by Chicago business men and by committees of Iowa scientists. He gets no human help in his work. The good coin is not marked in any peculiar way for his benefit, neither is it scented. Any one can use his own coin in the experiment. Nor does Tip's powers depend on signs from his master. The latter leaves the room without detracting from the dog's ability in the least. Mr. Barber has refused all offers for the purchase of Tip.

Church Built of One Tree.

Santa Rosa, capital of Santa Rosa County, California, has a Baptist church which holds over 200 people, built entirely from timber sawed out of a single redwood. Timbers, weatherboarding and inner lining are all of wood. The roofing, too, is of shingles cut from the same tree, and after it was all finished there were 60,000 shingles left.—Philadelphia Ledger.

None but the Deaf Girl Understood.

It doesn't always pay to express your inmost thought even guardedly in the presence of deaf mutes.

A devoted couple who, apparently, had been long separated, were thrust into each other's company at a largely attended reception. The lady who told the story said that she was present in company with an educated deaf girl. The happy reunited pair displayed fully the thoughts that were in their hearts by the beam upon their countenances. Suddenly the young man drew near to the one he adored, and said in a low tone, inaudible to those about him, a few seemingly affectionate words.

The deaf girl watched the proceedings with intensest interest, and suddenly broke into a broad grin. Her companion inquired what it was that amused her. She turned about so that the couple could not see her and replied:

"That man said, 'If all these people were not here I'd kiss you. If they don't get out of the way pretty soon I shall have to do it before them.' The girl replied, 'Then I shall scream.'"

The deaf girl understood the words by the motion of their lips.—Boston Evening Record.

Queen Victoria's Favorite Apple.

In Montgomery county, Virginia, on an extensive plateau of a spur of the Blue Ridge, an apple is raised that in size, symmetry and flavor can only be surpassed, if surpassed at all, by the genuine Albemarle pippin. Unfortunately, it would seem that the real home of this last most delicious fruit it limited to a small area around Rockfish Gap, partly in Albemarle and partly in Nelson county. More than forty years ago a barrel or two of the Albemarle pippins were sent as a present to Queen Victoria, and from that day to this it is the favorite apple at her court.—Lynchburg News.

A High Roller.

A country couple, newly married, went to a Boston restaurant the other day, and the groom called for some wine. When asked what kind, he replied:

"We want that kind of wine where the cork busts out and the stuff begins to bile and keeps on bilin' till you get the worth of your money."—Boston Post.

A Noble Resolve.

"Why," asked the friend of the lady from Boston, "why did she marry so illiterate a person?"

"To reform him," said the other friend of the lady from Boston. "She told me that it should be her sacred duty to devote her life to reclaiming him from his habit of using the singular verb with the plural noun."—Indianapolis Journal.

Sisterly Admiration.

A raw Scotch lad joined the Volunteers, and on the first parade day his sister came with is mother to see the regiment.

On the march-past Jock was out of step.

"Look, mither," said his sister, "they're a' oot of step but our Jock!"—Answers.

The Place For Him.

The remarkable youthfulness of Mr. Chamberlain's appearance has given rise to many distinctly amusing stories.

In the days when the Colonial Secretary was a member of Mr. Gladstone's Administration, he had occasion to cross the Irish Sea on a day when the steamer was overcrowded, and there were not berths for all. He was attended by a private secretary, with a beard, who picked acquaintance with a Scotchman. The latter made a suggestion for the distribution of the party on the principle of age before honors

"You and I, mon," he said, "will occupy the berths, and the wee laddie"—indicating the distinguished statesman—"can just lie himself down on the floor."—Answers.

WORK OF THE Y. M C. A.

PRESIDENT MURRAY'S ANNUAL REVIEW OF ASSOCIATION'S EFFORTS.

The Record Has Been a Good One During the Ten Years That He Has Been at the Head of This Institution.

The following is the annual report made by W. D. Murray, president of the Young Men's Christian Association, last night:

Ten years ago this month you first asked me to be your President and each year you have renewed your request. They have been ten good years to me, and I rejoice that this opportunity of service has come to me. Looking back over these years we cannot see that any great change has taken place in our Association. For this we should be truly grateful, for to this fact is due in no large measure whatever of success we have had. It is the steady, persistent, often monotonous, doing of each little duty, day by day, month by month, and year by year, that is bound to triumph. It is keeping everlastingly at it that brings success.

Of course our membership has changed greatly but the controlling ideas and methods of work are the same tonight as they were ten years ago. We have not hesitated to adopt new methods—when they seem better than the old, but we were fortunate in coming very early in our existence to see just what the work of the Young Men's Christian Association should be. During these ten years we have had the same general secretary, though during the same period every Association in the State has changed its general secretary. We ought to be glad that a man so well equipped as Mr. Murray has continued with us so long. May we not during the next ten years rally more heartily to support and show by our deeds that we appreciate his self-sacrifice in behalf of our young men?

Many of those who were on our Board of Directors ten years ago are there now, two or three of them men who thirty years ago helped organize the Association and who through times of depression and exaltation have had an abiding faith in this work. This, too, is cause for thankfulness.

It is not strange that our record has been a good one, and our friends will pardon a little boasting tonight. Nor should it cause surprise to know that during these years the people of Plainfield have contributed $32,886 for our current expenses and have given us this well-equipped building costing $55,000. The acquisition of this permanent home has been, perhaps, the most noteworthy event of the decade.

It was just ten years ago that we began to agitate the building question, and a committee was appointed on February 2d, 1888. The first call for subscriptions was made in May, 1889. In 1890, the extension of Watchung avenue began to trouble us, and for a while we ceased our efforts. Work was actually begun April 3d, 1893, and the corner stone was laid on June 20th of the same year. After tedious delays the building was finished in 1895, and we moved in on the 12th day of February in that year.

And now for the tenth time I render my report for the year just closing. Our religious work has, as ever, been kept to the front. We deem this our most important department. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God," applies to the Young Men's Christian Associations as well as to individuals, and were it not for the manifest influence which this Association is exerting upon the spiritual lives of young men of Plainfield, I am confident that many of us who are giving our time, energy and money to this work would seek other fields of labor. It will be a sad day for this Association when she turns away her great double opportunity of leading sinners to Christ and of teaching Christian men their duty to their non Christian fellowmen. I am, I believe, as familiar as anyone with this Association, and I can not see that there is any present danger of this spostacy. God grant that there may never be. Our Gospel meetings were never stronger, and the amount of personal work being done was never greater. Fifty men's meetings were held during the past year with an average attendance of 78. In these meetings we have reason to believe that men have been converted, and as a result we know of some who have united with the churches of the city.

Three Bible classes have been maintained with a fairly good attendance. It may be indicative of the position the Bible holds among us to remember that one of these classes was taught by the general secretary, one by the physical director and the other by the president. For a part of the year a boy's Bible class was conducted by

A VICIOUS PRISONER.

PIVEROTTA TRIED ITO BRAIN A DEPUTY ISHERIFF WITH A BOWL.

Raised Such a Distnrbance By Howling in His Cell That Nearby Residents Made a Complaint About the Hideous Noise

The most troublesome prisoner in the Somerset county jail at present is Guiseppe Piverotta, the Italian who was convicted of atrocious assault with intent to kill. It will be remembered that he assaulted his wife and left her for dead with her head fearfully cut and lacerated. He was convicted and is now waiting for sentence.

Piverotta is a large Italian with a bad temper. He has been confined with the other prisoners and allowed during the day to have the use of the main corridor with them. At night, of course, he is locked in his cell.

One night this week he became excited over no apparent reason and howled and sung throughout the evening. The people who live in the vicinity of the jail became so annoyed at his continued disturbances that that they came to Deputy-Sheriff Theodore Barkalew and complained. Barkalew went to the cell door to stop, if possible, the noise.

"Get into your hole and stop this noise," he called at the prisoner who was executing an Italian war dance of the latest approved character. A howl of rage was the only reply and then the Italian within the cell let fly a large earthen bowl at the barred outlet in the cell door. The bowl crashed against the bars and broke into a thousand pieces while the Deputy-Sheriff stepped about in a lively manner not expected of one of his years. A tin cup followed and then came a long string of imprecations. The prisoner finally quieted down and disturbed the neighborhood no longer.

The o her day, this same prisoner informed the Deputy-Sheriff that he wanted to go home to Raritan to see his "wifie" and get a white shirt. The Deputy vouchsafed the reply that the next new shirt the prisoner received would be a striped one of the livery of the State prison at Trenton.

THE BOROUGH PRINCIPAL

PROF. H. P. WIGHTMAN TO SUCCEED DR. A. D. WARDE.

The New Principal is President of the High School Teachers' Association of New Jersey—A Well-Known Educator.

A change is to be made in the principalship of the North Plainfield Public School. Dr. A. D. Warde, the present principal, who has brought the school up to its present state of excellence, will be succeeded by Prof. H. P. Wightman. Prof. Wightman now holds the respnsible position of superintendent of schools in Vineland, N. J., and is also president of the High School Teachers' Association of New Jersey.

The Board of Education of North Plainfield came to this decision at a meeting held Wednesday night. Yesterday, Prof. Wightman was communicated with and accepted the offer. Today, the announcement is made of the change.

Mr. Wightman is a highly educated man. He is not only well educated, but he knows how to impart it to others, a valuable trait for a principal or teacher. He has the reputation of being very thorough in all that he undertakes and his schools in Vineland are of a high standard of excellence. He comes to Plainfield very highly recommended by the best authorities in the State. Socially, he is a modest genial gentleman, who knows the difference between the schoolroom and the drawing-room and is yet courteous at all times.

A Unique Room.

Edward White has added to the attractions of his store a beautiful collection of antique Turkish rugs. They are on exhibition in the carpet department. They have furnished a corner in the department to represent a Turkish room, the ceiling and sidewalls are covered with antique bagdad portierres and rugs and the floor is covered with choice Shireum Kilem and Daghastan rugs. 'Tis a beautiful display and well worth seeing.

Culvert Caved In.

The water backed up at the corner of Watchung avenue and East Fifth street yesterday during the storm and Street Commissioner Gavett sent two men to clean out the culvert which was supposed to be blocked. It was found that the sides of the culvert had caved in and thus blocked it. The necessary repairs were made at once and the water drained off from the neighboring gutters.

CAUGHT BY FOOTPRINTS.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR BURGLARIES IN THE BOROUGH.

They Were Seen by Marshal Kliner and When the Latter Went Home He Found They Had Looted His Own House.

Between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock this morning two houses were entered in Prideville by thieves and within a few hours from that time two men were arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime. The men arrested are Dennis Murray and John Newman, both this city. Murray was captured by Patrolman McCue on West Front street, just as he was about to leave for Westfield, while Neuman was arrested by Roundsman Flynn on Liberty street as he was coming out of a saloon. The ground for suspicion is that the two men were seen coming from a barn in Prideville at early hour by Marshal Kliner, and around the houses which were entered were foot-steps which tallied with the shoes worn by the two men.

The homes of Marshal Kliner and John Ryman were entered and an attempt was made to gain an entrance into David Allen's house which is near by. The marshal's house is located on Chestnut street, and at this place a large haul was made, consisting of three silver watches, a pair of gold earrings and a pair of silver earrings, about $10 in money and a pan of biscuit. Mrs. Kliner did not return until 1 o'clock and up to that time everything was quiet. The marshal was on duty in the borough and that district is out of his territory. The men entered the house from a window and secured their plunder before they were detected by anyone, and in fact the articles were not missed until Mr. Kliner reached home.

The next place entered was that of John Ryman, who is employed by Mayor Wilson. Mr. Ryman did not return home very early, but when he did he found that someone had been in the house who did not belong there. On investigation it was learned that a silver watch was missing, also a large cake.

It was near 6 o'clock when Marshal Kliner was returning home and saw these two men, and he remarked that if he did not know them he would be inclined to arrest them as suspicious characters. The men laughed and passed on. A little later the marshal reached home and learned what had taken place. He returned to the home of Chief Marshal Wilson at once and informed him of the theft and immediately word was sent to the police on this side. The latter instituted a search at once for the men. As told above Patrolman McCue found Murray in a wagon on West Front street, and the latter said that he was going to Westfield. The patrolman took charge of him and locked him up. A little later Roundsman Flynn detected Newman going into a saloon on Liberty street. Newman saw the officer and took occasion to dodge the latter by entering the saloon. The officer not desiring to arouse suspicion went into Claassen's barber shop near by, and in a few minutes Newman came along. He was arrested and also put in the lockup.

Immediately afterward Chief Marshal Wilson was notified and appeared at the station-house in company with Chief Grant and after producing his papers took charge of the two men and escorted them to the borough lockup where they were given a hearing.

It will be remembered that Newman is the man who recently engaged in a fight with Nicholas Kelly in West End, and he is considered one of the most troublesome men in that section of town. He is a noted character and bears a bad name.

Special Endeavor Service.

A special service will be held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church in the lecture room this evening. The meeting will be conducted by the Senior and Junior Societies and members of both will take part. The meeting will be led by Mrs. W. S. Lowry, superintendent of the Juniors.

Streets to be Repaired

There has been considerable interest expressed as to what streets are to be repaired this spring after Central avenue is finished. It is the intention of the street committee of the Council to have Front street, both east and west, put in good condition. The committee wish to have it re-macadamized from Clinton avenue to Farragut road, if the appropriation to that department will stand it. Last year, the committee promised to put Crescent and Putnam avenues in good condition but as the appropriation was insufficient to last through the year, that work had to lay over for another year. The committee will turn their attention to those thoroughfares very soon.

GRACEFULSTEPSDANCED

THE CLOSING RECEPTION OF MISS DAVENPORT'S DANCING CLASS.

The Pupils Exhibited Their Training by Executing Pretty Steps and Movements—Attended by Many Society People

One of the most pleasing events of the season was that of last evening, when the dancing class, of which Miss Maude Davenport, of Somerville, has charge, held its closing reception for the year at the Park Club. Most of the members of the class are residents of Washington Park and they are all young people. The class has enjoyed a very successful season, and the event of last evening was in every way a social triumph.

The cozy club-house was filled with relatives and friends of the class, and included a great many older members of the club. Miss Davenport had full charge of the reception and she was assisted at the piano by Miss Case, of Somerville, who played for the class dances, and Prof. Garland, of New Brunswick, who played while the guests enjoyed the privileges of the floor.

After the arrival of the guests the members of the class entered while a march was being played and selected partners for a two-step. At the conclusion of this the lanciers was danced and then the first number on the programme was presented. It was entitled a dance of four The participants, Miss Rita Pond, Miss Adelaide Howard, Orville Waring and Morgan Townsend, were dressed in peasant costumes. It was a very pretty dance and every movement was attended with grace and precision; in fact, it was so well given that it received a hearty encore, which was responded to. This was followed with an attractive fancy dance by Miss Dora Waring, which won generous applause. The next number was a fancy dance by Miss Lulu Kuhn, of Somerville, who is a member of Miss Davenport's class at that place. The movements were novel and exceedingly well executed.

A very amusing number on the programme followed. It was a jig by Douglass Waring. He was dressed as a page and the clever manner in which he gave the dance was the occasion for an encore. The last number was a minuet by Miss Waring and Orville Waring. This dance was one of the best of the evening and won hearty applause from all. Interspersing the above numbers the guests were given an opportunity to enjoy several dances.

A pleasing feature occurred at the close when the prizes were awarded to the members of the class. The first prize for waltzing was presented to Miss Rita Pond, while Miss Ethel King secured second honors. The first prize was a silver bicycle plate, and the second a hand-painted cologne bottle. For young men, William Townsend won first honors, a hand-painted clock, and a silver-mounted hat brush was presented to Harry Curtis as a second prize. At this time a great surprise was given Miss Davenport when she was presented with a very handsome hand-painted case for comb and brush, and Miss Case, the pianist, received a handsome hand-painted plate. The presentations were made by G. D. Halleck and his remarks were exceedingly appropriate and pleasing. The gifts received by Miss Davenport and Miss Case were presents from the class as tokens of esteem.

Those who did not take part in the fancy dances but who are members of the class are Miss Margaret McCutchen, Miss Elizabeth Curtis, Miss Phillips, Miss Adelaide Reed, John Hull, Aubrey Hull, Aubrey Crowe and Arthur Reed.

At the close of the reception Miss Davenport was the recipient of many congratulations for her earnest and excellent work with the class.

The Naval Reserve.

The ambulance corps of the New Jersey Naval Reserve, which makes its headquarters in this city, under the charge of Dr. M. S. Simpson, held a drill at the Irving Public School, Wednesday evening. The members practiced carrying wounded men on stretchers over obstacles. The cruise of the New Jersey Naval Reserve will be held during the last week in July and the first week in August. All the members are expected to go for one week at least and then those who care to can for the two weeks. It is understood that the Reserve will be able to pay the men this year. It was expected to pay them last year but the appropriation was not large enough.

Change in K. of P. Officers.

At the meeting of Unity Lodge, K. of P., held Wednesday evening, A. B. Dunavan, who has held the position of keeper of records and seals, resigned. His place was filled by the election of Frank Putnam. Following the business part of the meeting a smoker was enjoyed by the members.

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY

AMATEUR ATHLETICS TO PROVIDE GOOD SPORT TOMORROW.

The Events to Take Place at the Crescent Wheelmen's Track—Scholastic Cracks are Entered in Many of the Contests.

The High School boys of Plainfield will hold their semi-annual field day at the Crescent Oval, tomorrow afternoon, if the weather is good. The field day has now become a regular event in the city and is usually largely attended by the parents and friends of the school boys. In order to offer suitable medals the boys are compelled to depend on their friends for financial support in this way, and it is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance. Those who do go need not feel that it is merely to help the High School association out, for the promoters will offer some excellent sport. H. E. Manvel, of Pingry's School, the best of the scholastic runners in this part of the country, will be here and will make an effort to break the quarter mile scholastic record of 54 3 5 seconds, made by C. Irwin Martin, formerly of Berkeley School, but now of Harvard College. The best athletic talent in the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association will take part in the different events and Plainfield itself will have a good representation. Stages will be run to the grounds, starting from the North Avenue station and the corner of Park and North avenues. Ample provision will be made at the grounds to check the wheels of all the patrons who care to ride their wheels there. The admission to the games will be twenty-five cents, which includes admission to the grand stand.

COULD NOT PROVE THEFT

BROUGHT FROM SOUTH JERSEY AND TURNED LOOSE WITHOUT A CENT.

An Honest Man Wrongly Accused of Stealing John Simpson's Money—Justice Nash Declared the Arrest to be an Outrage.

One man in South Jersey has lost his good opinion of Plainfield, his former home. He was suddenly charged with robbing a former friend, brought to Plainfield, but as there was no evidence against him, he was turned loose during a rain storm without a cent of money to get home. But for the kindness of his former employer, who loaned him sufficient funds to get a ticket, he might be here yet.

Sometime ago, John Simpson, who was employed as coachman for Marshall Bagin, of Clinton avenue, lost over $100, which he claimed had been removed from the trunk in his room It happened that soon after its disappearance, a man who was employed at another house in the vicinity as coachman, left his position and went to the southern part of the state. Simpson laid the theft to the departed one and was on the lookout for him.

It was finally learned that the man they wanted was at Penn's Grove, Salem county, where he was employed as coachman by a prominent resident of that community. Constable Mattox went there to see about it and the man was willing to come here and explain that he was not implicated in the theft. Mattox made another trip there, yesterday afternoon, after conferring with Simpson, and late in the afternoon brought the man here.

The alleged theft was committed in Middlesex county, just across the line, but the man was brought before Justice Nash, to whose office also came Simpson.

The Justice absolutely refused to have anything to do with the matter, and after he learned that the only evidence was that the man had happened to leave town at the same time that the money left Simpson's trunk, he ordered them all away and declared the entire affair an outrage.

Finding that they could not hold the man, he was turned loose to shift for himself, and, as the rain was falling, the outlook was not a pleasant one. He had been brought here by the constable who had paid his fare at the expense of Simpson, but he had no money to take him home. The constable and Simpson had no money for him, they said, and so he tramped out Clinton avenue to see his former employer, and managed to borrow enough to take him back to Penn's Grove again.

All Open Cars Soon to Run.

The old open cars of the Plainfield Street Railway are being prepared for the summer season. Last week, the foreman made the change of the trucks from the closed car, No. 4, to the open car, No. 9, in one day, which is the fastest time in which it has yet been accomplished. The trucks have now been transferred from closed car No. 1. to open car No. 8, and the latter car is out for duty today.

THREE DECADES OF LIFE

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING LAST NIGHT.

All Reports Showed the Affairs of the Association to be in a Thrifty Condition—W. D. Murray Chosen President Again.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield has passed through the third decade of its existance, and now stands a flourishing institution. This same Association has now been continued for another year under the charge of the same men who have made it so successful in the past. For the last ten years the same man has stood at the head of the Association and done much to aid its growth. He has again been selected to preside over the Association.

The annual meeting of the Association was held in the hall last evening. Previous to the meeting, a bountiful dinner was given to the members of the various committees in the small hall. There was a fair attendance at the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, W. D. Murray, and then Rev. J. O. McKelvey led in Scripture reading and prayer. A. B. Beers, recording secretary, read the minutes of the last annual meeting. A nominating committee, composed Nelson Runyon, J. A. Powlison, George Fuller, A. C. Maclay, R. H. Radford and O. W. Dunham, was appointed and withdrew to one of the small rooms to make the nominations.

President Murray then introduced an amendment to the constitution which had been suggested and approved by the Board of Directors. The substance of it was the changing of the date of the annual meeting from the second Thursday in May to the third Thursday in January. The president explained that the financial year of the association ended with the calendar year and that it seemed best to have the association year end at about the same time. The amendment was unanimously carried.

The report of the educational committee was called for and then made by the chairman of the committee, Stephen Cahoone. He reported on the different courses now under way. The second year of the course in mechanical drawing has been completed, he reported, and it has been found to be a very excellent one. A number of the young men employed in the different shops in the city have taken advantage of it and although several have given up, it merely shows how rigorous the course is and that it is necessary to work to complete it.

In the stenographic department, six young men have complered the course this year. Bookkeeping with its auxiliary studies has been taken up by a number of pupils under competent instructors. The German class has been somewhat handicapped by the change in teachers, but the new teacher, Rev. Mr. Hauser, is making good progress with the class. The attendance for the year has been eleven. The Spanish class has been continued with an average attendance of four.

In the reading room, he reported, there are forty-one publications on file. There is also a Bible reference library of 131 volumes. The old library, he reported as almost useless, but that a distributing depot of the Public Library had been established at the building, so that the members could get such books as they wanted from that collection. This report was received and placed on file.

H. O. Newman, the treasurer of the association, read his report, which was as follows:

The Representatives of the Powers Renew the Demand For an Armistice—Turkey Still Refuses to Comply.

Uprising In Macedonia.

Athens, May 14.—The government has proclaimed the gulf of Volo blockaded. It is sending large orders for horses and munitions of war to various European cities.

According to dispatches received here, the Greek forces are besieging Nicopolis and Prevesa.

Another Conference of Embassadors.

Constantinople, May 14.—The foreign embassadors held another conference, after which Baron de Calice, the Austro-Hungarian embassador, called upon Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister of foreign affairs, and renewed the proposal of an armistice which was formerly presented. The opinion is general in Turkish circles that until the occupation of Domokos, which is momentarily expected, the porte cannot grant an armistice.

Reported Uprising In Macedonia.

London, May 14.—A dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Athens says that Greeks who arrived there from Damia report a Macedonian rising in the district between Seifdze and Koziani, while The Times, an Athens evening paper, states that there has been a rising in central Macedonia; that 4,000 insurgents have captured the pass forming a part of the principal lines of communication of the Turkish army; that they are advancing toward Elassona and are preparing to unite forces with the bands under Daveli, Zermas and other Macedonian chiefs.

The Athens correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says:

"M. Ralli, who visited the captured Turkish steamer Georgios on her arrival here, informed me that the government has decided to treat the vessel as a prize of war and to utilize her as a transport ship. Mabrouk Fahmy, Ibrahim Rouchoi, Abdullah Forkri and Ahmed Hamoud, all of whom are officers of the khedive's household, denied that they had any knowledge that there were arms aboard and declared that they believed the boxes contained preserves, as they were so disguised. Later, however, Abdullah admitted that he knew the contents of the boxes, but said there was no intention to use them against the Greek army, as they were designed to pacify the disaffected population of the island of Thasos.

"M. Ralli gave instructions that they be taken to Nauplion as prisoners and to be well treated. They all testified to the kindness of their captors.

"I accompanied him on board after they had left and had a delightful moonlight sail. We visited the admiral of the American ironclad San Francisco before returning to Athens. M. Ralli had neither ate nor slept since the day before.

"There has been no real attack by the Greek fleet upon Prevesa, but only a bombardment to facilitate the landing of troops. The Turkish fortresses at Nicopolis and Prevesa fired now on the fleet and now landward, proving that the Greek army is advancing. One afternoon Helen Constantinidis entered the engagement.

"Telegraphic communications have been cut off between Prevesa and Janina, and the Turks have retired to Palasocastro.

"The action of the fleet enabled 3,000 volunteers to land on the Louros side, and the Greek gunners destroyed several convoys bound for Prevesa."

Greece Still Arming.

London, May 14.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Mail says that the government continues to send men to the front and is purchasing large quantities of war material.

Serious Fight With Negroes.

San Augustine, Tex., May 14.—Two negroes on the farm of George and Felix Johnson, white, went to the latter's house and renewed a quarrel previously begun. Other members of the Johnson family interfered. When the fight ended, it was found that Theodore Noales was suffering from two gunshot wounds. He died in a short time. George Johnson was struck on the head with a gun. He is insensible and his condition precarious. Aaron Johnson was wounded in three places. Felix Johnson was shot in the arm and leg. William White, one of the two attacking negroes, had his skull fractured and was also shot through the body. A posse is searching for his son, the other negro, who is also wounded.

Horrible Boiler Explosion.

Louisville, May 14.—A dispatch from Tiptonville, Ky., says: A sawmill boiler exploded on Reelfoot river, several miles from here, killing Ed Patterson and Dink Hodges, white, and two colored men whose names could not be learned. Three other men were terribly mangled and will die. One man was blown to pieces and the fragments scattered for 200 yards. The mill was a small portable affair and had just located on the river. It is said the water was run into the boiler while the boiler was too hot.

Extensive Assignment In Detroit.

Detroit, May 14.—John B. Dyar, for 30 years a successful business man of this city, gave bills of sale transferring over $200,000 worth of property and securities to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors. Mr. Dyar has been prominently connected with several large local enterprises. For the past year he has been securing franchises and arranging to build an electric railroad from Detroit to Port Huron. The latter enterprise is what is believed to have caused his embarrassment.

General Porter Arrives.

Paris, May 14.—General Horace Porter, the American embassador to France, has arrived here. He was received by prominent members of the American colony, among them General Winslow, with whom he will temporarily reside.

Weather Predictions.

Generally fair, except showers near the coast; southerly winds.

MAN AND WIFE POISONED.

Partook of Bread Made From Flour Supposed to Contain Arsenic.

Somersworth, N. H., May 14.—The authorities here are investigating a poisoning case which has just come to light. James Swinturn, a farmer, 60 years old, and his housekeeper, Lillian Goodwin, a woman of 35, are lying seriously ill at the residence of Edward Copeland near here, their cases having grown steadily worse since they were first taken ill, about six weeks ago.

Poisoning was not suspected until the limbs of the patients became paralyzed and a consultation of physicians was held. City Physician Thomas J. Dougherty and Drs. Noyes, Grant and Price, who attended them, determined that the man and woman must have taken arsenic at different times.

Part of a barrel of flour which they had used was in the Copeland house. They made some bread, and soon after eating it both Mr. and Mrs. Copeland were taken ill, but they soon recovered. This led the physicians to take possession of the flour, and it will be analyzed.

The authorities have been notified, and they are now looking for a man who at one time called on Miss Goodwin frequently, and who, it is said, on one occasion, upon meeting Swinturn and Miss Goodwin together, drew a knife and threatened to use it.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Jersey City's tax collector has begun seizing property of delinquent taxpayers.

A dozen women of rank and fashion were caught in a police raid in a Belgian gaming house.

There was a general and sudden frost at Yonne, France, destroying the crops of vines, fruit and vegetables.

Mrs. R. G. Thompson's little son leaped from her arms through a second story window and was killed in Brooklyn.

Michael Driscol of Springfield, Mass., was killed in the D. and H. depot at Albany. The man was struck by an engine, and both legs were severed.

Havemeyer and Searles, who are in contempt of the senate, will be tried at Washington on Monday. The senate referred the Allen resolution referring to the Chapman case.

The house of John W. Free, on Wildey street, Tarrytown, N. Y., was struck by lightning in a thunderstorm. Mr. Free was knocked down and paralyzed for some time. His family were severely shocked.

Natural gas which promises to be superior both as to quality and quantity to any Pacific coast wells has been struck in San Francisco, and the total supply from the well is estimated at 100,000 feet daily.

Asking Aid For India.

Lansing, Mich., May 14.—An emissary from India, carrying the name and title of V. R. Gaudhi, B. A., M. R. A. S., and attired in a purple gown with a yellow turban and sash, called on Governor Pingree for the purpose of enlisting his aid in obtaining relief for the starving millions in his native country. The governor expressed sympathy for the distressed for whom the emissary pleaded and said he would issue a proclamation calling the attention of the people of Michigan to their condition, urging all who can spare to give at least a mite. The senate has extended to Mr. Gaudhi the privilege.

Killed by a Live Wire.

Nanticoke, Pa., May 14.—Albert Cooper, a well known young man of 17 years, of a prominent family, was returning home, when some boys who were toying with a hanging electric wire dared him to take hold of it. He seized the wire and instantly received a shock which laid him out insensible and from which he died a few minutes later. An excited crowd gathered, and an inquest is to be held. The family is overcome with grief, and one of his sisters has been lying unconscious since the fatality.

To Erect a Building For Charity.

Paris, May 14.—The Gaulois announces that Count Castellane has written a letter to Baron Mackau informing him that the countess has decided, in memory of her mother, to devote 1,000,000 francs to the purchase of a site and the erection of a building to be used for all kinds of charitable purposes.

Ravages of the Plague.

London, May 14.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Bombay says that the bubonic plague is making fearful ravages in the Cutchmandvi district, where there have been 2,000 deaths in a fortnight. Half the population has fled.

Fatal Powder Explosion.

Cincinnati, May 14.—There was an explosion at the powder mills of the A. L. Duc Fireworks company at Reading, O. The loss was only $300. Samuel Sherboll was fatally injured.

Ry. here, says: 'I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. Rheumatism Cured in 24 Hours.

T. J. Blackmore, of Haller & Blackmore, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of 'Mystic Cure.' It got me out of the house in twenty-four hours. I took to my bed with Rheumatism nine months ago and the 'Mystic Cure' is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know the 'Mystic Cure' to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers." Sold by T. S. Armstrong, druggist, corner Park and North avenues, Plainfield.

—Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, Knights of Pythias, will hold a meeting this evening. The second rank will be conferred on one candidate.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—Justice Nash has issued summons in the case of Harding against Finnessey, demand for premises, returnable on the 19th.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and Consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church is arranging for a strawberry sociable to be given in a few weeks.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

(From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.)

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her so much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Paughcaughnaughsinque tribe of the Improved Order of Red Men held a meeting on Wednesday evening. No business of importance was transacted.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

BLACK SIGNS BILLS.

Some New and Important New York State Laws.

THE REVISION OF VILLAGE STATUTES

The Code Affecting Labor Is Amended. Violations of the Weekly Payment Clause Made a Penal Offense—Senator Lexow on the Trusts.

Albany, May 14.—Governor Black has signed a bill affecting every village in the state and which has been two years in preparation. It is a general revision of village laws and provides that an enumeration of the inhabitants of each village shall be taken under direction of the board of trustees in the month of January, 1898, and in the same month each fourth year thereafter. This enumeration is taken for the purpose of establishing under which classification the village shall come.

The new law is to take effect July 1. Some essential changes are those dividing the villages into first, second, third and fourth class—first class containing a population of 5,000 or more; second class, 3,000, but less than 5,000; third class, 1,000, but less than 3,000; fourth class less than 1,000.

A village of the first class shall have not less than two nor more than eight trustees, second class not less than two nor more than six, third class not less than two nor more than four and fourth class two trustees. The term of office of each trustee shall be two years, one-half of the number in each board being elected every year. All of the trustees in office when this law takes effect shall continue in office till the first Monday after the third Tuesday of March. The bill also provides for the election of trustees by wards, the proposition being adopted by the people.

The office of police justice and assessor shall continue for the term for which they were formerly elected. The bill also provides for trustees to act as assessors, or the board may appoint of its number a committee for that purpose.

It also provides for separate boards of fire, water, light, sewer and cemetery commissioners.

New Labor Law.

Governor Black has also signed the new labor law, a codification of the present labor laws, with some few amendments, and the accompanying bill providing that infringement of the laws by manufacturing establishments and employers shall be penal offenses instead of mere misdemeanors. One of the most important parts of the new law is the amending of the weekly payment law to make it more stringent. Heretofore it has been found difficult to enforce the law, because the actions against corporations who violate had to be brought by the state factory inspector through the attorney general to recover for the state the penalty of $25 for each violation. The present law provides that if a corporation violates the law requiring weekly payments it shall forfeit to each employee the sum of $25, to be recovered by him in individual civil suit against the company. There is no penalty now for the refusal of the proprietor of any factory or workshop to allow the factory inspector to visit the establishment, but the present bill provides a penalty of $100 for such refusal. The bill provides for a free employment bureau to be established in Buffalo similar to the one in New York city.

Lexow and the Antitrust Law.

Senator Clarence Lexow, who introduced and secured the passage of the so called antitrust bills, is in the city. He said: "I am assured that the attorney general's office will act promptly under the new law and that their efficiency will soon be attested. It is a curious fact that the most important feature of the bills has been overlooked. The bill compelling foreign stock companies to file annual reports the same as domestic corporations would not, if that was its only provision, be of much inconvenience to the foreign trusts doing business, but there is a clause making personally liable for all infringements of the laws of the state relative to combinations all or any director, officer or stockholders. Heretofore, by incorporating in New Jersey and only having agencies in this state, it was difficult to prosecute them and sometimes impossible."

"Will not other states, by passing retaliatory measures, injure New York corporations?" was asked.

"They might, if it was not a fact that this is the great market of the world and the majority of our corporations do their greatest business here. I believe many of the states will copy our laws."

Poison Said to Have Been Found.

Norwich, Conn., May 14.—Coroner Brown has received a communication from State Chemist Smith in connection with the case of Ebenezer Sholes, various organs of whose body Professor Smith has been examining, with a view to ascertaining if possible the cause of Sholes' sudden death on Saturday last. The coroner refuses to disclose the character of the communication, but it is stated on high authority that the chemist discovered traces of poisoning. Coroner Brown has been closeted with State Attorney Lucas, and interesting developments are expected.

Damage by Lightning.

Nyack, N. Y., May 14.—Lightning did considerable damage in Rockland county. Part of the vestibule of St. Ann's Catholic church was shattered, and Rev. Father Crosby was badly shocked. Miss Kate Cooke, a young lady of upper Nyack, had an arm rendered useless by the lightning. Many electric light poles and large trees were shattered.

Strange Suicide.

Buffalo, May 14.—John Berkley, an inmate of the almshouse, committed suicide at the penitentiary in an unusual manner. Berkley sat on his bed, tied a handkerchief around his neck, fastened one end of the bedpost and then, putting his hands behind his head, forced it forward until he was strangled to death.

Senator Chapman Dead.

Milwaukee, May 14.—Senator Chandler P. Chapman, former adjutant general of Wisconsin, died suddenly of paralysis. He distinguished himself during Governor Rusk's administration by suppressing the Milwaukee riots.

THE Y. M. C. A.

Be it said to the credit and liberality of Plainfielders that so worthy and desirable an institution as the Young Men's Christian Association has passed its third decade among them. The local Association is one particularly thrifty for a community the size of this, and now that it has reached a point in its growth and influence that makes it possible to hold out the inducements that it does to the young men of the city and borough, the natural consequence is that it attracts many by the simple fact of possessing these things. But this does not deter its executive and administrative officers from expending every effort that is possible to extend further its usefulness, as well the reports presented at the annual meeting last night, and summarized in this paper today, show. The Association is a public institution that Plainfield could ill afford not to possess.

OFFICES WERE DIVIDED.

Hunterdon county's new Board of Chosen Freeholders is a tie politically, ten members being Democrats and ten Republicans. When the board met for organization Wednesday Mr. Wright, a Democrat from Frenchtown, was detained by illness. A compromise was reached by which the offices were divided and everything passed off pleasantly.

A CATCHING BUSINESS.

The following taken from a Florida paper may also be applied to Elizabeth with strict regard for truth and propriety:

In the north they chase the anise bag and call it sport. Here we chase the mosquito and call it business.

WON'T WORK BOTH WAYS.

A contemporary says that "the best way to tell a mushroom from a toadstool is to eat it." This is all right. But it would not be safe to try to tell a toadstool from a mushroom in that way, says an exchange.

LAWYER RUNYON'S DISCOVERY

Found an Old Coat That Had Been Exchanged For His Good One.

Isaac P. Runyon, of the firm of Pope & Runyon, attorneys, who hang out their united shinkle on North avenue, made a discovery this morning. He did not discover the North Pole but he did find a coat that did not belong to him.

It will be remembered that several days ago some one visited the offices of this firm when they were absent on business and unkindly appropriated Runyon's new double breasted coat. Runyon is of a genial disposition, however, and he compassionately offered to give the thief the vest and trousers if he would only come after them.

This morning, Runyon moved the sofa that forms a portion of the furniture of the offices and saw a bundle under it. He investigated. It was a coat and he supposed that of course he had been made the victim of a practical joke and that here was his coat safe and sound. But it wasn't.

No Regard For Rights of Others.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—What can be done to make our Plainfield children honest and truthful? Since the shubbery has begun to bloom, scores of children, many, though not all of them, belonging to our public schools, slip through my gate, or climb over the fences and break down large limbs for the sake of carrying away the blossoms, and sometimes plants are stolen. If spoken to, many of them do not hesitato to deny what they have done. Much is done to instil patriotism and reverence for the flag in the hearts of our children, and this is well, but can we expect that boys and girls who steal flowers, and have no regard for the truth, will grow up to be honest and honorable and a benefit to the community? Ought not parents and teachers to consider this matter seriously and make great efforts to train the children while they are young to be strictly honest, and to respect the rights of others?

A Lover of Children.

Suddenly Prostrated.

Charles S. Tyson, aged seventy-six years, of 119 East Fifth street, while painting one of Daniel Dugan's houses on LaGrande avenue this morning, was taken suddenly ill with a fainting fit. He was picked up by T. R. Reilly, of LaGrande avenue, and taken to Keely's livery stable, where a hack was secured and the man was removed to his home. It is not considered that his illness is a serious one.

WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Under the efficient supervision of Mr. Haywood our physical department nas been a success. During the year, 195 men held memberships entitling them to the use of the gymnasium, 68 of whom had the $8 membership, showing that this is the attractive part of our building. The average monthly attendance at the classes has been as follows: Boys, 25; business men's, 14; men's evening class, 17; a total average attendance of 56. As a member of the business men's class, which meets at 5:30 p. m. three days every week, I want to commend it. Eighty-five physical examinations were made by the physical director.

In addition to class work, basketball teams have been organized and have played many games. Volley ball has also been introduced and a number of gymnastic exhibitions have been given by our own members and by men from other Associations. A bowling alley has been maintained. Out door numerous bicycle runs have been had, and cycle clubs from other Associations have been entertained. Baseball and football received considable attention, but the results were far from good.

Along social lines we have done what we could. We began the year with a supper for committeemen, and called them together again later in the year to enjoy an outing and the hospitality of one of our sustaining members. At the building we had our usual open house on New Year's Day, and have had several social gatherings since. The reading room and parlor have been attractive places for young men. One of our citizens has recently given us a fine book-case and a number of good books. It would be acceptable to us if others would send in books which perhaps they have no further use for, but which are not yet out of date.

Our entertainments have been well attended and seem to have met a need. We have furnished seven evenings of music, recitations, lectures, etc., free to our members and at a small cost to others. It is pleasant to record that one of the best of these was an illustrated lecture on travel by one of our own directors.

More and more our building is proving its usefulness, as a centre of religious and philanthropic effort. Entirely outside our organization, the Primary Teachers' Union, the Managers of Children's Home, Local Y. P. S. C. E., the pastors of the city, the King's Daughters, Dr. Stearn's Bible Class and the Chinese Sunday-school have been given free use of parts of the building, and many charitable organizations have been glad for a small fee to have the use of our hall in which to hold money-making entertainments for themselves.

During the Christian Endeavor Convention our building was the headquarters. A branch of the Plainfield Public Library has recently been established here.

We have been able, as in former years, to render assistance on many occasions to other associations not as strong as we. It is gratifying to know that others look upon us as setting a good example of what a Young Men's Christian Association should be and come to us for help. We were well represented at the District and State Conventions, as well as at the Northfield Conference for Bible study.

Some idea of the size of our missionary work can be gathered from the fact that our people gave during the year nearly $1,800 to Young Men s Christian Association work outside of Plainfield.

One of our most important departments is our educational work. We have maintained seven classes in which eighty-two men have been enrolled. This work will be fully reported by the chairman of this committee.

Our fiscal year ends December 31st, but the treasurer reports $5,777.46 spent this year. It is encouraging to know that we closed last year without going into debt. Our budget for the present year is $6,862, of which $750 is interest on our debts of $12,000 on the building. But we are now trying to raise this money with a good prospect of success. We estimate that we should receive from membership fees $2,600, from rents $1,080, from smaller subscriptions $400 and that we shall have $2,782 to raise by subscriptions. It is right that we should give our members twice as much as they pay for, for we want them to feel that they are not merely members of a club, getting just what they pay for but workers in a Christian association of young men, and under obligations to the association.

Many other features of our work could be mentioned, but this report is already to long. In closing, therefore, will you not permit me to make a few suggestions of ways in which you can help this work for young men?

First: We need more Bible Study among our members, not only here, but at home. We will only be strong as we become filled with the word.

Second: I wonder how many of our members pray daily for those of us who are charged with the management of the affairs of the Association, and for those who can give the money we need to carry on our work. May I not make this special request of you, that this year you will pray earnestly to the great Leader of our work with these two things in minds.

Third: Can you not give more time and money to this work this year than you have during the past? The work needs you and many of you need the work.

L. page 36), the sum of seven thousand dollars; for the maintenance of a fire department to be under the control and government of said city, the sum of sixteen thousand dollars; and in addition to the foregoing, a license fee of two dollars to be paid by the owner of every dog within the City of Plainfield.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

During the last six years there has been constant application of my anæsthetic in my dental offices, and although during all that time there have been numberless patients treated in difficult and in delicate operations, this anæsthetic has never failed to relieve—and in fact remove pain. There are no unfavorable after effects.

Thursday of each week is special extracting day, when reductions from regular rates will be made. Thursday evening office hours from 7:30 to 10.

Special rates will be made to patients from out of town.

The following widely-known professional men of Plainfield heartily endorse this method: M. B. Long, M. D., ex-president County Medical Board; D. C. Adams, M. D.; Henry M. Lowrie, M. D.

Although S. S. White's materials—the best—are alone used in all my dental work, the prices for making and repairing plates, and for gold crown work, are much lower than is usual for the best.

For a long time the sidewalk on the west side of Taylor's hotel has been in an almost impassable condition, especially after a rain storm when the water would lay there for days. But now, through the kindness of Mr. Taylor, the walk has been raised with the use of ashes, and now the walk is passable to pedestrians.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. PASSING COMMENT.

Rev. George Hauser, pastor of the German Reformed church, in conversation with a Daily Press representative a few days ago, related a most singular coincident which was brought to his mind by the recent executions at Somerville. Mr. Hauser said that he had on two different occasions officiated at executions as a spiritual adviser, and it was on one occasion that the circumstances which he relates occurred. The condemned man had, a few days before his execution, been visited by his sister who gave her brother a five cent piece with which to purchase tobacco. The money was placed in his pocket for a time, and while he was eating a meal one day he drew from his pocket the five cent piece. Absentmindedly the prisoner placed the money in his mouth, together with some of the food he was eating, and before he realized what had happened, he swallowed the money. Nothing more was thought of the incident until after the man had paid the death penalty. It was the condemned man's wish that his body be cremated, and it had previously been arranged that Mr. Hauser should have the ashes. This plan was carried out to the letter, and when the ashes were conveyed to Mr. Hauser he found the five cent piece. The latter said that the story might seem almost incredible but he could vouch for the truth of it.

—Charles Hummer and Charles Randolph have leased the store on East Front street formerly occupied by Swain, and in a few days they will open a feed store.

ROUGHING IT WAS TOUGH

WESTFIELD EMBRYO INDIAN SLAYERS RETURN TO THEIR HOMES.

Reading Yellow Covered Literature Was Responsible For Their Determination to go West and Fight the Red Skins.

Two Westfield youngsters, William Hodges and John MacIntyre, left their homes in this place Monday morning and started in the direction of Newark to hunt Indians and buffalos, and any other large game that came in their path. MacIntyre's nerve gave out on the way, and before evening he returned home. The Hodges boy was made of sterner stuff, however. He continued resolutely on the trail until he reached Newark. On Tuesday morning he was captured by the police of that city, and kept in custody until Wednesday morning. By this time his thirst for adventure had subsided somewhat. He was homesick, and promised to return to Westfield at once if released. On Wednesday afternoon he came home. The lad is now the hero of the hour among the village boys and conducts himself as befits a returned Indian fighter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crooks are spending a few days in Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Knight left yesterday on a trip to Washington, D. C.

Miss Apgar will teach music and drawing in the Westfield Public schools, next year.

Dr. Elmer Wherry, who has been visiting in this place, returned yesterday to New York city.

Miss Ella L. Ferris will give her musical in the Methodist church, Saturday evening, the 29th inst.

Rev. John W. Wherry, D. D., and family gave up their house on Central avenue today, and meved to Red Bank.

A strawberry festival and cake sale for the benefit of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be held tomorrow afternoon on the lawn of Charles N. Codding's residence on the Boulevard.

Dr. Alfred H. Scofield, of this place, and Miss Mary Louise Bragdon, will be married on Tuesday evening, May 25th, at the bride's home in New Albany, Ind. Dr. and Mrs. Scofield will be at home in Westfield after June 7th.

The funeral services of Mrs. Margaret Lewis, mother of Mrs. R. R. Sinclair and Mrs. George H. Brown, will be held at 7 o'clock this evening at the residence of R. R. Sinclair, on Elm street. Rev. W. H. Ruth, pastor of the M. E church, will officiate. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Fireside Council, Royal Arcanum, held its meeting in the council chamber last evening, and in addition to the regular business, entertained the members of Cranford Council in a body. Several visitors from councils in Milburn, Brooklyn and Springfield were also preeent. Grand Orator J. H. Rogers and other officers made some felicitous remarks. Among the visitors were Past Grand Regent Otis, Grand Regent W. H. Apgar, Grand Vice Regent L. A. Lightfoot, and Supreme Orator P. M. Charlock.

The Westfield Literary and Debating Society met in the Methodist church parlors, last evening. The resignation of Arthur S. Hurst as secretary was accepted, and W. V. Hoffman was elected to the office. An interesting debate took place upon the proposition: Resolved, That capital punishment is unnecessary, and therefore should be abolished." Those participating were William Bussing and Jacob Wahl for the affirmative, and for the negative Charles Foster. The judges awarded the debate to the negative. At its next meeting the society will debate the timely question, "Resolved, That the use of the county roads between Plainfield and Elizabeth for a trolley is injurious and and should not be allowed." Lyle Brittingham and Edward Morehouse will talk on the affirmative side, and R. Hoffman and William Ruth on the negative.

—The culvert at the corner of Grant avenue and South Second street was relieved of its surplus of mud and other refuse yesterday afternoon.

THE AMERICAN QUEEN COMPETITION.

A Columbia FREE!

A lady's Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, will be given to the winner in THE AMERICAN QUEEN competition, which will be open to all the subscribers to THE AMERICAN QUEEN until June 30, 1897. The Columbia, the standard bicycle of the world, has been selected for this competition, because the publishers of THE AMERICAN QUEEN are convinced that it is the best and that the woman who wins it would have it in preference to any other make.

The Columbia is now on exhibition at our store, and will remain on exhibition until June 30th, when the competition will close and the Columbia will be awarded to the fortunate winner.

The contest will remain open until June 30, inaugurated, by or through which some subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN is going to win a fine, high grade $100 Columbia Bicycle, as already will under way. these: We purpose presenting a Columbia Bicycle, 1897 Model, to the lady subscriber who furnishes the best menu, for one week, for a family of five, the cost of such menu not to exceed $5.00 for the week. The merits of the menus submitted will be passed upon by the Editor of THE AMERICAN QUEEN, Miss Mary L. Bisland, and the person furnishing the best menu, in Miss Bisland's judgment, will be presented with the bicycle.

The menu submitted should be enclosed in one envelope and the name of the sender in a separate one, the two being handed in or sent in together, addressed to us. The envelopes containing the menus will then be numbered and sent to Miss Bisland and the envelopes containing the names reserved by us, and when Miss Bisland makes her choice of the menus she will inform us of the number of the winner and we will then announce the result in local newspapers and THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The only requirement necessary to admit you to this contest is that you be a subscriber to THE AMERICAN QUEEN.

The menu submitted to the winner is on exhibition in the store and may be seen at any time.

We want everybody to feel free to go into this contest and we hope that hundreds of our customers will fix their minds on good things to eat and mould them into an acceptable menu for the week, and at the same time keep the cost down to $5.

THE COMPETITION.—Our aim in offering this competition is to have every lady we can reach with this announcement become a reader of THE QUEEN. THE QUEEN is published at $1 a year, but to give all our friends a chance to get this splendidly useful home publication for the ensuing year and at the same time have a chance to become the proud possessor of the standard cycle, we shall until the 30th day of June receive subscriptions (only one, however, will be taken from each family) for the nominal fee of 25 Cents a year. Come to the store at once, register your name, receive your receipt for THE QUEEN for one year and try to win the Columbia.

SENATE SKIRMISHES.

Discussions on the Sugar Investigation and the Tariff.

THE INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL.

Conference Report Finally Disposes of the Matter, With the Exception of the Provision For Opening the Utah Gilsonite Lands.

Washington, May 14.—After a long period of calm the senate was considerably agitated—first by a discussion of the senate sugar investigation and then by a preliminary skirmish on the tariff bill. The Allen resolution to bring Elverton R. Chapman before the bar of the senate was debated in somewhat monotonous style until Mr. Tillman of South Carolina gave a present interest to the subject by referring to the reports that senators within the last week had speculated in sugar stock. He declared that the senate had another stench on its hands, and that instead of pursuing Chapman it should go after the Sugar trust grandees, with a view to having them disclose the facts as to senators. After extended debate, in which Messrs. Allen, Chandler, White, Gray and Chilton participated, the resolution was referred without division to the judiciary committee.

Late in the day Mr. Aldrich, in charge of the tariff bill, announced that he would not call up the tariff bill next Tuesday as contemplated, but on the following Thursday, when a statement would be made, the regular debate to begin not later than Monday, May 24. This was the signal for a tariff discussion of over an hour, Messrs. Jones of Arkansas, Chandler and Gallinger of New Hampshire, Hoar of Massachusetts, White of California, Aldrich of Rhode Island and Lindsay of Kentucky participating. It was a free and easy discussion, with considerable pleasantry and some personality. Mr. Lindsay spoke at some length criticising the wool feature of the bill.

The Morgan Cuban resolution went over until Monday on request of Mr. Morgan. The senate adjourned till Monday.

House Proceedings.

The Indian appropriation bill was disposed of by the house with the exception of the provision for opening the Utah gilsonite lands, which was postponed until Monday. The conference report, which establishes an Indian warehouse at Omaha, ratifies the lease of the Seneca oil lands and adds one judge to the Indian territory courts, was adopted by a vote of 54 to 47. Nearly two hours were consumed in a parliamentary squabble on the point raised by Mr. Wheeler of Alabama, that the rule for semiweekly sessions was in violation of the constitution. Mr. Simpson of Kansas again attacked the speaker, but was declared out of order by a party vote.

Report on Exports.

Washington, May 14.—The bureau of statistics in its monthly report gives the value of exports during April last as follows:

Breadstuffs, $12,109,643, as compared with $9,544,438 for April last year; cotton exports, $13,941,806, against $14,304,814; mineral oil exports, $4,046,766, a slight decrease from April, 1896; cattle and hogs, $2,972,792; provisions, $9,995,819, a small gain for hogs and in provisions a gain of $300,000.

For the ten months of the present fiscal year there was a gain of over $50,000,000 in the amount of breadstuffs exported as compared with the same period last year, a gain of over $38,650,000 in cotton exported, of about $400,000 in mineral oil exports, of about $1,000,000 in the cattle and hogs and a loss of over $1,000,000 in provision exports.

Coal Barge Sunk.

New York, May 14.—The coal barges Hudson, Elm City, Spot and Chesapeake left Perth Amboy in tow of the tug Municipal for New London, all coal laden. The tug proceeded slowly with her tow until off the Quickstep buoy south of Swinburne island, when the sea became so heavy that the large barges pounded against each other. The Chesapeake was observed to be settling fast and in a few minutes went to the bottom. Captain Loux and crew of the wrecked barge was picked up by the Municipal. An effort will be made to raise the Chesapeake.

Iron in the Blood.

Iron Extracted by an Eminent London Physician from Bullock's Blood Gives Strength to the Weak and Cures Disease.

The amount of iron taken annually in pills and mixtures is almost beyond belief. A large portion of it is prescribed by physicians but the greater part of it is taken by persons who realize that they need toning up and and take iron on their own responsibility.

The therapeutic uses of iron are almost inestimable. Eminent physicians long ago discovered the most important element in the blood was iron or Hæmoglobin. This iron takes up the oxygen breathed into the lungs and carries it to all parts of the body, increasing the vitality and eliminating disease.

The majority of physicians realize that the ordinary forms of iron are as indissoluble as so much Harveyized steel; the only result of taking them into the stomach being the ruination of the teeth and derangement of the digestive organs.

To produce iron as nature produces it in the blood, was long a problem which physicians and chemists strove to solve without success. It remained for Dr. Campbell, the well-known English physician, to discover that the blood of a bullock contained iron or Hæmoglobin, in exactly the same form as it exists in the human blood. This he succeeded in extracting and enclosing in small pointed globes of pure gelatine to which he gave the name of Capsuloids.

For the first time in the annals of medical science it became possible to make impoverished blood rich and red by the administration of iron in its natural form. The result almost promises to revolutionize the practice of medicine. Diseases that heretofore only increased on doctor's medicines are conquered by this treatment, it having been demonstrated beyond doubt that nervous prostration, nervous debility, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, anæmia, scrofula, erysipelas, rheumatism, kidney and liver troubles, and all weakening diseases and those due to disease germs or to the condition of the blood can be cured by Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids.

To fully establish the efficacy of this new remedy it has been decided to distribute a quantity of Capsuloids to the weak and ailing. This distribution will take place at L. W. Randolph's druggist, 143 West Front street, on Monday, May 17th, between the hours of 1 and 8 p. m., when any adult presenting this notice will receive without charge, a box of Capsuloids.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Room 1011, Downing Building, 108 Fulton street, New York city.
